8 ¶ For Hezekiah had said vnto Isaiah,
What shal be the signe that the Lord wil

10 And Hezekiah answered, It is a light thing for the shadowe to passe forwarde ten degrees: nor so [then,] but let the shadowe go backe ten degrees.

11 And Isaiah the Prophet called vnto the Lord, and he broght againe the shadowe ten degrees backe by the degrees wherby it had gone downe in the dial of Ahaz.

12 ¶ The same season Berodach Baladan the sonne of Baladan King of Babel, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard how that Hezekiah was sicke.

precious ointment, & all the house of his armour, & all that was found in his treasures:
there was nothing in his house, & in all his in this booke. And all the people stood to the covenant.

4 The King commanded Hilkiah the hie Priest and the Priests of the second ordre, and the keepers of the dore, to bring out of the Temple of the Lord all the vessels that were made for Bál, and for the groue, and for all the hoste of heauen, and he burnt them without Ierusalem in the fields of Kedrón, and caryed the powdre of them into Beth-él.

5 And he put downe Chemerim, whome the Kings of Iudah had founded to burne incense in the hie places, & in the cities of Iudah; and about Ierusalem, and also them that burnt incense vnto Bál, to the sunne and to the moone, and to the planets, and to all the hoste of heauen.

6 And he brought out the groue from the Temple of the Lord without Ierusalem vnto the valley Kedrón, and burnt it in the valley Kedrón, and stamp it to powdre, and cast the dust thereof vpon the graues of the children of the people.

7 And he brake downe houses off sodomites, that were in the house of the Lord, where the women woue hangings for the groue.

8 Also he brought all the Priests out of the cities of Iudah, and defiled the hie places where the priests had burnt incense, [euē] from Géba to Beer-sheba, and destroyed the hie places of the gates, that were in the entring in of the gate of Ioshua the gouernour of the citie which was at the left had of the gate of the citie.

9 Neuertheles the priests of the hie places came not vp to altar of the Lord in Ierusalem, saue onely they did eat of the vleauened bread among their brethren.

10 He defiled also Topheth, which was in the valley of the children of Hinnóm, that no man shulde make his sonne or his daughter passe through the fire to Molech.

11 He put downe also the horses that the Kings of Iudah had giuen to the sunne at the entring in of the house of the Lord, by the chamber of Nethán-melech the eunuche, which was [ruler] of the suburbs, and burnt the charets of the sunne with fyre.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the chamber of Aház, which the Kings of Iudah had made, & the altars which Manasséh had made in the two courtes of the house of the Lord, did the King breake downe, and hasted thence, and cast the dust of them in the brooke Kedrón.

13 Moreouer the King defiled the hie places that were before Ierusalem and on the right hand of the mount of corruption (which Salomón the King of Israel had buylt for Ashtóreth the Idole of the Zidonians, and for Chemosh the idole of the Moabites, and for Milchóm the abomination of the children of Ammón)

14 And he brake the images in pieces, and cut downe the groues and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Furthermore the altar that was at Beth-él, [and] the hie place made by Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne, bothe this altar and also the hie place brake he downe, and burnt the hie place, [and] stamp it to powder and burnt the groue.

16 And as Iosiah turned him selfe, he spied the graues, that were in the mount, & sent and toke the bones out of the graues, and burnt them vpon the altar and polluted it, according to the worde of the Lord that the man of God proclaimed which cryed the same wordes.

17 Then he said, What title is that which I see? And the me of the citie said vnto him, [It is] the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iudah, and tolde these things that thou hast done to the altar of Beth-él.

18 Then said he, Let him alone: let none remoue his bones. So his bones were faued with the bones of the Prophet that came from Samaria.

19 Iosiah also toke away all the houses of the hie places, which were in the cities of Samaria, which the Kings of Israel had made to angre the Lord, and did to them according to all the factes that he had done in Beth-él.

20 And he sacrificed all the priests of the hie places, that were there vpon the altars, and burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Ierusalem.

21 ¶ Then the King commanded all the people, saying, Kepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord your God, as it is written in the booke of this covenant.

22 And there was no Passeouer holden like that from the dayes of the Iudges that iudged Israel, nor in all the dayes of the Kings of Israel, and of the Kings of Iudah.

23 And in the eighteenth yere of King Iosiah was this Passeouer celebrated to the Lord in Ierusalem.

THE FIRST BOKE OF THE CHRONICLES, OR Paralipoménon.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Iewes cōprehend bothe these bokes in one, which the Grecians because of the length deuide into two: & they are called Chronicles, because they note breifly the histories frō Adam to the returne from their captiuitie in Babylon. But these are not those bokes of Chronicles, which are so oft mentioned in the bokes of Kings of Iudah and Israel, which did at large set forth the storie of bothe the kingdomes, and afterwarde perished in the captiuitie: but an abridgement of the same, and were gathered by Esā, as the Iewes write, after their returne from Babylon. This first boke conteineth a brief rehearsal of the children of Adam vnto Abraham, Ishak, Iakob, and the twelue Patriarches, chiefly of Iudah and of the reigne of Dauid, because Christ came of him according to the flesh. And therefore it setteth forth the more amply his actes, bothe concerning ciuill gouernement, and also the administration and care of things concerning religion, for the good successe whereof he reioyced, and giueth thanks to the Lord.

CHAP. V.

1 The birthright taken from Reuben and given to the sonnes of Ioseph. 3 The genealogie of Reuben, 11 And Gad, 23 And of the halfe tribe of Manasseh.

1 THe sonnes also of Reuben the eldest sonne of Israel (for he was the eldest, but he had defiled his fathers bed, [therefore] his birthright was given vnto the sonnes of Ioseph the sonne of Israel, so the genealogie is not reckened after [his] birthright.

2 For Iudah preuailed aboue his brethren, and of him [came] the prince, but the birthright [was] Iosephs.

3 The sonnes of Reuben the eldest sonne of Israel [were] Hanoch & Pallu, Hezron and Carmi.

4 The sonnes of Ioel, Shemaiah his sonne, Gog his sonne, [and] Shimei his sonne,

5 Michah his sonne, Reaiah his sonne, [and] Baal his sonne,

6 Beerah his sonne: whome Tilgath Pilnefer King of Asshur carryed away: he was a prince of the Reubenites.

7 And when his brethren in their families reckened the genealogie of their generations, Ioel and Zechariah [were] the chief.

8 And Bela the sonne of Azaz, the sonne of Shema, the sonne of Ioel, which dwelt in Aroer, euen vnto Nebó and Baal-meon.

9 Also Eastward he inhabited vnto the entering in of the wildernes from the riuert Perath: for they had much cattel in the land of Gilead.

10 And in the dayes of Saúl they warred with the Hagarims, which fell by their hands: and they dwelt in their tents in all the East partes of Gilead.

11 And the children of Gad dwelt ouer against them in the land of Bashan, vnto Salchah.

12 Ioel [was] the chiefeft, and Shapham the seconde, but Iaanai and Shaphat [were] in Bashan.

13 And their brethren of the house of their fathers [were] Michael, and Meshullam, & Sheba, and Sorai, and Iacan, and Zia, and Eber, seuen.

14 These are the children of Abihail, the sonne of Hurí, the sonne of Iaroah, the sonne of Gilead, the sonne of Michael, the sonne of Ieshihai, the sonne of Iahdo, the sonne of Buz, 15 Ahí the sonne of Abdiel, the sonne of Guni [was] chief of the household of their fathers.

16 And they dwelt in Gilead in Bashan, & in the townes thereof, and in all the suburbs of Sharon, by their borders.

17 All these were reckened by genealogies in the dayes of Iotham King of Iudah, & in the dayes of Ieroboam King of Israel.

18 The sonnes of Reuben, and of Gad, & of halfe the tribe of Manasseh of those that were valiant men, able to beare shield, and sworde, and to drawe a bowe, exercised in warre, were foure and fourtie thousand, seuen hundred and thre score, that wet out to the warre.

19 And they made warre with the Hagarims, with Ietur, & Naphish, and Nodab.

20 And they were holpen against them, & the Hagarims were deliuered into their hand, & all that were with them: for they cryed to God in the battel, and he heard them, because they trusted in him.

21 And they led away their cattell [euen] their camels fiftie thousand, and two hundred, and fiftie thousand sheepe, and two thousand asses, and oft persones an hundred thousand.

22 For many fell downe wounded, because the warre [was] of God. And they dwelt in their steades vntil the captiuitie.

23 And the children of the halfe tribe of Manasseh dwelt in the land, from Bashan vnto Baal Hermon, and Senir, and vnto mount Hermon: [for] they increased.

24 And these were the heades of the households of their fathers, euen Ephér and Ishi, and Eliel, and Azriel, and Ieremiab, and Hodauiah, and Iahdiel, strong men, valiant, & famous, heades of the households of their fathers.

25 But they transgressed against the God of their fathers, and went a whoring after the gods of the people of the land, whome God had destroyed before them.

26 And God of Israel stirred vp the spirit of Pul King of Asshur, and the spirit of Tilgath Pilnefer King of Asshur, and he carryed them away: [euen] the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh, and brought them vnto Halah and Habor, and Hara, and to the riuert Gozan, vnto this day.

54 ¶ And these are the dwelling places of them throughout their townes & coastes, [euē] of the sonnes of Aaron for the familie of the Kohathites, for the lot was theirs.

55 So they gaue them Hebron in the land of Iudah and the suburbs thereof rounde about it.

56 But the field of the cite, and the villages thereof they gaue to Caleb the sonne of Iephunneh.

57 And to the sonnes of Aaron they gaue the cities [of Iudah] for refuge, [euē] Hebron and Libna with their suburbs, & Iatir and Eshtemoa with their suburbs,

58 And Hilēn with her suburbs, [and] Debir with her suburbs,

59 And Ashan & her suburbs, and Bethshemesh and her suburbs:

60 ¶ And of the tribe of Benjamin, Geba and her suburbs, and Alcemeth with her suburbs, & Anathoth with her suburbs: all their cities [were] thirtene cities by their families.

61 And vnto the sonnes of Kohath the remnant of the familie of the tribe, [euē] of the halfe tribe of the halfe of Manasseh, by lot ten cities.

62 And to the sonnes of Gershom according to their families out of the tribe of Issachar, and out of the tribe of Asher, and out of the tribe of Naphtali, and out of the tribe of Manasseh in Bashan, thirtene cities.

63 Vnto the sonnes of Merari according to their families out of the tribe of Reuben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulun, by lot twelue cities.

64 Thus the children of Israel gaue to the Levites cities with their suburbs.

65 And they gaue by lot out of the tribe of the children of Iudah, and out of the tribe of the children of Simeon, and out of the tribe of the children of Benjamin, these cities, which they called by their names.

66 And they of the families of the sonnes of Kohath, had cities [and] their coastes out of the tribe of Ephraim.

67 * And they gaue vnto them cities of refuge, Shechem in mount Ephraim, & her suburbs, and Gēzer and her suburbs,

68 Iokmeam also and her suburbs, and Beth-horon with her suburbs,

69 And Aialon and her suburbs, & Gath Rimmōn and her suburbs,

70 And out of the halfe tribe of Manasseh, Tāner and her suburbs, and Bileam & her suburbs, for the families of the remnant of the sonnes of Kohath.

71 Vnto the sonnes of Gershom out of the familie of the halfe tribe of Manasseh, Golān in Bashan, and her suburbs, and Ashtaroth with her suburbs,

72 And out of the tribe of Issachar, Kedesh and her suburbs, Daberath and her suburbs,

73 Ramoth also and her suburbs, & Anem with her suburbs,

74 And out of the tribe of Asher, Mashal and her suburbs, and Abdōn & her suburbs,

75 And Hukok and her suburbs, and Rehob and her suburbs, 76 And out of the tribe of Naphtali, Kedesh in Galilee and her suburbs, and Hamon and her suburbs, and Kiriataim and her suburbs.

77 Vnto the rest of the children of Merari [were giuen] out of the tribe of Zebulun, Rimmōn and her suburbs, Tabor and her suburbs,

78 And on the other side Iordan [by] Jericho, [euē] on the Eastside of Iordan, out of the tribe of Reuben, Bezer in the wilderness with her suburbs, & Iahzah with her suburbs,

79 And Kedemoth with her suburbs, and Mephath with her suburbs:

19 Jakím also, and Zichrí, and Sabdí,

20 And Elienáí, and Zillethái, and Eliél,

21 And Adaiáh, and Beriáh, and Shimráth, the sonnes of Shiméi,

22 And Ishpán, and Eber, and Eliél,

23 And Abdón, and Zichrí, and Hanán,

24 And Hananiáh, & Elám, & Antothíah,

25 Iphedeiáh, & Penuél, the sonnes of Shashák,

26 And Shansherái, & Shehariah, & Athaliah,

27 And Iaareshiah, and Eliah, and Zichrí, the sonnes of Ieroham.

28 These were the chief fathers according to their generations, [euén] princes, which dwelt in Ierusalém.

29 And at Gibeón dwelt the father of Gibeón, and the name of his wife [was] Maachah.

30 And his eldest sonne [was] Abdón, the Húr, and Kísh, and Baal, and Nadab, 31 And Gidór, and Ahíó, and Zacher.

32 And Miklóth begate Shimeah: these also dwelt with their brethren in Ierusalém, [euén] by their brethren.

33 And Ner begate Kísh, and Kísh begate Saúl, and Saúl begate Jonathan, and Malchishúa, and Abinadab, and Eshbaal.

34 And the sonne of Jonathan [was] Merib-baal, and Merib-baal begate Micah.

35 And the sonnes of Micah [were] Pithón and Mélech, and Taréa, and Ahaz.

36 And Ahaz begate Iehoadah, and Iehoadah begate Alémeth, and Azmauth, & Zimrí, and Zimrí begate Moza, 37 And Moza begate Bineah, whose sonne [was] Raphah, [and] his sonne Eliafah, [and] his sonne Azél.

38 And Azél had six sonnes, whose names are these, Azrikam, Bocherú, and Ishmaél, and Sheariah, and Obadiah, and Hanani: all these were the sonnes of Azél.

39 And the sonnes of Eshék his brother [were] Vlam his eldest sonne, Iehúsh the seconde, and Eliphélet the third.

40 And the sonnes of Vlam [were] valiant men of warre which shot with the bowe, and had manie sonnes and nephewes, an hundreth and fiftie: all these were of the sonnes of Benjamin.

17 And Obadiah the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Gagál, † sonne of Ieduthún, and Berechiah, the sonne of Asa, the sonne of Elkanah, that dwelt in the villages of the Netophathites.

18 And the porters [were] Shallúm, and Akkúb, and Talmón, and Ahiman, & their brethren: Shallúm was the chief.

19 For they were porters to this time by companies of the children of Leui vnto the † Kings gate Eastwarde.

20 And Shallúm the sonne of Kóre the sonne of Ebiásaph, the sonne of Kórah, & his brethren the Korathites (of the house of of their father) [were] ouer the worke, [and] office to kepe the gates of the † Tabernacle: so their families [were] ouer the hoste of the Lord, keping the entrie.

21 And Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar was their guide, and the Lord [was] with him.

22 Zechariáh the sonne of Meshelemiáh [was] the porter of the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

23 All these were chozen for porters of the gates, two hundredth and twelue, which were nombred according to their genealogies by their townes. Dauid established these and Samuél the Seer † in their perpetual office.

24 So they and their children had the ouersight of the gates of the house of the Lord, euen of the house of the Tabernacle by wardes.

25 The porters were in foure quarters, Eastward, Westward, Northward, and Southward.

26 And their brethren, [which were] in their townes, came at 8 seuen dayes from time to time with them.

27 For these four chief porters were in perpetual office, and were of the Leuites and had charge of the † chambers, and of the treasures in the house of God.

28 And they laye round about the house of God, because † charge [was] theirs, & they caused it to be opened euerie morning.

29 And certeine of them had the rule of the ministring vessels: for they broght them in by tale, and broght them out by tale.

30 Some of them also were appointed ouer the instruments, and ouer all the vessels of the Sanctuarie, and of the † floure, and the wine, and the oyle, and the incense, and the swete odours.

31 And certeine of the sonnes of the Priests made ointments of swete odours.

32 And Mattithiáh one of the Leuites & was the eldest sonne of Shallúm the Korhite, had the charge of the things that were made in the fryingpan.

33 And other of their brethren the sonnes of Koháth had the ouersight of the † shewbread to prepare it euerie Sabbath.

34 And these are the fingers, the chief fathers of the Leuites, [which dwelt] in the chambers, † and had none other charge: for they had to do in that busines day & night.

1 The battel of Saul against the Philistims, 4 In which he dyeth, 5 And his sonnes also. 13 The cause of Sauls death.

1 Then * the Philistims foght against Israël: and the men of Israël fled before the Philistims, & fel downe slaine in mount Gilbóa.

2 And the Philistims pursued after Saúl & after his sonnes, and the Philistims smote Ionathán, and Abinadáb, and Malchishúa the sonnes of Saúl.

3 And the battel was fore against Saúl, and the archers hit him, and he was wounded of the archers.

4 Then said Saúl to his armour bearer, Drawe out thy sworde, and thrust me through therewith, lest these vncircumcised come and mocke at me: but his armour bearer wolde not, for he was fore afraid: therefore Saúl toke the sworde and fel vpon it.

5 And when his armour bearer sawe that Saúl was dead, he fel likewise vpon the sworde, and dyed.

6 So Saúl dyed and his thre sonnes, and all his house, they dyed together.

7 And when all the men of Israël that were in the valley, sawe how they fled, and that Saúl and his sonnes were dead, they forsoké their cities, and fled away, and the Philistims came, and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morowe when the Philistims came to spoile them that were slaine, they found Saúl & his sonnes † lying in mount Gilbóa.

9 And when they had stript him, they toke his head and his armour, and sent them into the land of the Philistims round about, to publish it vnto their idoles, and to the people.

10 And they laied vp his armour in † house of their god, and set vp his head in the house of † Dagón.

11 ¶ Whē all they of Iabésh Gileád heard all that the Philistims had done to Saúl, 12 Then they arose (all the valiant men) and toke the body of Saúl; and the bodies of his sonnes, and broght them to Iabésh, and buryed the bones of them vnder an oke in Iabésh, and fasted seuen dayes.

13 So Saúl dyed for his transgression, that he committed against the Lord, * [euen] against the worde of the Lord, which he kept not, and in that he soght and asked counfel of a † familiar spirit,

14 And asked not of the Lord: therefore he slewe him, and turned the kingdome vnto Dauid the sonne of Ismaél.

3 After the death of Saul is Dauid anointed in Hebron. 5 The Iebusites rebel against Dauid, from whom he taketh the towre of Zion. 6 Ioab is made captaine. 16 His valiant men.

1 Then * all Israël gathered them selues to Dauid vnto Hebrón, saying, Beholde, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

2 And in time past, euen when Saúl was King, thou leddest Israël out and in: and † Lord thy God said vnto thee, Thou shalt fede my people Israël, and thou shalt be captaine ouer my people Israël.

3 So came all the Elders of Israël to the King to Hebrón, and Dauid made a couenant with them in Hebrón before † Lord. And they anointed Dauid King ouer Israël, * according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Samuél.

4 ¶ And Dauid and all Israël went to Ierusalém, which is Iebús, where [were] the Iebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Iebús said to Dauid, Thou shalt not come in hether. Neuertheles Dauid toke the towre of Zión, which is the citie of Dauid.

6 And Dauid said, * Whosoeuer smiteth the Iebusites first, shal be the chief and captaine. So Ioab the sonne of Zeruiáh went first vp, and was captaine.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the towre: therefore they called it the citie of Dauid.

8 * And he buylt the citie on euerie side, from Milló euen round about: and Ioab repaired the rest of the citie.

9 And Dauid prospered, and grewe: for the Lord of hostes was with him.

According to the worde of the Lord,

11 And this is the number of the valiant men whome David had, Iashobeam the sonne of Hachmoni, the ^b chief among thirty: he lift vp his speare against thre hundred, [whome] he slewe at one time.

12 And after him [was] Eleazar the sonne of Dodo the Ahohite, which was one of the thre valiant men.

13 He was with David at Pas-dammim, & there the Philistims were gathered together to battel: and there was a parcel of ground full of barley, and the people fled before the Philistims.

14 And they stode in the middes of the field, & saved it, and slewe the Philistims: so the Lord gaue a great victorie.

15 ¶ And thre of the ^d thirty captaines wet to a rocke to David, into the cave of Adullam. And the armie of the Philistims camped in the valley of Rephaim.

16 And when David was in the holde, the Philistims garison [was] at Beth-lehem.

17 And David longed, and said, * Oh, that one wolde giue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-lehem that is at the gate.

18 The thre these brake thorowe the hoste of the Philistims, and drewe water out of the well of Beth-lehem that was by the gate, and toke it and broght it to David: but David wolde not drinke of it, but powred it [for an oblation] to the Lord,

19 And said, Let not my God suffer me to do this: shulde I drinke the blood of these mes liues: for they haue broght it with the iopardy of their liues: therefore he wolde not drinke it: these things did these thre mightie men.

20 ¶ And Abishai the brother of Ioab, he was chief of the thre, & he lift vp his speare against thre hundred, [and] slewe the, and had the name among the thre.

21 Among the thre he was more honorable then the two, & he was their captaine: * but he attained not vnto the [first] thre.

22 Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada (the sonne of a valiant man) which had done manie actes, [and was] of Kabzeel, he slewe two strong men of Moab: he wet downe also and slewe a lion in the middes of a pit in time of snow.

23 And he slewe an Egyptian, a mā of great stature, [euen] siue cubites long, and in the Egyptians hand was a speare like a weauers beame: and he went downe to him with a staffe, and plucked the speare out of the Egyptians hand, and slewe him with his owne speare.

24 These things did Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada, & had the name among the thre worthies.

25 Beholde, he was honorable among thirtie, but he attained not vnto the [first] thre. * And David made him of his counsell.

26 ¶ These also were valiant men of warre, Asahel the brother of Ioab, Elhanan the sonne of Dodó of Beth-lehem,

27 Shammóth the Harodite, Hólez the Pelonite,

28 Ira the sonne of Ikkef the Tekoite, Abiézer the Anathothite, procedeth of the Lord our God, we wil send to, and fro vnto our brethré, that are left in all the land of Israel (for with them are the Priests and the Leuites in the cities [and] their suburbs) that they may assemble them selues vnto vs.

3 And we wil bring againe the Arke of our God to vs: for we soghe not vnto it in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let vs do so: for the thing semed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 ^a So Dauid gathered all Israel together from † Shiór in Egypt, euen vnto the en-tring of Hamath, to bring the Arke of God from ^b Kiriath Iearim.

6 And Dauid went vp & all Israel to † Balath, in Kiriath Iearim, † was in Iudáh, to bring vp from thence the Arke of God the Lord that dwelleth betwene the Che-rubims, where his name is called on.

7 And they caried the Arke of God in a newe cart out of the house of Abinadab:
and Vzzá and Ahio ^c guided the cart.

8 And Dauid and all Israel played before God with all [their] might, bothe with songs and with harpes, and with violes, & with timbrels and with cimbares and with trumpets.

9 ^d And when they came vnto the thresshing floore of ^e Chidón, Vzzá put forth his hand to holde the Arke, for the oxen did shake it.

10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Vzzá, and he smote him, because he laied his hand vpon the Arke: so he dyed there ^f before God.

11 And Dauid was angrie, because ^g the Lord had made a breache in Vzzá, and he called the name of that place Pérez-vzzá vnto this day.

12 And Dauid feared God that day, saying, How shal I bring in to me the Arke of God?

13 Therefore Dauid brought not the Arke to him into the cite of Dauid, but caused it to turne into the house of ^h Obéd Edóm the Gittite.

14 So the Arke of God remained in the house of Obéd Edóm, [euen] in his house thre moneths: and the Lord blessed the house of Obéd Edóm, and all that he had.

8 But when the Philistims heard that Dauid was anointed King ouer Israel, all the Philistims came vnto Icke Dauid. And when Dauid heard, he went out against them.

9 And the Philistims came, and spread them selues in the valley of Rephaím.

10 Then Dauid asked counsel at God, saying, Shal I go vp against the Philistims? & wilt thou deliuer them into mine hand? And the Lord said vnto him, Go vp: for I wil deliuer them into thine hand.

11 So they came vp to Báal-perazím & Dauid smote them there: & Dauid said, God hath deuided mine enemies with mine hand, as waters are deuided: therefore they called the name of that place, Báal-perazím.

12 And there they had left their gods: and Dauid said, Let them euen be burnt with fire.

13 Againe the Philistims came and spread them selues in the valley.

14 And when Dauid asked againe counsel at God, God said to him, Thou shalt not go vp after them, [but] turne away frõ them, that thou maiest come vpon them ouer against the mulberry trees.

15 And when thou hearest the noise of one going in the toppes of the mulberry trees, then go out to battel: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the hoste of the Philistims.

16 So Dauid did as God had commanded him: and they smote the hoste of the Philistims from Gibeón euen to Gézer.

17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all lands, and the Lord brought the feare of him vpon all nations.

CHAP. XV.

1 Dauid prepareth a place for the Arke. 4 The number and ordre of the Leuites. 16 The singers are chosen out among them. 25 They bring againe the Arke with ioye. 29 Dauid dancing before it, is despised of his wife Michal.

1 And [Dauid] made him houses in the citie of Dauid, and prepared a place for the Arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then Dauid said, *None ought to cary the Arke of God, but the Leuites: for the Lord hath chosen them to beare the Arke of the Lord, and to minister vnto him for euer.

3 And Dauid gathered all Israel together to Ierusalém to bring vp the Arke of the Lord vnto his place, which he had ordeined for it.

4 And Dauid assembled the sones of Aa-rón, and the Leuites.

5 Of the sonnes of Koháth, Vriél the chief, and his brethren six score.

6 Of the sonnes of Merarí, Afaiáh the chief, and his brethren two hundred & twétie.

7 Of the sonnes of Gersón, Ioél the chief, and his brethren an hundred and thirtie.

8 Of the sonnes of Elizaphán, Shemaiáh the chief, and his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the sonnes of Hebrón, Eliél the chief, and his brethren foure score.

10 Of the sonnes of Vzziel, Amminadáb the chief, and his brethren an hundred & twelue.

11 And Dauid called Zadók & Abiathár the Priests, and of the Leuites, Vriél, Afaiáh, and Ioél, Shemaiáh, and Eliél, and Amminadáb:

12 And he said vnto them, Ye are the chief fathers of the Leuites: sanctifie your selues, and your brethren, and bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel vnto the [place] that I haue prepared for it.

13 For *because ye were not there at the first, the Lord our God made a breach among vs: for we fought him not after [due] ordre.

14 So the Priests and the Leuites sanctified them selues to bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel.

15 And the sonnes of the Leuites bare the Arke of God vpon their shulders with the barres, as Moses had commanded, *according to the worde of the Lord.

16 And Dauid spake to the chief of the Leuites, that they shulde appoint [certaine] of their brethren to sing with instruments of musicke, with viols, & harpes, & cymbales, that they might make a sounde, and lift vp their voyce with ioye.

17 So the Leuites appointed Hemán the sonne of Ioél, and of his brethren Asaph the sonne of Berechiáh, and of the sonnes of Merarí their brethren, Ethán the sonne of Kushiáh, 18 And with them their brethren in the seconde degre, Zechariáh, Ben, and Iazziel, and Shemiramóth, and Iehiel, & Vnní, Eliáb, and Benaiáh, and Maasiáh, and Mattithiáh, and Elipheléh, and Mikneáh, and Obéd Edóm, and Ieiel the porters.

19 So Hemán, Asaph & Ethán were singers to make a sounde with cymbales of brasse,

20 And Zachariáh, and Aziél, and Shemiramóth, and Iehiel, and Vnní, and Eliáb, and Maasiáh, and Benaiáh with viols on Alamóth,

2 Then Nathán said to Dauid, Do all that is in thine heart: for God is with thee.

3 And the same night euen the worde of God came to Nathán, saying,

4 Go, and tel Dauid my seruant, Thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not buyld me an house to dwel in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no house, since the day I broght out the children of Israël vnto this day, but I haue bene from tent to tent, and from habitation [to habitation].

6 Wherefoeuer I haue walked w all Israël, spake I one worde to anie of the iudges of Israël (whome I commanded to fede my people) saying, Why haue ye not buyld me an house of cedre trees?

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I toke thee frō the shepecoates [&] from following the shepe, that thou shuldest be a prince ouer my people Israël.

8 And I haue bene w thee whetherfoeuer thou hast walked, and haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue made thee a name, like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

4 Hanun King of the children of Ammon doeth great injuries to the seruants of Dauid. 6 He prepareth an armie against Dauid. 15 And is ouercome.

1 After this also * Nahásh the King of the children of Ammón dyed, & his sonne reigned in his steade.

2 And Dauid said, I wil shewe kyndnes vnto Hanún the sonne of Nahásh, because his father shewed kindnes vnto me. And Dauid sent messengers to comfort him for his father. So the seruants of Dauid came into the land of the children of Ammón to Hanún to comforte him.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammón said to Hanún, Thinkest thou that Dauid doeth honour thy father, that he hath sent comforters vnto thee? Are not his seruants come to thee to ^b seache, to seke and spie out the land?

4 Wherefore Hanún toke Dauids seruants, and ^c shaued them, and cut of ^d their garments by the halfe vnto the buttocks, and sent them away.

5 And there went [certaine] & tolde Dauid concerning the men: and he sent to mete them (for the me were exceedingly ashamed) and the King said, Tary at Ierichó, vntil your beardes be grown: the returne.

6 ¶ When the children of Ammón sawe that they ^f stanke in the sight of Dauid, the sent Hanún and the children of Ammón a thousand talents of siluer to hyre them charets & horsen out* of Arám Naharáim, and out of Arám Maacháh, and out of ^e Zobáh.

7 And they hyred them two and thirtie thousand charets, & the King of Maachah and his people, which came and pitched before ^f Medebá: and the children of Ammón gathered them selues together from their cities, and came to the battel.

8 ¶ And when Dauid heard, he sent Ioáb & all the hoste of the valiant men.

9 And the children of Ammón came out, and set their battel in araye at the gate of the citie. And the Kings that were come, were by them selues in the field.

10 When Ioáb sawe that the fronte of the battel was against him before & behinde, then he choise out of all the choise of Israél, and set him selfe in araye to mete the Aramites.

11 And the rest of the people he deliuered vnto the hand of Abishái his brother, and they put them selues in araye against the children of Ammón.

12 And he said, If Arám be to strong for me, then thou shalt succour me: & if the children of Ammón preuaile against thee, the I wil succour thee.

13 Be strong, and let vs shewe our selues valiant for our people, and for the cities of our God, and let the Lord do that which is good in his owne sight.

14 So Ioáb and the people that was with him, came nere before the Aramites vnto the battel, and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammón sawe that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abishái his brother, and entred into the citie: so Ioáb came to Ierusalém.

16 ¶ And when ^f Aramites sawe that they were discomfited before Israél, they sent messengers and caused the Aramites to come forth that were beyonde the ^h riuer: & Shophách the captaine of the hoste of Hadarézzer [went] before them.

17 And when it was shewed Dauid, he gathered all Israél, and went ouer Iordén, & came vnto the, and put him selfe in araye against them: & when Dauid had put him selfe in battel araye to mete the Aramites, they fought with him.

18 But the Aramites fled before Israél, and Dauid destroyed of the Aramites ⁱ seuen thousand charets, and fortie thousand foremen, and killed Shophách the captaine of the hoste.

19 And when ^f seruants of Hadarézzer sawe that they fel before Israél, they made peace with Dauid, and serued him. And the Aramites wolde nomore succour the children of Ammón.

2 *The Dauid toke ^f crowne of their King from of his head, & founde it the weight of a ^b talent of golde, with precious stones in it: and it was [set] on Dauids head, and he broght away the spoile of the citie exceeding muche.

3 And he caryed away the people that were in it, and cut them with sawes, and with harowes of yron, and with axes: euen thus did Dauid with all the cities of the children of Ammón. Then Dauid and all the people came againe to Ierusalém.

¶ CHAP. XXI.

1 Dauid caueth the people to be nombred, 14 And there dye seuentie thousand men of the pestilence.

1 ¶ And ^a Saran stode vp against Israél, and prouoked Dauid to number Israél.

2 Therefore Dauid said to Ioáb, & to the rulers of the people, Go [and] number Israél from ^b Beer-sheba euen to Dan, and bring it to me, that I may knowe the number of them.

3 And Ioáb answered, The Lord increase his people an hundreth times so many as they be, o my lord the King: are they not all my lords seruants? wherefore doeth my lord require this thing? why shulde he be a cause of ^c trespasse to Israél?

4 Neuertheles the Kings worde preuailed against Ioáb. And Ioáb departed & went through all Israél, and returned to Ierusalem.

5 And Ioáb gaue the number [and] summe of the people vnto Dauid: and all Israél were ^d eleuen hundreth thousand men & drewe sworde: and Iudáh was ^e foure hundreth and seuentie thousand men that drewe sworde.

6 But the Leuites and Beniamín counted he not among them: for the Kings worde was abominable to Ioáb.

7 And God was displeased with this thing: therefore he smote Israél.

8 Then Dauid said vnto God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but now, I beseeche thee, remoue the iniquitie of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Gad Dauids [†] Seer, saying,

10 Go and tell Dauid, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, I offer thee three things: chose thee one of them, that I may do it vnto thee.

11 So Gad came to Dauid, and said vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Take to thee 12 Either three yeres famine, or three moneths to be destroyed before thine aduersaries, & the sworde of thine enemies † to take [thee,] or els the sworde of the Lord and pestilence in the land three dayes, that the Angel of the Lord may destroy throughout all the coastes of Israél: now therefore aduise thee, what worde I shall bring againe to him that sent me.

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israél, and there fell of Israél seuentie thousand men.

15 ¶ And God sent the Angel into Ierusalem to destroye it. And ^t as he was destroying, the Lord behelde, and ^s repented of the euil and said to the Angel that destroyed, It is now ynough, let thine hád cease. Then the Angel of the Lord stode by the threshing floore of † Ornán the Iebusite.

16 And Dauid lift vp his eyes, and saw the Angel of the Lord stand betwene the earth and the heauen with his sworde drawn in his hand, [and] stretched out toward Ierusalem. Then Dauid and the Elders of Israél, which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

17 And Dauid said vnto God, Is it not I that commanded to number the people? It is euen I that haue sinned and haue committed euil, but these shepe what haue they done? o Lord my God, I beseeche thee, let thine hand be on me and on my fathers house, and not on ^h thy people for [their] destruction.

18 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lord commanded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid shulde go vp, and set vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of Ornán the Iebusite.

19 So Dauid went vp according to the saying of Gad, which he had spoken in the Name of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

Dauid assigneth offices vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

THese are also the * diuisions of the sonnes of Aarón, The sonnes of Aarón [were] Nadab, & Abihú, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihú dyed * before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the Priests office.

3 And Dauid distributed them, euen Zadók of the † sonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimélech of the sonnes of Ithamar according to their offices in their ministrati-on.

4 And there were founde mo of the sonnes of Eleazar by the † number of men, then of the sonnes of Ithamar. and they deuided them, [to wit] among the sonnes of Eleazar, sixtene heades, according to the householde of their fathers, and among the sonnes of Ithamar, according to the householde of their fathers, eight.

5 Thus they distributed them by lot the one from the other, and so the rulers of the Sanctuarie and the rulers [of the house] of God [were] of the sonnes of Eleazar and of the sonnes of Ithamar.

6 And Shemaiah the sonne of Nethaneél the scribe of the Leuites, wrote them before the King and the princes, and Zadók the Priest, and Ahimélech the sonne of Abiathár, and [before] the chief fathers of the Priests and of the Leuites, one familie being reserued for Eleazar, & another reserued for Ithamar.

7 And the first lot fel to Iehoiarib, & the seconde to Iedaiáh,

8 The third to Harim, the fourt to Seorim,

9 The fift to Malchiah, the sixt to Miamin,

10 The seuent to Hakkóz, the eight to Abihiah,

11 The ninte to Ieshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

12 The eleuent to Eliashib, the twelft to Iakim,

13 The thirtente to Huppáh, the fourtente to Ieshebeab,

14 The fiftente to Bilgah, the sextente to Immer,

15 The seuentente to Hezir, the eightente to Happizzér,

16 The ninetente to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Iehozekél,

17 The one and twentie to Iachin, the two and twentie to Gamul,

18 The thre and twentie to Deliah, the foure and twentie to Maaziáh.

19 These were their ordres according to their offices, whē they entred into the house of the Lord according to their custome vnder the hand of Aarón their father, as the Lord God of Israel had commanded him.

20 ¶ And of the sonnes of Leui that remained of the sonnes of Amram, [was] Shubael, of the sonnes of Shubael, Iedeiah,

21 Of Rehabiah, [euen] of the sonnes of Rehabiah, the first Ishiah,

22 Of Izharí, Shelomóth, of the sonnes of Shelomóth, Iahath,

23 And [his] sonnes Ieriah [the first], Amariah the seconde, Iahaziél the thirde, [&] Iekamiam the fourt,

24 The sonne of Vzziel [was] Michah, the sonne of Michah [was] Shamir,

25 The brother of Michah [was] Issiah, the sonne of Issiah, Zechariah,

26 The sonnes of Merari [were] Mahli and Mushi, the sonne of Iaziah [was] Benó,

27 The sonnes of Merari of Iahaziah [were] Benó, and Shoham, and Zaccúr, and Ibrí, 28 Of Mahli [came] Eleazar, which had no sonnes,

29 Of Kish, the sonne of Kish [was] Ierahmeél,

30 And the sonnes of Mushi [were] Mahli and Eder, and Ierimoth: these were sonnes of the Leuites after the householde of their fathers.

31 And these also cast lottes with their brethren the sonnes of Aarón before King Dauid, and Zadók and Ahimélech & the chief fathers of the Priests, and of the Leuites, [euen] the chief of families against their younger brethren.

the golde of Ophir, and seuen thousand talents of fined siluer to ouerlay the walles of the houses.

5 The golde for the [things] of golde, and the siluer for [things] of siluer, and for all the worke by the hands of artificers: and who is ^d willing to fil his hand to day vnto the Lord:

6 So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captaines of thousands and of hundreths, with the rulers of the Kings worke, offered willingly,

7 And they gaue for the seruice of ^f house of God fyue thousand talents of golde, & ten thousand pieces, and ten thousand talents of siluer, & eightene thousand talēts of brasse, and one hundreth thousand talents of yron.

8 And they with whome [precious] stones were ^e founde, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lord, by the hand of Iehiel the Gerhunnite.

9 And the people reioysed when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly vnto the Lord, with a ^f perfite heart. And Dauid the King also reioysed with great ioye.

10 Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, and Dauid said, Blessed [be] thou o Lord God of Israel our father, for euer and euer.

11 Thing, o Lord, [is] greatnes and power, and glorie, and victorie, and praise: for all that is in heauen and in earth [is thine]: thine is the kingdome, o Lord, & thou excellest as head ouer all.

12 Bothe riches & honour [come] of thee, and thou reignest ouer all, and in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make gear, & to giue strength vnto all.

13 Now therefore, our God, [we] thanke thee, and praise thy glorious Name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we shulde be able to offer willingly after this sorte: for all things ^h come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee.

15 For we are strangers before thee, and sojourners, like all our fathers: our dayes are like the shadowe vpon the earth, and there is none ⁱ abyding.

16 O Lord our God, all this abundance ^f we haue prepared to buylde thee an house for thine holy Name, is of thine hand, and all [is] thine.

17 I knowe also, my God, that thou ^k tryest the heart, and hast pleasure in righteousnes: I haue offered willingly in ^f vprightnes of my heart all these things: now also haue I sene thy people which are founde here, to offer vnto thee willingly with ioye.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Izhak and Israel our fathers, kepe this for euer in the ^k purpose, [and] the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts vnto thee.

19 And giue vnto Salomōn my sonne a perfite heart to kepe thy commandments, thy testimonies, and thy statutes, and to do all things, and to buylde the house which I haue prepared.

20 ¶ And Dauid said to all the Congregation, Now blesse the Lord your God. And all the Congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heades, and worshipped the Lord & the ^l King.

21 And they offered sacrifices vnto ^f Lord, and on the morowe after that day, they offered burnt offrings vnto the Lord, [euē] a thousand yong bullockes, a thousand rammes, [and] a thousand shepe, with their ^m drinke offrings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.

22 And they did eat and drinke before ^f Lord the same day with great ioye, and they made Salomōn the sonne of Dauid King the seconde time, and anointed him prince before the Lord, and Zadok for the hie Priest.

23 So Salomōn sate on the ⁿ throne of the Lord, as King in steade of Dauid his father, and prospered: and all Israel obeyed him.

24 And all the princes and men of power, and all the sounes of King Dauid ^o submitted them selues vnder King Salomōn.

25 And the Lord magnified Salomōn in dignitie, in the sight of all Israel, and gaue him so glorious a kingdome, as no King had before him in Israel.

26 ¶ Thus Dauid the sonne of Ishai reigned ouer all Israel.

27 And the space that he reigned ouer Israel, [was] fourtie yere: seuen yere reigned he in Hebrōn, and thre and thirtie yere reigned he in Ierusalem:

28 And he dyed in a good age, ful of dayes, riches and honour, and Salomōn his sonne reigned in his steade.

29 Concerning the actes of Dauid the King first and last, beholde, they are written in the boke of Samuēl the Seer, and in the boke of ^p Nathān the Prophete, & in the boke of Gad the Seer,

THE SECONDE BOKE OF THE CHRONICLES.

THE ARGUMENT.

This seconde boke containeth briefly in effe& that which is comprehended in the two boke of the Kings : that is, frō the reigne of Salomon to the destruction of Ierusalem, & the carying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this storie are certeine things declared and set forthe more copiously then in the boke of the Kings, & therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophetes. But thre things are here chiefly to be considered. First that the godly Kings, when they sawe the plagues of God prepared against their countrie for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues remoued. The seconde how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that suche as feare him and professe his religion, shulde ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdely how the good rulers euer loued the Prophetes of God, and were very zealous to set forthe his religion throughout all their dominions, and contrariwise the wicked hated his ministers, deposed them, and for the true religion and worde of God, set vp idolatrie, and serued God according to the fantasie of men. Thus haue we hitherto the chief actes from the beginning of the worlde to the buylding againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yere of Darius, and containe in the whole, thre thousand, foure hundredth foure score and eight yeres, and six moneths.

CHAP. I.

4 The offering of Salomon at Gibeon. 8 He prayeth vnto God to giue him wisdom, 11 VVhich he giueth him and more. 14 The number of his charrets and horses, 15 And of his riches.

I HEN Salomōn the sonne of Dauid was † confirmed in his kingdome : and the * Lord his God [was] with him, and magnified him highlie.

And Salomōn spake vnto all Israél, to the captaines of thousands, and of hundredths, and to the iudges, and to all the gouernours in all Israél, [cuen] the chief fathers.

3 So Salomōn and all the Congregation with him went to the hie place that was at^b Gibeon: for there was the Tabernacle * of the Congregation of God which Moses the seruant of the Lord had made in the wildernes.

4 But the Arke of God had Dauid brought vp from Kiriath-iarim, when Dauid had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Ierusalem.

5 Moreouer the ^dbrazen altar * that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sone of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Lord: and Salomōn and the Congregation soght it.

6 And Salomōn offred there before the Lord vpon the brazen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: * euen a thousand burnt offrings offred he vpon it.

7 ¶ The same night did God appeare vnto Salomōn, and said vnto him, Alke what I shal giue thee.

8 And Salomōn said vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercie vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to reigne in his steade.

9 Now [therefore,] o Lord God, let thy promes vnto Dauid my father be * true: for thou hast made me King ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Giue me now wisdom and knowledge, that I may ^f go out and go in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

11 And God said to Salomōn, Because this was in thine heart, & thou hast not asked riches, treasures, nor honour, nor the ^g liues of thine enemies, nether yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisdom and knowledge that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whome I haue made the King,

12 Wisdom & knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I wil giue thee riches and treasures and honour, so that there hath not bene the like among the Kings which were before thee, nether after thee shal there be the like.

13 The Salomōn came from the hie place, that was at Gibeon, to Ierusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israél.

14 * And Salomōn gathered the charrets & horsemen: and he had a thousand & foure hundredth charrets, & twelue thousand horsemen, whome he placed in the ^h charret cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

15 And the King gaue siluer and golde at Ierusalem as ⁱ stones, and gaue cedre trees as the wilde fig trees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

8 ¶ He made also the house of the moste holy place: the length thereof [was] in the fronte of the breadth of the house, twentie cubites: and the breadth thereof twentie cubites: and he ouerlaied it with ^f best golde, of six hundredth talents.

9 And the weight of the nailes [was] fiftie shekels of golde, and he ouerlaied the chambers with golde.

10 ¶ And in the house of the moste holy place he made two Cherubims wrought like children, and ouerlaied them with golde.

11 * And the wigs of the Cherubims [were] twentie cubites long: the one wing [was] fise cubites, reaching to the wall of ^f house, and the other wing fise cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherúb.

12 Likewise the wing of the other Cherúb was fise cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing fise cubites ioyning to the wing of the other Cherúb.

13 The wings of these Cherubims were spred abroad twentie cubites: they stode on their fete and their faces [were] toward the house.

14 ¶ He made also ^f the vaile of blewe silke and purple, and crimosin, and finelinen, and wrought Cherubims thereon.

15 ¶ And he made before the house two pillars ^g of fise and thirtie cubites hie: & ^f chapter that was vpō the top of [eche] of them, [was] fise cubites.

16 He made also chaines for the oracle, & put them on the heades of the pillars, and made an ^h hundredth pomegranates, and put them among the chaines.

17 And he set vp the pillars before ^f Temple, one on the right hand & the other on the left, and called that on the right hand Iachin, and that on the left hand Bóaz.

1 And ^a he made an altar of brasse twē-tie cubites long, and twentie cubites broade, and ten cubites hie.

2 And he made a molten ^a Sea of ten cubites from brim to brim, rounde in compass, and fise cubites hie: and a line of thirtie cubites did compass it about.

3 And vnder ^b it was the facion of oxen which did compass it rounde about, ^c ten in a cubite compassing the Sea about: two rowes of oxen were cast when it was molten.

4 It stode vpon twelue oxen: thre looked toward the North, and thre looked toward the West, & thre looked toward the South, and thre looked toward the East, and the Sea [stode] about vpon them, and all their hinder partes were inwarde.

5 And the thickenes thereof [was] an hand breadth, and the brim thereof [was] like the worke of the brim of a cup, with floures of ^f lilies: it contained ^d thre thousand baths.

6 ¶ He made also ten caldrons, and put fise on the right hand, and fise on the left, to wash in them [and] to clense in them that which appertained to the burnt offerings: but the Sea [was] for the Priests to wash in.

7 ¶ And he made ten candlestickes of golde (according to ^e their forme) and put them in the Temple, fise on the right hād, and fise on the left.

8 ¶ And he made ten tables, and put them in the Temple, fise on the right hand, and fise on the left: and he made an hundredth basens of golde.

9 And he made the courte of the Priests, and the great court ^f and dores for the court, & ouerlaied the dores thereof with brasse.

10 And he set the Sea on the right side Eastwarde toward the South.

11 And Hurám made ^g pottes and besomes and basens, and Hurám finished the worke that he shuld make for King Salomón for the house of God,

12 [To wit,] two pillars, and the bowles & the chapters on the toppe of the two pillars, and two grates to couer the two bowles of the chapters which were vpon the toppe of the pillars:

13 And foure hundredth pomegranates for the two grates, two rowes of pomegranates for euerie grate to couer the two bowles of the chapters, that were vpon the pillars.

1 The things dedicated by Dauid, are put in the Temple.

2 The Arke is brought into the Temple. 10 VVhat was within it. 12 They sing praise to the Lord.

SO * was all the worke finished that Salomón made for the house of y Lord, and Salomón brought in the things that Dauid his father had dedicated, with the siluer and the golde, and al the vessels, [&] put them among the treasures of the house of God.

2 Then Salomón assembled the Elders of Israël, and all the heades of the tribes, the chief fathers of the children of Israël vnto Ierusalém to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lord from the citie of Dauid, which is Zión.

3 And all the men of Israël assembled vnto the King at the feast: it was in the seuerth moneth.

4 And all the Elders of Israël came, & the Leuites toke vp the Arke.

5 And they caryed vp the Arke and the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, those did the Priests [&] Leuites bring vp.

6 And King Salomón and all the Congregation of Israël that were assembled vnto him, [were] before the Arke, offering shepe and bullockes, which colde not be tolde nor nombred for multitude.

7 So the Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Oracle of the house, into the moste Holy place, [euen] vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

8 For the Cherubims stretched out [their] wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims covered the Arke & the barres thereof aboute.

9 And they drewe out the barres, that the ends of the barres might be sene out of the Arke before the Oracle, but they were not sene without: and there they are vnto this day.

10 Nothing [was] in the Arke, saued the two Tables, which Moses gaue at Horéb, where the Lord made a couenant with the children of Israël, whē they came out of Egypt.

11 And when the Priests were come out of the Sanctuary (for all the Priests that were present, were sanctified [and] did not waite by course:

13 And they were as one, blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one founde to be heard in praising and thanking the Lord, and when they lift vp [their] voyce with trumpets and with cymbales, and with instruments of musicke, and when they praised y Lord, [singing], For he is good, because his mercy [lasteth] for euer) the house, [euen] the house of the Lord was filled with a cloude,

Dauid my father, & hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying,

Temple.

5 Since the day that I broght my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no citie of all the tribes of Israel to buyld an house, that my Name might be there, nether chose I any man to be a ruler ouer my people Israel,

Sam. 7. 1.

6 But I haue choien Ierusalem, that my Name might be there, and haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.

7 *And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to buyld an house vnto the Name of the Lord God of Israel,

That is thyne

8 But the Lord said to Dauid my father, Where as it was in thine heart to buyld an house vnto my Name, thou didest wel, that thou wast so minded.

9 Notwithstanding thou shalt not buyld the house, but thy sonne which shall come out of thy loynes, he shall buyld an house vnto my Name.

10 And the Lord hath performed his worde that he spake: and I am risen vp in the rouse of Dauid my father, and am set on the throne of Israel as the Lord promised, and haue buylt an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

11 And I haue set the Arke there, wherein is the^b couenant of the Lord, that he made with the children of Israel.

12 ¶ And the King stood before the altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands,

13 (For Salomon had made a brasen skaf-folde & set it in the middes of the courte of fise cubits long, & fise cubites broad, and thre cubites of height, and vpon it he stode, and kneled downe vpon his knees before all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands toward heauen)

14 And said, O Lord God of Israel, *there [is] no God like thee in heauē nor in earth which kepest couenant, and mercie vnto thy seruants, that walke before thee with all their heart.

15 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth, & hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as [appea-^reth] this day.

16 Therefore now Lord God of Israel, kepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou shalt not want a man in my sight, that shall sit vpon the throne of Israel, so that thy sonnes take hede to their wayes, to walke in my Lawe, as thou hast walked before me.

17 And now, O Lord God of Israel, let thy worde be verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid;

18 (Is it true in dede that God will dwell with man on earth? beholde, the heauens, and the heauens of heauens are not able to containe thee: how much more [vna-^ble] is this house, which I haue buylt?)

19 But haue thou respect to the prayer of thy seruant, & to his supplication, O Lord my God, to heare the crye and prayer of thy seruant prayeth before thee,

20 That thine eyes may be open toward this house day and night, [euē] toward the place, whereof thou hast said, That woldest put thy Name there, that thou maiest hearken vnto the prayer, which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

21 Heare thou therefore the supplication of thy seruant, and of thy people Israel, which they pray in this place: and heare thou in the place of thine habitation, [euē] in heauen, and when thou hearest, be merciful.

22 ¶ And when a man shall sinne against his neighbour, & he lay vpon him an othe to cause him to sweare, and the swearer shall come before thine altar in this house,

23 Then heare thou in heauen, and do, and iudge thy seruants, in recompensing the wicked, to bring his way & vpon his head, and in iustifying the righteous, to giue him according to his righteousness.

24 And when thy people Israel shall be ouerthrowen before the enemy, because they haue sinned against thee, and turne againe, and confess thy Name, & pray, and make supplication before thee in this house,

25 Then heare thou in heauē, and be merciful vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, & bring them againe vnto the land which thou gauest to them and to their fathers.

26 When heauen shall be shut vp, and there shall be no raine, because they haue sinned against thee, and shall pray in this place, & confesse thy Name, and turne fro their sinne, when thou doest afflict them,

27 Then heare thou in heauen, & pardone the sinne of thy seruants, and of thy people Israel (when thou hast taught them the good way wherein they may walke) and giue raine vpon thy land, which thou hast giuen vnto thy people for an inheritance.

28 ¶ When there shall be famine in the land, when there shall be pestilence, blasting, or mildew, when there shall be gresshopper, or caterpillar, when their enemy shall besiege them in the cities of their land, [or] any plague or any sicknes;

1 The fyre conſumeth the ſacrifice. 2 The glorie of the Lord filleth the Temple. 3 He hearth his prayer. 4 And promiſeth to exalt him and his throne.

1 ANd when Salomon had made an end of praying, a fyre came downe from heauen, and conſumed the burnt offering and the ſacrifices: and the glorie of the Lord filled the houſe,

2 So that the Priests colde not enter into the houſe of the Lord, becauſe the glorie of the Lord had filled the Lords houſe.

3 And when all the children of Iſrael ſaw the fyre, and the glorie of the Lord come downe vpon the houſe, they bowed the ſelues with [their] faces to the earth vpon the pavement, and worſhipped and praiſed the Lord, [ſaying,] For he is good, becauſe his mercie [laſteth] for euer.

4 * Then the King and the people offered ſacrifices before the Lord.

5 And King Salomon offered a ſacrifice of two and twentie thouſand bullockes, and an hundreth and twentie thouſand ſhepe. ſo the King and all the people dedicated the houſe of God.

6 And the Priests waited on their offices, & the Leuites with the inſtrumets of muſike of the Lord, which King Dauid had made to praiſe the Lord, becauſe his mercie [laſteth] for euer: when Dauid praiſed [God] † by them, the Priests alſo blew trumpets ouer againſt them: and all they of Iſrael ſtoode by.

7 Moreover Salomon halowed the middle of the court that was before the houſe of the Lord: for there he had prepared burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, becauſe the braſen altar which Salomon had made, was not able to receiue the burnt offering, and the meat offering, and the fat.

8 And Salomon made a feaſt at that time of ſeuene dayes, and all Iſrael with him, a very great Congregation, from the entering in of Hamath, vnto the riuer of Egypt.

10 And the^d thre and twentieth day of the seuent moneth, he sent the people away into their tents, ioyous & with glad heart, because of the goodnes that the Lord had done for Dauid and for Salomón, and for Israël his people.

11 *So Salomón finished the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all that came into Salomons heart to make in the house of the Lord: and he prospered in his house.

12 ¶ And the Lord * appeared to Salomón by night and said to him, I haue heard thy prayer, and haue chosen this place for my selfe to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut the heauen that there be no raine, or if I commande the grasshopper to deuore the land, or if I send pestilence among my people,

14 If my people, among whome my Name is called vpon, do humble them selues, & praye, and seke my presence, and turne frō their wicked wayes, then wil I heare in heauen, and be merciful to their sinne, and will * heale their land.

15 Then mine eyes shalbe open and mine eares attent vnto the prayer [made] in this place.

16 For I haue now chosen and sanctified this house, that my Name may be there for euer: and mine eyes and mine heart shalbe there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to do according vnto all that I haue commāded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes & my iudgements, 18 Then wil I stablish the throne of thy kingdom, according as I made the covenānt with Dauid thy father, saying, * Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israël.

19 But if ye turne away, and forsake my statutes and my commandemēts which I haue set before you, and shal go and serue other gods, and worship them,

20 Then wil I plucke them vp out of my land, which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue ^f sanctified for my Name, will I cast out of my sight, and wil make it to be a prouerbe and a commune talke among all people.

21 And this house which is moste hie, shalbe an astonishment to euerie one ^y passeth by it, so that he shal say, Why hathe the Lord done thus to this land, and to this house?

22 And they shal answer, Because they forsoke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and haue taken holde on other gods, and haue worshiped them, and serued them, therefore hathe he brought all this euil ypon them.

2 Then Salomón buylt the cities that Hiram^b gaue to Salomón, and caused the children of Israël to dwel there.

3 And Salomón went to Hamáth Zobáb, and ouercame it.

4 And he buylt Tadmór in the wildernes, and repaired all ^c the cities of store which he buylt in Hamáth.

5 And he buylt^d Beth-horón the vpper, & Beth-horón ^y nether, cities defended with walles, gates and barres:

6 Also Baaláth, and all the cities of store that Salomón had, and all the charet cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and euerie pleasant place that Salomón had a minde to buyld in Ierusalém, and in ^e Lebanón, and throughout all the land of his dominion,

8 [But] of their childré which were left after them in the land, whome the children of Israël had not consumed, euen the did Salomón make ^f tributaries vntil this day.

9 But of the childré of Israël did Salomón make no seruants for his worke: for they were mē of warre, and his chief princes, & the captaines of his charets and of his horsemen.

10 So these were the chief of the officers which Salomón had, [euen] two hūdreth and fiftie that bare rule over the people.

11 ¶ The Salomón brought vp the daughter of Pharaóh out of the citie of Dauid, into the house that he had buylt for her: for he said, My wife shal not dwel in the house of Dauid King of Israël: for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lord came into it.

9 Then she gaue the King six score talents of golde, and of swete odours excedding muche, and precious stones: nether was there suche swete odours [since,] as ^f Quene of Sheba gaue vnto King Salomón.

10 And the seruants also of Hurám, and the seruants of Salomón which brought golde frō Ophír, brought ^d Algumim wood and precious stones.

11 And the King made of the Algumim wood ^e staires in the house of the Lord, & in the Kings house, and harpes and viols for fingers: and there was no suche scene before in the land of Iudáh.

12 And King Salomón gaue to the Quene of Sheba euerie pleasant thing that she asked, ^f besides for that whiche she had brought vnto the King: so she returned & went to her owne countrie, [bothe] she and her seruants.

13 ¶ Also the weight of golde that came to Salomón in one yere, was six hundreth thre score and six talents of golde, 14 Besides that which chapmen and merchants brought: and all the Kings of Arabia, & the princes of the countrie brought golde and siluer to Salomón.

15 And King Salomón made two hūdreth targats of beaten golde, [and] ^g six hūdreth [shekels] of beaten golde went to one targat,

16 And thre hundreth shields of beaten golde: thre hundreth ^h [shekels] of golde went to one shield, & the King put them in the house of the wood of Lebanón.

1 Then ^{*} Rehoboám went to Shechém: for to Shechém came all Israél to make him King.

2 And when Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát heard it, (which was in Egypt, whether he had fled frō the presence of Salomón the King) he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Ieroboám and all Israél, and comuned with Rehoboám, saying,

4 Thy father ^b made our yoke grievous: now therefore make thou [†] grievous seruitude of thy father, and his fore yoke, that he put vpon vs, lighter, and we will serue thee.

5 And he said to them, [Depart] yet thre dayes, then come againe vnto me. And [†] people departed.

6 And King Rehoboám toke counsel with the olde men that had stand before Salomón his father, while he yet liued, saying, What counsel giue ye that I may answer this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be kinde to this people, and please them, and speake louing wordes to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he left the counsel of the ancient me that they had giuen him, and toke counsel of the yong men that were brought vp with him, and ^c waited on him,

9 And he said vnto them, What counsel giue ye, that we may answer this people, which haue spoken to me, saying, Make the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the yong men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauy, but make thou it lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My ^d least parte shal be bigger then my fathers loyenes.

11 Now where as my father did burden you with a grievous yoke, I wil yet increase your yoke: my father hath chastised you with rodde: but I [will correct you] with [†] scourges.

12 ¶ Then Ieroboám and al the people came to Rehoboám the third day, as the King had appointed, saying, Come againe to me the third day.

14 And spake to them after the counsell of the yong men, saying, My father made your yoke grievous, but I wil increase it: my father chastised you with rodde, but I [wil correct you] with scourges.

15 So the King hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the ^e ordinance of God that the Lord might performe his saying, which he had spoken [†] by Ahiah the Shilonite to Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát.

16 So when all Israél sawe that the King wolde not heare them, the people answered the King, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid: for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Ishái. O Israél, euerie man to your tents: now se to thine owne house, Dauid. So all Israél departed to their tents.

19 And Israël rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

¶ CHAP. XI.

4 Rehoboam is forbidden to fight against Ieroboam. 5 Cities which he buylt. 21 He hath eightene wiues, & thre-score concubines, and by them eight and twentie sonnes, and thre-score daughters.

1 ANd *when Rehoboám was come to Ierusalém, he gathered of the house of Iudáh and a Beniamín nine score thousand chosen men of warre to fight against bIsraél, [&] to bring the kingdome againe to Rehoboám.

2 But the worde of the Lord came to Shemaiáh the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Rehoboám, the sonne of Salomón King of Iudáh, and to all Israël that are in Iudáh, and Beniamín, saying,

4 Thus sayth the Lord, Ye shal not go vp, nor fight against your brethren: returne euerie man to his house: for this thing [is] done of me. They obeyed therefore the worde of the Lord, and returned from going against Ieroboám.

5 And Rehoboám dwelt in Ierusalém, and cbuylt strong cities in Iudáh.

6 He buylt also Beth-léhem, and Etám, & Tekoa,

7 And Beth-zúr, and Shocó, & Adullám,

8 And Gath, and Marcshá, and Ziph,

9 And Adorám, and Lachish, and Azekáh,

10 And Zoráh, & Aialón, & Hebrón, which were in Iudáh and Beniamín; strong cities.

11 And he t repaired the strong holdes and put captaines in them, and store of vitaille, and oyle and wine.

12 And in all cities he put shields and speares, and made them exceeding strong: so Iudáh and Beniamín were his.

13 ¶ And the Priests and the Levites that were in al Israël, treforted vnto him out of all their coastes.

14 For the Levites left their suburbes and their possession, and came to Iudáh and to Ierusalém: *for Ieroboám and his sonnes had cast them out from ministring in the Priests office vnto the Lord.

15 *And he ordeined him Priests for the hie places, and for the deuils, and for the cal-ues which he had made.

16 And after the Leuites there came to Ierusalém of all the tribes of Israël, suche as set their hearts to seke the Lord God of Israël, to offer vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

17 So they strengthened the kingdome of Iudáh, and made Rehoboám the sonne of Salomón mightie, thre yere long: for thre yere they t walked in the way of Dauid & Salomón.

18 ¶ And Rehoboám toke him Mahaláth the daughter of Ierimóth the sonne of Dauid to wife, [and] Abiháil the daughter of Eliáb the sonne of Ishái, 19 Which bare him sones, Ieúsh, and Shemariáh, and Záham.

20 And after her he toke Maakáh the daughter of Absalóm which bare him Abiiah, and Athái, and Zizá, and Shelomíth.

21 And Rehoboám loued Maakáh the daughter of Absalóm aboue all his wiues and his concubines: for he toke eightene wiues, and thre score concubines, and begate eight and twentie sonnes, and thre-score daughters.

22 And Rehoboám made s Abiiah t sonne of Maakáh the chief ruler among his brethren: [for] he thought to make him King.

23 And he taught him: and disperfed all his sonnes throughout all the countries of Iudáh and Beniamín vnto euerie strög citie: and he gaue them abundance of vitaille, and b desired many wiues.

1 ANd when t Rehoboám had established the kingdome & made it strög, he forsoke the Lawe of the Lord, and a all Israël with him.

4 And he toke the strong cities which were of Iudáh, and came vnto Ierusalém.

5 ¶ Then came Shemaiáh the Prophet to Rehoboám, and to the princes of Iudáh, that were gathered together in Ierusalém, because of Shishák, and said vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord, Ye haue forsaken me, t therefore haue I also left you in the hands

6 Then the princes of Israël, and the King humbled them selues, and said, The Lord [is]^d iuste.

7 And when the Lord sawe that they humbled them selues, the worde of the Lord came to Shemaiah, saying, They haue humbled them selues, [therefore] I wil not destroye them, but I wil send them deliuerance shortly, & my wrath shal not be powred out vpon Ierusalém by the hand of Shishák.

8 Neuertheles they shalbe his seruants: so shal thei know my seruice, and the seruice of the kingdomes of the earth.

9 ¶ Then Shishák King of Egypt came vp against Ierusalém, and toke the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house: he toke [euē] all, and he caryed away the shields of golde, * which Salomón had made.

10 In stead whereof King Rehoboám made shields of brasē, and committed them to the hands of the chief of the garde, that waited at the dore of the Kings house.

11 And when ¶ King entred into the house of the Lord, the garde came and bare them and broght them againe vnto the garde chamber.

12 And because he humbled him selfe, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he wolde not destroy all together. And also in Iudah the things prospered.

13 * So King Rehoboám was strong in Ierusalém and reigned: for Rehoboám was one & fourtie yere olde, whē he begā to reigne, & reigned 8 seuentene yeres in Ierusalém, the citie which the Lord had chosen out of all the tribes of Israël to put his Name there. And his mothers name was Naamah an Ammonitessē.

14 And he did euil: for he prepared not his heart to seke the Lord.

15 The actes also of Rehoboám, first and last, are they not writen in the booke of Shemaiah the Prophet, and Iddó the Seer, in rehearsing the genealogie: and there [was] warre alway betwene Rehoboám & Ieroboám.

16 And Rehoboám slept with his fathers, and was buried in the citie of Dauid, & Abiiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

3 And Abiiah set the battel in aray with the armie of valiant men of warre, [euē] foure hundred thousand chosen men, Ieroboám also set the battel in aray against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men which were strong [and] valiant.

4 And Abiiah stode vp vpon mount Zemeráim, which is in mount Ephraim, and said, O Ieroboám, and all Israël, heare you me,

5 Oght you not to knowe that the Lord God of Israël hath giuen the kingdom ouer Israël to Dauid for euer, [euē] to him and to his sonnes by a couenant of salt?

6 And Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát the seruant of Salomón the sonne of Dauid is risen vp, and hath rebelled against his Lord.

7 And there are gathered to him 8 vaine men [and] 7 wicked, and made them selues strong against Rehoboám the sonne of Salomón: for Rehoboám was [but] a childe and tender hearted, and colde not resist them.

8 Now therefore ye thinke that ye be able to resist against the kingdom of the Lord, [which is] in the hands of the sonnes of Dauid, and ye be a great multitude, and the golden calves [are] with you which Ieroboám made you for gods.

Aśa destroyeth idolatrie and commadeth his people to serue the true God. 11 He prayeth vnto God when he shulde go to fight. 12 He obtēneth the victorie.

1 SO* Abiiah slept with his fathers, & thei buried him in the cite of Dauid, & Aśa his sonne reigned in his steade: in whose dayes the land was quiet ten yere.

2 And Aśa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 For he toke away the altars of the strange [gods,] & the hie places, & brake downe the images, and cut downe the groues,

4 And commanded Iudāh to seke the Lord God of their fathers, & to do according to the Lawe and the commandement.

5 And he toke away out of all the cities of Iudāh the hie places, & the images, therefore the kingdome was quiet before him.

6 He buylt also strong cities in Iudāh, because the land was in rest, and he had no warre in those yeres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.

7 Therefore he said to Iudāh, Let vs buyld these cities and make walles about, and towres, gates, and barres, whiles the lād is before vs: because we haue fought the Lord our God, we haue fought him, and he hath giuen vs rest on euerie side: so they buylt and prospered.

8 And Aśa had an armie of Iudāh that bare sheilds and speares, thre hundred thousand, and of Beniamin that bare sheilds & drewe bowes, two hundred & foure score thousand: all these were valiant men.

9 ¶ And there came out against the Zerah of Ethiopia with an hoste of ten hundred thousand, and thre hundred charets, and came vnto Mareśhah.

10 Then Aśa went out before him, and ther set the battell in aray in the valley of Zephathah beside Mareśhah.

11 And Aśa cryed vnto the Lord his God, & said, Lord, it is nothing with thee to helpe with many, [or] with no power: helpe vs, O Lord our God: for we rest on thee, and in thy Name are we come against this multitude: O Lord, thou art our God, let not man preuaile against thee.

12 ¶ So the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Aśa and before Iudāh, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Aśa and the people that was with him, pursued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians hoste was euerthrowen, so that there was no lyfe in them: for they were destroyed before the Lord and before his hoste: & they caryed away a mighty great spoile,

14 And they smote all the cities round about Gerar: for the feare of the Lord came vpon them, and they spoiled all the cities, for there was exceeding much spoile in them.

15 Yea, and they smote the tents of cattel, and caryed away plentie of shepe and camels, and returned to Ierusalem.

11 And they offered vnto the Lord the same time of spoyle, [which] they had brought, [even] seven hundreth bullockes, and seue thousand shepe.

12 And they made a couenant to seke the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their soule.

13 And whosoever wil not seke the Lord God of Israel, shal be sleane, whether he were small or great, man or woman.

14 And they sware vnto the Lord with a loude voyce, and with shouting and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Iudáh reioyced at the othe: for they had sworne vnto the Lord with all their heart, and sought him with a whole desire, and he was founde of them. And the Lord gaue them rest rounde about.

16 ¶ And King Asa deposed Maacháh [his] mother frō her regencie, because she had made an idole in a groue: and Asa brake downe her idole, & stamped it, and burnt it at the broke Kidrón.

17 But the hie places were not taken away out of Israel: yet the heart of Asa was perfite all his dayes.

18 Also he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, & that he had dedicate, siluer, and golde, & vessels.

2 Asa for feare of Baasha King of Israel, maketh a couenant with Benhadad King of Aram. 7 He is reproved by the Prophet. 10 VVhō he putteth in prison. 12 He putteth his trust in the Philicians. 13 His death.

1 IN the six & thirtieth yere of the reigne of Asa came a Baasha King of Israel vp against Iudáh, and buylt Ramáh to let none passe out or go in to Asa King of Iudáh.

2 Then Asa brought out siluer and golde out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the Kings house, and sent to Benhadad King of Aram that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

3 There [is] a couenant betwene me & thee, and betwene my father and thy father: behold, I haue sent thee siluer and golde: come, & breake thy league with Baasha King of Israel that he may departe from me.

4 And Benhadad hearkened vnto King Asa, and sent the captaines of the armies which he had, against the cities of Israel. And they smote lion, and Dan, and Abel-máim, and the store cities of Naphtalí.

5 And when Baasha heard it, he left buylding of Ramáh, and let his worke cease.

6 Then Asa the King toke all Iudáh, and caryed away the stones of Ramáh and the tymbre thereof, wherewith Baasha did buyld, and he buylt therewith Gebá and Mizpáh.

7 And at that same time Hanani the Seer came to Asa King of Iudáh, and said vnto him, Because thou hast rested vpon the King of Aram, and not rested in the Lord thy God, therefore is the hoste of the King of Aram escaped out of thine hand.

8 *The Ethiopians and the Lubims, were they not a great hoste with charrets and horsemen, exccading many: yet because thou didest rest vpon the Lord, he deliuered them into thine hand.

9 *For the eyes of the Lord beholde all the earth to shewe him self strong with them that are of perfite heart toward him: thou hast then done foolishly in this: therefore from henceforth thou shalt haue warres.

10 The Asa was wroth with the Seer, & put him into a prison. for he was displeased with him, because of this thing. And Asa oppressed [certeine] of the people at the same time.

11 And beholde, the actes of Asa first and last, lo, they are writen in the booke of the Kings of Iudáh and Israel.

5 Iehoshaphat trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches & honour. 6 He aboliseth idolatrie, 7 And causeth the people to be taught. 11 He receiueh tribute of strangers. 13 His munitions and men of warre.

1 And Iehoshaphat his sōne reigned in his stead, & preuailed against Israél.

2 And he put garisons in all the strong cities of Iudáh, and set bands in the land of Iudáh and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphat, because he walked in the first wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not Baalim,

4 But sought the Lord God of his father, & walked in his commandements, and not after the trade of Israél.

5 Therefore the Lord stablished the kingdom in his hand, and all Iudáh brought presents to Iehoshaphat, so that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And he lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and he toke awaie moreouer the high places & the groues out of Iudáh.

7 ¶ And in the third yere of his reigne he sent his princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiáh, & Zechariah, and Nethaneél, and Michaiáh, that they shulde teache in the cities of Iudáh,

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiah, and Nethaniah, and Zebadiáh, and Asahél, & Shemiramoth, and Iehonathan and Adoniah, and Tobiah, and Tob adoniah, Leuites, and with them Elishama and Iehoram Priests.

9 And they taught in Iudáh, and had the booke of the Lawe of the Lord with them, & went about throughout all the cities of Iudáh, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdomes of the lands that were round about Iudáh, and they fought not against Iehoshaphat.

11 Also [some] of the Philistims brought Iehoshaphat gifts and tribute siluer, and the Arabians brought him flockes, seuen thousand and seuen hundred rams, and seuen thousand and seuen hundred hie goates.

12 So Iehoshaphat prospered & grewe vp on hie: and he buylt in Iudáh palaces and cities of store.

13 And he had great workes in the cities of Iudáh, and men of warre, [¶] valiant men in Ierusalém.

4 And Iehoshaphat said vnto the King of Israél, Aske counsel, I pray thee, at the worde of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the King of Israél gathered of Prophetes foure hundred men, and said vnto them, Shal we go to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shal I cease? And they said, Go vp: for God shal delyuer it into the Kings hand.

8 And the King of Israël called an eunuch and said, Call quickly Michaiáh the sonne of Imlá.

9 ¶ And the King of Israël, and Iehoshaphát King of Iudáh sate either of them on his throne clothed in [their] apparel: they sate euē in the threshing floore at the entering in of the gate of Samaria: and all the Prophetes prophesied before them.

10 And Zidkiáh the sonne of Chenaanáh made him ⁱ hornes of yron, & said, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou push the Aramites vntil thou hast consumed them.

11 And all the Prophetes prophesied so, saying, Go vp to Ramóth Gileád, & prosper: for the Lord shal deliuer it into the hand of the King.

12 ¶ And the messenger that went to call Michaiáh, spake to him, saying, Beholde [¶] wordes of the Prophetes [declare] good to [¶] King with one ^k accorde: let thy worde therefore, I pray thee, be lyke one of theirs, and speake thou good.

13 And Michaiáh said, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer my God saith, [¶] wil I speake.

14 So he came to the King, and the King said vnto him, Michaiáh, shal we go to Ramóth Gileád to battel, or shal I leaue off? And he said, ⁱ Go ye vp, and prosper, and they shal be deliuered into your hand.

15 And the King said to him, How oft shal I charge thee, that thou tel me nothing but the trueth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he said, I sawe all Israél scatered in mountaines, as shepe that haue no shepheard: and the Lord said, ^m These haue no master: let them returne euerie man to his house in peace.

17 And the King of Israël said to Iehoshaphát, Did I not tel thee, that he wolde not prophesie good vnto me, but euil?

18 Againe he said, Therefore here ye the worde of the Lord: I sawe the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the ⁿ hoste of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left,

19 And the Lord said, Who shal [¶] persuade Aháb King of Israël, that he may go vp and faye at Ramoth Gileád? And one spake and said thus, and another said that.

20 Thē there came forth a spirit and stode before the Lord, & said, I wil persuade him. And the Lord said vnto him, Wherein?

21 And he said, I wil go out, and be a false spirite in the mouthe of all his prophets. And ^o he said, Thou shalt persuade, & shalt also preuaile: go forth, and do so.

22 Now therefore beholde, the Lord hath put a [¶] false spirit in the mouthe of these thy prophetes, and the Lord hath determined euil against thee.

23 Thē Zidkiáh the sonne of Chenaanáh came nere, and smote Michaiáh vpon the cheeke, and said, By what way went the Spirit of the Lord frō me, to speake with thee?

24 And Michaiáh said, Beholde, thou shalt see that day whē thou shalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the King of Israël said, Take ye Michaiáh, and cary him to Amón the gouernour of the citie, & to Ioáh the Kings sonne, 26 And say, Thus saith the King, Put this man in the prison house, & fede him with bread of ^r affliction and with water of affliction vntil I returne in peace.

27 And Michaiáh said, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And [†] he said, Heare, all ye people.

28 So the King of Israël and Iehoshaphát the King of Iudáh went vp to Ramóth Gileád.

29 And the King of Israël said vnto Iehoshaphát, I wil change my selfe, and entre into the battel: but put thou on thine apparel. So the King of Israël chāged him selfe, and they went into the battel.

30 And the King of Arám had cōmanded the captaines of the charets that were with him, saying, Fight you not with small nor great, but against [¶] King of Israël onely.

31 And when the captaines of the charets sawe Iehoshaphát, they said, It is the King of Israël: and they compassed about him to fight. But Iehoshaphát ^r cryed, and the Lord helped him, and moued them [to depart] from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charets sawe that he was not the King of Israël, they turned backe from him.

33 Then [a certeinē] man drew a bowe mightely, and smote the King of Israël betwene the ioyntes [†] of his brigandine: therefore he said to his charer man, Turne thine hand, and cary me out of the hoste: for I am hurt.

34 And the battel increased that day: and the King of Israël ^u stode stil in his charer against the Aramites vntil euen, and dyed at the time of the sunne going downe.

10 Then Ichoshaphát bowed downe wth his face to the earth, and all Iudáh and the inhabitants of Ierusalém fell downe before the Lord, worshiping the Lord.

11 And the Leuites of the children of the Kohathites and of the children of the Corhites stode vp to praise the Lord God of Israel with a loude voice on hie.

12 And when they arose early in the morning, thei went forth to the wildernes of Tekoa: & as they departed, Ichoshaphát stode and said, Heare ye me, o Iudáh, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalém: put your trust in the Lord your God, and ye shalbe assured: beleue his ^{is} Prophetes, and ye shall prosper.

14 And when they began to shoute, and to praise, the Lord laied ambushments against the children of Ammón, Moáb, & mount Seir, which were come against Iudáh, and they slewe one another.

15 For the children of Ammón and Moáb rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, to slaye & to destroye [them:] and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, euerie one helped to destroye another.

16 And when Iudáh came toward Mizpáh in the wildernes, they loked vnto the multitude: and beholde, the carkeises were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

17 And when Ichoshaphát and his people came to take away the spoile of them, they founde among them in abundance bothe of substance and also of bodics laden with precious iewels, whiche they toke for the selues, til they coulde cary no more: they were thre dayes in gathering of the spoile: for it was muche.

18 And in the fourte day they assembled them selues in the valley of Beracháh: for there thei blessed the Lord: therefore thei called the name of that place, The valley of Beracháh vnto this day.

19 Then euerie man of Iudáh and Ierusalém returned with Ichoshaphát their head, to go againe to Ierusalém with ioye: for the Lord had made them to reioyce ouer their enemies.

20 And they came to Ierusalém with viols, and with harpes, and with trumpets, [euen] vnto the house of the Lord.

21 And the feare of God was vpon all the kingdomes of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had fought against the enemies of Israel.

1. King. 22. 41

Meaning, in his vertues and those wayes, wherein he followed God.

If great care and diligence of this good King was notable vnto abolish the all superstition & idolatrye out of this people, but yet thei would still reueine their filth and idolatrye, how much lesse are they able to reforme euil, whiche either haue little zeale, or not such as he had: though herein he was not to be excused.

1. King. 22. 49 Thus God wolde not haue him to ioyne in societie with idolaters & wicked men.

IEhoshaphát then slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the cite of Dauid: and Iehorám his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And he had brethren the sonnes of Iehoshaphát, Azariáh, and Iehiél, & Zechariáh, and Azariáh, and Michaél, & Shephatiáh. All these were the sonnes of Iehoshaphát King of Israel.

3 And their father gaue them great giftes of siluer and of golde, and of precious things, with strong cities in Iudáh, but the kingdome gaue he to Iehorám: for he was the eldest.

4 *And Iehorám rose vp vpon his kingdome of his father, and made him selfe stróg, & slewe all his brethren with the sword, and also of the princes of Israel.

5 Iehorám was two and thirtie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eight yere in Ierusalém.

6 And he walked in the waye of the Kings of Israel, as the house of Aháb had done: for he had the daughter of Aháb to wife, and he wrought euil in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit the Lord wolde not destroy the house of Dauid, because of the covenant that he had made with Dauid, and because he had promised to giue a light to him, and to his sonnes for euer.

8 ¶ In his dayes Edóm rebelled fró vnder the hand of Iudáh, and made a King ouer them.

9 And Iehorám wēt forthe with his princes, and all his charets with him: & he rose vp by night, and smote Edóm, which had compassed him in, and the captaines of the charets.

10 But Edóm rebelled from vnder the hād of Iudáh vnto this day. Thē did Libnah rebell at the sametime fró vnder his hād, because he had forsaken the Lord God of his father.

11 ¶ Moreouer he made hie places in the mountaines of Iudáh, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalém to commit fornication, and compelled Iudáh [thereto].

12 And there came a writing to him from Eliáh the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the waies of Iehoshaphát thy father, nor in the wayes of Asa King of Iudáh,

13 But hast walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, and hast made Iudáh and the inhabitants of Ierusalém to go a whoring, as the house of Aháb went a whoring, and hast also sleane thy brethrē of thy fathers house, which were better then thou,

14 Beholde, with a great plague wil the Lord smite thy people, and thy children, & thy wiues, and all thy substance, 15 And thou shalt be in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntil thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

16 ¶ So the Lord stirred vp against Iehorám the spirit of the Philistims, and the Arabians that were beside the Ethiopias.

17 And they came vp into Iudáh, and brake into it, and caried away all the substance that was founde in the Kings house, & his sonnes also, & his wiues, so that there was not a sonne left him, saue Iehoaház, the yongest of his sonnes.

18 And after all this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in proceffe of time, euen after the end of two yeres, his guttes fell out with his disease: so he dyed of sore diseases: & his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, he was two and thirtie yere olde, and reigned in Ierusalém eight yeres, and liued without being desired: yet they buried him in the cite of Dauid, but not among the sepulchres of the Kings.

3 He walked also in the waies of the house of Aháb: for his mother counseled him to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did euil in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Aháb: for they were his counselors after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And he walked after their counsel, and went with Iehorám the sonne of Aháb King of Israel to fight against Hazaél king of Arám at Ramóth Gileád: and the Aramites smote Iorám.

6 ¶ And he returned to be healed in Izreél because of the woundes wherewith he had wounded him at Ramáh, when he foght with Hazaél King of Arám. Now Azariáh the sonne of Iehorám King of Iudáh went downe to se Iehorám the sonne sonne of Aháb at Izreél, because he was diseased.

7 And the destruction of Ahaziáh came of God, in that he went to Iorám: for whē he was come, he went forth with Iehorám against Iehú the sonne of Nimshí, whome the Lord had anointed to destroye the house of Aháb.

8 Therefore when Iehú executed iudgement vpon the house of Aháb, and founde the princes of Iudáh and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziáh that waited on Ahaziáh, he slewe them also.

9 And he sought Ahaziáh, and they caught him where he was hid in Samaria, & brought him to Iehú, and slewe him, and buried him, because, said they, he is the sonne of Iehoshaphát, which sought the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziáh was not able to retaine the kingdome.

10 ¶ Therefore whē Athaliáh the mother of Ahaziáh sawe that her sonne was dead, she arose and destroyed all the Kings seede of the house of Iudáh.

11 But Iehoshabeáth the daughter of the King, toke Ioásh the sonne of Ahaziáh, and staled him from among the Kings sonnes that shulde be sleane, and put him and his nurse in the bed chamber: so Iehoshabeáth the daughter of King Iehorám the wife of Iehoiadá the Priest (for she was the sister of Ahaziáh) hid him from Athaliáh: so she slewe him not.

12 And he was with them hid in the house of God six yeres, whiles Athaliáh reigned ouer the land.

¶ CHAP. XXIII.

1 Ioash the sonne of Ahaziah is made King. 3 Athaliah is put to death. 17 The Temple of Baal is destroyed. 19 Iehoiada appointeth ministers in the Temple.

1 And^a in the seuenthe yere Iehoiadá waxed bolde, and toke the captaynes of hundreths, [to wit,] Azariáh sonne of Ierohám, and Ishmaél the sonne of Iehohanán, & Azariáh the sonne of Obéd, and Maasiáh the sonne of Adaiáh and Eliphaphát the sonne of Zichrí in couenant with him.

2 And they went about in Iudáh, and gathered the Leuites out of all the cities of Iudáh, and the chief fathers^b of Israél: & they came to Ierusalém.

3 And all the Congregation made a couenant with the King in the house of God: and he said vnto them, Beholde the Kings sonne must reigne, * as the Lord hath said of the sonnes of Dauid.

4 This is it that ye shal do, The third parte of you that come on the Sabbath of the Priests, and the Leuites, [shal be] porters of the dores.

5 And [another] third parte toward the Kings house; and [another] third parte at the * gate of the c fundation, and all the people [shal be] in the courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the house of the Lord, save the Priests, and the Leuites & minister: they shall go in, for they are holy: but all the people shal kepe the watche of the Lord.

7 And the Leuites shal compass the King round about, and euerie mā with his weapon in his hand, and he that entreth^d into the house, shal be slayne: and be you with the King, when he commeth in, and when he goeth out.

8 ¶ So the Leuites and all Iudáh did according to all things that Iehoiadá the Priest had commanded, and toke euerie man his men that came on the Sabbath: for Iehoiadá the Priest did not discharge the courtes.

9 And Iehoiadá the Priest deliuered to the captaynes of hundreths speares, and shields, and bucklers whiche had bene King Dauids, and were in the house of God.

10 And he caused all the people to stand (euerie man with his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the altar and by the house rounde about the King.

11 Then they brought out the Kings sonne, and put vpon him the crowne, and [gaue him] the testimonie, and made him King. And Iehoiadá and his sonnes anointed him, and said, God saue the King.

12 ¶ But when Athaliáh heard the noise of the people running and praising the King, she came to the people into the house of the Lord.

13 And whē she looked, beholde, the King stode by his pillar at the entring in, and the princes & the trumpets by the King, and all the people of the land reioyced, and blew the trumpets, & the singers [were] with instruments of musicke, & they that colde sing praise: then Athaliáh rent her clothes, and said, Treason, treason.

14 Then Iehoiadá the Priest brought out the captaynes of hundreths that were gouerners of the hoste, and said vnto them, Haue her forth of the rangs, & he that followeth her, let him dye by the sword: for the Priest had said, Slea her not in the house of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

4 Ioash repaireth the house of the Lord. 17 After the death of Iehoiadā he falleth to idolatrie: 21 He stoneth to death Zechariah the Prophet. 26 Ioash is killed of his owne seruants. 27 After him reigneth Amaziah.

Ioash^{*} [was] seuen yere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned fourtie yere in Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Ioash did vp rightly in the sight of the Lord, all the dayes of^a Iehoiadā the Priest.

3 And Iehoiadā[†] toke him two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 ¶ And afterward it came into Ioash minde, to renew the house of the Lord.

5 And he assembled the Priests and the Leuites, & said to them, Go out vnto the cities of Iudah, and gather of all^b Israel money to repaire the house of your God, from yere to yere, and haste the thing: but the Leuites hasted not.

6 Therefore the King called Iehoiadā, the^c chief, and said vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Leuites to bring in out of Iudah and Ierusalem^{*} the taxe of Moses the seruant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of the testimonie?

7 For^d wicked Athaliah, [and] her children brake vp the house of God: & al the things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did thei bestowe vpon Baalim.

8 Therefore the King commanded,^{*} and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord.

9 And they made proclamation through Iudah and Ierusalem, to bring vnto the Lord^{*} the taxe of Moses the seruant of God, [laied] vpon Israel in the wilderness.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioiced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, vntil they had finished.

11 And when it was time,^e thei broght the chest vnto the Kings officer by the hand of the Leuites: and when they sawe that there was muche siluer, then[†] Kings Scribe (& one appointed by the hie Priest) came and emptied the chest, and toke it, and caried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day, and gathered siluer in abundance.

12 And the King and^f Iehoiadā gaue it to suche as did the labour [and] worke in the house of the Lord, and hyred masons and carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: [they gaue it] also to workers of yron and brasse, to repaire the house of the Lord.

13 So the workmen wrought, and the worke[†] amended through their hands: and they restored the house of God to his state, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they broght the rest of the siluer before the King and Iehoiadā, and he made there of vessels for the house of the Lord, [euery] vessels to minister, bothe morters & [incense] cuppes, and vessels of golde, and of siluer: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the dayes of Iehoiadā.

15 ¶ But Iehoiadā waxed olde, & was full of daies and dyed. An hundreth and thirtie yere olde [was he] when he dyed.

16 And thei buryed him in the cite of Dauid with the^h Kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 ¶ And after the death of Iehoiadā, came theⁱ princes of Iudah, and did reuerence to the King, & the King hearkened vnto them.

19 And [God] sent Prophetes among the, to bring them againe vnto the Lord: and they^k made protestation amōg them, but they wolde not heare.

20 And the Spirit of God came vpon Zachariáh the sonne of Iehoiadá the Priest, which stode^l aboute the people, and said vnto them, Thus sayth God, Why transgresse ye the commandements of^f Lord: surely it shal not prosper: because ye haue forsaken the Lord, he also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him, and stoned him with stones at the^m commandement of the King, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Ioásh the King remembred not^f kindenes which Iehoiadá his father had done to him, but slewe his sonne. And when he dyed, he said, The Lordⁿ loke vpon it, and require it.

23 ¶ And when the yere was out, the hoste of Arám came vp against him, and they came against Iudáh and Ierusalém, & destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoile of them vnto the King of Damascus.

24 Thogh the armie of Arám came with a small company of men, yet the Lord deliuered a very great armie into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers: and they^o gaue sentence against Ioásh.

25 And when they were departed frō him, (for they left him in great diseases) his owne seruants conspired against him for the blood of the^p children of Iehoiadá^f Priest, and slewe him on his bed, and he dyed, and they buried him in the cite of Dauid: but they buried him not in the sepulchres of the Kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against him, Zabád the sonne of Shimráth an Ammonitess, and Iehozabád the sonne of Shimráth a Moabiteffe.

27 But^q his sonnes, and the summe of the taxe^r [gathered] by him, and the^r fundatiō of the house of God, beholde, they are written in the storie of the boke of the Kings. And Amaziáh his sonne reigned in his stead.

¶ CHAP. XXV.

3 Amaziáh putteth them to death which slewe his father. 10 He sendeth backe them of Israel. 11 He ouercometh the Edomites. 14 He falleth to idolatrie. 17 And Ioásh King of Israel ouercometh Amaziáh. 27 He is slayne by a conspiracie.

A Maziáh was fise and twentie yere olde, when he began to reigne, & he reigned nine and twentie yere in^{*} Ierusalém: & his mothers name [was] Iehoadán, of Ierusalém.

2 And he did^a vprightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfite heart.

3 And when the kingdome was established vnto him, he slewe his seruants, that had slayne the King his father.

4 But he slewe not their children, but [did] as it is written in the Law, [and] in^f boke of Mōses, where the Lord commanded, saying, * The fathers shal not dye for the^b children, nether shal the children dye for the fathers, but euerie man shal dye for his owne sinne.

5 ¶ And Amaziáh assembled Iudáh, and made them captaines ouer thousands, & captaines ouer hundreths according to^f houses of their fathers, throughout all Iudáh and Beniamín: & heⁿ nombred them from^r twentie yere olde and aboue, and founde among them thre hundred thousand chosen men, to go forth to the warre, and to handle speare and shield.

6 He hyred also an hundred thousand valiant men^d out of Israel for an hundred talents of siluer.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, O King, let not the armie of Israel go with thee: for the Lord is not^{*} with Israel, [neither] with all the house of Ephráim.

8 If^f not, go thou on, do it, make thy selfe strong to the battel, [but] God shal make thee fall before theemie: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

9 And Amaziáh said to the man of God, What shal we do then for the hundred talents, which I haue giuen to the hoste of Israel? Then the man of God answered, The Lord is able to^g giue thee more then this.

10 So Amaziáh separated them, [to wit] the armie that was come to him out of Ephráim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly against Iudáh, and they returned to their places with great angre.

11 Then Amaziáh was encouraged, & led forth his people, & went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of^h Scír, ten thousand.

11 Vziah had also an hoste of fighting men that wēt out to warre by bādes, according to the counte of their number vnder the hand of Ieiel the scribe, and Maaseiah the ruler, [&] vnder the hād of Hananiah, one of the Kings captaines.

12 The whole^h number of the cheif of the families of the valiāt men [were] two thousand and six hundred.

13 And vnder their hand [was] the armie for warre, three hundred and seven thousand, and five hundred that fought valiantly to helpe the King against the enemic.

14 And Vziah prepared them throughout all the hoste, shields, and speares, and helmets, and briggandines, and bowes, and stones to sling.

15 He made also verie † artificial engins in Ierusalēm, to be vpon the towres and vpon the corners, to shote arrowes and great stones: and his name spred farre abroad, because [God] did helpe him meruelously, til he was mightie.

16 ¶ But when he was strong, his heart was lift vp to [his] destruction: for he transgressed against the Lord his God, & went into the Temple of the Lord to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, & with him fourescore Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withstode Vziah the King, & said vnto him, * It pertaineth not to thee, Vziah, to burne incense vnto the Lord, but to the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, that are cōsecrated for to offer incense: * go forthe of the Sanctuarie: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none honour of the Lord God.

19 The Vziah was wroth, & had incēse in his hād to burne it: & while he was wroth with the Priests, the leprosie rose vp in his forehead before the Priests in the house of the Lord beside the incense altar.

20 And when Azariah the chief Priest with all the Priests looked vpon him, beholde, he was leprous in his fore head, and thei caused him hastily to departe thence: and he was euē compelled to go out, because the Lord had smiten him.

21 * And Vziah the King was a lepre vnto the day of his death, and dwelt as a lepre in an^h house aparte, because he was cut off from the house of the Lord: & Iotham his sonne [ruled] ouer the Kings house, & iudged the people of the land.

22 Concerning the rest of the actes of Vziah, first and last, did Isaiāh the Prophet & sonne of Amóz write.

23 So Vziah slept with his fathers, and they buryed him with his fathers in the field of the buryal, which pertained to the Kings: for they said, He is^m a lepre. And Iotham his sonne reigned in his stead.

whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israël.

4 He sacrificed also and burnt incense in the hie places, and on hilles, and vnder euerie grene tre.

5 Wherefore the Lord his God deliuered him into the hand of the King of the Aramites, and they smote him, and toke of his, many prisoners, and broght them to Damascus: and he was also deliuered into the hand of the King of Israël, whiche smote him with a great slaughter.

6 For Pekáh the sone of Remaliáh, slewe in Iudáh six score thousand in one day, all valiant men, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Zichrí a mightie man of Ephraím slewe Naaseiáh the Kings sonne, & Azrikám the gouernour of the house, and Elkanáh the seconde after the King.

8 And the children of Israël toke prisoners of their brethren, two hundred thousand, of women, sonnes and daughters, & caryed away muche spoile of them, and broght the spoile to Samaria.

9 ¶ But there was a Prophet of the Lords, (whose name [was] Odéd) and he went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, and said vnto them, Beholde, because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth w Iudáh, he hath deliuered them into your hand, and ye haue slaine them in a rage, that reacheth vp to heauen.

10 And now ye purpose to kepe vnder the children of Iudáh and Ierusalém, as seruants and handmaidens vnto you. but are not you [suche, that] sinnes [are] with you before the Lord your God?

11 Now therefore heare me, and deliuer the captiues againe, which ye haue také prisoners of your brethren: for the feare wrath of the Lord [is] toward you.

12 Wherefore certeine of the chief of the children of Ephraím, Azariah the sonne of Iehohanán, Berechiáh the sonne of Meshillemóth, and Iehizkiáh the sonne of Shallúm, and Amasá the sonne of Hadlái, stode vp against them that came from the warre, 13 And said vnto them, Bring not in the captiues hether: for [this shalbe] a sinne vpon vs [against] the Lord: ye entend to adde more to our sinnes and to our trespassse, though our trespassse be great, and the feare wrath [of God is] against Israël.

14 So the armie left the captiues and the spoile before the princes and all the Congregation.

15 And the mé that were named by name, rose vp and toke the prisoners, and with the spoile clothed all that were naked among them, and arayed them, and shod them, and gaue them meate & gaue them drinke, and anointed them, and caryed all that were feble of them vpon asses, and broght them to Ierichó the citie of Palmertrees to their brethren: so they returned to Samaria.

16 ¶ At that time did King Aház send vnto the Kings of Asshúr, to helpe him.

17 (For the Edomites came moreouer, & slewe of Iudáh, & caryed away captiues.

18 The Philistims also inuaded the cities in the lowe countrie, and toward South of Iudáh, and toke Bethshémesh and Aialón, and Gederóth, and Shochó, with the villages thereof, and Timnáh with her villages, and Gimzo with her villages, and they dwelt there.

19 For the Lord had humbled Iudáh, because of Aház King of Israël: for he had broght vengeance vpon Iudáh, and had greuously transgressed against the Lord)

20 And Tiglath Pilneéser King of Asshúr came vnto him, who troubled him and did not strengthen him.

21 For Aház took a portion out of the house of the Lord and out of the Kings house and of the princes, and gaue vnto the King of Asshúr: yet it helped him not.

22 And in the time of his tribulation did he yet trespassse more against the Lord, (this is King Aház)

23 For he sacrificed vnto the gods of Damascus, which plagued him, and he said, Because the gods of Kings of Arám helped them, I wil sacrifice vnto them, & their wil helpe me: yet they were his ruine, & of all Israël.

24 And Aház gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut vp the dores of the house of the Lord, and made him altars in euerie corner of Ierusalém.

25 And in euerie citie of Iudáh he made hie places, to burne incense vnto other gods, and prouoked to angre the Lord God of his fathers.

26 Concerning the rest of his actes, and all his wayes first and last, beholde, they are writen in the booke of the Kings of Iudáh, and Israël.

1 Hezeiah^a began to reigne, when he was five and twentie yere olde, and reigned nine and twentie yere in Ierusalem: and his mothers name [was] [†]Abiah the daughter of Zechariah.

2 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, according to all that Dauid his father had done.

3 He opened the ^adores of the house of the Lord in the first yere and in the ^bfirst moneth of his reigne, and repared them.

4 And he brought in the Priests and the Leuites, and gathered them into the East strete,

5 And said vnto them, Heare me, ye Leuites: sanctifie now your selues, and sanctifie the house of the Lord God of your fathers, and carye forthe the filthines out of the Sanctuarie.

6 For our fathers haue trespassed, & done euil in the eyes of the Lord our God, & haue forsaken him, and turned away their faces from the Tabernacle of the Lord, & turned their backs.

7 They haue also shut the dores of the porche, and quenched the lampes, and haue nether burnt incense, nor offered burnt offerings in the Sanctuarie vnto the God of Israel.

8 Wherefore the wrath of the Lord hath bene on Iudah and Ierusalem: & he hath made them a [†]scatering, a desolation, & an hissing, as ye se with your eyes.

9 For lo, our fathers are fallen by the sworde, and our sonnes, and our daughters, and our wiues [are] in captiuitie for the same cause.

10 Now [†]I purpose to make a couenant with the Lord God of Israel, that he may ^aturne away his searce wrath from vs.

11 Now my sonnes, be not deceiued: for the Lord hathe ^achosen you to stand before him, to serue him, and to be his ministers, and to burne incense.

12 ¶ Then the Leuites arose, Mahath the sonne of Amasai, and Joel the sonne of Azariah of the sonnes of Merari, Kish the sonne of Abdi, and Azariah the sonne of Iehalel: and of the Gerphonites, Ioah the sonne of Zimma, and Eden the sonne of Ioah:

14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Iehiel, &

Shimeï: and of the sonnes of Ieduthun, Shemaiah and Vzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified them selues and came accordig to the commandement of the King, [and] by the wordes of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the Priests went into the inner partes of the house of the Lord, to ^ccleanse it, and brought out all the vncleannes that they founde in the Temple of the Lord, into the courte of the house of the Lord: and the Leuites toke it, to cary it out vnto the broke Kidron.

17 They began the first [day] of the ³first moneth to sanctifie it, & the eight day of the moneth came they to the porche of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, & in the sixtete day of the first moneth they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the King, and said, We haue cleansed all the house of the Lord, and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, & the [†]shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, [and] transgressed, haue we prepared and sanctified: and beholde, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the King ^hrose early, and gathered the princes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seuen bullockes, and seuen rams, and seuen lambes, and seuen he goates, for a ^asin offering for the kingdom, and for the Sanctuarie, and for Iudah. And he commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer [them] on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slewe the bullockes, & [†]Priests receiued the blood, and ⁱsprinkled it vpō the altar: they slewe also the rams & sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slewe the lambes, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the he goates for the sinne offering before the King and the Congregation, ^kand they laied their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priests slewe them, & with the blood of them they clesed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the King had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering and the sinne offering.

1. 13 The keeping of the Pasſeouer by the Kings commandement. 6 He exhorteth Israël to turne to the Lord. 18 He prayeth for the people. 24 His oblation and the princes. 27 The Leuites bleſſe the people.

1 ANd Hezekiáh sent to all Israël, and Iudáh, and also wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasseh, that they shulde come to the house of the Lord at Ierusalem, to kepe the Pasſeouer vnto the Lord God of Israël.

2 And the King and his princes and all the Congregation had taken counsell in Ierusalem to kepe the Pasſeouer in the bescondemoneth.

3 For they colde not kepe it at this time, because there were not Priests ynow sanctified, nether was the people gathered to Ierusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the King, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Israël from Beerſheba euén to Dan, that they shulde come to kepe the Pasſeouer vnto the Lord God of Israël at Ierusalem: for they had not done it of a great [time],^d as it was written.

6 ¶ So the postes went with letters by the commission of the King, and his princes, throughout all Israël and Iudáh, and with the commandement of the King, saying, Ye children of Israël, turne againe vnto 7 Lord God of Abraham, Izhák, and Israël, and he wil returne to the remnant that are escaped of you, out of the hands of the Kings of Asshur.

7 And be not yelyke your fathers, and lyke your brethren, which trespassed against 7 Lord God of their fathers: [and] therefore he made them desolate, as ye se.

8 Be not ye now stifnecked like your fathers, [but] 7 giue the hand to the Lord & come into his sanctuarie, which he hath sanctified for euer, & serue the Lord your God, and the fearcenes of his wrath shall turne away from you.

9 For if ye returne vnto the Lord, your brethren and your children [shal finde] mercie before them that led them captiues, and they shal 8 returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and wil not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 ¶ So the postes went from citie to citie through the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, euén vnto Zebulun: but they^h laughed them to scorne, and mocked them.

11 Neuertheles diuers of Ashér, and Manasseh, and of Zebulun submitted the selues, and came to Ierusalem.

22 And Hezekiah^g spake comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge [to sing] vnto the Lord: and they did eat in that feast seuen dayes, and offred peace offerings, and praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assemblie toke counsel to kepe it other seuen dayes. So they kept it seuen dayes with ioye.

24 For Hezekiah King of Iudah had giuen to the Congregation a^g thousand bullockes, and seuen thousand shepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and tenthousand shepe: and many Priests were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioyced with the Priests and the Leuites, & all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, & that dwelt in Iudah.

26 So there was great ioye in Ierusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel there [was] not the like thing in Ierusalem.

27 Then the Priests and the Leuites arose, and blessed the people, and their voyce was heard, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen, to his holy habitation.

1 Sanneherib inuadeth Iudah. 3 Hezekiah prepareth for the warre. 7 He exhorteth the people to put their trust in the Lord. 9 Sanneherib blasphemeth God. 20 Hezekiah prayeth. 21 The Angel destroyeth the Assyrians, and the King is slaine. 25 Hezekiah is not thankful towarde the Lord. 33 His death.

3 Then he toke counsell with his princes and his nobles, to stoppe the water of the fountaines without the citie: and thei did helpe him.

4 So, many of the people assembled them selues, and stopt all the fountaines, and the riuier that ran through the middes of the countrey, saying, Why shulde the Kings of Asshur come, and finde muche water?

5 And he toke courage, and buylt all the broken wall, and made vp the towres, and another wall without, and repared ^{*} Millō in the ^b citie of Dauid, and made many ^c dartes and shields.

6 And he set captaines of warre ouer the people and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, and [†] spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

8 With him [is] an ^d arme of flesh, but wth vs [is] the ^e Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the wordes of Hezekiah King of Iudah.

9 ^{*} After this, did Sanneherib King of Asshur send his seruants to Ierusalem (while he was ^f against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah King of Iudah and vnto all Iudah that were at Ierusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Sanneherib the King of Asshur, Wherein do ye trust, that ye wil remaine in Ierusalem, [during] the siege?

Asshur:

12 Hathe not the same Hezekiah taken away his hie places and his ^s altars, and commanded Iudah and Ierusalem, saying, Ye shal worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?

13 Knowe ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of [other] countries? Were the gods of the nations of [other] lands able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

14 Who is he of all the ^h gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that colde deliuer his people out of mine hand? that your God shuld be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue you, nor seduce you after this sorte, neither beleue ye him: for none of all ^f gods of any nation or kingdome was able to deliuer his people out of ⁱ mine hand and out of the hand of my fathers: how much lesse shal your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

16 And his seruants spake yet more against the Lord God, and against his ^k seruant Hezekiah.

17 He wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israel and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of [other] countries colde not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shal not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 The they ^l cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes speache vnto the people of Ierusalem that were on the wall, to feare the and to astonish them, that thei might take the citie.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, [euen] the ^m workes of mans hands.

20 But Hezekiah the King, and the Prophet Isaiah the sonne of Amoz ⁿ prayed against this, and cryed to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes and ^o captaines of the hoste of the King of Asshur: so he returned ^t with shame to his owne land. And when he was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his powne bowels slewe him there with the sworde.

22 So the Lord saued Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem from the hand of Sanherib King of Asshur, and from the hand of all [other,] and ^t mainteined them on euerie side.

23 And many broght offerings vnto the Lord to Ierusalem, and presents to Hezekiah King of Iudah, so that he was ⁱ magnified in the sight of all nations from thence forth.

24 ^{*}In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him ^a signe.

25 But Hezekiah did not render according to the rewarde [bestowed] vpon him: for his heart ^{was} lifted vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled him selfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) he and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honour, and he gate him treasures of siluer, & of golde, and of precious stones, and of swete odours, & of shields, and of all pleasant vessels:

28 And of store houses for the increase of wheat, and wine and oyle, and stalles for all beastes, and ^t rowes for the ^t stables.

29 And he made him cities, and [had] possession of shepe and oxen in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the vpper water springs of ⁱ Gihon, and led them streight vnderneath toward the citie of Dauid Westward. So Hezekiah prospered in all his workes.

31 But because of the ambassadours of the princes of Babel, which sent vnto him to enquire of the wondre that was done in the land, God left him to ^u trye him, [&] to knowe all that was in his heart.

32 Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiah, and his goodnes, beholde, thei are writen in the vision of Isaiah ^f Prophet, the sonne of Amoz, in the booke of ^f Kings of Iudah and Israel.

33 So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buryed him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of Dauid: & all Iudah & the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death: and Manasse his sonne reigned in his stead.

15 And he toke away & strange gods & the image out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars that he had buylt in the mount of the house of the Lord, & in Ierusalem, and cast them out of the citie.

16 Also he prepared the altar of & Lord, & sacrificed there peace offerings, & of thankes, and comāded Iudáh to serue & Lord God of Israël.

5 Also he burnt the bones of the Priests vpon their altars, and purged Iudah and Ierusalēm.

6 And in the cities of Manasséh and Ephraim, and Simeon, euen vnto Naphtali, with their maules [they brake all] round about.

7 And when he had destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broken and stamped to poudre the images, & had cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israél, he returned to Ierusalēm.

8 ¶ Then in eightente yere of his reigne when he had purged the land and the Temple, he sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah, and Maaseah the gouernour of the citie, and Ioah the sonne of Ioahaz the recorder, to repare the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the hie Priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the dore, had gathered at the hand of Manasséh, and Ephraim, & of all the residue of Israél, and of all Iudah & Beniamin, and of the inhabitants of Ierusalēm.

15 Therefore Hilkiah answered and said to Shaphan the chanceler, I haue founde the boke of the Law in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the boke to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan caryed the boke to the King, and brought the King worde againe, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that do they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was founde in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouerseers, and to the hands of the workemen.

18 Also Shaphan the chanceler declared to the King, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath giuen me a boke, and Shaphan red it before the King.

19 And when the King had heard the wordes of the Lawe, he tare his clothes.

20 And the King commanded Hilkiah, and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, & Abdōn the sonne of Micah, and Shaphan the chanceler, and Asaiah the Kings seruant, saying,

29 ¶ The King sent and gathered all the Elders of Iudá and Ierusalém.

Forasmuch as nether yong nor olde colde be exempted from curies contained therein, if they did transgresse he knewe it appertained to all, & was his due to se it red to all sortes, that euery one might learne to auoyde those punishments by seruing God aright.

30 And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iudáh, and the inhabitants of Ierusalém, and the Priests and the Leuites, and all the people from the greatest to the smallest, and he red in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the couenant that was founde in the house of the Lord.

31 And the King stode by his pillar, and made a couenant before the Lord to walke after the Lord, and to kepe his comādements, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, [and] that he wolde accomplish the wordes of the couenant written in the same booke.

32 And he caused all that were founde in Ierusalém, and Beniamín to stand to it, & the inhabitants of Ierusalém did according to the couenāt of God, [euē] the God of their fathers.

Because he had charge ouer all, & must answer for euery one that perished, he thought it his due to se that all should make profession to receiue the worde of God.

33 So Iosiah toke away all the abominatiōs out of all the countreis that pertained to the children of Israél, and compelled all were founde in Israél, to serue the Lord their God: [so] all his dayes they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fathers.

ⁱ VVho threatened the vengeance of God, & 70 yeres captiuitie, which he calleth the Sabbath or rest of the land, Ierem. 25, 11.

^m In the first yere that he reigned ouer the Caldeans.

ⁿ God had so prophesied aboute an hundred yeres before Cyrus was borne, Ila. 44, 28, that Ierusalém and y^e Temple shoulde be buyld againe by Cyrus his anointed: so called, because God vnto a time to liuer his Church.

^f By this phrase scripture meaneth oftentimes and diligently, as Iere. 1, 7, 25, 3, & 4, 265, & 32, 33.

^g Til God could no longer suffer their sinnes, but must needs punish them.

^h VVhether they fled, thinking to haue bene saued for the holines thereof.

ⁱ VVhich is not because God aproueth him, yet is the minister of his iustice, but because God wolde by his iust iudgement punish this people: for this King was led by ambition & vainglorie, whereunto were ioyned furie & cruelty: therefore his worke was condemnable, notwithstanding it was iuste and holy on Gods parte, who vsed this wicked instrument to declare his iustice.

This prayer is not in y^e Ebrew, but is translated out of the Greke.

^a Thou hast promised that repentance shalbe the way for them to returne to thee. ^b He speaketh this in comparison of him selfe and those holy fathers which haue their commendation in y^e Scriptures, so ^f in respect of him selfe he calleth their sinnes nothing, but attributeth vnto the wickednes.

THE PRAYER OF MANASSEH King of the Iewes.

O Lord almightie, God of our fathers, Abram, Isaac, and Iacob, and of their righteous sede, which hast made heauen and earth with all their ornament, which hast bounde the sea by the worde of thy commandement, which hast shut vp the depe and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whome all do feare and tremble before thy power: for the maiestie of thy glorie can not be borne, and thine angrie threatnings toward sinners is importable, but thy merciful promes is vnmeasurable and vnsearcheable. For thou art the moste high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, and moste merciful, and repentest for mans miseries. Thou, o Lord, according to thy great goodnes hast promised ^a repentance and forgiuenes to the that sinne against thee, and for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners, that they may be saued. Thou therefore, o Lord, that art the God of the iuste, hast not appointed repentaunce to the iuste, [as] to Abram, and Isaac and Iacob, w^h haue not ^b sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I haue sinned above the number of the sand of the sea.

My transgressions, o Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthie to beholde & see the height of the heauens for the multitude of mine vnrighteousnes. I am bowed downe with many yron bands, that I can not lift vp mine head, nether haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath and done euil before thee. I did not thy wil, nether kept I thy commandements. I haue set vp abominations and haue multiplied offences. Now therefore I bowe ^f knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, o Lord, I haue sinned, and I acknowledge my transgressions: but I humbly beseeche thee, forgiue me: o Lord, forgiue me, and destroye me not with my transgressions. Be not angrie with me for euer by reseruing euil for me, nether condemne me into the lower partes of the earth. For thou art the God, [euen] the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shewe all thy goodnes: for thou wilt saue me that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercie: therefore I will praise thee for euer all the dayes of my life, for all the power of the heauens praise thee, and thine is the glorie for euer and euer, Amen.

THE ARGUMENT.

As the Lord is ever merciful vnto his Church, and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they shulde see their owne miseries, and be exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the worlde and aspire vnto the heauen, so after that he had visited the Iewes and kept them now in bondage seuentie yeres in a strange countrie among infidels and idolaters, he remembered his tendre mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them vp a deliuerer, and moued bothe the heart of the chief ruler to pitie them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding lest they shulde growe into a contempt of Gods great benefite, he kept them still in exercise, and raised domestical enemies, which endeouour as muche as they can to hindre their moste worthie enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophetes they went forward by litle and litle til their worke was finished. The autor of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest, and scribe of the Lawe, as chap. 7. 6. he returned to Ierusalem the sixt yere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, more then fourtie yeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was buylt. He brought with him a great company, and muche treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all suche things as shulde be necessarie for the Temple: and at his comming he redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

CHAP. I.

1 Cyrus sendeth againe the people that was in captiuitie.
7 And restoreth them their holy vessels.

Now *in^a the first yere of Cyrus King of Persia (that the worde of the Lord, [spoken] by the^b mouth of Ieremiah, might be accomplished) the Lord stirred vp the^c spirit of Cyrus King of Persia, and he made a proclamation through all his kingdome, and also by wryting, saying,

2 Thus saith Cyrus King of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hath giuen me^d all the kingdomes of the earth, and he hath commanded me to buyld him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudah.

3 Who is he among you of all his people with whome his God is? let him go vp to Ierusalem which is in Iudah, and buyld the house of the Lord God of Israel: he is the God which is in Ierusalem.

4 And euerie one that remaineth in anie place (where he sojourneth)^e let the men of his place relieue him with siluer and w golde, and with substance, and with cattel, f [and] with a willing offering, for the house of God that is in Ierusalem.

Then the chief fathers of Iudah & Benjamin, and the Priests and Levites rose vp, with all them whose spirit God had raised to go vp, to buyld the house of the Lord which is in Ierusalem.

6 And all g they that were about them, strengthened their hands with vessels of siluer, with golde, with substance & with cattel, and with precious things, besides all that was willingly offred.

7 Also the King Cyrus brought forth the vessels of the house of the Lord, * which Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of Ierusalem, & had put them in the house of his

god:

8 Euen the did Cyrus King of Persia bring forth by the had of Mithredath the treasurer, and counted them vnto^h Sheshbazzar the prince of Iudah.

9 And this is the number of them, thirtie basins of golde, a thousand basins of siluer, nine and twentieⁱ kniues,

Be it knowen vnto the King that the Iewes, which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Ierusalém (a citie rebellious & wicked) and buylde, and laye the fundati- ons of the walles, and haue ioyned the fundati- ons.

Be it knowen now vnto the King, that if this citie be buylt, and the fundati- ons of the walles layed, thei wil not giue tolle, tribute, nor ^k custome: so shalt thou hin- der the Kings tribute.

Now therefore because [†] we haue bene broght vp in the [Kings] palace, it was not mete for vs to se the Kings dishonour: for this cause haue we sent and certified the King,

That one may searche in the boke of [†] Chronicles of thy fathers, and thou shalt finde in the boke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this citie is rebellious and noysome vnto Kings and prouinces, and that they haue moued sedition of olde time, for the which cause this citie was destroyed.

We certifie the King [therefore,] that if this citie be buylded, and the fundati- on of the walles layed, by this meane the por- tion beyonde the Riuer shal not be thine.

The King sent an answer vnto Rehúm the chancelour, and Shimshái the scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other be- yonde the Riuer, [†] Shelám & [†] Cheéth.

The letter which ye sent vnto vs, ha- the bene openly red before me,

And I haue commanded and they haue searched, and founde, that this citie of olde time hath made insurrection against Kings, and hathe rebelled, and rebellion hathe bene committed therein.

There haue bene mightie Kings also ouer Ierusalém, which haue ruled ouer all beyonde the Riuer, and tolle, tribute, and custome was giuen vnto them.

Make ye now a decree, that those men may cease, and that the citie be not buylt, til I haue giuen [another] commandemēt.

Take hede now that ye faile not to do this: why shulde damage growe to hurt the King?

When the copie of King Artahsháshtes letter was red before Rehúm & Shimshái the scribe, & their companions, they went vp in all the haste to Ierusalém vnto the Iewes, and caused them to cease by force and power.

8 Be it known vnto the King, that we wēt into the prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is buylded with [†] great stones, and beames are layed in the walles, and this worke is wrought spedely, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and said vnto them thus, Who hath given you commandement to buyld this house, and to laye the foundation of these walles?

10 We asked their names also, [†] we might certifie thee, [and] that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers,

11 But thei answered vs thus, & said, We are the seruants of [†] God of heauen & earth, and buyld the house that was buylt of olde [and] many yeres ago, which a^d great King of Israel^e buylded, and founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, ^{*} he gaue them ouer into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel the Chaldean, and he destroyed this house, and caryed the people away captiue vnto Babel.

13 But in the^e first yere of Cyrus King of Babel, King Cyrus made a decree to buyld this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde & siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar toke out of the Temple, that was in Ierusalem, and broght them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the King take out of the Temple of Babel, & they gaue them vnto [one] [†] Sheshbazzar by his name, who me he had made captaine.

15 And he said vnto him, Take these vessels and go thy way, and put them in the Temple that is in Ierusalem, and let the house of God be buylt in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzar and layed the foundation of the house of God, which is in Ierusalem, and since that time euen vntil now, hath it bene in buylding, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the King, let there be searche made in the house of the Kings^s treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by King Cyrus, to buyld this house of God in Ierusalem, and let the King send [his] minde concerning this.

15 And I gathered them to the Riuer that goeth toward Ahauá, and there abode we thre dayes: then I vewed the people, and the Priests, and founde there none of the sonnes of Leui.

16 Therefore sent I to Eliézer, to Ariél, to Shemeiáh, & to Elnathán, & to Iarib, and to Elnathán, and to Nathán, and to Zechariáh, and to Meshullám the chief, and to Ioiarib and to Elnathán, men of vnderstanding, 18 So by good hand of our God [which was] vpon vs, they broght vs a man of vnderstanding of the sonnes of Mahálí the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israël, and She rebiáh with his sonnes and his brethren, [euén] eightene.

19 Also Hashabiáh, and with him Ieshaiáh of the sonnes of Merarí, with his brethren and their sonnes twentie.

20 And of the Nethinims, whome Dauid had set, and the princes for the seruice of the Levites, two hundreth and twentie of the Nethinims, which all were named by name.

21 And there at the Riuer, by Ahauá, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble our selues before our God, and seke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

22 For I was ashamed to require of the King an armie and horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemy in the way, because we had spoken to the King, saying, The hand of our God [is] vpon al them that seke him in goodnes, but his power and his wrath [is] against all them that forsake him.

23 So we fasted, and besought our God for this: and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I separated twelue of the chief of the Priests, Sherebiáh, [and] Hashabiáh, & ten of their brethren with them,

25 And I weighed the siluer & the golde, and the vessels, [euén] the offering of the house of our God, [which] the King and his counsellors, and his princes, and all Israël that were present had offred.

26 And I weighed vnto their hand six hundreth and fifty talents of siluer, and in siluer vessel, an hundreth talents, [and] in golde, an hundreth talents:

27 And twentie basins of golde, of a thousand drammes, and two vessels of shining brasie very good, and precious as golde.

28 ¶ And I said vnto thé, Ye are consecrate vnto the Lord, and the vessels [are] consecrate, and the golde and the siluer [are] freely offred vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watche ye, & kepe [thé] vntil ye weigh them before the chief Priests and the Levites, and the chief fathers of Israël in Ierusalém in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priests and the Levites receiued the weight of the siluer and of the golde, and of the vessels to bring [them] to Ierusalém, vnto the house of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the Riuer of Ahauá on the twelfth [day] of the first moneth, to go vnto Ierusalém, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemy, and of such as layed ^k waite by the way.

32 And we came to Ierusalém, and abode there thre dayes.

33 And on the fourte day was the siluer weighed, and the golde and the vessel in the house of our God by the hand of Mermoth the sonne of Uriáh the Priest, and with him [was] Eleazar the sonne of Phinehás, and with them [was] Iozabád the sonne of Ieshúa, and Noadiáh the sonne of Binnúi the Levites,

34 By number & by weight of euerie one, and all the weight was written at the same time.

35 Also the childre of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offred burnt offerings vnto the God of Israël, twelue bullockes for all Israël, ninetie and six rams, seuentie and seuen lambes, [and] twelue he goates for sinne: all [was] a burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the Kings commissiõ vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines beyonde the Riuer: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

10 And now, our God, what shal we say after this? for we haue forsaken thy commandements, 11 Which thou hast commanded by thy seruants the Prophetes, saying, ^{*}The lād whereunto ye go to possesse it, is an vnclenane land, because of the filthines of the people of the lands, which by their abominations, [and] by their vnclennes haue filled it from corner to corner.

shulde be t̄ forsaite, and he shulde be separate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Iudáh and Beniamin assembled them selues vnto Ierusalém within thre dayes, which was t̄ twentieth [day] of the ninte moneth, and all the people sate in the strete of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the fraigne.

10 And Ezra the Priest stode vp, and said vnto them, Ye haue transgressed, and haue taken strange wiues, to s̄ increase the trespasse of Israël.

11 Now therefore h̄ giue praise vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his wil and separate your selues from the people of the land, & from the strange wiues.

12 And all the Congregation answered, and said with a loude voyce, So wil we do according to thy wordes vnto vs.

13 But the people are many, and it is a ray-nie wether, and we are not able to stand without, nether [is it] the worke of one day or two: for we are many that haue offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore i before all the Congregation, and let all them which haue taken strange wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of euerie citie and the iudges thereof, til the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

15 Then were appointed Ionathán the s̄- ne of Asah-él, and Iahaziáh the sonne of Tikuáh ouer this matter, and Meshullám and Shabbethái the Leuites helped them.

16 And they of the captiuitie did so and departed, [euē] Ezra the Priest, [and] the men [that were] chief fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and sate dow-ne in the first daye of the tente moneth to examine the matter.

17 And vntil t̄ first day of the first moneth they were finishing the busines with all the men that had taken strange wiues,

18 And of the sonnes of the Priests there were men founde that had taken strange wiues, [to wit,] of the sonnes of Ieshuá, the sonne of Iozadák, & of his brethré, Ma-asciáh, & Eliézer, and Iarib and Gedaliáh.

19 And they gaue t̄ their hands, that they wolde put away their wiues, and thei that had trespassed, [gaue] a ramme for their trespasse.

20 And of the sonnes of Immér, Honani, and Zebadiáh.

21 And of the s̄ones of Harím, Maasciáh, & Eliáh, and Shemaiáh, and Iehiél, and Vzziáh.

22 And of the sonnes of Pashúr, Elioenái, Maasciáh, Ishmaél, Nethaneél, Iozabád, & Elasáh.

23 And of the Leuites, Iozabád, and Shi-mei, and Kelaiáh, (which is Kelitáh) Pethahiáh, Iudáh and Eliézer.

24 And of the singers, Eliashib. And of the porters, Shallúm, and Telém, and Uri.

25 And of m̄ Israël: of the sonnes of Parósh, Ramiáh, and Ieshiáh, and Malchiáh, and Miámin, and Eleazár, and Malchiáh, and Benaiáh.

26 And of the sonnes of Elám, Mattaniáh, Zechariáh, and Iehiél, and Abdí, and Ieremóth, and Eliáh.

27 And of the sonnes of Zattu, Elioenái, Eliashib, Mattaniáh, & Ierimóth, and Za-bád, and Azizá.

28 And of the sonnes of Bebai, Ichoha-nán, Hananiáh, Zabbái, Athlái.

29 And of the sonnes of Bani, Meshullám, Mallúch, and Adaiáh, Iashúb, and Sheál, Ieramóth.

30 And of the sonnes of t̄ Paháth Moáb, Adná, & Chelái, Benaiáh, Maasciáh, Mattaniáh, Bezaleél, & Binúi, and Manasséh.

31 And of the sonnes of Harím, Eliézer, Ishaiáh, Malchiáh, Shemaiáh, Shimeón,

32 Beniamín, Mallúch, Shamariáh.

33 Of the sonnes of Hashúm, Mattenái, Mattattáh, Zabád, Eliphelet, Ieremái, Me-nasséh, Shimei.

34 Of the sonnes of Bani, Maadá, Am-rá, and Vél,

35 Banaiáh, Bediáh, Chellúh,

36 Vaniáh, Meremóth, Eliashib,

37 Mattaniáh, Mattenái, and Iasáu,

39 And Shelemiáh, & Nathán, & Adaiáh,

40 Machnadebái, Shashái, Sharái,

41 Azareél, and Shelemiáh, Shemariáh, 42 Shallúm, Amariáh, Ioséph.

43 Of the sonnes of Nebó, Ieiel, Matti-thiáh, Zabád, Zebiná, Iadaú, & Ioél, Benaiáh.

44 All these had taken strange wiues: and among them were women that had n̄ children.

NEHEMIAH:

THE ARGUMENT.

God doeth in all ages and at all times set vp worthie persones for the commoditie and profite of his Church, as now within the compasse of seuentie yeres he raised vp diuers excellent men for the preseruacion of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbabel, and Ezra, and Nehemiah. VVherof the first was their capitaine to bring them home, and prouyded that the Temple was buylded: the seconde reformed their maners and planted religion: and the third buylded vp the walles, deliuered the people from oppression, and prouyded that the Law of God was put in execution among them. He was a godly man and in great authoritie with the King, so that the King fauoured him greatly, and gaue him moste ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he colde desire. This booke is also called of the latins, the seconde of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

¹ Nehemiah bewalleth the calamitie of Ierusalem. & he confesseth the finnes of the people, and prayeth God for them.

¹ THe wordes of Nehemiah the sone of Hachaliáh, in the twentieth yere, as I was in the palace of Shushán, ² Came Hanáni, one of my brethren, he and the men of Iudáh, and I asked them concerning the Iewes that were deliuered, which were of the residue of the captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalem.

⁴ And when I heard these wordes, I sat downe and wept, and mourned [certeine] dayes, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen,

⁹ But if ye turne vnto me, and kepe my comandements, and do them, thogh your scattering were to the vttermost parte of the heauē, [yet] wil I gather you from thence, and wil bring you vnto the place that I haue chosē, to place my Name there.

¹⁰ Now these are thy seruants & thy people, whome thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mighty hand.

¹¹ O Lord, I beseeche thee, let thine eare now hearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruants, who desire to feare thy Name, and, I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of this man: for I was the Kings butler.

CHAP. II.

¹ After Nehemiah had obtained letters of Artaxerxes, ¹¹ He came to Ierusalem, ¹⁷ And buylded the walles.

² And the King said vnto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sick? this is nothing, but sorowe of heart. Then was I sore afraied, ³ And I said to the King, God saue the King for euer: why shulde not my countenance be sad, when the citie [and] house of the sepulchres of my fathers lyeth waste, and the gates thereof are deuoured with fyre?

⁴ And the King said vnto me, For what thing doest thou require? Then I prayed to the God of heauen, ⁵ And said vnto the King, If it please the King, and if thy seruant haue founde fauour in thy sight, [I desire] that thou wouldest send me to Iudáh vnto the citie of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may buylde it.

⁶ And the King said vnto me, (the quene also sitting by him) How long shal thy iourney be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, and he sent me, and I set him a time.

f That is, contemned of other nations, as though God had forsaken vs.

g They were in courage and gaue the Iewes to do wel, and to trauel in this worchie enterprise.

7 After I said vnto the King, If it please the King, Let them giue me letters to the capitaines beyonde the † Riuer, that they may conuaye me ouer, til I come vnto Iudáh,

8 And letters vnto Asaph the keeper of the Kings † parke, that he may giue me timber to buylde the gates of the palace (which appertained to the house) & for the walles of the citie, and for the house that I shal entre into. And the King gaue me according to ^d the good hand of my God vpō me.

9 ¶ Then came I to the capitaines beyonde the Riuer, & gaue them the Kings letters. And the King had sent capitaines of the armie and horsemen with me.

10 But ^e Sanballár the Horonite, and Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieved them fore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the childre of Israël.

11 So I came to Ierusalém, and was there three dayes.

12 And I rose in the night, I, and a few men with me: for I tolde no mā, what God had put in mine heart to do at Ierusalém, and there was not a beast with me, saue the beast whereon I rode.

13 And I wēt out by night by the gate of the valley, and [came] before the draggon well, and to the dung porte, and vewed the walles of Ierusalém, how they were brokē downe, and the portēs thereof deuoured with the fyre.

14 Then I went forth vnto the gate of the † fountaine, & to the Kings fish poole, and there was no roume for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

15 Then went I vp in the night by ^f broke, and vewed the wall, and turned backe, & coming backe, I entred by the gate of ^g valley & returned.

16 And the rulers knewe not whether I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tel it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I said vnto them, Ye se the miserie that we are in, how Ierusalém lieth waste, & the gates thereof are burnt with fyre: come and let vs buylde the wall of Ierusalém, that we be no more ^f a reproche.

18 Then I tolde them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer me) and also of the Kings wordes that he had spoken vnto me. And they said, Let vs ryle, and buylde. So they ^g strengthened their hand to good.

19 But when Sanballár the Horonite, and Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, & ^h Gesém the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs and dispised vs, and said, What a thing is this that ye do? Wil ye ⁱ rebell against the King?

20 Then answered I them, and said to the, The God of heauen, he wil prosper vs, and we his seruants wil rise vp and buylde: but as for you, ye haue no portion nor right, nor ^k memorial in Ierusalém.

CHAP. III.

1 The number of them that buylded the walles.

1 ^Then arose Eliashib the hie Priest with his brethren the Priests, & they built the shepegate: thei ^a repared it, and set vp the dores thereof: euen vnto the towre of Meáh repared they it, [&] vnto the towre of Hananeél.

2 And next vnto him buylded the men of Ierichó, and beside him Zaccúr the sonne of Imrí.

3 But the fish porte did the sonnes of Senaáh buylde, which also layed the beames thereof, and set on the dores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

4 And next vnto them, fortified Merimóth the sonne of Vriiáh, the sonne of Hakkóz, and next vnto them fortified Meshullám the sonne of Berechiáh, the sonne of Meshazabeél: & next vnto them fortified Zaddók, the sonne of Baaná:

5 And next vnto them fortified the Tekoites: but the great mē of them ^b put not their neckes to the worke of their lords.

6 And the gate of the ^c olde [fish poole] fortified Iehoiadá the sonne of Paséah, & Meshullám ^d sōne of Besodaiáh: they laied ^e beames thereof, and set on the dores thereof, and the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

7 Next vnto them also fortified Melatiáh ^f Gibeonite, & Iadón the Meronothite, mē of Gibeón, and of Mizpáh, vnto the ^g throne of the Duke, [which was] beyonde the Riuer.

8 Next vnto him fortified Vzziel the sonne of Harhohiáh ^h of the golde smithes: next vnto him also fortified Hananiáh, the sonne of Harakkahim, and they repared Ierusalém vnto the broad wall.

9 Also next vnto the fortified Rephaiáh, ⁱ sōne of Húr, the ruler of the halfe parte of Ierusalém.

10 And next vnto him fortified Iedaiáh the sonne of Harumáph, euen ouer against his house: and next vnto him fortified Hartúsh the sonne of Hashabniáh.

12 Nixt vnto him also fortified Shallúm, the sonne of Halloésh, the ruler of the halfe parte of Ierusalém, he, and his daughters.

13 The valley gate fortified Hanúm, & the inhabitants of Zanuáh: they buylt it, and set on the dores thereof, & lockes thereof, & the barres thereof, euen a thousand cubites on the wall vnto the dung porte.

14 But the dung porte fortified Malchiáh, the sonne of Recháb, the ruler of ffourte parte of Beth-haccárem: he buylt it, & set on the dores thereof, the lockes thereof, & the barres thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountaine fortified Shallún, the sonne of Col-hozéh, the ruler of the fourte parte of Mizpáh: he buylded it, and couered it, and set on the dores thereof, the lokkes thereof, & the barres thereof, and the wall vnto the fishpoole of tSheláh by the Kings garden, and vnto f steppes that go downe from the citie of Dauid.

20 After him was earnest Barúch the sone of Zaccháí, [and] fortified another portiõ from the corner vnto the dore of the house of Eliashúb the hie Priest.

21 After him fortified Merimóth, the sonne of Vriiáh, the sonne of Hakkóz, another portion from the dore of the house of Eliashúb, euen as long as the house of Eliashúb extended.

22 After him also fortified the Priests, the men of the plaine.

23 After them fortified Beniamín, and Hasúb ouer against their house: after him fortified Azariáh, the sonne of Maaseiáh, f the sonne of Ananiáh, by his house.

24 After him fortified Binnuí, the sonne of Henadád another portion, from the house of Azariáh vnto the turning and vnto the corner.

25 Palál, the sonne of Vzai, frõ ouer against the corner, and the high towre, that lyeth out frõ the Kings house, which is besyde the courte of f prison. After him Pedaiah, the sonne of Paróshi.

26 And the^f Nethinims they dwelt in the fortresse vnto the [place] ouer against the water gate, Eastward, & to the towre that lyeth out.

27 After him fortified f Tekoites another portion ouer against the great towre, that lyeth out, euen vnto the wall of the fortresse.

28 Frõ aboute the horsegate forthe fortified the Priests, euerie one ouer against his house.

29 After them fortified Zadók the sonne of Immér ouer against his house: & after him fortified Shemaiáh, the sonne of Shechaniáh the keper of the Eastgate.

30 After him fortified Hananiáh, the sonne of Shelemiáh, & Hanún, the sonne of Zaláph, the^s sixt, another portion: after him fortified Meshullám, the sonne of Berechiáh, ouer against his chamber.

31 After him fortified Malchiáh the golde smithes sonne, vntill the house of the Nethinims, and of the marchants ouer against the gate^h Miphkád and to the chamber in the corner.

32 And betwene the chamber of the corner vnto the shepegate fortified f goldsmithes and the marchants.

7 The buylding of Ierusalem is kindred. 15 But God breaketh their enterpriis. 17 The Iewes buylde w one hand, and holde their weapons in the other.

1 BUT when Sanbalát heard that we buylded the wall, then was he wroth and sore griued, and mocked the Iewes.

2 And said before his^a brethren and the armie of Samaria, thus he said, What do the se^b weake Iewes? wil they fortifie them selues? wil they sacrifice? wil they finish it in a day? wil they make the stones whole againe out of the heapes of dust, seing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiáh the Ammonite was besyde him and said, Although they buylde, [yet] if a foxe go vp, he shal euen breake downe their stony wall.

4 ^aHeare, o our God, (for we are despised) & turne their shame vpõ their owne head and giue them vnto a pray^d in the land of their captiuitie;

i To oversee them & to incourage the to their worke.

6 So we buylt the wall, and all the wall was ioyned vnto the † halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 ¶ But when Sanballát, and Tobiáh, & the Arabians, and the Ammonites, & the Ashdodims heard that the walles of Ierusalém were repared, (for the breaches began to be stopped) then they were verie wroth, 8 And conspired altogether to come and to fight against Ierusalém, and to † hinder them.

9 Then we prayed vnto our God, and set watchmen by them, day and night, because of them.

10 And Iudáh said, The strength of the bearers is weakened, and there is muche carthe, so that we are not able to buylde the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had said, They shal not knowe, nether se, til we come into the middes of them and slaye them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But whē the Iewes (which dwelt beside them) came, thei tolde vs ^ften times, ^gFrō all places, whence ye shal returne, [they wil be] vpon vs.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behinde the wall vpon the toppes of the stones, and placed the people by their families, with their swordes, their speares and their bowes,

14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, and said vnto the princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not afraied of them: ^hremember the great Lord, and feareful, and fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wiues, and your houses.

15 And whē our enemies heard that it was knowne vnto vs, then God brought their counsel to nought, and we turned all againe to the wall, euerie one vnto his worke.

16 And frō that day, halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe parte of them helde the speares, and shields, and bowes, and habergins: & the rulers [stode] ⁱbehinde all the house of Iudáh.

17 They that buylded on the wall, & they that bare burdens, [and] they that laded, did the worke with one hand, and with ^j other helde the sword.

18 For euerie one of the buylders [had] his sworde girde on his loynes, and [so] buylded: and he that blew the trumpet, [was] beside me.

19 Then said I vnto the princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and we are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

20 In what place [therefore] ye heare the sound of the trumpet, ^kresorte ye thither vnto vs: our God shall fight for vs.

21 So we laboured in the worke, and halfe of them helde the speares, from the appearing of the morning, til the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time said I vnto the people, Let euerie one with his seruant lodge within Ierusalém, that they may be a watche for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So nether I, nor my brethren, nor my seruants, nor the men of the warde, (which followed me) none of vs did put of our clothes, [saue] euerie one put them of ^lfor walking.

¶ CHAP. V.

1 The people are oppressed and in necessitie. 6 Nehemiah remedie thir. 14 He toke not the portio of others that had ruled before, lest he shulde grieue the people.

1 NOW there was a great crye of ^a people, and of their wiues ^a against their brethren the Iewes.

2 For there were that said, We, our sonnes and our daughters are many, therefore we take vp ^b corne, that we may eat and liue.

3 And there were that said, We must gage our lands, and our vineyardes, and our houses, and take vp corne for the famine.

4 There were also that said, We haue borrowed money for the Kings ^c tribute [vp] our lands and our vineyardes.

5 And now our flesh [is] as ^d the flesh of our brethren, [and] our sonnes as their sonnes: and lo, we bring into subiection our sonnes, and our daughters, as seruants, & there be of our daughters [now] in subiection, & there [is] no power ^e in our hāds: for other men [haue] our lands and our vineyardes.

6 Then was I verie angrie when I heard their crye and these wordes,

7 And I thought in my minde, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and said vnto them, You laye ^f burdens euerie one vpon his brethren: and I set a great ^g assemblie against them,

8 And I said vnto them, We (according to our abilitie) haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were solde vnto the heathen: and wil you sell your brethren againe, or shal they be ^h solde vnto vs? Thei helde they their peace, and colde not answer.

12 Then said they, We wil restore it, and wil not require it of them: we wil do as thou hast said. Then I called the Priests, & caused them to sweare, that they shuld do according to this promes.

13 So I shoke my lappe, & said, So let God shake out euerie man that wil not performe this promes from his house, & frō his labour: cuē thus let him be shake out, and emptied. And all the Congregation said, Amen, and praised the Lord: & the people did according to this promes.

14 And from the time that the [King] gaue me charge to be gouernour in the land of Iudāh from the twentieth yere, euen vnto the two and thirtieth yere of King Artahshāste, [that is,] twelue yere, I, and my brethren haue not eaten the [†]bread of the gouernour.

15 For the former gouernours that were before me, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides fourtie shekels of siluer: yea, and their seruants bare rule ouer the people: but so did not I, because of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified [a portion] in the worke of this wall, and we bought no lād, & all my seruants came thether together vnto the worke.

17 Moreouer there [were] at my table an hundreth and fiftie of the Iewes, and rulers, which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared daylie an ox, & [six] chosē shepe, & birdes were prepared for me, & [†]within ten dayes wine for all [†]in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for [†]bondage was grieuous vnto this people.

19 Remember me, o my God, in goodnes, [according] to all that I haue done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

[†] Nehemiah answereth with great wisdom and zeale to his aduersarie. [†] He is not discouraged by the false prophetes.

[†] And when Sanballāt, and Tobiāh, & Gēshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had buylt the wall, and that there were no mo [†]breaches therein (thogh at that time I had not set vp the dores vpon the gates)

2 Then sent Sanballāt and Gēshem vnto me, saying, Come thou, that we may mete together in the villages in the plaine of Onō: and they thoght to do me euil.

3 Therefore I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great worke to do, & I cā not come downe: [†] why shulde the worke cease, whiles I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Yet they sent vnto me foure times after this sorte. And I answered them after the same maner.

5 Then sent Sanballāt his seruant after this sorte vnto me the fiftie time, with an open letter in his hand,

6 Wherein was writtē, It is reported amōg the heathen, and [†]Gashmū hathe said it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebell, for the whiche cause thou buyldest the wall, & thou wilt be their King according to these [†]wordes.

7 Thou hast also ordeined [†]the Prophetes to preache of thee at Ierusalēm, saying, [There is a] King in Iudāh: and now according to these wordes it shal come to [†]Kings eares: come now therefore, and let vs take counsel together.

8 Then I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these wordes that [†]sayest: for thou fainest them of thine owne heart.

9 For all thei afraied vs, saying, Their hāds shalbe weakened from the worke, and it shal not be done: now therefore [†]incourage thou me.

10 ¶ And I came to the house of Shemaiāh the sonne of Delaiāh the sonne of Mehetabeél, and he was [†]shut vp, & he said, Let vs come together into the house of God in the middes of the Temple, and shut the dores of the Temple: for they wil come to slay thee: yea, in the night will they come to kil thee.

11 Then I said, [†] Shulde suche a man as I, flee? Who is he, being as I am, that wolde go into the Temple to liue? I wil not go in.

12 And lo, I perceiued, that God had not sent him, but that he pronouced this prophecie against me: for Tobiāh and Sanballāt had hyred him.

13 Therefore was he hyred, that I might be afraied, and do thus, and sinne, & that they might haue an euil reporte that they might reproche me.

g Reioyce in the Lord, & he will giue you strength

1 And all the people assembled themselves together, in the street that was before the watergate, and they spake vnto Ezra the scribe, that he wolde bring the booke of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Law before the Congregation both of men & women, and of all that coulde heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the seventh moneth,

3 And he red therein in the street that was before the watergate (from the morning vntil the midday) before men and women, and of them that vnderstode it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the booke of the Law.

4 And Ezra the scribe stode vpon a pulpit of wood, which he had made for the preaching, & beside him stode Mattithiah, & Shema, and Ananiah, and Vriah, and Hilkiah, and Maaseiah on his right hand, & on his left hand Pedaiah, and Mishael, & Malchiah, & Hashum, and Hashbadana, Zechariah, [and] Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for he was above all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stode vp.

6 And Ezra praised the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their hands: & they bowed themselves and worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Ieshua and Bani, and Sherubiah, Iamin, Akkub, Shabberhai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelitah, Azariah, Iozabab, Hanan, Pelaiyah, & the Leuites caused the people to vnderstand the Law, & the people stood in their place.

8 And they red in the booke of the Law of God distinctly, and gaue the sense, & caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirshatha) and Ezra the Priest and scribe, and the Leuites that instructed the people, said vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, neither wepe: for all the people wept, when they heard the wordes of the Law.

10 He said also vnto them, Go, [and] eat of the fat, & drinke the swete, and send parte vnto them, for whome none is prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not sory therefore: for the joy of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Leuites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Holde your peace: for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eat and to drinke, and to send away parte, & to make great ioye, because they had vnderstand the wordes that they had taught them.

13 And on the second day the chief fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Leuites were gathered vnto Ezra the scribe, that he also might instruct them in the wordes of the Law.

14 And they founde writen in the Law, (that the Lord had commanded by Moses) that the children of Israel shulde dwell in boothes in the feast of the seventh moneth,

15 And that they shulde cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Ierusalem, saying, Go forth vnto the mount, and bring oliuebranches, and pinebranches, and branches of myrtus, and palmebranches, and branches of thicke trees, to make boothes, as it is writen.

16 So the people went forth and brought [the] and made them boothes, euery one vpon the roofe of his house, and in their courts, & in the courts of the house of God, and in the strete by the watergate, & in the strete of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuitie, made boothes, and sate vnder the boothes: for since the time of Ieshua the sonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very great ioye.

18 And he red in the booke of the Law of God euery day, from the first day vnto the last day. And they kept the feast seven dayes, and on the eight day a solenne assembly, according vnto the maner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The people repent, and forsake their strange wiues. 5 The Leuites exhorthe them to praise God, 6 Declaring his wonders. 26 And their ingratitude, 30 And Gods great mercies toward them.

1 In the foure and twentieth day of this month the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth vpon them.

2 (And they that were of the seede of Israel were separated from all the strangers) and they stode and confessed their sinnes and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stode vp in their place and red in the booke of the Law of the Lord their God foure times on the day, & they confessed and worshipped the Lord their God foure times.

4 Then stode vp vpon the staires of the Leuites Ieshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani [and] Chenani, & cryed with a loude voice vnto the Lord their God.

5 And the Leuites said, [euē] Ieshua and Kadmiel, Barí, Hashabiah, Sherebiáh, Hodíah, Shebaniáh [and] Pethahiah, Stand vp, [and] praise the Lord your God for euer and euer, and let them praise thy glorious Name, o God, which excelleth aboue all thanksgiuing and praise.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, wth all their hoste, the earth, & all things that are therein, the seas, and all that are in the, and thou preseruest them all, and the hoste of the heauen worshipeth thee.

7 Thou art, o Lord, the God, that hast chosen Abrám, & broghest him out of *Vr in Caldea * and madest his name Abrahám,

8 And foundest his heart faithfull before thee, * and madest a couenant with him, to giue vnto his sēde the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, & Perizzites, & Iebusites, and Girgashites, & hast performed thy wordes, because thou art iust.

9 *Thou hast also considered the afflictioⁿ of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their crye by the red Sea,

10 And shewed tokens and wonders vpō Pharaóh, and on all his seruants, & on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt prouidely against them: therefore thou madest thee a Name, as appeareth this day.

11 *For thou didest breake vp the Sea before the, and they went through the middes of the Sea on drye lād; and those that pursued them, hast thou cast into the botoms as a stone in the mightie waters:

12 And * leddest them in the daye with a pillar of a cloude, and in the night with a pillar of fyre to giue them light in the way that they went.

13 *Thou camest downe also vpon mount Sinái, and spakest vnto them from heauē, and gauest them right iudgements, and true lawes, ordinances and good commādements,

14 And declaredst vnto them thine holy Sabbath, and cōmandedst them precepts, and ordinances, and lawes, by the hand of Moses thy seruant:

15 * And gauest them bread from heauen for their hungre, * & broghest forth the water for the out of the rocke for their thirst: and * promisedst them that they shulde go in, & take possession of the land: for the which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for to giue them.

16 But they and our fathers behaued them selues prouidely and hardened their necke, so that they hearkened not vnto thy commādements,

17 But refused to obey, and wolde not remember thy maruelous workes that thou hadest done for them, but hardened their neckes, and had in their heades to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, o God of mercies, gracious and full of compassioⁿ, of long suffering and of great mercie, yet forsokest them not.

18 Moreouer when they made the a molten calfe (and said, this is thy god that broght thee vp out of the land of Egypt) and committed great blasphemies,

19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forsokest them not in the wilderness: * the pillar of the cloude departed not from them by day to lead them the way, nether the pillar of fyre by night, to shewe them light, and the way whereby they shulde go.

20 Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, & withheldst not thy MAN from their mouth, and gauest them water for their thirst.

21 Thou didest also fede them fourtie yeres in the wilderness: they lacked nothing: * their clothes waxed not olde, and their feteⁿ swelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdomes and people, and ^d scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed * the land of Sihon and the land of the King of Heshbón, & the land of Og King of Bashán.

23 And thou didest multiplie their childre, like the starres of the heauen, and broghest them into the land, whereof thou hadest spoken vnto their fathers, that they shulde go and possesse it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the lād, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, [euē] the Canaanites, & gauest them into their hands, with their Kings and the people of the land, that they might do with them what they wolde.

25 And they toke their strong cities and the fat land, and possessed houses ful of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyardes, & oliues, and trees for fode in abūdānce, and they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, & liued in pleasure through thy great goodnes.

26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, & cast thy Law behinde their backes, and slewe thy Prophetes (which * protested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliueredst them into the hand of their enemies that vexed the: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them

28 But when they had^f rest, they returned to do euil before thee: therefore ledest^g them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominiō ouer them, yet whē they conuerted and cryed vnto thee, thou heardedst them from heauen, and deliueredst them according to thy great mercies many times,

34 And our Kings and our princes, our Priests & our fathers haue not done thy Law, nor regarded thy commandimēts nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast^l protested among them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, & in thy great goodnes that^m shewedst vnto them, and in the large and fat land which thou settest before them, & haue not conuerted from their euil workes.

36 Beholde, we are seruants this day, andⁿ land that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eat the^m frute thereof, and the goodnes thereof, beholde, we are seruants therein.

37 And it yeldeth muche frute vnto the Kings whome thou hast set ouer vs, becau se of our sinnes: and they haue dominion ouer our bodyes and ouer our cattel at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.

38 Now because of all this we makeⁿ a sure couenant, and write it, and our princes, our Leuites [and] our Priests seale vnto it.

25 Mattaniáh and Bakbukiáh, Obadiáh, Meshullám, Talmón [and] Akkúb [were] porters keeping the warde at the thresholds of the gates, 26 These were in the dayes of Ioiakím the sonne of Ieshúa, the sonne of Iozadák, & in the dayes of Nehemiáh the captaine, and of Ezrá the Priest and scribe.

27 And in the dedication of the wall at Ierusalém they fought the Leuites out of all their places to bring them to Ierusalém to kepe the dedication and gladnes, bothe with thankesgiuings and with songs, cymbales, viroles, and with harpes.

28 Then the singers gathered them selues together bothe from the plaine countrie about Ierusalém, and from the villages of Netophathí, 29 And from the house of Gilgál, and out of the countries of Géba, and Azmáueþ: for the singers had buylt them villages rounde about Ierusalém.

30 And the Priests & the Leuites [were] purified, and clenfed the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 And I broght vp the princes of Iudáh vpon the wall, & appointed two great companies to giue thankes, and the [one] went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.

32 And after them went Hofhaiáh, and halfe of the princes of Iudáh,

33 And Azariáh, Ezrá and Meshullám,

34 Iudáh, Beniamín, and Shemaiáh, and Ieremiáh,

35 And of the Priests sonnes with trüpets, Zechariáh the sonne of Ionathán, the sonne of Shemaiáh, the sonne of Mattaniáh, þ sonne of Michaiáh, the sonne of Zaccúr, the sonne of Asáph.

36 And his brethren, Shemaiáh, & Azareél, Milalái, Gilalái, Maái, Nethaneél, & Iudáh, Hanáni, with the musical instruments of Dauid the man of God: & Ezrá the scribe [went] before them.

37 And to the gate of the fountaine, euen ouer against them went they vp by the staires of the citie of Dauid, at the going vp of the wall beyonde the house of Dauid, euen vnto the water gate Eastwarde.

38 And the seconde companie of them þ gaue thankes, wét on the other side, and I after the, & the halfe of the people [was] vpon the wall, [and] vpon the towre of furnaces euen vnto the broad wall,

39 And vpon the gate of Ephraím, and vpon the olde gate, and vpon the fishgate, & the towre of Hananeél, and the towre of Meáh, euen vnto the shepegate: and they stode in the gate of the warde.

40 So stode the two companies (of them that gaue thankes) in the house of God, & I and the halfe of the rulers with me.

41 The Priests also, Eliakím, Maaseiáh, Miniamín, Michaiáh, Elioenái, Zechariáh, Mananiáh, with trumpets, 42 And Maaseiáh, and Shemaiáh, & Eleazar, and Vzzi, and Iehohanán, and Malchíah, and Elám, and Ezér: and the singers [sang] loude, hauing Izrahiah which [was] the ouerfeer.

43 And the same day they offred great sacrifices and reioyced: for God had giuen them great ioye, so that bothe the womē, and the children were ioyful: and the ioye of Ierusalém was heard farre of.

44 Also at the same time were men appointed ouer the chambers of the store for the offrings (for the first frutes, & for the tithes) to gather in to them out of the fields of the cities, the portions of the Law for the Priests and the Leuites: for Iudáh reioyced for the Priests & for the Leuites that serued.

45 And bothe the singers and the Leuites kept the warde of their God, & the warde of the purification according to the commandement of Dauid, [and] Salomón his sonne.

46 *For in the dayes of Dauid and Asaph, of olde [were] chief singers, and songs of praise and thankesgiuing vnto God.

47 And in the dayes of Zerubbabél, and in the dayes of Nehemiáh did all Israël giue portions vnto the singers and porters, euerie day his portion, and they gaue the holy things vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites gaue the holy things vnto the sonnes of Aarón.

^k And before^b this had the Priest Eliashib the ouersight of the chamber of the house of our God, being ^c kinsman to Tobiah.
^l And he had made him a great chamber, & there had they aforetime laid the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tithes of corne, of wine, and of oyle (appointed for the Levites, and the singers, & the porters) and the offerings of the Priests.

^m But in al this [time] was not I in Ierusalēm:
 for in the two and thirtieth yere of ^d Ar-tahshaste King of Babel, came I vnto the King, and fater certeine dayis I obtained of the King.

ⁿ And when I was come to Ierusalēm, I ynderstode ^e euil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in that he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God.

^o And it grieved me sore: therefore I cast forth all ^f vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

^p And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and thether broght I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meat offering and the incense.

^q And I perceiued that the portiōs of ^g Levites had not bene giuen, & that eue-rie one was fled to his land, [euē] the Leui-tes and singers that executed the worke.

^r Then reprov'd I the rulers and said,
 Why is the house of God forsakē? And I assēbled them, and set thē in their place.

^s Thē broght al Iudāh the tithes of corne and of wine, & of oyle vnto the treasures.

^t And I made treasurers ouer ^h treasures, Shelemiāh the Priest, & Zadōk the scribe, and of the Levites, Pedaiāh, & vnder their hand Hanān the sonne of Zaccūr the sonne of Mattaniāh: for they were counted faithful, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

^u Remember me, ⁱ my God, herein, and wipe not out my ^f kindenes that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the offices thereof.

^v In those daies saw I in Iudāh thē ^j trode wine presses on ^h Sabbath, and that broght in sheaves, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and broght them into Ierusalēm vpon the Sabbath day: and ^k I protested to them in the day that they solde vitales.

^l There dwelt men of Tyrus also therein, which broght fish and all wares, and solde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudāh euen in Ierusalēm.

^m Then reprov'd I the rulers of Iudāh, & said vnto them, What euil thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabbath daye?

ⁿ Did not your fathers^b thus, & our God broght all this plague vpon vs, and vpon

this citie: yet ye increase the wrath vpon Israël, in breaking the Sabbath.

^o And when the gates of Ierusalēm begā to be ⁱ darke before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged, that they shulde not be opened til after the Sabbath, and [some] of my seruants set I at the gates, that there shulde no burden be broght in on the Sabbath daye.

^p So the chapmen and marchants of all marchandise remained once or twise all night without Ierusalēm.

^q And I protested among them, and said vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once againe, I will lay hands vpon you. Frō that time came they nomore on the Sabbath.

^r And I said vnto the Levites, that they shulde cleanse them selues, and that they shulde come and ^k kepe the gates, to fanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember me, ⁱ my God, cōcerning this, and pardone me according to thy great mercie.

^s In those dayes also I sawe Iewes that maried wiues of ^l Ashdōd, of Ammōn, and of Moāb.

^t And their children spake halfe in the speache of Ashdōd, and colde not speake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the [one] people, and of the [other] people.

^u Then I reprov'd them, and ^m cursed them, and smote certeine of them, and pulled of their heere, and toke an othe of thē by God, Ye shal not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, nether shal ye take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your selues.

^v Did not Salomōn the King of Israël sinne by these things: yet among manie nations was there no King like him: for he was beloued of his God, and God had made him King ouer Israël: yet strange women caused him to sinne.

^w Shal we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euil, and to transgresse against our God, [euē] to mary strange wiues?

^x And [one] of the sonnes of Ioiađā ^j sonne of Eliashib the hye Priest was the sonne in law of Sanballāt the Horonite: but I chased him from me.

^y Remember them, ⁱ my God, that^a defile the Priesthode, and the couenant of the Priesthode, and of the Levites.

^z Then cleansed I them from all strangers, and appointed the wardes of the Priests &

ESTER.

THE ARGUMENT.

Because of the diuersitie of names, whereby they vsed to name their Kings, and the supputation of yeres, wherein the Ebrewes and the Grecians do varie, diuers autors write diuersly as touching this Ahashuerósh, but it semeth Daniel 6, 1, and 9, 1, that he was Darius King of the Medes, and sonne of Astyages, called also Ahashuerósh, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chief, as chief head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church: who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, he euer stirreth vp some, by whome he sendeth comforte, and deliuerance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride and crueltie of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their soden fall when they are at highest: and how God preserueth, and preferreth them which are zealous of his glorie, and haue a care and loue toward their brethren.

CHAP. I.

1 King Ahashuerósh maketh a royal feast, 10 VVhereunto the Quene Vashti wil not come. 19 For which cause she is deuorced. 20 The Kings decree touching the preeminence of man.

for the womē in the royal house of King Ahashuerósh.

10 Vpon the 8 seuent day when the King was mery with wine, he comāded Mehumán, Bizthá, Harboná, Bigthá, and Abagthá, Zethár, and Carcás, the seuen eunuches (that serued in the presēce of King Ahashuerósh)

g VVhich was the last day of the feast that the King made for the people, as ver. 5.

11 To bring Quene Vashti before the King with the crowne royal, that he might shewe the people and the princes her beautie: for she was faire to loke vpon.

12 But the Quene Vashti refused to come at the Kings worde, that which he had giuen in charge to the eunuches: therefore the King was verie angrie, and his wrath kindled in him.

+Ebr. which was in the hand of the eunuches

13 Then the King said to the wise men, that knewe the times (for so was the Kings maner towardes all that knewe the lawe and the iudgement:

h That had experience of things, as they had learned by diligent marking in continuance of time.

14 And the next vnto him [was] Carshená, Shethár, Admátha, Tarshísh, Méres, Marfená [and] Memucán the seuen princes of Persia and Media, which sawe the Kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome)

i VVhich were his chief counsellors, that might haue alwayes access to him.

15 What shal we do vnto the Quene Vashti according to the lawe, because she did not according to the worde of the King Ahashuerósh by the commission of the eunuches?

16 Then Memucán answered before the King and the princes, The Quene Vashti hath not onely done euil against the King, but against all the princes, & against all the people that are in all the prouinces of King Ahashuerósh.

k By her disobedience she hath giuen an example to all women to do the like to their housbāds. That is, her disobedience.

17 For the acte of the Quene shal come a brode vnto all women, so that they shal despise their housbāds in their owne eies and shal say, The King Ahashuerósh commanded Vashti the Quene to be brought in before him, but she came not.

m Meaning, that they would take first occasion hereof to do the like, and that the rest of women would by example haue done the same.

18 So shal the princesses of Persia and Media this day say vnto all the Kings Princes, when they heare of the acte of the Quene, thus [shal there be] muche despitefulness and wrath.

In the dayes of Ahashuerósh (this is Ahashuerósh that reigned from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred, & seuen & twentie prouinces)

2 In those dayes when the King Ahashuerósh sate on his throne, which was in the palace of Shushán,

3 In the thirde yere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his princes & his seruants, [euen] the power of Persia and Media, & to the captaines and gouernours of the prouinces [which were] before him,

4 That he might shewe the riches [and] glorie of his kingdome, & the honour of his great maiestie many dayes, [euen] an hundred and foure score dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the King made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shushán, both vnto great and small, seuen dayes, in the courte of the garden of the Kings palace,

6 Vnder an hanging of white, grene, and blewe [clothes,] fastened with cordes of fine linen and purple, in siluer rings, and pillars of marble: the beddes [were] of golde, and of siluer, vpon a pauement of porphyre, and marble, and alabaster, and blewe coulour.

7 And they gaue them drinke in vessels of golde, and changed vessel after vessel, and royal wine in abundāce, according to the power of the King.

8 And the drinke [was] by an ordre, none might compel: for so the King had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they shulde do according to euery mans pleasure.

9 The Quene Vashti made a feast also p That is, that wife shulde be subiect to the housband and at his commandement.

a That is, he called the matter a gaine into communication. b By the seuen wise men of his counsel.

c The abuse of these countries was so great, & they inuented manie meanes to serue the lustes of princes, and therefore, as they ordeined wicked lawes, & the King might haue whose daughters he vould, so they had diuers houses appointed, as one for the, whiches they were virgines, another when they were concubines, and for the Quenes another.

19 If it please the King, let a royal decree procede from him, and let it be written among the statutes of Persia and Media; (and let it not be transgressed) that Vasthi come no more before King Ahashuerosh: and let the King giue her royal estate vnto her companion that is better then she.

20 And whē the decree of the King which shalbe made, shalbe published throughout all his kingdome (thogh it be great) all the women shal giue their housbands honour, bothe great and small.

21 And this saying pleased the King & the princes, & the King did according to the worde of Memucan.

22 For he set letters into all the prouinces of the King, into euerie prouince according to the wryting thereof, and to euerie people after their language, that euerie mā shulde beare rule in his owne house, & that he shulde publish it in the language of that same people.

CHAP. II.

1 After the Quene is put away, certeine yong maidens are brought to the King. 14 Ester pleaseth the King, and is made Quene. 22 Mordecai discloseth vnto the King those that wolde betray him.

1 After these things, whē the wrath of King Ahashuerosh was appeased, he remembred Vasthi, & what she had done, and what was decreed against her.

2 And the Kings seruants that ministred vnto him, said, Let them seke for the King beautiful yong virgins,

3 And let the King appoint officers throughout all the prouinces of his kingdome, and let them gather all the beautifull yong virgins vnto the palace of Shushan, into the house of the women, vnder the hand of Hegē the Kings eunuche, keeper of the women, to giue them their things for purification.

4 And the maid that shal please the King, let her reigne in the stead of Vasthi. And this pleased the King, and he did so.

5 ¶ In the cite of Shushan, there was a certeine Iewe, whose name [was] Mordecai the sonne of Iaïr, the sonne of Shimeï, the sonne of Kish a man of Temin,

6 Which had bene caryed away from Ierusalem with the captiuitie that was caryed away with Iekoniāh King of Iudāh (whome Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel had caryed away)

7 And he nourished Hadassah, that is, Ester, his vnckles daughter: for she had nether father nor mother, and the maid was faire, & beaurifull to loke on: & after the death of her father, and her mother, Mordecai toke her for his owne daughter.

8 And when the Kings commandement, and his decree was published, and manie maids were brought together to the palace of Shushan, vnder the hand of Hegē, Ester was brought also vnto the Kings house vnder the hand of Hegē the keeper of the women.

9 And the maid pleased him, and she founde fauour in his sight: therefore he caused her things for purification to be giuen her spedely, and her state, and seuen comely maides to be giuen her out of the Kings house, and he gaue change to her and to her maides of the best in the house of the women.

10 [But] Ester shewed not her people and her kined: for Mordecai had charged her, that she shulde not tel it.

11 And Mordecai walked euerie day before the courte of the womens house, to knowe if Ester did wel, and what shulde be done with her.

12 And whē the course of euerie maid came, to go in to King Ahashuerosh, after that she had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of the women (for so were the dayes of their purifications accomplished, six moneths with oyle of myrrhe, and six moneths with swete odours, and in the purifying of the women)

13 And thus went the maids vnto the King, whatsoeuer she required, was giuen her to go with her out of the womens house vnto the Kings house.

14 In the euening she went, and on the morow she returned into the secōde house of the women vnder the hand of Shashgāz the Kings eunuche, which kept the concubines: she came in to the King no more, except she pleased the King, & that she were called by name.

15 Now when the course of Ester the daughter of Abihail the vnckle of Mordecai (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, she shulde go in to the King, she desired nothing, but what Hegē the Kings eunuche the keeper of the women said: and Ester founde fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

16 ¶ So Ester was taken vnto King Ahashuerosh into his house royal in the tenth moneth, which is the moneth Tebeth, in the seuenth yere of his reigne.

17 And the King loued Ester aboue all the women, and she founde grace and fauour in his sight more then all the virgins: so that he set the crowne of the kingdome vpon her head, and made her Quene in stead

18 Then the King made a great feast vnto al his princes and his seruants [which was] the feast of Ester, and gaue rest^k vnto the prouinces, and gaue giftes, according to the power of a King.

19 And whē the virgins were gathered the^m seconde time, then Mordecái fate in the Kings gate.

20 Ester had not yet shewed hir kined nor her people, as Mordecái had charged her: for Ester did after the worde of Mordecái, as when she was nurished with him.

21 ¶ In those dayes when Mordecái fate in the Kings gate, two of the Kings eunuches, Bigthán, and Térsh, which kept the dore, were wroth, & soght to layⁿ hand on the King Ahashuerósh.

22 And the thing was knowē to Mordecái, and he tolde it vnto Quene Ester, and Ester certified the King thereof in Mordecáis name: and when inquisitiō was made it was foude so: therefore thei were bothe hanged on a tree: and it was written in the boke of the^o Chronicles before the King.

¶ CHAP. III.

¹ Haman, after he was exalted, obtained of the King, that all the Iewes shulde be put to death, because Mordecái had not done him worship as others had.

After these things did King Ahashuerósh promote Hamán the sonne of Hammedátha the Agagite, & exalted him, and set his seat about all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the Kings seruants that were at the Kings gate, bowed their knees and reuerēced Hamán: for the King had so commanded concerning him: but Mordecái^a bowed not the knee, nether did reuerence.

3 Then the Kings seruants which were at the Kings gate said vnto Mordecái, Why transgresses thou the Kings commandment?

4 And albeit they spake daylie vnto hī, yet he wolde not heare them: therefore they^b tolde Hamán, that they might se how Mordecáis matters wolde stand: for he had tolde them, that he was a Iewe.

5 And when Hamán sawe that Mordecái bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Hamán was ful of wrath.

6 Now he^f thought it to litle to lay hands onely on Mordecái: and because they had shewed him the people of Mordecái, Hamán soght to destroye all the Iewes, that were throughout the whole kingdome of Ahashuerósh, [euē] the people of Mordecái.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth^c Nisan) in the twelfth yere of King Ahashuerósh, they cast Pur (that is a^d lot) before Hamán, from day to day, & from moneth to moneth, [vnto] the twelfth moneth; that is the moneth^e Adár.

8 Then Hamán said vnto King Ahashuerósh, There is a people scatred, and dispersed among the people in al the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes [are] diuers from all people, and they do not obserue the^f Kings lawes: therefore it is not the Kings profite to suffre them.

9 If it please the King, let it be written that they may be destroyed, and I will paye ten thousand talents of siluer by the hands of them that haue the charge of this busines to bring it into the Kings treasure.

10 Then the King toke his ring from his hand, and gaue it vnto Hamán the sonne of Hammedátha the Agagite the Iewes aduersarie.

11 And the King said vnto Hamán, Let the siluer be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the Kings^g scribes called on the thirtent day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Hamán commanded) vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines that were ouer euerie prouince, and to the rulers of euerie people, [and] to euerie prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euerie people according to their language: in the name of King Ahashuerósh was it written, and sealed with the Kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent by postes into all the Kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill and to destroye all the Iewes, bothe yong and olde, children and women, in one day vpō the thirtent day of the twelfth moneth (which is the moneth Adár) and to spoile them as a pray.

14 The contents of the writing [was,] that there shulde be giuen a cōmandement in all prouinces, [and] published vnto all people, that thei shulde be ready against the same day.

15 And the postes compelled by the Kings commandment went forth, and the cōmandement was giue in the palace at Shushán: and the King and Hamán fate drinking, but the^h cite of Shushán was in perplexitie.

NOW when Mordécái perceiued all that was done, Mordécái rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, & ashes, & went out into the middes of the citie, & cryed with a great crye, and a bitter.

2 And he came euen before the Kings gate, but he might not entre within [†] Kings gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

3 And in euerie prouince, [and] place, whether the Kings charge and his commission came, there [was] great sorow among the Iewes, and fasting, and weping, and mourning, and [†] many laye in sackcloth and in ashes.

4 ¶ Then Esters maides and her eunuches came and tolde it her: therefore the Queene was verie heauy, and she sent rayment to clothe Mordécái, & to take away his sackcloth from him, but he receiued it not.

5 Then called Ester Hatách [one] of the Kings eunuches, whome he [†] had apointed to serue her, and gaue him a commandement vnto Mordécái, to knowe what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatách went forth to Mordécái vnto the streat of the citie, which was before the Kings gate.

7 And Mordécái tolde him of all that [†] had come vnto him, and of the [†] summe of the siluer that Hamán had promised to paye vnto the Kings treasures, because of the Iewes, for to destroye them.

8 Also he gaue him the [†] copie of the writing [and] commission that was giuen at Shushán, to destroye the, [†] he might shew it vnto Ester and declare it vnto her, and to charge her, that she shulde go in to the King, & make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 ¶ So when Hatách came, he tolde Ester the wordes of Mordécái.

10 Then Ester said vnto Hatách, and commanded him [to say] vnto Mordécái,

11 All the Kings seruants and the people of the Kings prouinces do knowe, that whosoever, man or woman, that cometh to the King into the inner court, whiche is not called, there [is] a lawe of his, that he shall dye, except him to whome the King holdeth out the golden rod, that he may liue. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the King these thirtie dayes.

12 And they certified Mordécái of Esters wordes.

13 And Mordécái said, that thei shulde answer Ester [thus,] Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shal escape in the Kings house, more then all the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, [†] comfort and deliuerance ^b shal appeare to the Iewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers house shal perish: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome for ^c such a time?

15 Then Ester commanded to answer Mordécái,

16 Go, [and] assemble al the Iewes that are found in Shushán, and fast ye forme, & eat not, nor drike in thre dayes, day nor night. I also and my maides wil fast likewise, and so wil I go in to the King, which is not according to the Law: and if I perish, ^d I perish.

17 So Mordécái went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

^a Ester entred in to the King, and biddeth him and Haman to feast. ¹¹ Haman prepareth a galous for Mordécái.

AND on the third ^a day Ester put on her royal apparel, and stode in the court of the Kings palace within, ouer against the Kings house: and the King sat vpon his royal throne in the Kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King sawe Ester the Queene standing in the court, she founde fauour in his sight: and the King ^b helde out the golden sceptre that was in his hand, so Ester drewe nere, & touched the toppe of the sceptre.

3 Then said the King vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester: & what is thy request? it shal be euen giuen ^c thee to the halfe of the kingdome.

4 Then said Ester, If it please the King, let the King and Hamán come this day vnto the banket, that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the King said, Cause Hamán to make hast that he may do as Ester hath said. So the King and Hamán came to the banket that Ester had prepared.

6 And the King said vnto Ester at the banket of ^d wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? it shal euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then answered Ester, and said, My petition and my request [is,]

8 If I haue founde fauour in the sight of the King, and if it please the King to giue me my petition, and to performe my request, let the King and Hamán come to the banket that I shal prepare for them, & I wil do tomorowe according to the Kings ^e saying.

9 ¶ The went Haman for the the same day ioyful and with a glad heart. But when Haman sawe Mordecai in the Kings gate, that he stode not vp, nor moued for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Neuertheles Haman refrained him self and when he came home, he sent, and called for his friends, and Zerefh his wife.

11 And Haman tolde them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the King had promoted him, and how that he had set him aboue the princes and seruants of the King.

12 Haman said moreouer, Yea, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the King to the banket that she had prepared, saue me: and tomorowe am I bidden vnto her also with the King.

13 But all this doeth nothing auaille me, as long as I se Mordecai the Iewe sitting at the Kings gate.

14 Then said Zerefh his wife and all his friends vnto him, Let them make a tree of fiftie cubites hie, and tomorowe speake thou vnto the King, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou go ioyfully with the King vnto the banket.
And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused to make the tree.

¶ CHAP. VI.

1 The King turneth ouer the chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mordecai. 2 And commandeth Haman, to cause Mordecai to be had in honour.

1 ¶ The same night the King slept not, & he commanded to bring the booke of the records [and] the chronicles: & they were red before the King.

2 Then it was founde written, that Morde-cai had tolde of Bigtana, and Terefh two of the Kings eunuches, keepers of the dore, who sought to lay hands on the King Ahasuerus.

3 Then the King said, What honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecai for this? And the Kings seruants that mi-nistred vnto him, said, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the King said, Who is in the court?
(Now Haman was come into the inner court of the Kings house, that he might speake vnto the King to hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him)

5 And the Kings seruants said vnto him,
Beholde, Haman standeth in the court.
And the King said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the King said

vnto him, What shal be done vnto the mawhome the King wil honour? Then Haman thought in his heart, To whome wol-de the King do honour more then to me?

7 And Haman answered the King, The man whome the King wolde honour,

8 Let them bring [for him] royal apparel, which the King vseth to weare, and the horse that the King rydeth vpon, and that the crowne royal may be set vpo his head.

9 And let the rayment & the horse be de-liuered by the hand of one of the Kings moste noble princes, and let them apparel the man (whome the King wil honour) and cause him to ryde vpon the horse through the strete of the citie, & proclame before him, Thus shal it be done vnto the man, whome the King wil honour.

10 Then the King said to Haman, Make haste, take the rayment and the horse as thou hast said, and do so vnto Mordecai the Iewe, that sitteth at the Kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou hast spokē.

11 So Haman toke the rayment and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and broght him on horse backe through the strete of the citie, and proclaimed before him, Thus shal it be done to the man whome the King wil honour.

12 And Mordecai came againe to the Kings gate, but Haman hasted home mourning and his head couered.

13 And Haman tolde Zerefh his wife, and all his friends all that had befallen him.
Then said his wife men, and Zerefh his wife vnto him, If Mordecai be of the sede of the Iewes, before whome thou hast begonne to fall, thou shalt not preuaile against him, but shalt surely fall before hi.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the Kings eunuches and hasted to bring Haman vnto the banket that Ester had prepared.

2 And the King said againe vnto Ester on the seconde day at the banket of wine,

5 Then King Ahashuerósh answered, and said vnto the Quene Ester, Who is he? & where is he that presumeth to do thus?

6 And Ester said, The aduersarie and enemy is this wicked Hamán. Then Hamán was afraied before the King & the Quene.

7 And the King arose from the banquet of wine in his wrath, [and went] into the palace garden: but Hamán stode vp, to make request for his life to the Quene Ester: for he sawe that there was a mischief prepared for him of the King.

8 And when the King came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they dranke wine, Hamán was fallen vpon the bed whereon Ester [sate:] therefore the King said, Wil he force the Quene also before me in the house? As the worde went out of the Kings mouth, they couered Hamáns face.

9 And Harbonáh one of the eunuches said in the presence of the King, Beholde, there standeth yet the tre in Hamáns house fiftie cubites hie, which Hamán had prepared for Mordecái, that spake good for the King. Then the King said, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Hamán on the tre, that he had prepared for Mordecái: the was the Kings wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

1 After the death of Haman was Mordecái exalted, 14 Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

1 The same day did King Ahashuerósh giue the house of Hamán the aduersarie of the Iewes vnto the Quene Ester. And Mordecái came before the King: for Ester tolde what he was vnto her.

2 And the King toke of his ring, which he had taken from Hamán, and gaue it vnto Mordecái: and Ester set Mordecái ouer the house of Hamán.

3 And Ester spake yet more before the King, and fell downe at his fete weping, & besought him that he wolde put away the wickednes of Hamán the Agagite, and his deuise that he had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the King helde out the golde sceptre towarde Ester. Then arose Ester, and stode before the King,

And said, If it please the King, and if I haue founde fauour in his sight, and the thing be acceptable before the King, and I please him, let it be written, that the letters of the deuise of Hamán the sonne of Ammedátha the Agagite may be called againe, which he wrote to destroy the Iewes, that are in all the Kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and se the euil, that shal come vnto my people? Or how can I suffer and se the destruction of my kindred?

7 And the King Ahashuerósh said vnto the Quene Ester, & to Mordecái the Iewe, Beholde, I haue giuen Ester the house of Hamán, whome they haue hanged vpon the tre, because he layed hand vpon the Iewes.

8 Write ye also for the Iewes, as it liketh you in the Kings name, and seale it with the Kings ring, (for the wrytings written in the Kings name, and sealed with the Kings ring, may no man reuoke)

9 The were the Kings scribes called at the same time, euen in the third moneth, that is the moneth Siuán, on the thre and twentieth [day] thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecái commanded, vnto the Iewes and to the prouinces, & captaines, and rulers of the prouinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces, vnto euerie prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euerie people after their speache, and to the Iewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the King Ahashuerósh name, and sealed it with the Kings ring: & he sent letters by postes on horsebacke [and] that rode on [beastes] of price, [as] dromedaries [and] coltes of mares.

11 Wherein the King granted the Iewes (in what cities soeuer they were) to gather them selues together, & to stand for their life, [&] to roote out, to slay & to destroye all the power of the people and of the prouince that vexed the, [bothe] childre and women, and to spoyle their goods,

13 The copie of the writing [was,] how there shulde be a commandement giuen in all & euerie prouince, published amog all the people, and that the Iewes shulde be readie against that day to auenge the selues on their enemies.

14 [So] the postes rode vpon [beastes] of price, [and] dromedaries, [and] wet forth with speede, to execute the Kings commandement, 15 And Mordecái went out from the King in royal apparel of blew, and white, and with a great crowne of golde, and with a garment of fine linen and purple, and the cite of Shushán reioyced and was glad.

16 [And] vnto the Iewes was come light, & ioye, and gladnes, and honour.

17 Also in all and euerie prouince, and in all and euerie cite and place, where the Kings commādemēt & his decree came, [there was] ioye and gladnes to the Iewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the land^m became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

1 At the commandement of the King the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Iewes kepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

SO in the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adár, vpon the thirtenth day of the same, when the Kings commandement and his decree drewe nere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them (But it^a turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them)

2 The Iewes gathered thē selues together into their cities thoroughout all the prouinces of the King Ahashuerósh, to laye hand on suche as sought their hurt, and no man colde withstande them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, & the princes, and the captaines, and the officers of the King^b exalted the Iewes: for the feare of Mordecái fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecái was great in the Kings house, and the reporte of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecái waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their^c enemies with strokes of the sworde and slaughter and destruction, and did what they wolde vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shushán the palace slewe^d Iewes and destroyed^d fūe hundred men,

7 And Parshandátha, and Dalphón, and Aspátha,

8 And Porátha, and Adaliá, and Aridátha,

9 And Parmáshta, and Arisái, and Aridái, and Vaiezátha,

10 The ten sonnes of Hamán, the sonne of Ammedátha, the aduersarie of the Iewes slewe they: but they layed not their hands^e on the spoyle.

11 On the same day came the number of those that were slayne, vnto the palace of Shushán before the King.

12 And the King said vnto^f Quene Ester, The Iewes haue slayne in Shushán the palace and destroyed fūe hundred men, & the ten sonnes of Hamán: what haue they done in the rest of the Kings prouinces? & what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what is thy request moreover, that it may be performed?

13 Then said Ester, If it please the King, let it be granted also tomorowe to the Iewes that are in Shushán, to do according^f vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang vpon the tree Hamans ten sonnes.

14 And the King charged to do so, and the decree was giuen at Shushán, & they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 ¶ So the Iewes that were in Shushán, assembled them selues vpon the fourtenth day of the moneth Adár, and slewe three hundred men in Shushán, but on the spoyle they layed not their hand,

16 And the rest of the Iewes that were in the Kings prouinces assembled thē selues and stood for^g their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slewe of them that hated them^h seuentie and fyue thousand: but they layed not their hand on the spoyle.

17 [This they did] on theⁱ thirtenth day of the moneth Adár, & rested the fourtenth day thereof, and kept it a daye of feasting and ioye.

18 But the Iewes that were in Shushán assembled thē selues on the thirtenth [day,] and on the fourtenth thereof, and they rested on the fiftenth of the same, and kept it a daye of feasting and ioye.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages that dwelt in the vnwalled townes,^k kept the fourtenth day of the moneth Adár with ioye and feasting, [euen] a ioyfull day, and euerie one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 ¶ And Mordecái wrote^l these wordes, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were through all the prouinces of the King Ahashuerósh, [bothe] nere and farie,

21 Inioyning them that they shulde kepe the fourtenth day of the moneth Adár, and the fiftenth day of the same, euerie yere,

22 According to the dayes wherein the Iewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them from sorow to ioye, and from mourning vnto a ioyfull day, to kepe them the dayes of feasting and ioye, and^m to send presents

^k As the Iewes do, euen to this day, calling it in the Persians language Purim, ^l The Iewes gather hereof that Mordecái wrote this storie, but it seemeth that he wrote but onely these letters and decrees that followe.

23 And the Iewes promised to do as they had begonne, and as Mordecái had written vnto them,

24 Because Hamán the sonne of Hammedátha the Agagite all the Iewes aduersarie, had imagined against the Iewes to destroye them, and had^a cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroye them.

25 And when^o she came before the King, he comanded by letters, Let his wicked deuise (which he imagined against the Iewes) turne vpon his owne head, & let them hang him & his sonnes on the tree.

26 Therefore they called these dayes Purim, by the name of Pur, [and] because of all the wordes of this letter, and of that which they had sene besides this, and of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Iewes [also] ordeined, and promised for them and for their sede, and for all that ioined vnto them, that they wolde not[†] faile to obserue those⁹ two dayes euerie yere, according to their writing, & according to their season,

28 And that these dayes shulde be remembered, and kept throughout euerie generation and euerie familie, and euerie prouince, and euerie citie: euen these dayes of Purim shulde not faile among the Iewes, and the memorial of them shulde not perish from their sede.

29 And[†] Quene Ester the daughter of A-biháil & Mordecái the Iewe wrote with all[†] autoritie (to confirme this letter of Purim the seconde time)

30 And he sent letters vnto all the Iewes, to the hundreth and seuen and twentie prouinces of the kingdome of Ahashuerósh, with^r wordes of peace and truethe, 31 To confirme these dayes of Purim according to their seasons, as Mordecái the Iewe and Ester the Quene had appointed them, and as they had promised for them[†] selues and for their sede with^r fasting and prayer.

IOB.

¶ THE ARGUMENT.

IN this historie is set before our eyes the exemple of a singular patience. For this holy man Iob was not only extremely afflicted in outward things and in his body, but also in his minde and conscience, by the sharpe tentations of his wife and chief friends: which by their vehement wordes, and subtil disputations brought him almoste to dispaire: for they set forthe God as a seuerie iudge, and mortal enemy vnto him, which had caste him of, therefore in vaine he shulde seke vnto him for succour. These friends came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithstanding he did constantly resist them, and at length had good successe. In this storie we haue to marke that Iob mainteineth a good cause, but handleth it euil: againe, his aduersaries haue an euil matter, but they defend it craftely. For Iob helde that God did not alway punish men according to their sinnes, but that he had secret iudgements, wherof man knewe not the cause, and therefore man colde not reason against God therein, but he shulde be conuicted. Moreover he was assured that God had not reiected him, yet through his great torments and afflictions he brasteth forthe in many inconueniencies bothe of wordes and sentences, and sheweth him selfe as a desperate man in many things, and as one that wolde resist God: and this is his good cause which he doeth not handel wel. Againe, the aduersaries mainteine with many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespass, grounding vpon Gods providence, his iustice, & mans sinnes: yet their intention is euil: for they labour to bring Iob into dispaire, and so they mainteine an euil cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iuste man, Ezek. 14, 14, and James setteth out his patience for an example, Iam. 5, 11.

CHAP. I.

1 The holynes, riches, & care of Iob for his children. 10 Satan hath permission for to tempe him. 13 He tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 30 His faith and patience.

Here was a man in the land of Uz called Iob, and this man was an upright and iust man, one that feared God, and eschewed euil.

And he had seuen sonnes, and thre daughters.

3 His substance also was seuen thousand shepe, and thre thousand camels, and fiue hundred yoke of oxen, and fiue hundred asses, and his familie was verie great, so that this man was the greatest of all the men of the East.

4 And his sonnes went and banketted in their houses, euerie one his day, and sent, and called their thre sisters to eat and to drinke with them.

5 And when the dayes of their banketting were gone about, Iob sent, and sanctified them, and rose vp early in the morning, & offered burnt offerings [according] to the number of the all. For Iob thought, it may be that my sonnes haue sinned, and blasphemed God in their hearts: thus did Iob euerie day.

6 Now on a day when the children of God came and stode before the Lord, Satan came also among them.

7 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, saying, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none [is] like him in the earth? an upright and iust man, one that feareth God, & escheweth euil?

9 The Satan answered the Lord, and said, Doeth Iob feare God for nought?

10 Hast thou not made an hedge about him, and about his house, and about all that he hath on euerie side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretche out now thine hand and touche all that he hath, [to se] if he wil not blaspheme thee to thy face.

12 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Lo, all that he hath [is] in thine hand: onely vpon him selfe shal thou not stretche out thine hand. So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord.

13 And on a day, when his sonnes & his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob, and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

15 And the Shabeans came violently, & toke them: yea, they haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sworde: but I onely am escaped alone to tel thee.

16 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The fyre of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the shepe, and the seruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am escaped alone, to tel thee.

17 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The Chaldeans set out thre bandes, and fel vpon the camels, and haue taken them, and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sworde: but I onely am escaped alone to tel thee.

18 And whiles he was yet speaking, came another, and said, Thy sonnes and thy daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

19 And beholde, there came a great winde from beyonde the wilderness, and smote the foure corners of the house, which fel vpon the children, & they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tel thee.

20 Then Iob arose, and rent his garment, and shaued his head, and tel downe vpon the ground, and worshiped, 21 And said, Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, & naked shal I returne: the Lord hath giuen, and the Lord hath taken it: blessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Iob sinne, nor charge God foolishly.

^a Eccles. 5. 4. 1. tim. 6. 7. ^b That is, into the belly of the earth, which is the mother of all. ^c Hereby he confesseth that God is iust, and his hand be sore vpon him. ^d But declared that God did all things according to iustice and equitie.

CHAP. II.

6 Satan hath permission to afflict Iob. 9 His wife tempteth him to forsake God. 11 His three friends visite him.

1 And on a day the children of God came and stode before the Lord, & Satan came also among them, and stode before the Lord.

2 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, and said, From compassing the earth

1 Satan noteth the vice, whereunto he are commonly subiect: that is, to hyde their rebellion, and to be content with God in time of prosperitie, which vice is disclosed in time of their aduersitie.

2 God giueth not Satan power ouer man to gratifie him, but to declare that he hath no power ouer man, but which God giueth him.

3 That is, went to execute that which God had permitted him to do. for els he could neuer go out of Gods presence.

4 That is, the Arabians. 5 VVhich thing was also done by the craft of Satan to tempe Iob, & more grievously, forasmuch as he might see, that not onely men were his enemies, but God made warre against him.

6 This last plague declareth, when one plague is past, another hard to be borne, God can send vs more than our hearts are able to beare, and to trye his, and teache the obedience.

7 VVhich came not of impaciencie, but declareth that children of God are not insensible like blockes, but that in their patience they feele affliction and grief of minde: yet they keepe a meane herein, and rebel not against God, as wicked do.

8 That is, the Angels, as Chap. 1. 6. 9 Read Chap. 1. 13.

^a Ezek. 14, 14.
^b He proueth Iobs integritie by this that he ceased not to feare God whē his plagues were grievously vpon him.

^d That is, whē I hadst noght against him, or when thou wast not able to bring thy purpose to passe.

^e Hereby he ment that a mā owne skinne is dearer vnto him then another mans.

^f Meaning, his owne personer. Thus Satan can go no further in punishing, then God hath limited vnto him.

^h This sore was moste vehement, wherewith also God plagued the Egyptians, Exo. 9, 9, and threatneth to punish the rebellious people, Deut. 28, 27, so that this temptation was moste grievous; for if Iob had measured Gods fauour by the vehemencie of his disease, he might haue thought that God had cast him off. As destitute of all other helpe and meanes, & wonderfully afflicted with the sorowe of his disease.

^l Meaning, Iob gaineth nothing by seruē God, seeing he thus plagued the as though he were thine enemy. This is moste grievous temptation of the faithful, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to perfwade them, that they trust in God in vaine.

^m For death was appointed to the blasphemer, and so he ment that he shoulde be soe ridde out of his paine. ⁿ That is, to be patient in aduersitie, as we reioyce when he sendeth prosperitie, and so to acknowledge him to be both merciful and iuste. ^o He so bridled his affections, that his young through impaciencie did not murmur against God. ^p Which were men of auctoritie, wise and learned, and as the Septuagints write, Kings, and came to comfort him, but when they saw how he was visited, they conceived an euill opinion of him, as though he had bene but an hypocrite, and so iustly plagued of God for his finnes. ^q This was also a ceremonie, which they vsed in those countries, as the reuoluing of their clothes in signe of sorowe &c. ^r And therefore thought that he shoulde not haue hearkened to their counsell.

to and fro, and from walking in it.

3 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none [is] like him in the earth? *an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and eschueueth euil? for yet he continueth in his vprightnes, although thou mouedst me against him, to destroye him without cause.

4 And Satan answered the Lord, and said, *Skin for skin, & all that euer a man hathe, wil he giue for his life.

5 But stretche now out thine hand, & touche his bones and his flesh, [to see] if he wil not blaspheme thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Lo, he is in thine hand, but saue his life.

7 So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord, and smote Iob with sore boyles, from the sole of his fote vnto his crowne.

8 And he toke a potsharde to scrape him, and he sate downe among the ashes.

9 The said his wife vnto him, Doeest thou continue yet in thine vprightnes? Blaspheme God, and dye.

10 But he said vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what? shal we receiue good at the hand of God, and not receiue euil? In all this did not Iob sinne with his o' lippes.

11 Now when Iobs three friends heard of all this euil that was come vpon him, they came euerie one from his owne place, [to wit] Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.

12 So whē they lift vp their eyes a farre off, they knewe him not: therefore they lift vp their voyces and wept, and euerie one of them rent his garment, and sprinkled dust vpon their heades toward the heauē.

13 So they sate by him vpon the grounde seuen dayes, and seuen nights, and none spake a worde vnto him: for they sawe, that the grief [was] very great.

CHAP. II

Iob complaineth and curseth the day of his birth. 1 He curseth to dye, as though death were the end of all mā misery.

Afterward Iob opened his mouth, and cursed his day,

2 And Iob cryed out, and said,

3 Let the day perish wherein I was borne, and the night when it was said, There is a man child conceived.

4 Let that day be darknes, let not God regarde it fro above, nether let the light shine vpon it,

5 [But] let darkenes, & the shadowe of death staine it: let the cloude remaine vpon it, & let them make it feareful as a bitter day.

6 Let darkenes possesse that night: let it not be ioyned vnto the dayes of theyere, nor let it come into the count of the moneths.

7 Yea, desolate be that night, & let no ioye be in it.

8 Let them that curse the day, (being ready to renew their mourning) curse it.

9 Let the starres of that twilight be dim through darknes of it: let it loke for light, but haue none: nether let it see the dawning of the daye,

10 Because it shut not vp the doores of my [mothers] wombe: nor hid sorowe from mine eyes.

11 Why dyed I not in the birth? or why dyed I not, whē I came out of the wombe?

12 Why did the knees preuent me? and why did I sucke the breasts?

13 For [so] shulde I now haue liuen & bene quiet, I shulde haue slept then, [&] bene at rest,

14 With the Kings and counsellors of the earth, which haue buylded them selues desolate places:

15 Or with the princes that had golde, & haue filled their houses with siluer.

16 Or [why] was I not hid, as an vntimely birth, [either] as infants, [which] haue not sene the light?

17 The wicked haue there ceased from [their] tyrannie, and there they that laboured valiantlie, are at rest.

18 The prisoners rest together, [&] heare not the voyce of the oppressour.

19 There are small and great, and the seruant [is] free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie? and a life vnto them that haue heauy hearts?

21 Which long for death, & if it come not, they wolde euen search it more then treasures:

22 Which ioye for gladnes [and] reioyce when they can finde the graue.

23 [Why] is the light giuen to the mā who batell between the Spirit and the flesh, Rom. 7, 14, and after a manner yeldeth in the end, though the victorie, though was in the same time greatly wounded. Men ought not to be weary of their lyfe, nor curse it, because of the infirmities that it is full of, but because they are giuen to sinne rebelliously against God.

^d Let Iob be out of the number of dayes, let it not be light of the daye, ne to separate from the night.

^e That is, obscure darknes, which the afraid of death, & are in which curse day of their lyfe, let the curse vpon that night.

^h This, and which followeth declarerth, whē mā goeth place to hope, he is able to stay, kepe measure, but rineshling into all uill, except call him back.

ⁱ The vehemencie of his affections made him to utter these wordes, as though death were the end of all sorowes, and there were no life after this.

^k He speaketh as though it were so, but the iudgements of his lyfe caused him to braut out this curse of the wicked.

^l He noteth ambition, which forceth pleasure, were, change of names, and buylded moste barren trees, because they wolde hereby make their lyues immortal.

¹ That is, by death the crueltye of the tyrants hath ceased. ^m All they susteine any kinde of calamitie and miserie in this worlde: which he saith after the iudgement of the flesh. ⁿ He sheweth that the benefite of God is not comfortable, except the heart be ioyful, and the conscience quiet.

way is hid, & whom God hath hedged in:

24 For my sighing cometh before I eat, & my sorrows are powred out like the water.

25 For the thinge I feared, is come vpon me, and the thing that I was afraied of, is come vnto me.

26 I had no peace, nether had I quietnes nether had I rest, yet trouble is come.

CHAP. III.

Iob is reprovéd of impacientie, 7 And vniustice, 17. And of the presumption of his owne righteousness.

THē Elipház the Temanite answered, and said,

2 If we assaye to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieved? but who can withhold him selfe from speaking?

3 Behold, thou hast taught many, & hast strengthened the weare hands.

4 Thy wordes haue confirmed him that was falling, & thou hast strengthened the weakē knees.

5 But now it is come vpon thee, and thou art grieved: it toucheth thee, & thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy feare, thy confidence, thy pacience, and the vprightnes of thy wayes?

7 Remember, I pray thee: who [euer] perished being an innocent? or where were the vpright destroyed?

8 As I haue sene, they that plowe iniquitie, and sowe wickednesse, reape the same.

9 With the blast of God they perish, and with the breath of his nostrilles are they consumed.

10 The roaring of the lion and the voice of the lionesse, and the teethe of the lions whelps are broken.

11 The lion perisheth for lacke of praye, and the lions whelps are scattered abroad.

12 But a thing was brought to me secretly, and mine eare hath receyued a lide thereof.

13 In the thoughts of the visions of the night, when sleepe falleth on men, 14 Feare came vpon me, & drede whiche made all my bones to tremble.

15 And the winde passed before me, & made the heares of my fleshe to stand vp.

16 [Then] stode [one,] and I knewe not his face: an image [was] before mine eyes, and in silence heard I a voice [saying.]

17 Shall man be more iust then God? or shall a man be more pure then his maker?

18 Beholde, he founde no stedfastnesse in his seruantes, and layed follye vpon his Angels.

19 How muche more in them that dwell in houses of claye, whose foundation is in the duste, whiche shalbe destroyed before the moth?

20 They be destroyed from the morning vnto the euening: they perish for euer, without regard.

21 Doeth not their dignitie go away with them? do they not die, and that without wisdom.

CHAP. V.

1, 2. Eliphaz sheweth the difference betwene the children of God and the wicked. 3. The fall of the wicked. 9 God power who destroyeth the wicked and deliuereth his.

All now, if any will answer thee, & to whiche of the Saintes wilt thou turne?

2 Doubtes angre killeth the foolishhe, and enuie slayeth the idiothe.

3 I haue sene the foolish wel rooted, and suddenly I cursed his habitation, [saying.]

4 His children shalbe far from saluation, and they shalbe destroyed in the gate, & none shall deliuer them.

5 The hungrie shall eat vp his harvest: yea, they shal take it from among the thornes, and the thirstie shall drinke vp their substance.

6 For miserie commeth not forthe of the dust, neyther doeth affliction spring out of the earth.

7 But man is borne vnto trouble, as the sparkes flie vpward.

8 But I wolde enquire at God, and turne my talke vnto God,

9 Which doeth great thinges and vnsearcheable, [and] maruelous thinges without number.

10 He giveth raine vpon the earthe, and powreth water vpon the stretes.

11 And setteth vp on hie them that be lowe, that the sorrowful may be exalted to saluation.

12 He scattereth the denises of the craftie: so that their handes can not accomplish that which they do enterprise.

13 He maketh the wise in their craftines, & the counsel of the wicked is made folishe. It was not fubtil to paine & affliction. 1. If I suffered as thou doest I wolde seeke vnto God. 1 He counsaileth Iob to humble him selfe vnto GOD, to whom all creatures are subiect, and whose works declare that man is inuincible, except he glorific God in all his workes. 2. He sheweth by paines examples, what the works of God are. 1. Cor. 1, 19.

VVhe we haue learned these pointes by experience, & God punisheth not the innocent, that man can not compare in iustice with him, that the hypocrites shal not long prosper, and that the affliction which man susteineth, cometh for his owne sinne.

God doth distinguish the righteous

beare beastes

do not complaine when they haue what they wolde?

14 They meete with darknes in the daytime, and grope at none daye, as in the night.

15 But he saqueth the pore from the sword, from their mouth, and from the hand of the violent man.

16 So that the pore hath [his] hope, but iniquitie shal stop her mouth.

17 Beholde, blessed is the man whom God correcteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almighty.

18 For he maketh the wound, and bindeth it vp: he smiteth, & his bands make whole.

19 He shal deliuer thee in fixe troubles, & in the seuenth the euil shal not touch thee.

20 In famine he shal deliuer thee from death: and in battail from the power of the sword.

21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, & thou shalt not be trayed of destruction when it cometh.

22 [But] thou shalt laugh at destruction & dearth, & shalt not be afayed of the beast of the earth.

23 For the stones of the field shalbe in league with thee, and the beastes of the field shal be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt knowe, that peace [shal be] in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visite thine habitation, and shalt not sinne.

25 Thou shalt perceiue also, that thy sede [shalbe] great, and thy posteritie as the grasse of the earth.

26 Thou shalt go to thy graue in a fulage, as a ricke [of corne] cometh in due seasō [into the barne.]

27 Lo, thus haue we inquired of it, [&] so it is: heare this and knowe it for thy selfe.

1 Tob answered, that his paine is more greuous then his faute. 8 He witheth death. 14 He complaineth of his friends.

15 But Job answered, and said,
Both that my grief were wel weighed, and my miseries were laied together in the balance.

16 For it wolde be now heavier the the sad of the sea: therefore my wordes are swallowed vp.

17 For the arrowes of the Almighty [are] in me, the venime whereof doeth drinke vp my spirit, [and] the remours of God fight against me.

18 Doeth the wilde asse braye when he ha-the grasse? or loweth the oxe when he hath fodder?

19 They that haue a good conscience, doeth not the sharp wordes or reasonings of others except they be him by reason. 9 Do you cauilt at my wordes, because I shulde be foolishly, which am now in miserie!

8 That which is vsaury, shal it be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?

7 Suche things as my saul refused to touche, as were sorowes, are my meate.

8 Oh that I might haue my desire, & that God wolde grante me the thing that I long for.

9 That is, that God wolde destroye me: y he wolde let his hand go, and cut me of.

10 Then shulde I yet haue comfort, (thogh I burne with sorowe, let him not spare) because I haue not denyed the wordes of the Holie one.

11 What power haue I that I shulde endure? or what is mine end, if I shulde prolong my life?

12 Is my strength the strength of stones?
[or] is my flesh of brasse?

13 Is it not so, that there is in men helpe, and that strength is taken from me?

14 He that is in miserie ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but men haue forsaken the feare of the Almighty.

15 My brethren haue deceiued me as a bro-med.

haue sene [my] fearefull plague, and are afayed.

22 Was it because I said, Bring vnto me: or giue a rewarde to me of your substance?

23 And deliuer me from the enemies had, or ransom me out of the hand of tyrants?

24 Teache me, & I wil holde my tongue:

 28 Now therefore be content to lye vpon me: for I wil not lye before your face.
 29 Turne, I pray you, let there be none iniquitie: returne, I say, [and ye shal se] yet my righteousness in that behalfe. Is there iniquitie in my tongue: doeth not my mouth the fele sorowes?

CHAP. VII.

1 Iob sheweth the shortnes and miserie of mans life.

1 IS there not an appointed time to man vpon earth: and [are not] his dayes as the dayes of an hyreling?

2 As a seruant longeth for the shadowe, & as an hyreling loketh for [the end] of his worke,

3 So haue I had as an inheritance the months of vanitie, and painefull nights haue bene appointed vnto me.

4 If I laied me downe, I said, When shal I arise: and measuring the euening I am euen full with tossing to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

5 My flesh is clothed with wormes & filthines of the dust: my skin is rent, and become horrible.

6 My dayes are swifter then a weauers shuttle, and they are spent without hope.

7 Remember that my life is but a winde, [and that] mine eye shal not returne to se pleasure.

8 The eye that hath seene me, shal se me no more: thine eyes [are] vpon me, and I shal be no longer.

9 As the cloude vanisheth and goeth away, so he that goeth downe to the graue, shal come vp nomore.

10 He shal returne nomore to his house, nether shal his place knowe him any more.

11 Therefore I wil not spare my mouth, [but] wil speake in trouble of my spirit, [and] muse in the bitterness of my minde.

12 Am I a sea^h or a whalesh, that thou kepest me in ward?

13 When I say, my couche shal relieue me, [and] my bed shal bring [comfort] in my meditation, 14 Then fearest thou me^h with dreames, & astonishest me with visions.

15 Therefore my soule chooseth rather to be stangled [and] to dye, then [to be in] my bones.

16 I abhorre it, I shal not liue alwaye: spare me then, for my dayes [are] but vanitie.

17 What is man, that thou doest magnifie him, and that thou settest thine heart vpon him?

18 And doest visit him euery morning, and tryest him euery moment?

19 How long wilt thou be yere? thou departest fro me: thou wilt not let me alone whiles I may swallowe my spelle.

20 I haue sinned, what shal I do vnto thee? thou preseruer of men: why hast thou set me [as a marke] against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

21 And why doest thou not pardone my trespass, and take away mine iniquitie? for now shal I slepe in the dust, & if thou sekest me in morning, I shal not be founde.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad sheweth that Iob is a sinner, because God punisheth the wicked, and preserueth the good.

1 THEN answered Bildad the Shuhite, & said,

2 How long wilt thou talke of these things & how long shal the wordes of thy mouth [be as] a mightie winde?

3 Doeth God peruerie iudgement: or doeth the Almighty subuert iustice?

4 If thy sonnes haue sinned against him, & he hath sent them into the place of their iniquitie,

5 [Yet] if thou wilt early seke vnto God, & pray to the Almighty,

6 If thou be pure and vpight, then surely he wil awake vp vnto thee, & he wil make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.

7 And though thy beginning be small, yet thy latter end shal greatly encrease.

8 Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy selfe to searche of their fathers.

9 [For we are but] of yesterday, and are ignorant: for our dayes vpon earth [are] but a shadow.

10 Shal not they teache thee [and] tel thee & vnter the wordes of their heart?

11 Can a rush growe without myre, or can the grass growe without water?

12 Though it were in greene [and] not cut downe, yet shal it wither before anie other herbe.

13 So [are] the paths of al that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shal perish.

14 His confidence also shal be cut of, & his trust [shal be, as the] house of a spyder.

15 He shal leane vpon his house, but it shal not stand: he shal holde him fast by it, yet shal it not endure.

16 The [tree] is greene before the sunne, and the branches spread ouer the garden thereof.

17 The rotes thereof are wrapped about the fontaine, [and] are folded about the n After all reasonings faith breatheth forth and leadeth Iob to repentance: yet it was not in, for the perfection, that he could bide him selfe to reasoning with God, because he had tried his faith.

 o That is, I shal be dead.

a He declared that their wordes which would diminish any thing from the iustice of God, is but as a puffe of winde & vanisheth away.

b That is, having rewarded them according to their iniquitie: meaning, that Iob ought to be rewarded by the example of his children, that he of his iniquitie should not God.

c That is, if I come betime whiles God calleth thee to repentance.

d Though the beginning be not so pleasant, as if thou wouldst desire, yet in the end thou shalt have sufficient occasion to content thy selfe.

e He willeth Iob to examine all antiquitie, and he shal finde it true which he here saith.

f Meaning, that it is not ynough to haue the experience of our felices, but to be confirmed by examples of that were before vs.

g As a rush can not growe without moiste, so can not the hypocrite, because he hath not faith, as a root, stened by Gods Spirit.

h Which is to day, and tomorrowe sleape away.

i He comparatiueth the trust to a tree, which although it be rooted out of our hearts, yet flourisheth in the affliction of the godly, turneth to their paine.

& That is, so there remaine nothing thereto proue whether it had growen
there, or no.

in another place, where it may growe at pleasure.

m If thou be godly, he will giue thee occasion to reioyce, & if not, thine affliction shall increafe.

a Iob here an-swereth to that poit of Eliphaz and Bildads oration, touching iustice of God and his innocencie, confiting
God to be iustific in iustice, & man to be no thing in respect.
h Or a thousand things, w God
golde laye to his charge, man can not answer him one.

s He declareth
what is the infirmitie of man by the mightie and incomprehensible power that is in God, shew-ing what he col-de do, if he wol-de set forth his power.

d These are the names of certiene staries, wher
by he meaneth that all staries thou knowest and vnknewest are at his opposition.

e I am not able to comprehend his works, & are common to daily before mine eyes, muche lesse in those things, which are hid and secret.

f He sheweth when God doeth execute his power, he doeth iustly, for as much as none
can controule him.
g God wil not be appeased for oght that man can lay for himselfe to his iusti-fication.

h That is, altho reasons thac me can laye to ap-proue their cause.

i How shoulde
he be able to answer him by eloquence, whereby he noteth his friends, that albeit they were eloquent in talke, yet they felt not in heart, that which they spake. k Meaning in his owne opinion, signifying that man wil sometime flatter him selfe to be righteous, which before God is abominatio.
l VVhen I am in my panges, I can not but brast forth into many incontinent speeches, altho I knowe that God is iust.

house of stones.

18 If [any] plucke it from his place, and it denie, [saying] I haue not sene thee,

19 Beholde, it wil reioyce! by this meanes, that it may growe in another molde.

20 Beholde, God wil not cast away an vp-right man, nether wil he take the wicked
by the hand,

21 Til he haue filled thy mouth w^m laughter, and thy lippes with ioye.

22 They that hate thee, shalbe clothed w^v shame, & the dwelling of the wicked shall not [remaine.]

CHAP. IX.

1 Iob declareth the mightie power of God, and that mans righteousnes is nothing.

2 Then Iob answered, and said,
I knowe verely that it is so: for how shulde man [compared] vnto God, be ius-tified?

3 If he wolde dispute with him, he colde not answer him one thing of a thousand.

4 He is wise in heart, & mightie in strenght:
who hathe bene fearece against him and hathe prospered:

5 He remoueth the mountaines and they felle not when he ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

6 He remoueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof do shake.

7 He commandeth the sunne, and it riseth not: he closeth vp the starres, as vnder a signer.

8 He him selfe alone spreadeth out the hea-uens, and walketh vpon the height of the sea.

9 He maketh [the starres] Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the climats of the South.

10 He doeth great things, and vnsearche-able: yea, wonderful things without number.

11 Lo, when he goeth by me, I se him not:
& when he passeth by, I perceiue him not.

12 Beholde, when he taketh a pray, who can make him to restore it? who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

13 God wil not withdrawe his angre [&] the moste mightie helpe^h do stoupe vnder him.

14 How muche lesse shal I answer him? or how shulde I finde out my wordes with him?

15 For though I were iuste, yet colde I not answer, [but] I wolde make supplicatio to my Iudge.

16 If I cry, and he answer me, [yet] wolde
he be able to answer him by eloquence, whereby he noteth his friends, that albeit they were eloquent in talke, yet they felt not in heart, that which they spake. k Meaning in his owne opinion, signifying that man wil sometime flatter him selfe to be righteous, which before God is abominatio.
l VVhen I am in my panges, I can not but brast forth into many incontinent speeches, altho I knowe that God is iust.

I not beleue, that he heard my voyce.

17 For he destroyeth me with a tempest, & woundeth me^m without cause.

18 He wil not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternes.

19 If [we speake] of strength, beholde, he is strong: if [we speake] of iudgement, who shal bring me in to pleade?

20 If I wolde iustifie my selfe, mine owne mouth shal condemne me: if I wolde be-perfitte, he shal iudge me wicked.

21 [Though] I were perfitte, [yet] I knowe not my soule: [therefore] abhorre I my life.

22 This is one point: therefore I said, He destroyeth the perfitte and the wicked.

23 If the scourge shulde suddenlyⁿ strike shulde [God] laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 The earth is giuen into the hand of the wicked: he scoureth the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where is he? or who is he?

25 My dayes haue bene more swift then a poste: they haue fled, & haue sene no good thing.

26 Thei are passed [as] with the moste swift shippes, and as the egle that flieth to the praye.

27 If I say, I wil forget my complaint, I wil cease from my wrath, and comfort me,

28 [Then] I am afrayed of all my sorowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

29 [If] I be wicked, why^x labour I thus in vaine?

30 [If] I wash my selfe with snowe water, and purge mine hands moste cleane,

31 Yet shalt thou plonge me in the pit, and mine owne^z clothes shal make me filthy.

32 For he is not a man as I am, that I shulde answer him, [if] we come together to iud-gement.

33 Nether is there any vmpire^a that might lay his hand vpon vs bothe.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, & let not his feare astonish me:

35 [Then] wil I speake, & feare him not:
because I am not so, I holde me^b still.

before God. z VVhatsoever I wolde vie to couer my hidings close me so muche more. a VVhich might make an accord me, speaking of impatience, and yet confessing God to be iust in punishing him. b Signifying that Gods iudgements kepe him in awe.

CHAP. X.

1 Iob is weary of his life, and setteth out his fragilitie before God. 2 He desireth him to stay his hand. 3 A description of death.

MY soule is cut of: though I liue: I wil leaue my^c complaint vpon my selfe, [and] wil speake in the bitternes of my soule.

m I am not able to fele my sinnes so grie-uous, as I fele y^e wro-ght of his iudgements: & thus he speaketh to condemne his sin-nes, and to iusti-fie God.

n After he hath accused his owne weaknes, he con-tinueth to iusti-fie God and his power.

o If I wolde
iustifie in mine
owne defence, yet
God hathe iust cause to condemne me, if he examine mine heart and conscience.

p If God punish according to his iustice, he wil destroye himselfe that are confessing, as those that are wicked that can answer at libe-ty.

q This is spoke according to apprehension, though he wolde say, If God de-stroye but the wicked, as the psalmist saith 53, why should he suffer the in-nocents to be so long tormented by them?

r That they can not be so do iustice.

s That is, the contrary: u I thinke not to fall into the same afflictions, as my sorowes
bring me to the end of many fold firmities, & my confidence con-demneth me.

x VVhy doth not God destroy me at once? thus he saith according to the infirmitie of the flesh.

y Though I be neuer so pure in mine owne eyes, yet all but corruption with, shal disturb me, and betwene God & me, shal be punishment.

2 I wil say vnto God, Condemne me not: shewe me, wherefore thou contēdest with me.

3 Thinkest thou it good to oppresse me, [&] to cast of the labour of thine hands, and to fauour the counsel of the wicked?

4 Hast thou carnal eyes? or doest thou see as man seeth?

5 Are thy dayes as mans dayes? or thy yeeres, as the time of man?

6 That thou inquirest of mine iniquitie, & searchest out my sinne.

7 Thou knowest that I can not do wickedly: for none can deliuer me out of thine hand.

8 Thine hands haue made me, and fashioned me wholly rounde about, & wilt thou destroye me?

9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made me as the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust againe?

10 Hast thou not powred me out as mylke? and turned me to cruds like chese?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skinne and flesh, and ioyned me together with bones and sinewes.

12 Thou hast giuen me life, and grace: & thy visitation hath preferred my spirit.

13 Thogh thou hast hid these things in thine heart, yet I knowe that it is so with thee.

14 If I haue sinned, then thou wilt straightly lōke vnto me, and wilt not holde me giltles of mine iniquitie.

15 If I haue done wickedly, wo vnto me: if I haue done righteously, I wil not lift vp mine head, being ful of confusion, because I see mine affliction.

16 But let it increase: hurt thou me as a lyon: returne and shewe thy self maruelous vpon me.

17 Thou renewest thy plagues against me, and thou increasest thy wrath against me: charges & armies [of sorowes] are against me.

18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me out of the wombe? Oh that I had perished, and that none eye had sene me:

19 [And] that I were as I had not bene, [but] brought from the wombe to the graue.

20 Are not my dayes fewe? let him cease, [and] leaue of from me, that I may take a little comfort,

21 Before I go and shal not returne. [euē] the lōg paine. That is, diuersitie of diseases & in great abundance shewing that God hath infinite meanes to punish man. He witheth that God wolde leaue of his affliction, considering his great miserie and the breuitie of his life. He speaketh thus in the persone of a sinner, that is ouercome with passions and with the feeling of Gods iudgements, and therefore can not apprehend in that state the merities of God & comfort of the resurrection.

to the land of darkenes and shadowe of death:

22 Into a land, [I say,] darke as darkenes it self, [and] into the shadow of death, where is none order, but the light [is there] as darkenes.

CHAP. XI.

1 Iob is vniuſſly reprehended of Zophar. 7 God is incomprehensible. 14 He is merciful to the repentant. 18 Their assurance that hie godlie.

1 Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 Shulde not the multitude of wordes be answered? or shulde a great talker be iustified?

3 Shulde me holde their peace at thy lyes: and when thou mockest [others], shal not make the ashamed?

4 For thou hast said, My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But oh, that God wolde speake and open his lippes against thee,

6 That he might shewe thee the secretes of wisdom, how thou hast [deserued] double according to right: knowe therefore God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Canst thou by searching finde out God? canst thou finde out the Almighty to his perfection?

8 The heauens are hie, what canst thou do? it is deeper then the hel, how canst thou knowe it?

9 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and it is broder then the sea.

10 If he cut of and shut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?

11 For he knoweth vaine men, and seeth iniquitie, & him vnderstandeth nothing.

12 Yet vaine man wolde be wise, thogh man [newe] borne is like a wilde asse colte.

13 If thou prepare thine heart, & stretch out thine hands toward him:

14 If iniquitie be in thine hand, put it farre away, and let no wickednes dwel in thy tabernacle.

15 Then truly shalt thou lift vp thy face without spot, and shalt be stable, and shalt not feare.

16 But thou shalt forget thy miserie, & remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shal appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt shine [and] be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bolde, because there is hope: and thou shalt dig pittes, [&] shalt lye downe safely.

19 For when thou takest thy rest, none shall u No distinction betwene light & darknes, but where all is very darknes it selfe.

a Shulde he persuaded by his great talke, that he is iust? b He chargeth Iob with this, that he shulde say, that the thing, which he speaketh, wast true, & that he was without sinne in the sight of God.

c VVhich is, none to stand in iustification of thy self: he signifieth that man will neuer be overcome, whyles he reasoneth with another, and therefore God must breake of the counterfeite, & stop mans mouth.

d That is, this perfection of God, and if man be not able to comprehend the height of his heauen, the depth of the hel, the length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, we are but creatures: how can he attaine to the perfection of the Creator?

e If God shulde turne the state of things, & establish a newe ordre in nature, who coulde controule him? f That is, without vnderstanding: so what soeuer gites he hath afterwarde, come of God & not of nature.

g If thou repent, pray vnto him. h Remembere thine owne euil workes, and se that they offend not God, ouer hope.

¶ CHAP. XII.

1. Iob accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 He declareth the might, and power of God, 17 And how he changeth the course of things.

1 Then Iob answered, and said,
In dede because that ye are the people [onely,] a wisdom must dye with you.

2 But I haue vnderstanding as wel as you, & am not inferior vnto you: yea, who knoweth not suche things?

3 *I am^b as one mocked of his neighbour, fised in the opinion of the riche.

teache thee: and the foules of the heauen,
and they shal tel thee:

7 Or speake to the earth, and it shal shewe thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shal declare vnto thee.

8 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

hath counsel and vnderstanding.

13 Beholde, he wil breake downie, & it can not be buylt: he shutteth a man vp, and he can not be losed.

14 Beholde, he withholdeth the waters, & they drye vp: but when he sendeth them out, they destroye the earth.

15 With him [is] strength and wisdom: he that is deceiued, and that^h deceiueth, are his.

16 He causeth the counsellors to go [as] spoiled, and maketh the iudges fooles.

17 He loseth^k the colar of Kings, and girdeth their loynes with a girdle.
18 He leadeth away the princes as a pray, & ouerthroweth the mightie.

19 He taketh away the speache from the faithful [counselers,] and taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.

20 He powreth cōtempt vpon princes, and maketh the strength of the mightie weake.

21 He discovereth the depe places from [their] darkenes, & bringeth forth the shadowe of death to light.

22 He^m increaseth the people, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, & brigeth them in againe.

23 He taketh away the hearts of them that are the chief ouer the people of the earth, and maketh them to wander in the wildernes out of the way.

24 They grope in the darke without light:
and he maketh them to stagger like a dronken man.

¶ CHAP. XIII.

1. Iob compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shal be saued, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth vnto God that he wolde not handle him rigorously.

1 LO, mine eye hath seene all [this:] mine eare hath heard, and vnderstand it.

2 I knowe also as muche as you knowe: I am not inferior vnto you.

3 But I wil speake to the Almighty, and I desire^a to dispute with God.

4 For in dede ye forge lyes, and all you are bphilisicians of no value.

5 Oh, that you wolde holde your tongue, that it might be imputed to you for wisdom.
6 Now heare my disputation and giue e-are to the arguments of my lippes.

7 Wil ye speake wickedly for Gods [defe-ce,] and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Wil ye accept his persone? or wil ye contend for God?

9 It is wel that he shulde seke of you? wil you make a lye for him as onelyeth for a man?

10 He wil surely reprove you, if ye do secretly acceptanie persone.

11 Shal not his excellencie make you afraid and his feare fall vpon you?

CHAP. XIII.

Iob describeth the shortenes and miserie of the life of mā.
14 Hope susteineth the godlie. 23 The condition of mā's life.

MAn^a that is borne of woman, is of shORTE continuāce, & ful of trouble.

2 He shooteth forth as a flowre, and is cut downe: he vanisheth also as^a a shadow, & continueth not.

3 [And] yet thou openest thine eyes vpon suche^b one, and causest me to entre into iudgement with thee.

4 ^{*Who} can bring a cleane thing out offilthines: there is not one.

5 Are not his dayes determined: the nōber of his moneths [are] with thee: thou hast appointed his boundes, ^w he can not passe.

6 Turne from him that he may cease vntil his desired day, ^e as an hyreling.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut downe, that it wil yet sproute, & the branches thereof wil not cease.

8 Though the rote of it waxe olde in the earth, & the stocke thereof be dede in the grounde, [Yet] by the sent of water it wil bud, and bring forth the bowes like a plant.

10 ^d But man is sicke, and dyeth, & man perissheth, and where is he?

11 [As] the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and dryeth vp,

12 So man slepeth and riseth not: [for] he shal not wake againe, nor be raised from his slepe til the heauen be nomore.

13 Oh, that thou woldest hide me in the graue, and kepe me secret, vntil thy^e wrath were past, [&] woldest giue me terme, and^f remember me.

14 If a man dye, shal he liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time wil I waite, til^g my changing shal come.

15 Thou shalt call [me,] and I shal^h answer thee: thou louest the worke of thine owne hands.

16 But now thouⁱ nombrest my steps, [&] doest not delay my sinnes.

17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp, [as] in a bag, and thou addest vnto my wickednes.

18 And surely [as] the mountaine^j falleth, commeth to noght, and the^k rocke that is removed from his place:

19 [As] the water breaketh the stones [whē] thou ouerflowest the things which growe in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou preuailest alway against him, so that he passeth away: he changeth his face when thou castest him away.

21 And he knoweth not if his sonnes shal be honorable, nether shal he vnderstand concerning the, whether they shal be of lowe degre:

22 But [while] his^l flesh [is] vpō him, he shal be sorowful, and [while] his soule [is] in him, it shal mourne.

CHAP. XV.

1 Eliphaz reprehendeth Iob, because he ascribeth wisdom, and pures to him selfe. 16 He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckening Iob to be one of the nomber.

Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,

2 Shal a wise man speake wordes of the^a winde, and fil his belly^b with the East winde?

3 Shal he dispute with wordes not comely, or with talke that is not profitable?

4 Surely thou hast cast off^c feare, and restrainest prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquitie, seing thou hast chosen^d the tongue of the crafty.

6 Thine owne mouth condemnaeth thee, and not I, and thy lippes refuse against thee.

7 Art thou the first man, that was borne, & wast thou made before the hills?

ff. iij.

d He speaketh not here as though he had not hope of the immortallitie, but as a man in extreme paine when reason is overcome by afflictions & torments.

e Hereby he declareth that the feare of Gods iudgement was the cause why he desired to dye.

f That is, release my paines and take me to mercie.

g Meaning, vnto the day of the resurrection when he shoulde be changed and renewed.

h Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the resurrection I shal see thy mercie, & answer when thou callest me.

i Thou layest them all together and susteinest none of my sinnes unpunished.

k He murmureth through his impatience of the flesh against God, as though he vied as greater seruitude against him as against his hard rockes, or waters that ouerflowe, so hereby all the occasion of his hope is taken away.

l Yet whiles he liueth, he shal be in paine & miserie.

a That is, vaine wordes, & without consolation.

b Meaning, matters that are of none importance, which are forgotten as soon as they are uttered, as the East winde drieth vp moisture as soon as it falleth.

c He chargeth Iob as though he talked caused me to cast off feare of God and prayer.

12 I was in welth, but he hath brought me to nought: he hath taken me by the necke, and beaten me; and set in me as a marke for him self.

13 His archers compassed me round about: he cutteth my reines, and doeth not spare, and powreth my gall vpon the ground.

14 He hath broken me with one breaking vpon another, and runneth vpon me like a gyant.

15 I haue sowed a sackloth vpon my skin, and haue abased mine horn vnto the dust.

16 My face is withered with weping, & the shadow of death [is] vpon mine eyes.

17 Though [there be] no wickednes in mine hands, and my prayer [be] pure,

18 O earth, couer not thou my blood, & let my crying finde no place, 19 For lo, now my witness [is] in the heauē and my recorde [is] on hie.

20 My friends speake eloquently against me: [but] mine eye powreth out [teares] vnto God.

21 Oh that a man might pleade wth God, as man with his neighbour.

22 For the yeres accounted come, & I shal go the way, whence I shal not returne.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Iob saith that he consumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abide it. 10 He exhorteth his friends to repentance. 13 Shewing that he loketh but for death.

MY breath is corrupt: my daies are cut of, and the graue [is] ready for me.

2 There are none but mockers with me, and mine eye continueth in their bitternes.

3 Laye downe now [&] put me in surerie for thee: who is he, that wil touche mine hand?

4 For thou hast hid their heart fro vnderstanding: therefore shalt thou not see [the] vpon hie.

5 For the eyes of his children shal faile, that speaketh flaterie to his friends.

6 He hath also made me a byworde of the people, and I am as a tabret before them.

7 Mine eye therefore is dim for grief, and all my strength [is] like a shadow.

8 The righteous shal be astonied at this, and the innocent shal be moued against the hypocrite.

9 But the righteous wil holde his waye, in their cures. 1 To wit, when they se the godly punished, they shal come to vnderstanding, and knowe what shalbe the ende of the hypocrite. 2 That is, wil not be discouraged, considering that the godly are punished as wel as the wicked.

16 They shal go downe into the bottome of the pit: surely shal I lye together in the dust.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Bildad rehearseth the peines of the vnfaihtful, and wicked.

1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, & said,

2 When wil ye make an end of your wordes? cause vs to vnderstand, and then we wil speake.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, [&] are vile in your sight?

4 [Thou art] as one that teareth his foule in his anger. Shal the earth be forsake for thy sake? or the rocke remoued out of his place?

5 Yea, the light of the wicked shal be quenched, and the sparke of his fyre shal not shine.

6 The light shal be darke in his dwelling, & his candel shal be put out with him.

7 The steppes of his strength shal be restrained, and his owne counsell shal cast him downe.

8 For he is taken in the net by his fete, and he walketh vpon the snare.

9 The grenne shal take him by the heele, & the thief shal come vpon him.

10 A snare is laid for him in the ground, & a trappe for him in the way.

11 Fearefulness shal make him afraid on euery side, and shal drive him to his fete.

12 His strength shal be famine: & destruction shal be readie at his side.

13 It shal deuoure the partes of his kinne, [&] the first borne of death shal deuoure his strength.

That is, like a madman. 10. Shall God change the course of nature for thy sake, by darkness with them otherwise than he doeth with all men? 11. When I was wicked I was in prosperitie, the God changed his curse: and this is his ordinary work for the sinners.

Meaning, that the wicked are in continual danger.

That which shalde nourish him, shal be consumed by him.

h That is, some strong and violent death shal consume his strength: or as the Hebrew word signifies, his members or parts.

^k Meaning, not easily come by. ^l Though all the worlde wolde fauour him, yet God wolde destroye him and his.

^m He shal fall fro prosperitie to aduerfite.

ⁿ VWhen they shal se what came vnto him.

^a That is, many times, as Nehg. 4. 12.

^b That is, I my selfe shalbe punished for it, or you haue not yet confuted in. ^c He blasphemeth out againe into his passions and declareth stil, ^d smeth of God, though he be not able to fele the cause in him selfe.

ling, & shal cause him to go to the King of feare.

¹⁵ [Feare] shal dwel in his house (because it is not ^k his) ^l and brimstone shalbe scattered vpon his habitation.

¹⁶ His rotes shalbe dried vp beneth, and aboue shal his branche be cut downe.

¹⁷ His remembrance shal perish from the earth, and he shal haue no name in the strete.

¹⁸ They shal driue him out of the ^m light vnto darkenes, and chafe him out of the worlde.

¹⁹ He shal nether haue sonne nor nephewe among his people, nor any posteritie in his dwellings.

²⁰ The posteritie shalbe astonied at his ⁿ day, and feare shal come vpon the ancient.

²¹ Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

^a Iob reproveth his friends, ¹⁵ And reciteth his miseries and grievous peines, ²⁵ He assureth him selfe of the generall resurrection.

¹ But Iob answered, and said,

² How long wil ye vex me soule, and torment me with wordes?

³ Ye haue now ^a ten times reproched me, and are not ashamed: ye are impudent toward me.

⁴ And thought I had in dede erred, mine error ^b remaineth with me.

⁵ But in dede if ye wil aduance your selues against me, & rebuke me for my reproche,

⁶ Knowe now, that God hathe ^c ouerthrowen me, and hathe compassed me with his net.

⁸ He hathe hedged vp my waye that I can not ^d passe, & he hathe set darkenes in my paths.

⁹ He hathe spoiled me of mine honour, & taken the ^e crowne away from mine head.

¹⁰ He hathe destroyed me on euery side & I am gone: & he hathe remoued mine hope like ^f a tre.

¹¹ And he hath kindled his wrathe against me, and counteth me as one of his enemies.

¹² His ^g armies came together, and made their way vpon me, & camped about my tabernacle.

¹³ He hathe remoued my brethren farre from me, and also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me.

¹⁴ My neighbours haue forsaken me, and my familiars haue forgotten me.

¹⁵ They that dwel in mine house and my maides toke me for a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.

¹⁶ I called my seruāt, but he wolde not answer, ^h [though] I prayed him wⁱ my mouth.

¹⁷ My breath was strange vnto my wife, though I prayed her for the childrens sake of mine ⁱ owne body.

¹⁸ The wicked also despised me, ^j [&] when I rose, they spake against me.

¹⁹ All my secret friends abhorred me, and they whom I loued are turned against me.

²⁰ My bone ^k cleaueth to my skin & to my flesh, and I haue escaped with the ^l skinne of my tethe.

²² Why do ye persecute me, as ⁿ God? and are not satisfied with my ^o flesh?

²³ Oh that my wordes were now written oh that they were written euen in a booke

²⁴ [And] graue with ^p an yron pen in lead or in stone for euē!

²⁵ For I am sure, that my ^q Redemer liueth, and he shal stand the last on the earth.

²⁶ And though after my skin [wormes] destroy this [bodie,] yet shal I se God in my flesh.

²⁷ Whome I my selfe shal se, & mine eyes shal behold, & none other for me, though my reines are consumed within me.

²⁸ But ye said, Why is he persecuted? And there was ^r a depe matter in me.

³⁰ He declareth plainly that he had a ful hope, that bothe the soule & body shoulde enioye the presence of God in the last resurrection. ³¹ Though his friends thought that he was but persecuted of God for his finnes, yet he declareth ³² that there is a deper consideration: to wit, the tryal of his faith and patience, and so to be an example for others. ³³ God wil be reuēged of this haste iudgement, which by you condemne me.

CHAP. XX.

¹ Zophar sheweth, that the wicked and the conuocous shal haue a shorte end, ²¹ Though for a time they flourish.

¹ Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

² Doubtes my thoughts cause me to answer, and therefore I make haste.

³ I haue heard ^a the correction of my reproche: therefore the spirit of mine vnderstanding causeth me to answer.

⁴ Knowest thou not this of olde, ^b [&] since [God] placed man vpon the earth,

⁶ Though ^d his excellencie mounte vp to the heauen, and his head reache vnto the cloudes

^h Mine house holde firm by all these lastes Iob sheweth that touching flesh he had no occasion to be moued. ⁱ VWhich were hers and mine. ^k Besides these great losses and moste cruel kindnes, he was touched in his owne person followeth. ^l All my secret friends were confuted. ^m Seing that these iust came to complain, I demine me as an hypocrite specially ye shulde condemne me. ⁿ Is it not enough? ^o Doeth paine me except by reproche create my sorrow? ^p To seeme dy punished, cept ye trouble my minde. ^q He protesteth that notwithstanding his passions, his religion is perfect & that he is a blasphemer they iudged. ^r I do not suffice my selfe for the word but I knowe I shal come forth the iudge, who be my deliuerer and saviour. ^s Herein he declareth plainly that he had a ful hope, that bothe the soule & body shoulde enioye the presence of God in the last resurrection. ^t Though his friends thought that he was but persecuted of God for his finnes, yet he declareth that there is a deper consideration: to wit, the tryal of his faith and patience, and so to be an example for others. ^u God wil be reuēged of this haste iudgement, which by you condemne me.

7 [Yet] shal he perish for euer, like his dūg, [and] they which haue sene him, shal say, Where is he?

8 He shal fle away as a dreame, & thei shal not finde him, and shal passe away as a vision of the night.

9 So that the eye which had sene him, shal do so no more, and his place shal se him no more.

10 His children shal flatter the poore, and his hands shal restore his substance.

11 His bones are ful of [the sinne] of his youth, & it shal lye downe with him in dust.

12 Whe wickednes^f was swete in his mouth, [and] he hid it vnder his tongue,

13 [And] fauoured it, and wolde not forsake it, but kept it close in his mouth, 14 [Then] his meat in his bowels was turned: the gall of aspes [was] in the middes of him.

15 He hath deuoured substance, & he shall vomit it: [for] God shal drawe it out of his belly.

16 He shal sucke the gall of aspes, [and] the vipers tongue shal slaye him.

17 He shal not se the riuers, [nor] floods [and] streames of hony and butter.

18 He shal restore the labour, and shal deuour nomore: [euen] according to the substance [shal be] his exchange, and he shal enioye it nomore.

19 For he hath vndone [manie]: he hath forsaken the poore, [and] hath spoiled houses which he buylded not.

20 Surely he shal fele no quietnes in his body, [nether] shal he reserue of that which he desired.

21 There shal none of his^k meat be left: therefore none shal hope for his goods.

22 When he shal be filled with his abundance, he shal be in paine, [and] the hand of all the wicked shal assaile him.

23 He shal be about to fil his belly, [but God] shal send vpon him his ferece wrath, and shal cause to raine vpon him, [euen] vpon his meat.

24 He shal fle from the yron weapons, [and] the bowe of stele shal strike him through.

25 [The arrowe] is drawn out, and cometh forth of theⁿ body, and shineth of his gall, [so] feare cometh vpon him.

26 All darkenes shal be hid in his secret places: the fyre that is not blowne, shal deuoure him, [and] that which remaineth in his tabernacle, shal be destroyed.

27 The heauen shal declare his wickednes, whose flesh was smitten with a scabbe. n Some reade, of the fire and for we shal ligh vpon him, when he shal be consumed by fire from heauen, or the fire of Gods wrath.

and the earth shal rise vp against him.

28 The increase of his house shal go away: it shal flowe away in the day of his wrath.

29 This is the portion of the wicked man from^r God, and the heritage [that he shal haue] of God for his^r wordes.

wicked. f Against God, thinking to excuse him selfe and hand.

CHAP. XXI.

7 Iob declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proude, 15 In so much that they blasphem God. 16 There destruction is at hand. 23 None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, nether good for prosperitie.

1 BVt Iob answered, and said,

2 Hear diligently my wordes, and this^a shal be in stead of your consolations.

3 Suffer me, that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.

4 Do I [direct] my talke to man? If it^b were so, how shulde not my spirit be troubled?

5 Marke me, and be abashed, and lay your hand vpon [your] mouth.

6 Euen when I remember, I am afraied, & feare taketh holde on my flesh.

7 Wherefore do the wicked^d liue, and waxe olde, and growe in welth?

8 Their sede is established in their sight with them, and there generation before their eies.

9 Their houses are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke gendreth, & faileth not: their cowe calueth, and casteth not her calfe.

11 They send forth their children^e like shepe, and their sonnes dance.

12 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the sounde of the organs.

13 They spend their daies in welth, and suddenly^f they go downe to the graue.

14 They say also vnto God, Depart fro vs: for we desire not the^g knowledge of thy waies.

15 Who is the Almighty, that we shulde serue him? and what profite shulde we haue, if we shulde pray vnto him?

16 Lo, their welth is not in their^h had: [therefore] let the counsell of the wickedⁱ be farre from me.

17 How oft shal the candel of the wicked be put out? and their destructio come vpon them: he will deuide [their] liues in his wrath.

18 They shal be as stubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the storme caryeth away.

19 The wicked that hate God, are better delt with all, than he. h It is not their owne, but God onely lendeth them. i God kepe me from their prosperitie.

a Meaning, the children of the wicked shall flowe away like riuers and be dispersed in diuers places.

b Thus God will plague the wicked to escape Gods hand.

a Your diligent marking of my wordes shal be to me a great consolation.

b As though he wolde say, I do not talke with man, but with God, who will not answer me, & therefore my minde must needs be troubled.

c He chargeth them as though they were not able to comprehend this his feeling of Gods iudgement, and exhorteth them therefore to silence.

d Iob proueth against his aduersaries that God punisheth not the wicked, but oftentimes giueth them long life, and prosperitie.

e So that we must not iudge God iuste, or vniuste by the things that appeare to our eye.

f They haue store of children, lustie & healthful, & in these pointes he answereth to that which Zophar alledged before.

g Not being troubled with long sickness.

h They desire nothing more then to be exempt from all subiection, that they shuld be to God: this Iob sheweth his aduersaries, that if they reason onely by that which is seen by common experience, the wicked that hate God, are better delt with all, than he.

i It is not their owne, but God onely lendeth them.

j God kepe me from their prosperitie.

Vhen God reuolunteth his wickednesse he shall know that his prosperitie was but vanitie. VWhosedeth to the wicked prosperitie, and punisheth the godly. Meaning, To wit, the godly. As concerning their bodies: & this he speaketh according to the common iudgement. Thus he called Iob's house in derision, concluding it was destroyed because he was wicked. In which through long troubling haue experience & tokens hereof, to wit, the wicked do prosper and the godly live in affliction. Though the wicked flourish here, yet GOD will punish him in the last day. Though men do flatter him, & none dare reprooue him in this worlde, yet death is a token that GOD will bring him to account. He shall be glad to lie in a slimie pit where he could not be content with a royall palace. Saying that if just in this worlde haue prosperitie & the wicked aduersitie. Though man were iust, yet god could haue no profit of this iustice: and therefore when he punisheth him, he hath no regard to his iustice, but to his sinne. Chap. 31. 7. Let thy thought not be proud, nor thou hast beene cruel & with out charitie, and wouldst do no thing for the sake of thyne aduantage.

19 God will lay vp the sorow off the father for his children: when he rewardeth him, he shall knowe it.
20 His eyes shall see his destruction, and he shall drinke of the wrath of the Almighty.
21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his moneths is cut off?
22 Shal any teache God knowledge, who iudgeth the highest things?
23 One dyeth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie.
24 His breasts are full of milke, and his bones runne full of marowe.
25 And another dieth in the bitterness of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.
26 They shall sleepe bothe in the duste, and the wormes shall couer them.
27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the enterprises, [where with] ye do me wrong.
28 For ye say, Where is the princes house: and where is the tabernacle of the wicked dwelling?
29 May ye not aske them that go by the way: and ye can not denie their signes.
30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruction, [and] thei shall be brought forth to the day of wrath.
31 Who shall declare his way to his face: and who shall reward him for that he hath done?
32 Yet shall he be brought to the graue, & remaine in the heape.
33 The slimie valley shall be sweete vnto him, and euery man shall draw after him, as before him there were innumerable.
34 How then comforte ye me in vaine, seeing in your answers there remaine but lies.

CHAP. XXII.

Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes. He accuseth him of vniuersitall sinnes. 13. And that he denyed Gods providence. 21. He exhorteth him to repentance.
Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and sayd,
2 May a man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wise, may be profitable to him selfe?
3 Is it any thing vnto the Almighty, that thou arte righteous: or is it profitable [to him] that thou makest thy wayes vpright?
4 Is it for feare of thee that he will accuse thee: [or] go with thee into iudgement?
5 Is not thy wickednesse great, and thine iniquities innumerable?
6 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, & spoiled the clothes of the naked.

7 To such as were weary, thou hast not giuen water to drinke, and hast withdrawn bread from the hungry.
8 But the mightie man had the earth, and he that was in authoritie dwelt in it.
9 Thou hast cast out widowes emprie, & the armes of the fatherles were broken.
10 Therefore snares [are] round about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee:
11 Or darknes that thou shouldest not see, & abundance of waters shall couer thee.
12 Is not God on his high in the heauen: and behold the height of the starres how high they are.
13 But thou saiest, How shuld God know: can he iudge through the dark cloud?
14 The cloudes hide him that he can not see, and he walketh in the circle of heauen.
15 Hast thou marked the way of the world, wherein wicked men haue walked?
16 Which were cut down before time, whose foundation [was as] a riuer that ouerflowed:
17 Whiche sayd vnto God, Depart from vs, & [asked] what the Almighty coulde do for them.
18 Yet he filled their houses with good things: but let the counsel of the wicked [be] farre from me.
19 The righteous shall see them, and shall reioice, and the innocent shall laugh the to scorne.
20 Surely our substance is hid: but the fire hath deuoured the remnant of them.
21 Therefore acquaint thy selfe, I pray thee, with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt haue prosperitie.
22 Receiue, I pray thee, the lawe of his mouthe, and laye vp his wordes in thine harte.
23 If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt be built vp, & thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy tabernacle.
24 Thou shalt lay vp golde for dust, and the golde of Ophir, as the fientes of the riuers.
25 Yea, the Almighty shall be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of siluer.
26 And thou shalt the delite in the Almighty, and lift vp thy face vnto God.
27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, and he shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.
28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establishe it vnto thee, and the light shall shine vpon thy wayes.
29 When others are cast down, thou shalt

God wil restore vnto thee all thy substance. VWhiche shall be in dance like dust. That is the fauour of God. U God wil deliuer his wicked are destroyed round about them, as in the flood and in Sodome.

9 [If] to the North where he worketh, yet I can not se him: he wil hide him self in the South, and I can not beholde him.

10 But he knoweth my ^f way, [and] tryeth me, [and] I shal come forth like the golde.

11 My fore hathe followed his steppes: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined.

12 Nether haue I departed from the commandement of his lippes, [&] I haue esteemed the wordes of his mouth more then mine appointed fode.

3 The constancie and perfines of Job. 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

1 Moreouer Job proceded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The liuing God hath taken away my iudgement: for the Almighty hath put my soule in bitterness.

3 Yet so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils,

4 My lips surely shal speake no wickednes, b and my tongue shal vtter no deceit.

6 I wil kepe my righteousness, and wil not forsake it: mine heart shal not reprove me of my e dayes.

7 Mineemie shalbe as the wicked, & he that riseth against me, as the vnrighteous.

8 For what hope hath the hypocrite when he hath heaped vpriches, if God take away his soule?

9 Wil God heare his crye, when trouble cometh vpon him?

10 Wil he set his delite on the Almighty? wil he call vpon God at all times?

CHAP. XXVIII.

Iob sheweth that the wisdome of God is vnsearchable.

1 The siluer surely hathe his vaine, & the golde his place, [where] thei take it.

2 Yron is taken out of the dust, and brasse is molten out of the stone.

3 [God] putteth an end to darknes, & he tryeth the perfection of all things: he setteth a bonde of darknes, and of the shadowe of death.

4 The flood breaketh out against the inhabitant, [and the waters] forgotten of the fore, being higher then man, are gone away.

5 Out of the same earth cometh bread, & vnder it, as it were fyre is turned vp.

6 The stones thereof [are] a place of sapphirs, and the dust of it [is] golde.

7 There is a path which no foule hathe known, nether hath the kites eye sene it.

8 The lions whelps haue not walked it, nor the lion passed thereby.

9 He putteth his hand vpon the rockes, & ouerthroweth the mountaines by the rootes.

10 He breaketh riuers in the rockes, and his eye seeth euerie precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods, that thei do not ouerflowe, & the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.

12 But where is wisdome founde? & where is the place of vnderstanding?

13 Man knoweth not the price thereof: for it is nor found in the land of the living.

14 The depth saith, It is not in me: the sea also saith, It is not with me.

15 Golde shal not be giuen for it, nether shal siluer be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It shal not be valued with the wedge of golde of Ophir, [nor] with the precious onix, nor the sapphir.

17 The golde nor the christal shal be equal vnto it, nor the exchange [shal be] for plate of fine golde.

18 No mention shal be made of corall, nor of the gabish: for wisdome is more precious then perles.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shal not be equal vnto it, nether shal it be valued with the wedge of pure golde.

20 Whence then cometh wisdome? and where is the place of vnderstanding,

21 Seing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, and is hid from the foules of the heauen?

22 Destruction and death say, We haue heard the same thereof with our eares.

23 [But] God vnderstandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he beholdeth the ends of the worlde, [and] seeth all that is vnder heauen,

25 To make the weight of the windes, and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the raine, & a way for the lightening of the thunders, 27 Then did he se it, and counted it: he prepared it and also considered it.

28 And vnto man he said, Beholde, the feare of the Lord is wisdome, and to departe from euil [is] vnderstanding.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Iob complaineth of the prosperitie of the time past. 7. 11 His autoritie, 12 Iustice and equitie.

1 SO Iob proceded and continued his passionable, saying,

2 Oh, that I were as in times past, when God preserued me.

3 When his light shined vpon mine head: [and when] by his light I walked through the darkenes,

4 As I was in the dayes of my youth: when Gods prouidence [was] vpon my tabernacle:

5 When the Almighty was yet with me, [and] my children rounde about me:

6 When I washed my paths with butter, and when the rocke powred me out riuers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, [euen] to the iudgement seat, [and when] I caused them to prepare my seat in the strete,

8 The yong men sawe me, and hid them selues, and the aged arose, [and] stode vp.

9 The princes stayed talke, and laied their hand on their mouth.

10 The voyce of princes was hid, and their tongue cleaued to the rooofe of their mouth.

11 And when the eare heard me, it blessed me: and when the eye sawe [me,] it gaue witnes to me.

12 For I deliuered the poore that cryed, and the fatherles, and him that had none to helpe him.

13 The blessing of him that was ready to perish, came vpon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put on iustice, and it couered me: my iudgement [was] as a robe, and a crowne.

15 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the fete to the lame.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Elihu reproveth them of folly. 2 Age maketh not a wise man, but the spirit of God.

1 SO these thre men ceased to answer Iob because he esteemed him selfe iust.

2 Then the wrath of Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, of the familie of Ram, was kindled: his wrath, I say, was kindled against Iob, because he iustified him selfe more then God.

3 Also his anger was kindled against his thre friends, because they colde not finde an answer, [and] yet condemned Iob.

5 So when Elihu sawe, that there was none answer in the mouthe of the thre men, his wrath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel ^f Buzite answered, and said, I am yong in yeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afrayed to shewe you mine opinion.

7 [For] I said, The dayes ^e shal speake, and the multitude of yeres shal teache wisdom.

8 Surely there is a spirit in man, ^f but the inspiration of the Almighty giueth vnderstanding.

9 Great men are not alway wise, nether do the aged [alway] vnderstand iudgement.

10 Therefore I say, Heare me, & I wil shewe also mine opinion.

11 Beholde I did wait vpon your wordes & hearkened vnto your knowledge, whiles you sought out ^s reasons.

12 Yea whē I had considered you, lo, there was none of you that reprobud Iob, nor answered his wordes:

13 Left ye shulde say, We haue ^h found wisdom: [for] God hath cast him downe, & no man.

14 Yet hathe ⁱ he not directed [his] wordes to me nether wil I answer ^k him by your wordes.

15 [Then] they fearing, answered no more, [but] left of their talke.

16 When I had waited [for they spake not, but stode stil [and] answered no more]

17 Then answered I in my turne, & I shewed mine opinion.

18 For I am ful of ^l matter, and the spirit ^w in me compelleth me.

19 Beholde my belly is as the wine, which hathe no vent, and lyke the newe bottels that brast.

20 [Therefore] wil I speake, that I may take breath: I wil open my lippes, and wil answer.

21 I wil not now accept the persone of mā ^m nether wil I giue titles to man.

22 For I may not giue ⁿ titles, [left] my Maker shulde take me away sodenly.

CHAP. XXXIII.

5 Elihu accuseth Iob of ignorance: 14 He sheweth that God hath diuers meanes to instruct man and to drawe him from sinne. 19, 29. He afflicteth man & suddenly deliuereth him. 26 Man being deliuered giueth thanks to God.

1 V Herefore, Iob, I pray thee, heare my talke and hearken vnto my wordes.

2 Beholde now, I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hathe spoken in my mouth.

3 My wordes [are] in the vprightness of mine heart, and my lippes shal speake pure knowledge.

4 The ^a Spirit of God hathe made me, & the breath of the Almighty hathe giuen me life.

5 If thou canst giue me answer, prepare thy selfe [and] stand before me.

6 Beholde, I am according to thy wish in ^b Gods stead: I am also formed of the clay.

7 Beholde, my terrour shal not feare thee, nether shal mine had ^c be heauie vpo thee.

8 Doubtes thou hast spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voice of [thy] wordes.

9 I am ^d cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

10 Lo, he hathe founde occasions against me, and counted me for his enemy.

11 He hath put my fete in the stockes, and looked narrowly vnto all my paths.

12 Beholde, in this hast thou not done right: I wil answer thee, that God is greater then man.

13 Why doest thou strue against him? for he doeth not ^e giue account of all his matters.

14 For God speaketh once ^f or twise, and one seeth it not.

15 In dreames & ^s visions of the night when slepe falleth vpon men, and they slepe vpon [their] beddes,

16 Then he openeth the eares of me cued by their corrections, [which] he ^h had sealed,

17 That he might cause man to turne away from his enterpryse, and that he might hide ⁱ the pride of man,

18 And kepe backe his soule from the pit, and that his life shulde not passe by the sworde.

19 He is also stricken with sorow vpon his bed, and the grief of his bones [is] sore, 20 So that his ^k life causeth him to abhorre bread, and his soule daintie meat.

21 His flesh faileth that it can not be sene, and his bones [which] were not sene, clatter.

22 So his soule draweth to the graue, and his life ^l to the buriers.

23 If there be a ^m messenger with him, [or] an interpreter, one of a thousand ⁿ to declare vnto man his righteousness,

24 Then wil he haue ^o mercie vpon him, and wil saie, ^p Deliuer him, that he go not downe into the pit: for I haue receiued a reconciliation.

I haue conceived in my minde great store of reasons.

^m I wil nether haue regarde to riches, credit nor autoritie, but wil speake the very truth.

ⁿ The Hebrew word signifieth to change the name, as to call a foole a wise man: meaning ^p he wolde not cloke the truth to flatter men.

a I confesse the power of God, & am one of his, therefore I ought not to heare him. ^b Because Iob had wished to dispute his cause with God, Chap. 16, 21, for that hemighte it without feare, Elihu sayeth, he wil reason in Gods stead, whome he doeth not to feare, because he is a man made of the same matter as he is. ^c I wil not dispute the for ought as these others haue done. ^d He repeateth Iobs words whereby he protested his innocencie in diuers places, but specially in the 15, 16, & 30 chapters. ^e The cause of his iudgements is not alway declared vnto man.

^f Though God by sondrie examples of his iudgements speake vnto man, yet reason thereof is not knowing: yea and though God shuld speake, yet he is not vnderstand. ^g God, saith he, speaketh communely, either by visions to the wise, or by his iudgements, or els by afflictions, or by his messenger.

^h That is, determined to be vpon them. ⁱ He sheweth for what end God sendeth afflictions: to beat downe mans pride, and to turne from euil.

25 [Thē] ſhal his fleſh be as ſicke as a childes, [and] ſhal returne as in the dayes of his youth.

26 He ſhal pray vnto God, and he wil be fauourable vnto him, and he ſhal ſe his face with ioy: for he wil rendre vnto man his righteouſnes.

27 He loketh vpon men, and if one ſay, I haue ſinned, and it did not profit me, 28 He wil deliuer his ſoule from going in to the pit, and his life ſhal ſe the light.

29 Lo, all theſe thiſgs wil God worke twiſe or thriſe with a man,

30 That he may turne backe his ſoule from the pit, to be illuminate in the light of the liuing.

31 Marke wel, o Iob, [and] heare me: kepe ſilence, and I wil ſpeake.

33 If thou haſt not, heare me: holde thy tongue, and I wil teache thee wiſdome.

CHAP. XXXIII.

5 Elihu chargeth Iob, that he called him ſelfe righteous. 12 He ſheweth that God is juſt in his iudgements. 24 God deſtroyeth the mightie. 30 By him the hypocrite reigne.

1 Morcouer Elihu answered, and ſaid, 2 Heare my wordes, ye wiſe men, & hearken vnto me, ye that haue knowledge.

3 For the eare tryeth the wordes, as the mouth taſteth meat. 4 Let vs ſeke iudgement among vs, and let vs knowe among our ſelues what is good.

5 For Iob hathe ſaid, I am righteous, and God hathe taken away my iudgement.

6 Shulde I lye in my night, my [wounde] of the arrowe is grievous without [my] ſinne. 7 What man is like Iob, that drinketh ſcornefulnes like water?

8 Which goeth in the ſcompanye of them that worke iniquitie, and walketh with wicked men? 9 For he hathe ſaid, It profiteth a mā nothing that he ſhulde walke with God.

10 Therefore hearken vnto me, ye men of wiſdome, God forbid y wickednes [ſhulde be] in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty.

11 For he wil rendre vnto man [according] to his worke, and cauſe euerie one to finde according to his way.

12 And certainly God wil not do wickedly nether wil the Almighty peruert iudgement.

13 Whome hath he appointed ouer y earth beſide him ſelfe, or who hathe placed the whole worlde.

14 If he ſet his heart vpon [man] & gather vnto him ſelfe his ſpirit and his breath, 15 All fleſh ſhal periſh together, and man ſhal returne vnto duſt.

16 And if y haſt vnderſtanding, heare this [and] hearken to the voyce of my wordes.

17 Shal he that hateth iudgement, gouerne? & wilt thou iudge him wicked that is moſte iuſt?

18 Wilt thou ſay vnto a King, [Thou art] wicked? or to princes, [Ye are] vngodlie?

19 [How muche leſſe] to him that accepteth not the perſones of princes, & regardeth not the riche, more the poore: for thei be all the worke of his hands.

20 They ſhal dye ſodenly, and the people ſhal be troubled at midnight, & they ſhal paſſe forth and take away the mightie without hand.

21 For his eyes [are] vpon the wayes of mā, and he ſeeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkenes nor shadowe of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.

23 For he wil not lay on man ſo muche, that he ſhulde entre into iudgement with God.

24 He ſhal breake the mightie without ſeking, and ſhal ſet vp other in their ſteade.

25 Therefore ſhal he declare their workes: he ſhal turne the night, and they ſhal be deſtroyed.

26 He ſtriketh them as wicked men in the places of the ſceers,

27 Becauſe they haue turned backe from him, and wolde not conſider all his waies:

28 So that they haue cauſed the voyce of the poore to come vnto him, and he hathe heard the crye of the afflicted.

29 And when he giueth quietnes, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can beholde him, whether [it be] vpon nations, or vpon a man onely?

30 Becauſe the hypocrite doeth reigne, [and] becauſe the people are ſnared.

31 Surely [it] apperteineth vnto God to ſay I haue pardoned, I wil not deſtroye.

32 But if I ſe not, teache thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I wil do no more.

33 Wil he perſorme the thing through thee? for thou haſt reproued it, becauſe that thou haſt choſen, & not I. Now ſpeake what thou knoweſt.

34 Let men of vnderſtanding tel me, and let a wiſe man hearken vnto me.

35 Iob hathe not ſpoken of knowledge, nether were his wordes according to wiſdome.

36 I deſire that Iob may be tryed vnto ſ. iij.

CHAP. XXXV.

^a Nether doeth godlines profite, or vngodlynes hurt God, but man. ¹³ The wicked crye vnto God & are not heard.

¹ Elihu spake moreouer, and said,

² Thinkest thou this right, y thou hast said, I am ^a more righteous then God?

³ For thou hast said, What profiteeth it thee and what auailleth it me, [to purge me] fro my sinne?

⁴ [Therefore] will I answer thee, and thy ^b companions with thee.

⁵ Loke vnto the heauē, and se and beholde the ^c cloudes [which] are hier the thou.

⁶ If thou sinnest, what doest thou ^d against him, yea, when thy sinnes be many, what doest thou vnto him?

⁷ If thou be righteous, what giuest thou vnto him? or what receiueth he at thine hand?

⁸ Thy wickednes [may hurt] a man as thou art: thy righteousness [may profite] the sonne of man.

⁹ They cause many that are oppressed, to crye, [which] crye out for the violence of the mightie.

¹⁰ But none saith, Where is God that made me, which giueth songs in the night?

¹¹ Which teacheth vs more the the beasts of the earth, and giueth vs more wisdom then the foules of the heauen.

¹² Then they crye because of the violence of the wicked, but ^f he answereth not.

¹³ Surely God wil not heare vanitie, nether wil the Almighty regarde it.

¹⁴ Although thou sayest [to God], thou wilt not regarde it, yet iudgement [is] before him. trust thou in him.

¹⁵ Bot now because his angre hathe not visited, nor called to counie [the euil] with great extremitie, ¹⁶ Therefore Job ^h openeth his mouth in vaine, & multiplieth words without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

¹ Elihu sheweth the power of God, ⁶ And his iustice ⁹ And wherefore he punisheth. ¹³ The propertie of ⁱ wicked.

¹ Elihu also proceded and said,

² Suffre me a litle, & I wil instruct thee: for [I haue] yet to speake on Gods behalfe.

³ I wil fetch ^a my knowledge a farre of, & wil attribute righteousness vnto my Maker.

⁴ For truly my wordes shal not be false, and he that is ^b perfite in knowledge, [spea keth] with thee.

⁵ Beholde, the mightie God casteth away none that is ^c mightie [and] valiant of courage.

⁶ He mainteineth not the wicked, but he giueth iudgement to the afflicted.

⁷ He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous, but [they are] with Kings in the throne, where he placeth the for euer: thus they are exalted.

⁸ And if they be bound in fetters and tyed with the cordes of affliction, ⁹ Then will he shewe them their ^f workes and their sinnes, because they haue bene proude.

¹⁰ He openeth also their eare to discipline and commandeth them that they returne from iniquitie.

¹¹ If they obey and serue him, they shal end their dayes in prosperitie & their yerres in pleasures.

¹² But if they wil not obey, they shal passe by the sworde, and perish without knowledge,

¹³ But the hypocrites ^h of heart increase the wrath: [for] they call not when he bindeth them.

¹⁴ Their soule dyeth in ^k youth, and their life among the whoremongers.

¹⁵ He deliureth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.

¹⁷ But thou art ful of the ^m iudgement of wicked, [though] iudgement and equitie mainteine [all things].

¹⁸ For Gods wrath is, lest he shulde take thee away [in thine] abundāce: for no multitude of giftes can deliuer thee.

¹⁹ Wil he regarde thy riches? he regardeth not golde, nor al the that excel in strength.

²⁰ Be not careful in the night, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.

²¹ Take thou head loke not to ^p iniquities for thou hast chosen it rather then affliction.

²² Beholde, God exalteth by his power what teacher is like him?

²³ Who hathe appointed to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

^b Suche as are in the like error.

^c If thou canst not controle thy cloudes, wilt thou presume to instruct God?

^d Nether doeth thy sinne hurt God, nor thy iustice profite him: for he will be glorified without thee.

^e The wicked may hurt man and cause him to crye, who if he fought to God, which sendeth comfort, shulde be deliuered.

^f Because they pray not in faith as feeling Gods mercies.

^g God is iust, howsoeuer y iudget of him.

^h For if he did punish thee, as thou deseruest, thou shuldest not be able to open thy mouth.

^a He sheweth & when we speak of God we must lift our spirits more high, then our natural sefe is able to reach.

^b Thou shalt perceiue that I am a faithful instructor, and that I speake to thee in the name of God.

^c Strong & valiant, and of understanding: these are gifts of God, and he lonerh them in man: but as much as God punished now Job, it is a sign that these are not in him.

^d Therefore he wil not preferre the wicked: but to the humble & afflicted he will shewe grace.

^e He preferred the godlie to the proud.

30 Beholde he spreadeth his light vpon^u it, and couereth the^u bottome of the sea.

31 For thereby he iudgeth^v the people, & giueth meat abundantly.

32 He couereth the light with the cloudes, and commandeth them to go^u against it.

33^a His companion sheweth him thereof, and there is angre in rising vp.

CHAP. XXXVII.

^a Elihu proueth that the vnsearchable wisdom of God is manifest by his workes, 4 As by the thunders, 6 The snowe, 9 The whirle winde, 11 And the rayne.

AT this also mine heart is^a astonied, and is moued out of his place.

4 After it a noyse soundeth: he thundreth with the voyce of his maiestie, and he wil not stay^c them when his voyce is heard.

5 God thūdreth maruelously with his voice: he worketh great things, whiche we knowenot.

6 For he saith to the snowe, Be thou vpon the earth: ^d likewise to the smale raine and to the great raine of his power.

7 With the force [thereof] he^e shutteth vpon euerie man, that all men may knowe his worke.

8 Then the beaſts go into the denne, and remaine in their places.

9 The whirle winde cometh out of^f South, & the colde from the^f North winde.

10 At the breath of God the frost is giuen, and the breadth of the waters^g [is] made narrowe.

11 He maketh also the cloudes to^h labour, to water [the earth, and] scatterethⁱ cloudes ofⁱ his light.

12 And it is turned about by his gouernement, that they may do whatſoeuer he cōmandeth them vpon the whole worlde:

13 Whether it be for^k punishment, or for his lād, or of mercie, he causeth it to come.

14 Harken vnto this, o Iob: stand and cōsider the wonderous workes of God.

^g That is, is froſen vp and dried. ^h Gather the vapours, and moue to and fro to water the earth. ⁱ That is, the cloudes that are lightning in it. ^k Raine, colde, heat, tempestes and ſuche like are ſent of God, ether to puniſh man, or to proſper the earth, or to declare his fauour toward man, as Chap. 36, 31.

15 Dideſt thou knowe when God diſpoſed the^r and cauſed the^r light of his cloude to ſhine?

16 Haſt thou knowen the^m varietie of the cloude, [and] the wonderous workes of him, that is perſite in knowledge?

17 [Or] how thy clothes areⁿ warme, whē he maketh the earth quiet through the South winde?

18 Haſt thou ſtretched out the heauens, which are ſtrong, [&] as a molten glaſſe?

19 Tel vs what we ſhal ſay vnto him: [for] we can not diſpoſe [our matter] becauſe of^p darknes.

20 Shal it be^q tolde him when I ſpeake? or ſhal mā ſpeake whē he ſhal be^r deſtroyed?

21 And now men ſe not the light, which ſhineth in the cloudes, but the winde paſſeth and clenſeth them.

22 The^b brightnes cometh out of^f North: the praiſe [thereof] is to God, which is terrible.

23 [It is] the Almighty: we can not finde him out: [he is] excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iuſtice: he^u afflicteth not.

24 Let men therefore feare him: [for] he wil not regarde any that are wiſe in their owne conceit.

^{be} not able to attaine to the knowledge of theſe things, of Gods iudgements? ^t In Ebrewe, golde, meaning faire are as golde. ^u Meaning, without cauſe.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

God ſpeaketh to Iob, and declareth the weakenes of man in the conſideration of his creatures, by whoſe excellencie the power, iuſtice and providence of the Creator is knowne.

Then answered the Lord vnto Iob out of the^a whirle winde, and ſaid,

2 Who is this that^b darkeneth the counſel by wordes without knowledge?

3 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I will demand of thee & declare thou vnto me.

34 Moreover the Lord spake vnto Iob, and said,

35 Is this to¹ learne to striue with the Almighty: he that reproveth God, let him answer to it.

36 ¶ Then Iob answered the Lord, saying,

37 Beholde, I am vile: what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand vpon my mouth.

38 Once haue I spoken, but I wil answer no more, yea twise, but I wil procede no farther.

¶ CHAP. XL.

1 How weak mans power is, being compared to the werkes of God: to VVhose power appeareth in the creation, and gouerning of the great beastes.

1 A Gaine the Lord answered Iob out of the whirlewinde, and said,

2 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I wil demande of thee, and declare thou vnto me,

3 Wilt thou disanul^a my Iudgement: [or] wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest be iustified?

4 Or hast thou an arme like God: or doest thou thunder with a voyce like him?

5 Decke thy self now with^b maicstie and excellencie, and araye thy self with beautie and glorie.

6 Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and beholde euerie one that is proude, and abase him.

7 Loke on euerie one that is arrogant, [and] bring him low: and destroy the wicked in their place,

8 Hide them in the dust together, [and] binde^c their faces in a secret place.

9 Then wil I confesse vnto thee also, that thy right hand can^d saue thee.

10 ¶ Beholde now^e Behemoth, (whome I made^f with thee) which catcheth^g grasse as an ox.

11 Beholde now, his strength [is] in his loynes, & his force [is] in the naut of his belly

14 He is the chief of the wayes of God: he that made him, wil make his sward to approche vnto him.

15 Surely the mountaines bring him forthe grasse, where all the beastes of the field playe.

16 Lyeth he vnder the trees in the couert of the rede and fennes?

17 Can the trees couer him with their shadowe: or can the willowes of the riuier copasse him about?

18 Beholde, he spoileth the riuier, ^k and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw vp Iorden into his mouth.

CHAP. XLI.

1 By the greatnes of this monstre Liuiathan God sheweth his greatnes, and his power, which nothing can resist.

1 NOne [is] so fearece that dare stirre him

2 Who hath prevented me that I shulde

3 I will not kepe silence [concerning] his partes, nor [his] power, nor his comely proportion.

4 Who can discouer the face of his garment? [or] who shal come to him with a double bridel?

5 Who shal open the dores of his face? his teeth are feareful round about.

6 The maiestie [of his scales is like] strong shields, [and] are sure sealed.

7 One is set to another, that no winde can come betwene them.

8 One is ioyned to another: they sticke together, that they can not be sondred.

9 His niesings make the light to shine, & his eyes [are] like the eye lids of the morning.

10 Out of his mouth go lampes, [and] sparkes of fyre leape out.

11 Out of his nostrilles cometh out smoke, as out of a boyling pot or caldron.

12 His breath maketh the coles burne: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.

13 In his necke remaineth strenght, and his labour is relesed before his face.

14 The members of his bodie are ioyned:
they are strong in them selues, [and] can not be moued.

15 His heart is as strong as a stone, and as hard as the nether millstone.

16 The mightie are afraied of his maiestie,
[and] for feare they faint in them selues.

17 When the sworde doeth touche him, he wil nor rise vp, [nor for] the speare, dart nor habergeon.

18 He esteemeth yron as strawe, and brasie
as rotten wood.

19 The archer can not make him flee: the stones of the sling are turned into stubble vnto him.

20 The dartes are counted as straw: and he laugheth at the shaking of the speare.

21 Sharpe stones are vnder him, and he spreadeth sharpe things vpon the myre.

22 He maketh the depth to be boyle like a pot, and maketh the sea like a pot of oylment.

23 He maketh a path to shine after him:
one wolde thinke the depth as an hore
head.

24 In the earth there is none like him: he is made without feare.

25 He beholdeth all his things: he is a King ouer all the children of pride.

CHAP. XLII.

6 The repentance of Iob. 9 He prayeth for his friends. 12
His goods are restored double vnto him. 13 His children, age and death.

1 Then Iob answered the Lord, and said,

2 I knowe that thou canst do all things, and that there is no thought hid from thee.

3 Who is he that hideth counsell without knowledge? therefore haue I spoken that I vnderstode not [euen] things to wonderful for me, and [which] I knewe not.

4 Heare, I beseeche thee, and I wil speake: I wil demande of thee, & declare thou vnto me.

5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhorre [my self], and repent in dust and ashes.

7 Now after that the Lord had spoken these wordes vnto Iob, the Lord also said vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friendes, for ye haue not spoke of me the thing that is right, like my seruant Iob.

8 Therefore take vnto you now seuen bullockes, and seuen rams, and go to my seruant Iob, & offer vp for your selues a burnt offring, and my seruant Iob shal pray for you: for I wil accept him, lest I shulde put you to shame, because ye haue not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my seruant Iob.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, [and] Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord had said vnto them, and the Lord accepted
Iob.

10 Then the Lord turned the captiuitie of Iob, when he prayed for his friends:

THE PSALMES OF

Dauid.

THE ARGUMENT.

This booke of Psalmes is set forth vnto vs by the holie Ghost to be esteemed as a moste precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that apperteyne to true felicitie, as wel in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and beauenlie wisdom are here set open for vs, to take thereof moste abundantly. If we wolde knowe the great and his maiestie of God here we may se the brightnes thereof shine moste clearelie. If we wolde seeke his incomprehensible wisdom, here is the schole of the same profession. If we wolde comprehend his inestimable bountie, and approche nere thereunto and fill our hands with that treasure, here we may haue a moste liuelie, and comfortable taste thereof. If we wolde knowe wherein standeth our saluation and how to attaine to life everlasting, here is Christ our onely redeemer and mediator moste euidently described. The rich man may learne the true vse of his riches. The poore man may fynde full contentation. He that wil reioyce, shal knowe the true ioye, & how to kepe measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shal se where in standeth their comfort, and how they ought to praise God when he sendeth them deliuerance. The wicked and the persecuters of the children of God shal se how the hand of God is euer against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet he bridleth them in so much as they can not touche an heere of ones head, except he permitteth them, and how in the end their destruction is moste miserable. Briefly, here we haue moste present remedies against all tentations and troubles of minde and conscience, so that being well practised herein we may be assured against all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare and loue of God, and at length attaine to that inextinguishable crowne of glorie, which is laid vp for al them that loue the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

PSALME I.

YWhether it was Eiras, or any other that gathered the Psalmes into a booke, it seemeth he did set this Psalm first in manner of a preface, to exhort all godly men to studie, and meditate the heauenly wisdom. For the effect hereof is, 1. That they be blessed, which giue them selues wholly all their life to the holy Scriptures. 2. And that the wicked contemners of God, though they seeme for a while happy, yet at length shal come to miserable destruction.

Blessed is the man that doeth not walke in the counsel of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seat of the scornful:

2 But his delight [is] in the Law of the Lord, and in his Law doeth he meditate day and night.
 3 For he shal be like a tree planted by the riuers of waters, that wil bring forth the her fruite in due season: whose leafe shal not fader: so whatsoeuer he shal do, shal prosper.
 4 The Lord will direct his way, and will prosper his way.

per.

4 The wicked [are] not so, but as chaffe, which the winde dryueth away.
 5 Therefore the wicked shal not stand in iudgement, nor sinners in the assemblie of the righteous.
 6 For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shal perish.

PSAL. II.

1 The Prophet Dauid reioyceth that notwithstanding his enemies rage, yet God wil continue his kingdom for aye, and aduance it euen to the end of the worlde. 2. And therefore exhorteth Kings & rulers, that they wolde humbly submit them selues vnder Gods yoke, because it is in vaine to resist God. Herein is figured Christ his kingdom.

VVhy do the heathen rage, and the people murmure in vaine?
 2 The Kings of the earth had them selues, and the princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his Christ.
 3 Let vs breake their bands, and cast their cords from vs.

II. j.

d Though the wicked seeme to beare the bridle in this worlde, yet the Lord muste treade downe them: they shal not stand in the companie of the righteous.
 e But tremble when they see Gods wrath.

4 But he that dwelleth in the heauen shall laugh: the Lord shall haue them in derision.
5 Then shall he speake vnto them in his wrath, and vexe them in his sore displeasure, saying, I
6 Euen I haue set my King vpon Zion mine holy mountaine.
7 I wil declare the decrees: that is, The Lord hath said vnto me, Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.
8 Aske of me, and I shal giue thee the hea- then for thine inheritance, and the ends of the earth for thy possession.
9 Thou shalt crush them with a sceptre of yron, and breake them in pieces like a pot- ters vessel.

PSAL. III.

David, when he fled from his sonne Absalom, was greatly tormented for his sinnes against God: And there- fore he cryeth vnto God, and waxeth bolde through his promise, that he will not forsake him, and will re- uenge his railings and errors of his eneuies.

A Psalm of David, when he fled from his sonne Absalom.

1 Lord, how are mine aduersaries in- creased: how manie rise against me.
2 Manie saye to my soule, [There is] no helpe for him in God. Selah.
3 But thou Lord art a buckler for me: my glorie, and the lifter vp of mine head.
4 I did call vnto the Lord with my voyce, and he heard me out of his holie mountaine. Selah.
5 I laid me downe and slept, (and) rose vp againe: for the Lord sustained me.
6 I wil not be afrayed for ten thousand of the people, that shulde beset me round about.
7 O Lord, rise: helpe me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies vpon the cheeke bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.
8 Saluation belongeth vnto the Lord, & thy blessing is vpon thy people. Selah.

PSAL. IIII.

David, when he fled from his sonne Absalom, was greatly tormented for his sinnes against God: And therefore he cryeth vnto God, and waxeth bolde through his promise, that he will not forsake him, and will re- uenge his railings and errors of his eneuies.

To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalm of David.

1 Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousnes: thou hast seene at libertie, [when I was] in distress: haue mercie vpon me, and hearken vnto my prayer.
2 O ye sonnes of men, how long wil ye turne my glorie into shame, & louing vanitie [and] seeking lyes: Selah.
3 For be ye sure that the Lord hath cho- sen to him selfe a godlie man: the Lord wil heare when I call vnto him.
4 Tremble, and sinne not: examine your owne heart vpon your bed, and be still. Selah.
5 Offer the sacrifices of righteousnes, and trust in the Lord.
6 Manie say, Who wil shew vs [any] good: [but] Lord, lift vp the light of thy coun- tenance vpon vs.
7 Thou hast giuen me more ioye of heart then [they haue had,] when their whea- and their wine did abunde.
8 I wil laye me downe, and also slepe in pe- ace: for thou Lord, loneli makest me dwell in fauourie.

David, when he fled from his sonne Absalom, was greatly tormented for his sinnes against God: And therefore he cryeth vnto God, and waxeth bolde through his promise, that he will not forsake him, and will re- uenge his railings and errors of his eneuies.

A Psalm of David.

1 David oppressed with the multitude of his enemies, & fearing greater dangers, telleth vnto God for his cour- age, how he requirer it is that God shulde smite the malice of his aduersaries. 7. After he hath shewed of prosperitie, he conceiveth comfort, 12. Concluding that when God shal deliuer him, others also shal be partakers of the same mercies.

12 For^a when he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembreth it, & forgetteth not the complaint of the poore.

13 Haue mercie vpon me, o Lord: consider my trouble, [which I suffer] of them that hate me, thou that liftest me vp from the gates of death.

14 That I may shewe all thy praises within the gates of the daughter of Zion, [and] re

PSAL. X.

1 He complaineth of the fraude, rapine, tyrannie, and kindes of wrong, which worldlie men vse, allying the cause thereof, that wicked men, being as it were drunken with worldlie prosperitie, and therefore setting aspeere at feare and reuerence towardes God, thinke they may do all thinges without controueling. 12 Therefore heaileth vpo God to send some remedie against these desperate guilt, 16 And at length comforteth him selfe with hope of deliuerance.

Why starest thou farr off, o Lord,

13 Wherefore doeth the wicked contemne God: he saith in his heart, Thou wilt not regard me.

14 Yet thou hast sene it: for thou beholdest mischief and wrong, that thou maiest take it into thine hands: the poore committeth himselfe vnto thee: [for] thou art the helper of the fatherles.

15 Break thou the arme of the wicked and malicious: searche his wickednes, [and] thou shalt finde none.

PSAL. XI.

This psalme containeth two partes. In the first David sheweth how harde allures of tentation he susteyned, and howe great anguish of minde he was, when Saul did persecute him. 2 Then next he reioyceth that God sent him victorie in his last battell, declaring his iustice afield in governing the good & the wicked as in the whole worlde.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

In the Lord putt my trust: how say ye then to my soule, Flee to your mountaine [as] a bird.

2 For lo, the wicked bend their bowe, [and] make readie their arrowes vpon the string that they may secretly shoote at them, which are ypright in heart.

3 For the foundations are cast downe: what hath the righteous done.

4 The Lord [is] in his holie palace: the Lordes throne [is] in the heauen: his eyes wil consider: his eye lids wil trye the children of men.

5 The Lord wil trye the righteous: but the wicked & him that loueth iniquitie, doeth his soule hate.

6 Vpon the wicked he shal raine snares, fyre and brimstone, and stormie tempest: this is the portion of their cup.

7 For the righteous Lord toucheth righteousnes: his countenance doeth beholde [just].

PSAL. XII.

The Prophet lamenting the miserable state of the people and the decay of all good order desireth God to send iudges to his church. 2 Then comforting him self and others with the assurance of Gods promise, he commendeth the confirmacion that God obserueth in keeping his promise.

To him that excelleth vpon the eight tune. A Psalm of David.

1 Helpe Lord, for there is not a godlie man left: for the faithfull are failed from among the children of men.

2 They speake deceitfully euerie one with his neighbour, b flatterer with their lippes, [and] speake with a double heart.

3 The Lord cut of all flattering lippes, [and] the tongue that speaketh proude things.

4 Which haue said, With our tongue wil we preuaile: our lippes are our owne: who is lord ouer vs.

5 Now for the oppression of the nedie, [and] for the fighes of the poore, I wil vp saith the Lord, [and] wil set at libertie him, [whome the wicked] hath snared.

6 The wordes of the Lord [are] pure wordes, [as] the siluer, tryed in a fornaice of earth, fined seuen folde.

7 Thou wilt kepe them, O Lord: thou wilt preserue him from this generatio for euer.

8 The wicked walke on euerie side: when they are exalted, [it is] a shame for the sonnes of men.

PSALME XIII.

David as it were ouercome with sundrie and newe afflictions, fleeth to God as his onelie refuge. 3 And so as the King being encouraged through Gods promises, he conceiveth moche sure confidence aginst the extreme horrors of death.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 How long wilt thou forget me, O Lord, for euer: how long wilt thou hyde thy face from me.

2 How long shal I take couel within my selfe [hauing] wearines dailey in mine heart: how long shal mine enemy be exalted aboue me.

3 Beholde, [and] heare me, O Lord my God: lighte mine eyes, that I seepe not in death.

4 Left mine enemy saye, I haue preuailed againt him: [and] they that afflict me, reioyce when I slide.

5 But I trust in thy mercie: mine heart shal reioyce in thy saluation: I wil sing to the Lord, because he hath delt lovingly with me.

PSAL. XIII.

He describeth the peruerse nature of men, which were growen to licentiousnes, that God was brought to vnderstand: 7 For this which thing although he was greatly grieved, yet being persuaded that God would send some firm remedie, he comforted him selfe and others.

PSAL. XVIII.

1 This Psalm is the first beginning of his gratulation, and thank of giuing in the entering into his kingdome, where he beareth and praiseeth most highly the marvelous mercies and grace of God, who hath thus preferred and defended him; 2 Also he setteth forth the image of Christs kingdome, that the faithful may be assured that Christ shal alwayes conquer and overcome by the vnspokeable power of his Father, though all the whole worlde shalde sturke them against.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David [¶] seruāt of [¶] Lord, which spake vnto [¶] Lord the wordes of this song (in the day that the Lord deliuered him fro the hand of all his enemies, & from the hand of Saul) and said,

1 ^I Wil loue thee derely, ^o Lord my strength.

2 ^{The} Lord is my rocke, and my fortresse, and he that deliuereth me, my God [&] my strength: in him wil I trust, my sheilde, the home also of my saluation, [&] my refuge.

3 I wil call vpon the Lord, which is worthe to be ^a praised: so shal I be safe from mine enemies.

4 The sorowes of death compassed me, & the floods of wickednes made me afraied.

5 The sorowes of the graue haue compassed me about: the snares of death ouertoke me.

6 [But] in my trouble did I call vpon [¶] Lord, and cryed vnto my God: he heard my voyce out of his Temple, and my crye did come before him, [euen] into his eares.

7 [¶] Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the foundations also of the mountaines moued and shoke, because he was angrie.

8 Smoke went out at his nostrils, and a ^a consuming fyre out of his mouth: coles were kindled therat.

9 He bowed the heauens also and came downe, and darkenes was vnder his fete. 10 And he rode vpon ^a Cherub and did flie, and he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darkenes his ^a secret place, [&] his pavilion rounde about him, [euen] darkenes of waters, [and] cloudes of the aere.

12 At the brightnes of his presence his cloudes passed, hailestones and coles of fyre.

13 The Lord also thundred in the heauen, and the Highest gaue his voyce, hailestones and coles of fyre.

14 Then he sent out ^a his arrowes and scattered them, and he increased lightnings and destroyed them.

15 And the chanel of waters were sene, & the ^a foundations of the worlde were discouered at thy rebuking, ^o Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrils.

16 He hath sent downe from aboue [and] take me: he hath drawe me out of manie ^a waters.

17 He hath deliuered me from my ^a strong enemy, and from them which hate me: for they were ^a to strong for me.

18 They prevented me in the daye of my calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.

19 He brought me forth also into a large place: [¶] he deliuered me, because he fauored me.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my ^a righteousness: according to the purenes of mine hands he recompensed me:

21 Because I kept the wayes of the Lord, & did not wickedly against my God.

22 For all his Lawes [were] before me, and I did not cast away his ^a commandments from me.

23 I was vpight also with him, and haue kept me from my wickednes.

24 Therefore the Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness, [&] according to the purenes of mine hands in his sight.

25 With the ^a godlie thou wilt shewe thy self godlie: with the vpight man thou wilt shewe thy self vpight.

26 With the pure thou wilt shewe thy self pure, and with the frowarde thou wilt shewe thy self frowarde.

27 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people, and wilt ^a cast downe the proude lookes.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candel: the Lord my God wil lighten my darkenes.

29 For by thee I haue ^a broken through an hoste, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

30 The waye of God is vncorrupt: the worde of the Lord is tryed [in the fyre]: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

31 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mightie saue our God?

32 God girdeth me with strength, and maketh my ^a waye vpight.

33 He maketh my fete like hindes [fete], [&] setteth me vpon mine ^a high places.

34 He reacheth mine hands to fight: so that a bowe of brasse is broke with mine armes.

35 Thou hast also giuen me the ^a shield of thy saluation, and thy right hand hath stayed me, and thy ^a louing kindenes hath caused me to increase.

36 Thou hast enlarged my stretes vnder me, and mine heles haue not slid.

37 I haue pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe vnto [them] consumed them.

PSAL. XIX.

1 To the intent he might moue the faithful to a deeper consideration of Gods glorie, he setteth before their eyes the most exquisite workmanship of the heauens with their proportion and ornaments: & And afterward calleth them to the Law, wherein God hath reueiled him self more familiarily to his chosen people. The which peculiar grace by commending the Law he setteth forth more at large.

To him that excelleth. A psalme of Dauid

1 The heauens declare the glorie of God, and the firmament sheweth the worke of his hands.
2 Day vnto day vttereth the same, and night vnto night teacheth knowledge.
3 There is no speache nor language, [wherein] their voyce is not heard.
4 Their line is gone forth through all the earth, and their wordes into the ends of the worlde: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the sunne.
5 Which commeth forth as a bridegrome out of his chambre, and reioyceth like a mightie man to runne this race.
6 His going out is from the end of the uen, and his compass [is] vnto the ends of the same, and none is hid from the heate thereof.

7 The Law of the Lord is pefite, conuer-ting the soule: the testimonie of the Lord is sure, & giueth wisdom vnto the simple.
8 The statutes of the Lord are right, and re-ioyce the heart: the commandement of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.
9 The feare of the Lord is cleane, and indureth for euer: the iudgements of the Lord are true: they are righteous altogether.
10 And more to be desired, then gold, yea, then muche fine golde: sweter also then honye and the honie combe.
11 Moreouer by them is thy seruante made circumspect, and in keeping of them there is great rewarte.
12 Who can vnderstand his faultes, cleane me from secret fautes.
13 Kepe thy seruante also from presumptuous sinnes: let them not reigne ouer me:
so shal I be vpight, and made cleane from much wickednes.
14 Let the wordes of my mouth, and the meditation of mine heart be acceptable in thy sight, o Lord, my strength, and my redemer.

PSAL. XX.

A prayer for the people vnto God, that it wolde please him to be their King and receiue his sacrifice, which he of-fired before he went to battel against the Ammonites.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid

1 The Lord heare thee in the daye of trouble: the Name of the God of Iaakob defende thee.
2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuarie, and strengthen thee out of Zion.
3 Let him remember all thine offrings, and turne thy burnt offrings into ashes. Selah.
4 [And] grant thee according to thine beart, and fulfil all thy purpose.
5 [That] we may reioyce in thy saluation, and set vp the baner in the Name of our God, [when] the Lord shal performe all thy petitions.
6 Now know I that the Lord wil helpe his anointed, & wil heare him from his Sanctuarie, by mightie helpe of his right hand.
7 Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but we wil remember the Name of the Lord our God.
8 They are broght downe and fallen, but we are risen, and stande vpight.

day that we call.

PSAL. XXI.

stroy them in his wrath, and the fyre shal deuoure them.

10 Their frute shalt thou destroy from the earth, & their sede fro the children of me.

11 For they intended euill against thee,
[and] imagined mischief: but they shal not preuaile.

12 Therefore shalt thou put them aparte,
[&] the strings of thy bowe shalt thou mak ready against their faces.

13 Bethou exalted, O Lord, in thy strength:
[so] wil we sing and praise thy power.

PSAL. XXII.

Dauid complained because he was brought into such extremities, that he was past all hope, but after he had rehearsed the sorrows and griefs, where with he was vexed, 10
He remembereth him self from the horrible pit of tentati-on, and groweth in hope. And here vnder his owne person he setteth forth the figure of Christ, whome he did forsake by the Spirit of prophesie, that he shoulde maruelously, and strangely be deliuered, and exalted, before his Father shoulde arise and exalt him againe.

To him that excelleth vpon t Alleleth Halleluiah. A Psalm of Dauid.

My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me, [and] art so farre from mine health, [and] from the wordes of my browning.

2 O my God, I crye by daye, but thou hearest not, and by night, but I haue no audiee.

3 But thou art holy, and doest inhabite the praises of Israel.

4 Our fathers trusted in thee: they misted, and thou didest deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were deli-uered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But I am a worme, and not a man: a shame of men, and the contempt of the people.

7 All they that se me, haue me in derision:
they make a mowe, [and] nod the head, [saying,]

8 He trusted in the Lord, let him de-liuer him: let him saue him, [seeing] he loueth him.

9 But thou didest drawe me out of the wombe: thou gauest me hope, [euen] at my mothers breasts.

10 I was cast vpon thee, [euen] from the wombe: thou art my God from my mothers belly.

11 Be not farre from me, because trouble is nere: for [there is] none to helpe [me.]

12 Manie yong bulles haue compassed me, mightie bulles of Bashan haue closed me about.

13 They gape vpon me with their mouthes
[as] a ramping and roaring lion.

14 I am like water powred out, and all my bones are out of ioynt: mine heart is like waxe: it is molten in the middes of my bowels.

15 My strength is dried vp like a potheard,
[&] my tongue cleueth to my iawes, [&] thou hast brought me into the dust of death.

16 For dogges haue compassed me, [&] the assëble of the wicked haue inclosed me, they perced mine hands and my fete.

17 I may tel all my bones: [yet] thei beholde [and] loke vpon me.

18 They parte my garments among them,
and cast lottes vpon my vesture.

19 But be not thou farre of, O Lord, my strength: hasten to helpe me.

20 Deliuer my soule from the sworde: my desolate [soule] fro the power of the dog.

21 Save me from the lions mouth, and answer me [in sauing me] from the hornes of the vnicornes.

22 I wil declare thy Name vnto my brethren: in the middes of the Congregation wil I praise thee [saying,]

23 Praise the Lord, ye that feare him: magnifie ye him, all the sede of Iakob, & feare ye him, all the sede of Israel.

24 For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the poore: neither hath he hid his face from him, but when he called vnto him, he heard.

25 My praise [shal be] of thee in the great Cogregation: my vowes wil I performe before them that feare him.

PSAL. XXVI.

1 Dauid speake thus many psalmes, finding no helpe in the worlde, callen for aide from God: and assured of his integritie toward Saul, desireth God to haue his iudges, and to defend his innocencie. 6 Finally he maketh mention of his benefice, which he will offer for his deliuerance, and desireth to be in the companie of the faithful in the Congregation of God, whence he was banished by Saul, promising integritie of life, and to praye and thanksgiving.

A Psalm of Dauid.

1 I Vdge me, O Lord, for I haue walked in mine innocencie: my trust hath bene also in the Lord: [therefore] shal I not hide.

2 Proue me, O Lord, and trye me: examine my^a reines, and mine heart.

3 For thy^b louing kindenes [is] before mine eyes: therefore haue I walked in thy truth.

4 I haue not^c chanted with vaine persones, neither kept companie with the disem-blers.

5 I haue hated the assemble of the euil, & haue not companied with the wicked.

6 I wil wash mine hands in innocencie, O
Lord, and compasse thine altar.

7 That I may declare with the voyce of thanksgiving, and let forth all thy won-derous workes.

8 O Lord, I haue loued the habitation of thine house, & the place where thine honour dwelleth.

9 Gather not my soule with the sinners, nor my life with the bloodie men:

10 In whose hands [is] wickednes, and their right hand is full of bybes.

11 But I wil walke in mine innocencie: re-deeme me [therefore], and be merciful vn-
to me.

12 My foete standeth in^a vprightnes: I wil praise thee, O Lord, in the Congregation.

PSAL. XXVII.

1 Dauid maketh this Psalm being deliuered from perils, as appeareth by the prayer and thanksgiving.

anxied: 6 VVherein we may see the constant faith of Da-uid against the assaults of all his enemies. 7 And also the end wherefore he desireth to liue and to be deliuered, only to worship God in his Congregation.

A Psalm of Dauid.

1 The Lord [is] my^a light and my saluation, whome shal I feare: the Lord [is] the strength of my life, of whome shal I be afraid.

2 When the wicked, [euē] mine enemies and my foes came vpon me to eat vp my flesh, they stumbled and fel.

3 Thogh an hoste pitched against me, mine heart shulde not be afraid: thogh warre be raised against me, I wil trust in^b this.

4 One thing haue I desired of the Lord, that I wil require, [euē] that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to beholde^c the beautie of the Lord and to visite his Temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he shal hide me in his Tabernacle: in the secret [place] of his pavilion shal he hide me, and I set me vp vpon a rocke.

6 And now shal he lift vp mine head aboue mine enemies round about me: therefore wil I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices of ioye: I wil sing and praise the Lord.

7 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lord, [when] I crye: haue mercie also vpon me and heare me.

8 [When thou faidest,] Seke ye my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lord, I wil seke thy face.

9 Hide not [therefore] thy face from me, nor cast thy seruant awaie in displeasure:
thou hast bene my succour: leaue me not,
neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.

10 Thogh my father and my mother shul-de forsake me, yet the Lord wil gather me vp.

11 Teache me thy waie, O Lord, and leade me in a right path, because of mine enemies.

12 Giue me not vnto the lust of mine ad-uersaries: for there are false witnesses risen vp against me, & suche as speake cruelly.

13 I shulde haue fainted, except I had be-lieued to see the goodnes of the^a Lord in the land of the liuing.

14 Hope in the Lord: be strong, and he shal comfort thine heart, and trust in the Lord.

PSAL. XXVIII.

1 Being in great feare and hauntyng of death, God deliuered him from the wicked, in desire to be in the Congregation of God, and to praise him for his goodnes, as appeareth by the prayer and thanksgiving.

a Because he was assured of good successe in all his dangers,
and that his sal-uation was surely in God, he feared not the travails of his enemies.
b That God wil

vnto me.
c The love of countrie, wife commodities grieue me not in respect of this one thing, that I may not praise thy Name in the midde of the Congregation.

d Dauid affirmed him selfe by the Spirit of prophesie that he shulde ouercome his enemies & serue
God in his Tabernacle.

e He groundeth

ard him, which

¶ A Psalm of David.

VNto thee, o Lord, do I cry: o my strength, be not deafe toward me, lest, if thou answer me nor, I be^a like them that go downe into the pit.

Hear the voyce of my petitions, when I cry vnto thee, when I holde vp mine hands toward thine^b holy Oracle.

3 Drawe me not awaie with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquitie: which speake friendly to their neighbours, when malice [is] in their hearts.

4. ^d Reward them according to their dedes, and according to the wickednes of their inventions: recompense them after the worke of their hands: render them their re warde.

5 For they regarde not the workes of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: (therefore) *breake them downe, and buylde them not vp.

6 Praised[be] the Lord, for he hath heard the voice of my petitions.

7 The Lord [is] my strength and my shield, mine heart trusted in him, and I was helped: therefore mine heart shal reioyce, and with my song wil I praise him.

8 The Lord is their strength, and he is the strength of the deliuerances of his appointed.

9 Saue thy people, and blesse thine inheritance: fede them also, and exalt them for euer.

PSAL. XXIX.

11 The Prophet exhorteth the priests and rulers of y^e world, de, (which for the most part thinks there is no God): 12 the least to feare him for the thunders and tempestes, for feare wherof all creatures tremble. 13 And though thereby God chasteneth sinners, yet is he alwayes mercifull to his,
and moueth them thereby to praise his Name.

A Psalme of David.

Give vnto the Lord, ye^a sonnes of the mightie: giue vnto the Lord glorie and strength.

2 Giue vnto the Lord glorie[due] vnto his Name: worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie.

3 The voice of the Lord is upon the waters: the God of glorie maketh it to thunder: the Lord is upon the great waters.

4 The voice of the Lord [is] mighty : the voice of the Lord [is] glorious.

5 The voice of the Lord breaketh the cedres: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedres of Lebanon.

6 He maketh the alfo to leape like a calfe:
Lebanon[alfo] and 4 Shiron like a yong ynicome.

7 The voice of the Lord is heard in the flames of fire.

3 The voice of the Lord maketh the wil-dernes to tremble : the Lord maketh the wildernes of Kadesh to tremble.

9 The voice of the Lord maketh ¹hundes to ²calue, & ³discouereth the forests: [the

PSAL. XXX

1 VVhen David was delivered from great danger, he rendered thanks to God, exhorting others to do likewise, and to learne by his example, that God is rather merciful then severe and rigorous towards his children, 2 And that the fall from prosperitie to adversity is sudden.
This done, he returneth to prayer, promising to praise God forever.

¶ A Psalme or song of the dedication of the house of David.

I Wil magnifie thee, O Lord: for thou hast exalted me, and hast not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.

2 O Lord my God, I cryed unto thee, and thou hast restored me.

3 O Lord, thou hast brought vp my soul out of the grave: thou hast redeemed me from them that go downe into the pit.

truth:

and not cease : O Lord my God, I will give thanks vnto thee for ever.

Haue mercie vpon me, O Lord, for I am in trouble: mine eye, my soule and my bowels are consumed with grief.

For my life is wasted with heauines, and my yeres with mourning: my strength faileth for my peine, & my bones are con-

I was a reproche among all mine ene-

PSAL XXXII

David punished with grievous sickness for his sinnes, con-fesseth them blessed, to whome God dooth not impute their transgressions. 5 And after that he had confessed his sin-nes and obtained pardon, 6 He exhorteth the wicked to liue godly, 7 And the good to reioyce.

 nes vnto the Lord, and thou forgavest the punishment of my sinne, Selah.

PSAL. XXXIII.

He exhorteth good men to praise God for that he hath not onely created all things, and by his providence governeth the same, but also is faithful in his promises. 10 He understandeth mans heart, and searcheth the counsel of the wicked. 16 So that no man can be preserved by any creature or mans strength: but they, that put their confidence in his mercie, shall be preserved from all dangers.

R Eioyce in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it shall becometh vpright men to be thankful.

2 Praise the Lord with harpe: sing vnto him with viol and instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing vnto him a new song: sing cherefully with a loude voyce.

4 For the worde of the Lord is righteous, and all his workes are faithful.

5 He loueth rightcoufnes and iudgement: the earth is full of the goodnes of the Lord.

6 By the worde of the Lord were the heauens made; and all the hoste of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 He gathereth the waters of the sea together as vpon an heape, and laeth vp the depths in his treasures.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: for all that dwell in the worlde, feare him.

9 For he spake, & it was done: he commanded, and it stood.

10 The Lord breaketh the counsel of the heathen, & bringeth to nought the devices of the people.

11 The counsel of the Lord shall stand for euer, & the thoughts of his heart through out all ages.

12 Blessed is that nation, whose God is the Lord: for he shall be chosen for his inheritance.

13 The Lord looketh downe from heauen, and beholdeth all the children of men.

14 From the habitation of his dwelling he beholdeth all them that dwell in the earth.

15 He facioneth their hearts euerie one, and understandeth all their workes.

16 The King is not saved by the multitude of an hoste, (neither) is the mightie man deliuered by great strength.

17 A horse is a vaine helpe, and shall not deliuer anie by his great strength.

18 Beholde the eye of the Lord is vpon them that feare him, and vpon them that trust in his mercie, 19 To deliuer their soules from death, and to preserve them in famine.

20 Our soule waiteth for the Lord: for he is our helpe and our shield.

21 Surely our heart shall reioyce in him, because we trusted in his holie Name.

22 Let thy mercie, O Lord, be vpon vs, as we trust in thee.

PSAL. XXXIII.

After David had escaped Achish, according as it is written in the 1. Sam. 21, 22. where he is called Achish (which was a general name to all the Kings of the Philistines) he praiseth God for his deliverance, 3 Praise him al others by his example to trust in God, and serue him: 16 Who defendeth the godly with his Angels, 21 And vnto deliuereth the wicked in their sin.

A Psalm of David, when he changed his behaviour before Abimelech, who droue him awaie, and he departed.

1 Wil alwaie give thanks vnto the Lord: his praise (shall be) in my mouth continually.

2 My soule shall glorie in the Lord: the humble shall heare it, and be glad.

3 Praise ye the Lord with me, and let vs magnifie his Name together.

4 I sought the Lord; and he heard me: yea, he deliuered me out of all my feare.

5 They shall take vnto him, and runneto him: and their faces shall not be ashamed, (saying,)

6 This poore man cryed, and the Lord heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles.

7 The Angel of the Lord picherounde about them that feare him, and deliuereth them.

8 Taste ye & se, how gracious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 Feare the Lord, ye his Saints: for nothing wanteth to them that feare him.

10 The Lyons do lacke and suffer hunger, but they, which seeke the Lord, shall want nothing that is good.

11 Come children, hearken vnto me: I will teache you the feare of the Lord.

12 What man is he, that desireth life, and loveth long daies for to see good?

13 Keep thy tongue from euil, and thy lips, that they speake no guile.

14 Eschew euil and do good: seek peace, and followe after it.

15 The eyes of the Lord are vpon the righteous, and his eares are open vnto their crye.

16 (But the face of the Lord, he setteth against them that do euil, to cut off their remembrance from the earth.)

17 The righteous crye, & the Lord heareth them, and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

18 The Lord is nere vnto them that are of contrite heart, and will save such as be afflicted in spirit.

19 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord deliuereth him out of them all.

22 The Lord redemeth the soules of his seruants: and none, that trust in him, shal perish.

PSAL. XXXV.

1 So long as Saul was enemy to Dauid, all that had anie autoritie vnder him to flatter their King (as is the course of the worlde) did also most cruelly persecute Dauid: against whome he praiesh God to please and to auenge his cause, 2 That they may be taken in their nets and snares, which they laied for him; that his innocencie may be declared, 17 And that the innocent, which taketh parte with him male reioyce and praise the Name of the Lord, that thus deliuereth his seruant. 18 And so he promisseth to speake for the iustice of the Lord, and to magnifie his Name all the dayes of his life.

A Psalme of Dauid.

1 PLeade thou my cause, o Lord, with them that strue with me: fight thou against them, that fight against me.

2 Laie hand vpon the shield and buckler, and stand vp for mine helpe.

3 Bring out also the speare and stoppe [the waie] against them, that persecute me: saie vnto my soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them be confounded & put to shame, that seke after my soule: let them be turned backe, and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaffe before the winde, and let the Angel of the Lord scatter [them.]

6 Let their waie be darke & slipperie: and let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For without cause they haue hid the pit [and] their net for me: without cause haue they digged [a pit] for my soule.

8 Let destruction come vpon him at vnwares, and let his net, that he hath laied priuily, take him: let him fall into the same destruction.

9 Then my soule shal be ioyful in the Lord: it shal reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my bones shal saie, Lord, who is like vnto thee. which deliuerest the poore from him, that is to strong for him: yea, the poore and him that is in miserie, from him that spoileth him.

11 Cruel witnesses did rise vp: they asked of me things that I knewe not.

12 They rewarded me euil for good, to haue spoiled my soule.

13 Yet I when they were sicke, I was clothed with a sacke: I humbled my soule with fasting: and my prayer was turned vpon my bosome.

14 I behaued my self as to my friend, for as to my brother: I humbled my selfe, mourning as one that bewaileth his mother.

15 But in mine aduersitie they reioyced, & gathered them selues together: the abjects assembled them selues against me, & I knewe not: they tare me and ceased not.

16 With the false skoffers at bankets, gnashing their teeth against me.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou beholde [this]: deliuer my soule fro their tumulte, [eu]n my desolate [soule] from the lions.

18 [So] wil I giue thee thanks in a great Congregation: I wil praise thee among muche people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies, vniu'sly reioyce ouer me, nether let them pwinke with the eye, that hate me without a cause.

20 For they speake not as friends: but they imagine deceitful wordes against the quiet of the land.

21 And they gaped on me with their mouthes, saying, A ha, a ha, your eye hath seene.

22 Thou hast seene it, o Lord: kepe not silence: be not farr from me, o Lord.

23 Arise & wake to my iudgement, [eu]n to my cause, o God and my Lord.

24 Iudge me, o Lord my God according to thy righteousnes, and let them not reioyce ouer me.

25 Let them not saye in their hearts, Our soule reioyce: nether let them saye, We haue deuoured him.

26 Let them be confounded, and put to shame together, that reioyce at mine hurt: let them be clothed with confusion and shame, that lift vp them selues against me.

27 [But] let them be ioyful and glad, that loue my righteousnes: yea, let them saye alwaie, Let the Lord be magnified, which loueth the prosperitie of his seruant.

28 And my tongue shal vtter thy righteousnes, [and] thy praise euerie day.

bringeth to our remembrance the darkness

The wordes of his mouthe [are] iniquitie and deceite: he hath left of to vnderstand [and] to do good.

He imagineth mischief vpon his bed: he setteth him selfe vpon a waie, [that is] not good [and] doeth not abhorre euil.

Thy mercie, O Lord, [reacheth] vnto the heauens, [and] thy faithfulness vnto the cloudes.

Thy righteousness [is] like the mightie mountaines: thy iudgements [are like] a great deepe: thou, Lord, dost saue man and beast.

How excellent is thy mercie, O God!
therefore the children of men trust vnder
the shadowe of thy wings.

They shall be satisfied with the fatnes of thine house, and thou shalt giue them drinke out of the riuier of thy pleasures.

For with thee [is] the well of life, [and] in thy light shall we see light.

Extend thy louing kindenes vnto them that knowe thee, and thy righteousness vnto them that are vpright in heart.

Let not the fote of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked move
me.

There they are fallen that worke in-iquitie: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.

PSAL XXXVII.

This Psalme containeth exhortation and consolation for the weak, that are grieved at the prosperitie of the wicked, and the affliction of the godlie. For how prosperously fouer the wicked do liue for the time, he doeth af-firmeth their felicitie to be vaine & transitorie, because they are not in the fauour of God, but in the end they are destroyed as his enemies. And how miserably that the righteous semeth to liue in the worlde, yet his end is peace, and he is in the fauour of God, he is deliuered from the wicked and preferred.

A Psalme of David.

Reate not thy selfe because of the wicked men, neither be enuious for the euil doers.

For they shall soone be cut downe like grasse, and shall wither as the greene herbe.

Trust thou in the Lord and do good:
dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed assuredly.

And deliue thy self in the Lord, and he shall giue thee thine hearts desire.

Commit thy way vnto the Lord, and trust in him, and he shall bring it to passe.

And he shall bring forth thy righteousnes as the light, and thy iudgement as y noone daye.

Waite patiently vpon the Lord and hope in him: fret not thy self for him which prospereth in his waye: [nor] for the man

the day light causeth vs not to be offended with the darkness.
ought we patiently to trust that God wil cleare our euil &
the. V When God suffereth the wicked to prosper, it seemeth that he fauoureth their doings.

that bringeth this enterprise to passe.

Cease from angre, & leaue of wrath: fret at not thy selfe also to do euil.

For euil doers shall be cut of, and they that waite vpon the Lord, they shall inherrite the land.

Therefore yet a litle while, and the wicked shall not [appeare,] and thou shalt loke after his place, & he shall not [be founde.]

But meeke men shall possesse the earth, and shall haue their delite in the multitude of peace.

The wicked practise against the iust, and gnasheth his teeth against him.

[But] the Lord shall laugh him to scorne:
for he seeth, that his daye is coming.

The wicked haue drawne [their] sworde, and haue bent their bowe, to cast downe the poore and nedie, [and] to slay suche as be of vpright conuersation.

[But] their sworde shall entre into their owne heart, and their bowes shall be broken.

A small thing vnto the iust man is better, then great riches to the wicked [and] mightie.

For the armes of the wicked shall be broken:
but the Lord vpholdeth the iust men.

The Lord knoweth the dayes of vp-right men, and their inheritance shall be perpetual.

They shall not be confounded in the perilous time, and in the dayes of famine they shall haue ynough.

But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall be consumed as the fat of lambes: [euē] with the smoke shall they consume awaye.

The wicked boroweth and payeth not again: but the righteous is merciful, and giveth.

For suche as be blessed [of God], shall inherit the land, and they that be cursed of him, shall be cut of.

The paths of man are directed by the Lord: for he loueth his waye.

Though he fall, he shall not be cast of: for the Lord putteth vnder his hand.

I haue bene yong and am olde: yet I saw neuer the righteous forsaken, nor his sede begging bread.

[But] he is euer merciful and lendeth, and his seide [enjoyeth] the blessing.

Flee from euil and do good, and dwell
for euer.

For the Lord loueth iudgement, & forsake[n] not his Saints: they shall be preferued for euer more: but the seide of the wicked shall be cut of.

g Meaning, except he moderate his affections, he shall be led to do as that do.

h He correcteth the impatience of our nature, which can not abide the fulnes of Gods time to come.

i Mar. 3.3.

i The godlie are assured that the power and craft of the wicked shall not preuaile against them, but shall fall on their own neckes, and therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time, and in the meane while to waite their fauour, and offer up their teares as a sacrifice of their obedience.

k For they are daylie fed as Manna from heauen, and haue sufficient, when the wicked haue neuer ynough, but are hungry.

l God knoweth what danger hang ouer him, and by what means to deliuer them.

m For God will giue them contented mindes, and that which shall be necessary.

n They shall vanish away suddenly: for they are created for this day of slaughter.

o God so furniseth him with blessings, that he is able to help others.

p God prospereth the faithful because they walke in his wayes with vpright confidence.

q V When God doeth exceed his faith with diuers temptations.

r Though man dye, yet Gods blessings are extended to his posteritie, although God suffer some loss and to lachet temporal benefices, yet he recompenseth him with spiritual treasures.

Yea David offered in that he reasoned of God, as though that he were, & were some one that was a creature.

Make me not mocking stocke, as the wicked, for wrap me not up with the voice, when they are put to shame.

Seeing my troubles came of thy providence, I ought to have trusted them patiently.

Though thine open plague light not come more upon thee, yet thy secret, continually stretch them.

The word of thy mouth, all that he desireth, as health, force, strength, beauty, and in what soever he hath desired, so that God taketh away all that he desired in this world.

For his sorrow caused him to think, & God would destroy him verily, whereby we know, hard it is for the very Sinner to keepe a measure in their wordes, when death & devils assault them.

David delivered from great danger, doeth magnifie and praise the grace of God for his deliverance, and commendeth his providence to all mankind. Then doeth he promise to give him self wholly to Gods service, and so declareth how God is truly worshipped.

Afterward he giueth thanks, and praiseth God, and having complained of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for aid and succour.

David being grievously afflicted, blesteth them, that praise his case, & And commendeth of the blessing of his friends and familiar, as came to passe in Iudas, John. 13.

After he feeling the great mercie of God gently chastising him, had no suffring his enemies to triumph against him, 17. Giueth most heartie thanks vnto God.

Not considering him afflicted, cursed, who God doeth visit, knowing there are diuine causes, why God layeth his hand upon vs, and afterwards he is restored.

Lord, let me know mine end, and the measure of my dayes; what is it: let me know how long I haue to liue.

Beholde, thou hast made my dayes as an hand breadth, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely euery man in his best state is altogether vaine. Selah.

Douteles man walketh in a shadowe, and disquieteth him self in vaine: he heapeth vp riches, and can not tel who shall gather them.

And now Lord, what waite I for: mine hope is euen in thee.

Deliuere me from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke vnto the foolish.

I shulde haue bene dumme, and not haue opened my mouth, because thou didst it.

Take thy plague away from me: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine hand.

When thou with rebukes doest chastise man for iniquitie, thou as a moth makest his beautie to consume: surely euery man is vaine. Selah.

Hear my praier, O Lord, and hearken vnto my crye: kepe not silence at my teares, for I am a stranger with thee, [and] a sojourner as all my fathers.

Stay [thine angre] from me, that I make recover my strength, before I go hence and be not.

PSAL. XL.

David delivered from great danger, doeth magnifie and praise the grace of God for his deliverance, and commendeth his providence to all mankind. Then doeth he promise to give him self wholly to Gods service, and so declareth how God is truly worshipped.

Afterward he giueth thanks, and praiseth God, and having complained of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for aid and succour.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

I waited patiently for the Lord, & he inclined vnto me, and heard my crye.

He brought me also out of the horrible pit, out of the myrie claie, and let my feet vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.

And he hath put in my mouth a new song of praise vnto our God: manie shall feare it and feare, and shall trust in the Lord.

Blessed is the man, that maketh the Lord his trust, and regardeth not the proude, nor such as turne aside to lies.

O Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderful workes [so] manie, that none can counte in order to thee thy thoughtes toward vs: I wolde declare, and speake of them.

But they are mo then I am able to expresse. Sacrifice and offering thou didest not desire: [for] mine eares hast thou prepared: burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required.

Then said I, Lo, I come: [for] in the rolle of the booke it is written of me.

I desired to do thy good wil, O my God: yea, thy Law is within mine heart.

I haue declared thy righteousness in the great Congregation: I wil not reuel mine lippes: O Lord, thou knowest.

I haue not hid thy righteousness within mine heart, [but] I haue declared thy truth, and thy saluation: I haue not concealed thy mercie and thy truth from the great Congregation.

Withdrowe not thou thy tendre mercie from me, O Lord: let thy mercie and thy truth alway preferue me.

For innumerable troubles haue compassed me: my sinnes haue taken such holde vpon me, that I am not able to looke vp. Yea, there are mo in number then the heere of mine head: therefore mine heart hath failed me.

Merit please thee, O Lord, to deliuer me: make haste, O Lord, to helpe me.

Let them be confounded & put to shame together, that seke my soule to destroy it: let them be drinen backward and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

Let them be destroyed for a reward of their shame, which saye vnto me, Aha.

Let all them, that seke thee, reioyce and be glad in thee: and let them, that loue thy saluation, saye alway, The Lord be praised.

Though I be poore and needie, the Lord thinketh on me: thou art mine helper and my deliuerer: my God, make no tarying.

He brought vpon me, As the faithfull alway praise God for the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

PSAL. XLI.

David being grievously afflicted, blesteth them, that praise his case, & And commendeth of the blessing of his friends and familiar, as came to passe in Iudas, John. 13.

After he feeling the great mercie of God gently chastising him, had no suffring his enemies to triumph against him, 17. Giueth most heartie thanks vnto God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Blessed is he that judgeth wisely of the poore: the Lord that deliuereth him in the time of trouble.

The Lord will kepe him, and preferue him: alibie he shall be blessed vpon the earth, & thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the wil of his his enemies.

3 The Lord wil strengthen him vpon the bed of sorrowe: thou hast turned all his bed in his sickness.

4 [Therefore] I said, Lord haue mercie vpon me: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.

5 Mine enemies speake euill to me, [say- ing,] When shall he dye, & his name perishe?

6 And if he come to seme, he speaketh lies, [but] his heart heapeth iniquitie within him, [and when] he cometh forth, he telleth it.

7 All they that hate me, whisper together against mee: [eu]en against mee do they imagine mine hurt.

8 A mischief is light vpon him, & he that heareth, shall no more rise.

9 Yea, my familiar friend, whome I trusted, which did eat of my bread, & haue lifted vp the heele against me.

10 Therefore, O Lord, haue mercie vpon me, & raise me vp: so I shall rewarde them.

11 By this I know that thou fauorest me, because mine enemy doeth not triumph against me.

12 And as for me, thou vpholdest me in mine integritie, and doest set me before thy face for ever.

13 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel world without end. So be it, eu]en, so be it.

PSAL. XLII.

1 The Prophet grievously complaineth, that being seised by his persecutors, he could not be present in the Congregation of Gods people, protesting that although he was separated in bodie from them, yet his heart was thirde-wardes affectioned. 7 And last of all he sheweth, that he was not so farre overcome with these sorowes & thoughts.

2 But that he continually put his confidence in the Lord.

3 To him that excelleth. A Psalm to give instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

4 As the hart brayeth for the riuers of water, so parcheth my soule after thee, O God.

5 My soule thirsteth for God, [eu]en for the liuing God: when shall I come and appeare before the presence of God?

6 My teares haue bene my meat daie and night, while they daieily say vnto me, Where is thy God?

7 When I remember these things, I powered out my verie heart, because I had gone with the multitude, and led them into the House of God, with the voice of singing, [and] praise, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.

8 Why art thou cast downe, my soule, and vnquiet within mee? waite on God, for I will yet giue him thanks, for he hath accustomed mine ear to his voice.

9 will yet giue him thanks for the helpe of his presence.

6 My God, my soule is cast downe within me, because I remember thee, from the land of Iorden, and Hermonim, [and] from the mount Mizar.

7 [One] deepe calleth [another] deepe by the noise of thy waite spoutes: all thy waues, and thy floods are gone ouer me.

8 The Lord wil grante his louing kindness in the daie, and in the night shall I sing of him, [eu]en a praier vnto the God of my life.

9 I will saie vnto God, [which is] my rocke, Why hast thou forgotten me? why go I mourning, when the enemy oppresseth [me]?

10 My bones are cut a funder, while mine enemies reproche me, saying daieily vnto me, Where is thy God?

11 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? & why art thou disquieted within me? waite on God: for I will yet giue him thanks: [the is] my present helpe, and my God.

PSAL. XLIII.

1 He prayeth to be deliuered from them which conspire against him, that he might joyfully praise God in his holy Congregation.

2 Iudge me, O God, and defend my cause against the vnnmerciful people: deliuer me from the deceitful and wicked man.

3 For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou put me awaie? why go I so mourning, when the enemy oppresseth [me]?

4 Send thy light and thy truth: let them lead me: let them bring me vnto thine holy Mountaine, and to thy Tabernacles.

5 Then will I go vnto the altar of God, [eu]en vnto the God of my ioy [and] gladnes: and vpon the harpe will I giue thanks vnto thee, O God, my God.

6 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within me? waite on God: for I will yet giue him thanks, [the is] my present helpe, and my God.

PSAL. XLIII.

1 The faithful remember the great mercie of God toward his people. 6 After, they complain, because they felt no more. 7 Also, they alledge the covenants made with Abraham, for the keeping whereof they shewe what precious things they valued. 23 Finally they pray vnto God not to conuene their affliction, seeing the same is due vnto the contempt of his honour.

I will take no bullock out of thine house, nor goates out of thy foldes.

For all the beasts of the forest are mine,
and the beasts on a thousand mountaines.

I knowe all the fowles on the mountaines:
and the wilde beasts of the field are mine.

If I be hungry, I will not tell thee: for the worlde is mine, and all that therein is.

Will I eat the flesh of bulles: or drinke
the blood of goates?

Offre vnto God praise, and paie thy vo-wes vnto the moste High.

And call vpon me in the daie of trouble:
[for] I will deliuer thee, & thou shalt glorifie
me.

4 My soule [is] among lions: I lie [among] the children of men, that are set on fyre:
whose teeth [are] speares and arrowes,
& their tongue a sharpe sworde.

5 Exalte thy self, o God, above the heauē, [&] let thy glorie [be] vpon all the earth.

6 They haue layed a net for my steppes:
my soule is pressed downe: they haue dugged a pit before me, [&] are fallen into the middes of it. Selāh.

7 Mine heart is prepared, o God, mine heart is prepared: I wil sing & giue praise.

8 Awake my tongue, awake viole & har-pe: I wil awake early.

9 I wil praise thee, o Lord, among the people, [and] I wil sing vnto thee among the nations.

10 For thy mercie is great vnto the hea-uens, [and] thy trueth vnto the cloudes.

11 Exalt thy self, o God, above the heauē,
[and] let thy glorie [be] vpon all the earth.

PSAL. LVIII.

1 He describeth the malice of his enemies, the flatterers of Saul, who both secretly & openly fought his destruction, 16 Shew-ing that the iuste shal reioyce, when they se the punishment of the wicked to the glorie of God.

To him that excelleth. Destroye not.
A Psal. of David on Michtham.

1 Sit true: o Congregation, speake ye iustly: o sonnes of men, iudge ye vp-rightly.

2 Yea, rather ye imagine mischief in your heart: your hands execute crueltie vpo the earth.

3 The wicked are strangers from the wo-be: [euen] fro the belly haue they erred, & speake lies.

4 Their poison is euen like the poison of a serpent: like the deafe adder [that] stoppeth his eare.

5 Which heareth not the voyce of the inchanter, though he be moste expert in charming.

6 Breake their teeth, o God, in their mou-thes: breake the iawes of the yong lions, o Lord.

7 Let them melt like the waters, let them passe away: when he shooteth his arrow-es, [let them be] as broken.

8 Let him consume like a snail that mel-teth, [&] like y vntimelie frute of a woman [that] hath not sene the sunne.

9 As rawe flesh before your poyres sele the fyre of thornes: [let] him earie them away as with a whirlewinde in his wrath.

10 The righteous shal reioyce when he seeth the vengeance: he shal wash his feet
in the blood of the wicked.

11 The righteous shal reioyce when he
seeth the vengeance: he shal wash his feet

12 The righteous shal reioyce when he seeth the vengeance: he shal wash his feet
in the blood of the wicked.

1 And men shal say: verely there is frute for the righteous: doubtles there is a God that iudgeth in the earth.

PSAL. LIX.

1 David being in great danger of Saul, who sent to slay him in his bed, prayeth vnto God: 3 Declareth his innocentie, & their iurie. 5 Desiring God to destroye all those that sinne of malicious wickednes. 11 VVhom he prayeth hope aliuie for a time to exercise his people, yet in the end he wil consume them in his wrath. 13 That he may be knowne to be the God of Iakob to the end of the worlde.
16 For this he singeth praises to God, assured of his mercies.

To him that excelleth. Destroye not.
A Psalme of David on Michtham. When Saul sent & they did watche the house to kill him.

1 O My God, deliuer me from mine enemies: defend me from them that rise vp against me.

2 Deliuer me from the wicked doers, and saue me from the bloodie men.

3 For lo, they haue layed waite for my soule: the mightie men are gathered against me, not for mine offense, nor for my sinne, o Lord.

4 They runne and prepare them selues without a fault [on my parte]: arise [therefore] to assist me, and beholde.

5 Euen thou, o Lord God of hostes, o
God of Israel awake to visite all the heathen, [&] be not merciful vnto all that transgresse maliciously. Selāh.

6 They go to and fro in the euening: they barcke like dogs, and go about the citie.

7 Beholde, they brag in their talke, [and] swordes [are] in their lippes: for Who [say they] doeth heare?

8 But thou, o Lord, shalt haue them in derision, [and] thou shalt laugh at all the heathen.

9 He is strong: [but] I wil waite vpon thee: for God [is] my defence.

10 My merciful God wil preuent me:
God wil let me se [my desire] vpon mine
enemies.

11 Slay them not, lest my people forget it: [but] scatter them abroad by thy power & put them downe, o Lord our shield,

12 [For] the sinne of their mouth, [&] the wordes of their lippes: and let them be taken in their pride, euen for their peri-urie & lies [that] they speake.

13 Consume [them] in thy wrath: consume [them] that they be no more: and let them know that God ruleth in Iakob, [euen] vnto the ends of the worlde. Selāh.

14 And in the euening they shal go to and fro like dogs, & go about the citie.

15 The righteous shal reioyce when he seeth the vengeance: he shal wash his feet
in the blood of the wicked.

PSAL. LX.

1 David being now King over Iudah and hauing had manie victories, sheweth by euident signes, that God elected him King, assuring the people that God wil prosper them, if they approve the same. 11 After he cometh into God to finish that he hath begonne.

1 To him that excelleth vpon Shushan Eduth, or Michram. A Psal. of David to reache. When he fought against Aram Naharaim, and against Aram Zobah, when Iosab returned and slew twelue thousand Edomites in the salt valley.

1 O God, thou hast cast vs out, thou hast scatered vs, thou hast bene angrie: turne againe vnto vs.

2 Thou hast made the land to tremble, and hast made it to gape: heale the breaches thereof, for it is shaken.

3 Thou hast shewed thy people heanie things: thou hast made vs to drinke the wine of giddines.

4 [But now] thou hast giuen a banner to them that feare thee, that it maie be displayed because of thy truth. Selah.

5 That thy beloved may be deliuered, help with thy right hand and heare me.

6 God hath spoken in his holines: [therefore] I wil reioyce: I shal deuide Shechem, and measure the valley of Succoth.

7 Gilead [shalbe] mine, and Manasseh [shalbe] mine: Ephraim also [shalbe] the strength of mine head: Iudah [is] my lawgiuer.

8 Moab [shalbe] my wash pot: ouer Edom wil I cast out my shoe: Palestina shew the self ioyful for me.

9 Who wil lead me into the strong citie:
who wil bring me vnto Edom:

10 Wilt not thou, O God, [which] hast cast vs of, & didest not go forthe, O God, with our armie.

11 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

12 Through God we shal do valiantly: for he shal treade downe our enemies.

PSAL. LXI.

1 Whether that he were in danger of the kingdome, or being purloied of Abisalom, here he cometh to be heard & deliuered. 7 And confirmed to his kingdome. 11 He promiseth perpetuall peace.

1 Vnto him that excelleth on Neginoth.
A Psalme of David.

1 Hear my crye, O God: giue eare vnto my prayer.

2 From the ends of the earth wil I crye vnto thee: whe mine heart is opprest, big-me vp the rocke that is higher then I.

3 For thou hast bene mine hope, [and] a strong tower against the enemye.

4 I wil dwell in thy Tabernacle for euer, [and] my trust shal be vnder the couering of thy wings. Selah.

5 For thou, O God, hast heard my desires: thou hast giuen an heritage vnto those that feare thy Name.

6 Thou shalt giue the King a long life:
his yerres [shalbe] as manie ages.

7 He shal dwell before God for euer: prepare mercie & faithfulness [that] they may preserve him.

8 So wil I alway sing praise vnto thy Name in performing dailey my vowes.

PSAL. LXII.

This Psalme partly containeth meditations, whereby Da-uid encourageth him self to trust in God against the in-fals of tentations. And because our mindes are easily drawn from God by the allurements of the worlde he sharply reprooueth this vauitie, to the intent he might cleaue fast to the Lord.

1 To the excellent musician Ieduthun.
A Psalme of David.

1 Yet my soule kepeth silence vnto
God: of him [cometh] my saluation.

2 Yet he is my strength and my saluatio,
[and] my defence: [therefore] I shal not much be moued.

3 How long wil ye imagine mischief against a man: yeshalbe all slaine: [ye shalbe] as a bowed wall, [or] as a wall shaken.

4 Yet they consule to cast him downe from his dignitie: their desire is in lies, thei blesse with their mouthes, but curse with their hearts. Selah.

5 Yet my soule kepe thou silence vnto
God: for mine hope [is] in him.

6 Yet is he my strength, & my saluation, [and] my defence: [therefore] I shal not be moued.

7 In God [is] my saluatio and my glorie:
rocke of my strength: in God [is] my trust.

8 Trust in him alway, ye people: a power ouer your hearts before him [for] God [is] our hope. Selah.

9 Yet the childer of men [are] vauitie: thei chief met are lies: to lay the vpon balances thei are altogether light.

10 Trust not in oppression: sorie is hope [for] he not vaine of riches: in deceit [is] his heart.

11 Give your [hearts] wholly to God: for he will consume thei that be vaine.

12 He hath made his kingdome firme: he
will consume thei that be vaine.

13 He hath made his kingdome firme: he
will consume thei that be vaine.

14 He hath made his kingdome firme: he
will consume thei that be vaine.

15 He hath made his kingdome firme: he
will consume thei that be vaine.

16 He hath made his kingdome firme: he
will consume thei that be vaine.

17 He hath made his kingdome firme: he
will consume thei that be vaine.

18 He hath made his kingdome firme: he
will consume thei that be vaine.

11 Godspake 'once or twise, I haue heard it, that power [belongeth] vnto God, 12 And to thee, o Lord, mercie: for thou're wardest euerie one accordig to his work.

PSAL. LXIII.

David after he had bene in great danger by Saul in the desert of Ziph, made this psalme. 3 Wherein he giueth thanks to God for his wonderful deliuerance, in whose mercies he trusted, euē in the middes of his miseries. 9 Propheying the destruction of Gods enemies, 11 And contranswre happines to all them that trust in the Lord.

A Psalme of Dauid. When he was in the wildernes of Iudah.

I O God, thou art my God, early wil I seke thee: my soule ^b thirsteth for thee: my flesh longeth greatly after thee in a barren and drye land without water.

2 Thus I beholde [thee as] in the Sanctuarie, when I beholde thy power & thy glorie.

3 For thy louing kindenes [is] better then life: [therefore] my lippes shal praise thee.

4. Thus wil I magnifie thee[all]my life[&] lift vp mine hands in thy Name.

My soule shalbe satisfied, as with^d marow and farnes, & my mouth shal praise [thee] with ioyful lippes.

6 When I remember thee on my bed, [& when] I thinke vpo thee in the [night] watches.

7 Because thou hast bene mine helper, therefore vnder the shadow of thy wings will I reioyce.

3 My soule cleaueth vnto thee, [for] thy right hand vpholdeth me.

Therefore they that seke my soule to destroye it, they shal go into the lowest parts of the earth.

o They shal cast him downe with the edge of the sworde, [&] they shalbe a portion for foxes.

But the King shal reioyce in God, [and] all that sweare by him shal reioyce in hi] for the mouth of them that speke lies, shal be stopped.

¶ PSAL. LXIII.

David praeth against the flurie and false reportes of his enemies. 7 He declareth their punishments & destructions.

To him that excelleth, A Psalm of Da-

Here my "voyce," O God, in my praise
I preferre my life from feare of the enemy.

Hide me from the conspiracy of the wicked, (6) from the rage of the workers of iniquity.

It's not like what they songs like a

God is ful of water: thou preparest them come: for so thou appointest it.

10 Thou waterest abundantly & forrowes thereof: thou causest the raine to descend into the valleis thereof: thou makest it soft wth showres, [and] blestest the bud thereof.

11 Thou crownest the yere with thy goodnes, and thy steps drop fatnes.

12 They drop [vpon] the pastures of the wilderness: and the hills shalbe compassed with gladnes.

13 The pastures are clad with shepe, & valleis also shalbe couered with corne: [there fore] they shewte for ioye, and sing.

PSAL. LXVI.

1 He prouoketh all men to praise the Lord and to consider his workes. 6 He setteth forth the power of God to as- fray the rebels. 10 And sheweth how God hath deli- uered Israel from great bondage and afflictions. 13 He promisseth to giue sacrifice. 16 And prouoketh all men to heare what God hath done for him and to praise his Name.

To him that excelleth. A song or Psalm.

Reioyce in God, * all ye [inhabitants] of the earth.

2 Sing forth the glorie of his Name: make his praise glorious.

3 Saie vnto God, How terrible art thou in thy workes! through the greatnes of thy power shal mine enemies be in subiectio vnto thee:

4 All the worlde shal worship thee, & sing vnto thee, [euen] sing of thy Name. Selah.

5 Come and beholde the workes of God: he is terrible in his doing toward the so- nnes of men.

6 He hath turned the Sea into drye land: thei passe through the riuier on fote: there did we reioyce in him.

7 He ruleth the worlde with his power: his ries beholde the nations: the rebellious shal not exalt them selues. Selah.

8 Praise our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard;

9 Which holdeth our soules in life, and suffereth not our fete to slippe:

10 For thou, O God, hast proued vs, thou hast tryed vs as siluer is tryed.

11 Thou hast broght vs into the snare, [and] laied a strait chaine [vpon] our loines.

12 Thou hast caused men to ride ouer our heades: we went into fyre and into water, but thou broghtest vs out into a welthie [place.]

13 I wil go into thine House with burnt offerings, [and] wil pay thee my vowes, 14 Which my lippes haue promised, & my mouth hath spoken in mine affliction.

15 I wil offer vnto thee the burnt offerings of fat rams: with incense: I wil prepare bullockes and goats. Selah.

16 Come [and] hearken, all ye that feare God, & I wil tel you what he hath done to my soule.

17 I called vnto him with my mouth, and he was exalted with my tongue.

18 If I regarde wickednes in mine heart, the Lord wil not heare me.

19 But God hath heard [me, &] considered the voice of my praiser.

20 Praised [be] God, which hath not put backe my praiser, nor his mercie from me.

PSAL. LXVII.

1 A praiser of the Church to obtayne the fauour of God to be lightened with his countenance. 3 To the end that his waie & iudgements maie be knowne throughout the earth. 7 And finally is declared the kingdome of God, which shalbe vniuersally erected at the coming of Christ.

To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalm or song.

God be merciful vnto vs, and blese vs, [and] cause his face to shine among vs. Selah.

2 That thei maie know thy waie vpon earth, [and] thy sauing health among all nations.

3 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

4 Let the people be glad and reioyce: for thou shalt iudge & people righteously, & gouerne the nations vpo the earth. Selah.

5 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

6 [Then] shal the earth bring forth her increase, [and] God, [euen] our God shal blese vs.

7 God shal blese vs, and all the ends of the earth shal feare him.

PSAL. LXVIII.

1 In this psalme David setteth forth the wonderful mercies of God toward his people. 5 Vnto the almeas & moste strange sortes declared him: self to the 15 And therefore Gods Church by reason of his promys- ses, graces and victories doeth excel without compassion all worlde things. 34 He exhorteth therfore all men to praise God for euer.

To him that excelleth. A psalm or song of David.

God wil arise, [and] his enemies shalbe scattered: thei also that hate him, shal see before him.

2 As the smoke vanisheth [so] shalt thou drive [them] away: [as] wax melteth before the fyre, [so] shal the wicked perish in the presence of God.

3 But the righteous shalbe glad, & reioyce before God: yea, thei shal sing ioye.

4 Sing vnto God, [and] sing praises vnto his Name: exalt him, that dwelleth vpon the Heauens, in his Sancte Tabernacle before him.

It is not enough to be reioiced in Gods benedictions, & to be minded that he is our Father, but we are bound to make others reioice thereby & praise God. If I desire to be wicked, God will not heare me: but if I consider his mercie, I shall be reioiced.

That is, move our hearts to his holy Spirit, & we may see his fauour towards vs. That both Jewes & Gentiles maie know Gods countenance made wth them. By these oft repetitions he sheweth, that the people can neuer reioyce sufficiently: & thus thanks for the great benedictions that thei shal receive vnder the kingdome of Christ. He sheweth, where God ruleth, there shalbe abundance of all other things. Vnto thei, that fele his great benedictions both spirital & corporal towards them.

The Prophet sheweth that albeit God suffereth the wicked to prosper for a time, yet at length he will be reioiced in them. He sheweth that how God declared his power against the wicked, that is for the glory of his Church, & the praise of his Name.

27 Lay iniquitie vpon their iniquitie, & let them not come into thy righteousness.

28 Let them be put out of the booke of life, neither let them be writen with the righteous.

29 When I am poore & in heauines, thine helpe, O God, shal exalt me.

30 I wil praise the Name of God with a song, & magnifie him with thanksgiving.

The children of Ephraim being armed & shooting with the bowe, turned backe in the day of battell.

They kept not the covenant of God,
but refused to walke in his Law.

And forgate his Actes, and his wonderful workes that he had shewed them.

He did maruelous things in the sight of their fathers in the land of Egypt: [euen]
in the field of Zóan.

* He deuised the Sea, and led them through: he made also the waters to stand as an heape.

* In the daie time also he led them with a cloude, and all the night with a light of fyre.

* He claue the rockes in the wildernes; and gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

* He brought floods also out of the stonie rocke, so that he made the waters to descend like the riuers.

Yet they sinned stil against him, and prouoked the Highest in the wildernes,

And tempted God in their heartes in requiring meat for their lust.

* They spake against God also, saying,
Can God prepare a table in the wil-dernes?

* Beholde, he smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames overflowed: can he giue bread also, or prepare flesh for his people?

Therefore the Lord heard and was an-grie, and the fyre was kindled in Iakób, and also wrath came vpon Israël.

Because they beleued not in God, and trusted not in his helpe.

Yet he had commanded the cloudes about, and had opened the dores of heauen,

And had rained downe MAN vpon them for to eat, and had giuen them of the wheat of heauen.

* Man did eat the bread of Angels: he sent them meat ynough.

He caused the Eastwinde to passe in the heauen, and through his power he brought in the Southwinde.

He rained flesh also vpon them as dust, and feathered foule as the sand of the sea.

And he made it fall in middes of their campe, [euen] round about their habitations.

So thei did eat and were wel filled: for he gaue them their desire.

They were not turned from their lust, [but] the meat [was] yet in their mouthes.

When the wrath of God came euē vpon them, and slew the strongest of them, and smote downe the chosen men in Israël.

For all this, thei sinned stil, and beleued not his wonderous workes.

Therefore their daies did he consume in vanitie, and their yerres hastily.

And when he slew them, thei sought him, & thei returned, & sought God early.

And thei remembered that God [was] their strength, & the moste high God their redemer.

But thei flattered him with their mouth and dissembled with him with their conscience.

For their heart was not vpriight with him: neither were they faithful in his couenant.

Yet he being merciful forgave [their] iniquitie, and destroyed [them] not, but oft times called backe his angre, and did not stirre vp all his wrath,

For he remembered that thei were flesh [yea,] a winde that passeth and commeth not againe.

How oft did they prouoke him in the wildernes? [&] grieue him in the desert?

Yea, they returned, and tempted God, and limited the Holie one of Israël.

Thei remembered not his hand, [nor] the daie when he deliuered them from the enemy.

[Nor] him that set his signes in Egypt
& his wonders in the field of Zóan.

And turned their riuers into blood, and their floods, that thei coulde not drinke.

He sent a swarme of flies among them, which deuoured them, & frogs, which destroyed them.

He gaue also their frutes vnto the caterpillar, and their labour vnto the gras-hopper.

He destroyed their vines with haile, & their wilde figgetrees with the hailestone.

He gaue their cattell also to the haile, and their flockes to the thunderboltes.

He cast vpon them the fiercenes of his angre, indignation and wrath, and vexation by the sending out of euil Angels.

He made a waie to his angre: he spared not their soule from death, [but] gaue their life to the pestilence.

Suche is the nature of confidence, the more it is hatred, & more it is hated.
Though they

by no plagues they can be mended.
Suche was their hypocrite, that thei sought vnto

And

51 And smote all the firstborne in Egypt, [euen] the beginning of [their] strength in the tabernacles of Ham.

52 But he made his people to go out like sheepe, and led them in the wilderness like a flocke.

53 Yea, he caried them out safely, and they feared not, and the Sea covered their enemies.

54 And he broght them vnto the borders of his Sanctuarie, [euen] to this mountaine, [which] his right hand purchased.

55 He cast out the heathen also before them & caused them to fall to the lot of [his] inheritance, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tabernacles.

56 Yet they tempted, and prouoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies,

57 But turned backe and delt falsely like their fathers: they turned like a deceitful bowe.

58 And thei prouoked him to angre with their high places, & moued him to wrath with their grauen images.

59 God heard [this] and was wroth, & greatly abhorred Israel,

60 So that he forsoke the habitation of Shiloh, [euen] the Tabernacle where he dwelt among men, 61 And deliuered his power into captiuitie, and his beautie into the enemies hand.

62 And he gaue vp his people to the sworde, and was angrie with his inheritance.

63 The fyre deuoured their chosen men, and their maidens were not praised.

64 Their Priests fell by the sworde, & their widowes lamented nor.

65 But the Lord awaked as one out of slepe, [and] as a strong man that after [his] wine cryeth out, 66 And smote his enemies in the hinder partes, [and] put them to a perpetual shame.

67 Yet he refused the tabernacle of Ioseph, and chose nor the tribe of Ephraim:

68 But chose the tribe of Iudah, [&] mount Zion which he loned.

69 And he buylt his Sanctuarie as an high [palace,] like the earth, which he stablished for euer.

70 He chose Dauid also his seruant, & took him from the shepfoldes.

71 Euen from behinde the ewes withyong broght he him to fede his people in Iakob, and his inheritance in Israel.

72 So he fed the according to the simpli-citie of his heart, and guided them by the discretion of his hands.

PSAL. LXXIX.

The Israelites complaine to God for the great calamitie and oppression that they suffered by Gods enemies. 1 And confessing their finnes, flee to Gods mercies with full hope of deliuerance. 10 Because their calamities were ioyned with the contempt of his Name. 13 For the which they promise to be thankfull.

A Psalm committed to Alaph.

1 O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holic Temple haue they defiled, [&] made Ierusalem heapes [of stones.]

2 The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to be meat vnto foules of the Heauen: [and] the flesh of thy Sainctes vnto the beastes of the earth.

3 Their blood haue they shed like waters round about Ierusalem, and there was none to burye them.

4 We are a reproche to our neighbours, [euen] a scorne and derision vnto them that are round about vs.

5 Lord, how long wilt thou be angrie for euer: shall thy gelousie burne like fyre?

6 Powre out thy wrath vpon the heathen that haue not knowen thee, and vpon the kingdomes that haue not called vpon thy Name.

7 For they haue deuoured Iakob and made his dwelling place desolate.

8 Remeber not against vs the former iniquities, [but] make haste [&] let thy tender mercies preuent vs: for we are in great miserie.

9 Helpe vs, O God of our saluation, for the glorie of thy Name, and deliuer vs, and be merciful vnto our finnes for thy names sake.

10 Wherefore shulde the heathen saie, Where is their God? let him be known among the heathen in our sight by the vengeance of the blood of thy seruants that is shed.

11 Let the fighting of the prisoners come before thee: according to thy mightie arme preserue the children of death:

12 And render to our neighbours seven folde into their bosome their reproche, wherewith they haue reproched thee, O Lord.

13 So we thy people, and shepe of thy pasture shal praise thee for euer: and from generation to generation we willect for thy praise.

PSAL. LXXX.

A lamentable prayer to God to helpe the persecuted Church. 1 Desiring him to remember their first estate when his fauour shined toward them, to this instant when they might say that work of his hand had begunne.

a He sheweth wherein a charge standeth to wit, to provide faithfully for his people, to guide them by counsel, & defend them by power.

a The people trye vnto God against & barbarous tyrannie of Babylonians, who spoiled Gods inheritance, polluted his Temple, destroyed his religion & murdered his people. b The Prophet sheweth to what extremities God suffered some time his Church to fall, to exercise their faith before he set to his hand to deliuer them.

c Their freinds & kinsfolkes durst not burie them for feare of enemies. d Whereof some came of Abraham, but were degenerate: & others were open enemies to thy religion, but they both laughed at our miseries. e VVilt thou ly consume vs for our finnes, before thou takest vnto mercie?

f Iere 10. 25. f VVhich we & our fathers haue committed. g And staie not till we haue recompensed for our finnes. h Seig we haue none other Saviour, neither can we helpe our selues, and also by our consolation thy Name shal be praised therefore. i Lord helpe vs. iVho thought in respect of God that were justly punished for they iniquities.

GAPEL

¶ A Psalm committed to Asaph.

God standeth in the assemblie of gods: he iudgeth among gods.

How long wil ye iudge vniustly, and accept the persones of the wicked? Sélah.

Do right to the poore and fatherles: do iustice to the poore and nedie.

Deliuér the poore and nedie: saue [thé] from the hand of the wicked.

They knowe not & vnderstand nothing: they walke in darknes, [albeit] all the fundations of the earth be moued.

I haue said, Ye are gods, and ye all are children of the most High.

But ye shal dye as a man, & ye princes, shal fall like others.

O God, arise, [therefore] iudge thou the earth: for thou shalt inherite all nations.

¶ PSAL. LXXXIII.

The people of Israel praise vnto the Lord to deliuer them from their enemies bothe at home and farre of which is a giord nothing but their destruction. 9 And thei desire that all suche wicked people maie, according as God was accustomed, be stricken with the stormie tempest of Gods wrath. 11 That thei maie knowe that the Lord is mozte high vpon the earth.

¶ A song, or Psalm committed to Asaph.

Kepe not thou silence, O God: be not still and cease not, O God.

For lo, thine enemies make a tumult: & they hate thee, haue lifted vp the head.

Thei haue taken craftie counsel against thy people, and haue consulted against thy secret ones.

Thei haue said, Come and let vs cut them off from being a nation: and let the name of Israel be no more in remembrance.

For thei haue consulted together in heart, [&] haue made a league against thee:

The tabernacles of Edom, & the Ishmaelites, Moab and the Agarims:

Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalech, the Philistims with the inhabitants of Tyrus:

Ashur also is ioyned with them: thei haue bene an arme to the children of Lor. Sélah.

Do thou to them as vnto the Midianites: as to Siserah, [&] as to Iabin at the riuer of Kishon.

Thei perished at Endor, [&] were done for the earth.

Make them [euen] their princes like Oré and like Zéeb: yea, all their princes like Zebab, and like Zafnunah,

Which haue said, Let vs take for our possession the habitations of God.

O my God, make them like vnto a whele, [&] as the stubble before the winde.

As the fyre burneth the forest, and as the flame letteth the mountaines on fyre:

So persecute the with thy tempest, and make them afraied with thy storme.

Fil their faces with shame, that thei maie seke thy name, O Lord.

Let them be confounded and troubled for euer: yea, let them be put to shame and perih.

That they maie knowe that thou which art called Iehouah, art alone, [euen] the mozte High ouer all the earth.

¶ PSAL. LXXXIII.

David driuen forth of his country, a Debreth moued to come againe to the Tabernacle of the Lord & the assemblie of the Saints to praise God. 4 Pronouncing them blessed that maie so do. 6 Then he praiseth the courage of the people, that passe through the wilderness to assemblie them selues in Zion. 10 Finally with praise of this matter & confidence of Gods goodnes he endeth the Psalm.

To him that excelleth vpon Githith. A Psalm committed to the Ionnes of Korah.

O Lord of hostes, how amiable [are] thy tabernacles!

My soule longeth, yea, & fainteth for the courtes of the Lord: [for] mine heart and my flesh reioyce in the liuing God.

Yea, the sparowe hath founde [her] a house, and the swallowe a nest for her: where she maie lay her yong: [euen] by thine altars, O Lord of hostes, my King [and] my God.

Blessed [are] thei that dwell in thine house, they wil euer praise thee. Sélah.

Blessed [is] the man, whose strength [is] in thee, [&] in whose heart [are] thy waies.

They going through the vale of Baca, make welles therein: the raine also couereth the pooles.

They go from strength to strength, [euen] euerie one appeare before God in Zion.

O Lord God of hostes, heare my prayer: hearken, O God of Iakob. Sélah.

Beholde, O God, our shield, & loke vpon the face of thine Anointed.

For a daie in thy courtes is better then a thousand [other where:] I had rather be a doorekeeper in the House of my God, then to dwell in the tabernacles of wickednes.

For the Lord God is the sunne & shield [vnto vs:] the Lord wil giue grace & glorie, & no good thing wil he withhold.

¶ That is, for Christs sake, whose figure I represent. I live but one daie rather in Gods Church, then a thousand dayes.

I But wil from time to time increase his blessing more and more.

& That is, for whom his Church is there dwell he among the.

1 Because the reprobate colds by no means be amended, he praieth & thei maie verrier be destroyed, be unstable, & led with all windes.

2 That is, be compelled by thy plagues to confesse thy power. 3 Though they beleeue not, yet thei maie proue by experience, that it is in vaine to resist against thy counsel in blaspheming thy Church.

4 David complaineth & he can not haue access to the Church of God to make profession of his faith & to profit in iustigion.

5 For none but the priests could enter into the Sanctuary, & the rest of the people into the courtes.

6 So that the poore birdes haue more liberty then I.

7 Vho trusteth nothing in him self, but in thee only, & learneth of thee to rule his life.

8 That is, of mulberie trees which was a barren place: so that they passed through, must dig pits for water: saying, I no lets, can hinder thee that are fully bent to come to Christs Church.

9 They are not as the wicked, which are as the doorekeepers in the House of my God, then to dwell in the tabernacles of wickednes.

10 For the Lord God is the sunne & shield [vnto vs:] the Lord wil giue grace & glorie, & no good thing wil he withhold.

¶ That is, for Christs sake, whose figure I represent. I live but one daie rather in Gods Church, then a thousand dayes.

I But wil from time to time increase his blessing more and more.

¶ That is, for Christs sake, whose figure I represent. I live but one daie rather in Gods Church, then a thousand dayes.

from them that walke vprightly:
12 O Lord of hostes, blessed [is] the man that trusteth in thee.

PSAL. LXXXV.

Because God withdrew not his rods from his Church after their returne from Babylon, first they put him in min-de of their deliuerance, to the intent that he shulde not leane the worke of his grace vnperfite. Next thei complaine of their long affliction: And thirdly they reioyce in hope of felicitie promised. For their deliuerance was a figure of Christs kingdome, vnder the which shulde be perfect felicitie.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm committed to the sonnes of Korah.

Lord, thou hast bene a fauourable vnto thy land: thou hast broght againe
the captiuitie of Iakob.

Thou hast forgien the iniquitie of thy people, [and] couered all their sinnes.
Selah.

Thou hast withdrawn all thine angre, & hast turned backe from the fiercenes of thy wrath.

Turne vs, O God of our saluation, & release thine angre towards vs.

Wilt thou be angrie with vs for euer?
[&] wilt thou prolong thy wrath from one generation to another?

Wilt thou not turne againe [and] quicken vs, that thy people maie reioyce in thee?

Shewe vs thy mercie, O Lord, and grante vs thy saluation.

I wil hearken what the Lord God wil saie: for he wil speake peace vnto his people, & to his Saints, that they turne not againe to folie.

Surely his saluation is nere to them that feare him, that glorie maie dwell in our land.

Mercie & trueth shal mete: righteousnes and peace shal kisse [one another].

Trueth shal bud out of the earth, and righteousnes shal loke downe from heauen.

Yea, the Lord shal giue good things, and our land shal giue her increase.

Righteousnes shal go before him, and shal set her steps in the waie.

God thus exercise them with his rods, yet vnder the kin-dome of Christ thei shulde haue peace & ioye. In Iustitie shal then flourish & haue the court & passage in their place.

PSAL. LXXXVI.

David low afflicted & forsaken of all, prayeth feruently for deliuerance: sometimes schawing his miseries: Sometimes the mercies received. Desiring also to be in-strued of the Lord, that he maie feare him and glorifie his Name. He complaieth also of his afflictions, & requesteth to be deliuered from them.

A prayer of David.

Incline thine eare, O Lord, [and] heare me: for I am poore and needie.

Preserue thou my soule, for I am merciful: my God, saue thou thy seruant, that trusteth in thee.

Be merciful vnto me, O Lord: for I crye vpon thee continually.

Reioyce the soule of thy seruant: for vnto thee, O Lord, do I lift vp my soule.

For thou, Lord, are good and merciful, & of great kindenes vnto all them, that call vpon thee.

Giue eare, Lord, vnto my prayer, & hearken to the voyce of my supplication.

In the daye of my trouble I wil call vpon thee: for thou hearest me.

Among the gods there is none like thee,
O Lord, and there is none [that can do] like thy workes.

All nations, whome thou hast made, shal come and worship before thee, O Lord, and shal glorifie thy Name.

For thou art great and doest wonder-ous things: thou art God alone.

Teache me thy waie, O Lord, [and]
I wil walke in thy trueth: knit mine heart vnto thee, that I maie feare thy Name.

I wil praise thee, O Lord my God, with all mine heart: yea, I wil glorifie thy Name for euer.

For great is thy mercie toward me, and thou hast deliuered my soule from the lowest graue.

O God, the proude are risen against me, and the assemblies of violent men haue sought my soule, and haue not set thee before them.

But thou, O Lord, art a pitiful God and merciful, slowe to angre and great in kin-denes and trueth.

Turne vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me: giue thy strength vnto thy seruant, & saue the sonne of thine handmaid.

Shewe a token of [thy] goodnes tow-arde me, that they which hate me, maie see it, & be ashamed, because thou, O Lord, hast holpen me and comforted me.

Take of Gods feare is a priuiledge to all vice and crueltie.
not of his owne vertues, but confesse that God of his free goodnes hath e-uer bene merciful vnto him & giuen him power against his enemies, as to one of his owne householde.

PSAL. LXXXVII.

Church, which was in miserie after the captiuitie of Babylon, shulde be restored to grea: excellencie, & so that there all the habitations of Iakob.

Glorious things are spoken of thee, O

South: A Taber and Hermon Oil Refinery in thy Name.

[illegible]

13 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thine hand, [and] high is thy right hand.

14 Righteousnes and equitie [are] the establishment of thy throne: mercie & trueth go before thy face.

15 Blessed [is] the people, that can reioyce in thee: they shal walke in the light of thy countenance, O Lord.

16 They shal reioyce continually in thy Name, and in thy righteousness shal they exalt them selues.

17 For thou art the glorie of their strength, and by thy fauour our hornes shalbe exalted.

18 For our shield [apperteineth] to the Lord, and our King to the Holie one of Israel.

19 Thou spakest the in a vision vnto thine Holie one, and saidst, I haue laied helpe vpon one that is mightie: I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.

20 I haue founde Dauid my seruant: with mine holie oyle haue I anointed him.

21 Therefore mine hand shalbe established with him, and mine arme shal strengthen him.

22 The enemy shal not oppresse him, neither shal the wicked hurt him.

23 But I wil destroye his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

24 My trueth also and my mercie [shalbe] with him, and in my Name shal his horne be exalted.

25 I wil set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the floods.

26 He shal crye vnto me, Thou art my Father, my God and the rocke of my saluation.

27 Also I wil make him my firstborne, higher then the Kings of the earth.

28 My mercie wil I kepe for him for euermore, and my couenat shal stand fast with him.

29 His sede also wil I make to endure for euer, and his throne as the dayes of heauen.

30 But if his children forsake my Lawe, and walke not in my iudgements:

31 If they breake my statutes, and kepe not my commandements:

32 Then wil I visit their transgression with the rod, and their iniquitie with strokes.

33 Yet my louing kindenes wil I not take from him, neither wil I falsifie my trueth.

34 My couenat wil I not breake, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lippes.

35 I haue sworne once by mine holines, I shal not faile Dauid, [saying,]

Thou shalt be my Father, my God, and not to mine power in performing. † Ebr. which is a manner of swearing.

36 His sede shal endure for euer, and his throne [shalbe] as the sunne before me.

37 He shalbe established for euermore as the moone, & [as] a faithful witness in the heauen. Selah.

38 But thou hast reiected and abhorred, thou hast bene angrie with thine Anointed.

39 Thou hast broken the couenant of thy seruant, & profaned his crowne, [casting it] on the grounde.

40 Thou hast broke downe all his walles: thou hast layed his fortresses in ruine.

41 All that go by the way, spoile him: he is a rebuke vnto his neighbours.

42 Thou hast set vp the right hand of his enemies, [and] made all his aduersaries to reioyce.

43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sworde, and hast not made him to stand in the battell.

44 Thou hast caused his dignitie to decay, and cast his throne to the grounde.

45 The dayes of his youth hast thou shortened, [and] couered him with shame. Selah.

46 Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy self, for euer: shal thy wrath burne like fyre?

47 Remember of what time I am: wherefore shuldest thou creat in vaine all the children of men?

48 What man liueth, & shal not see death: shal he deliuer his soule from the hand of the graue? Selah.

49 Lord, where are thy former mercies, [which] thou swarest vnto Dauid in thy trueth?

50 Remember, O Lord, the rebuke of thy seruants, which I beare in my bosome of all the mightie people.

51 For thine enemies haue reproched [thee,] O Lord, because they haue reproched the footsteps of thine Anointed.

52 Praised [be] the Lord for euermore. So be it, euen so be it.

As long as the sunne & moone endure they shalbe witnesses to me of this promise. d Because of the horrible confusion of things, the Prophet complaith vnto God as though he sawe not the performance of his promise. And thus charging his cares on God, he resisteth doubt & impatientie. e By this he meaneth a horrible discomfiture and renting of kingdome, which was vnder Ieroboams oracles by a Spirit of prophesie. Ethan speaketh of those great miseries, & came some afterwarde to passe at the captiuitie of Babylon. f He sheweth that his kingdome failed before it came to perfection or was ripe. g The Prophet in ioyning prayer vnto his complaint, sheweth his faith neuer failed. h Seeing mans life is short, & he hath created man to bestowe thy benefites vpon him, except thou helpe to helpe death wil preuent that. i He meaneth Gods enemies did not onely slander him by blinde his backe, but also mocked him to his face, & as it were taunted their injuries in his bosome. k So he calleth them that persecute the Church. l They laugh at vs, & patiently waite for the coming of thy Christ. m Thus the Scripture voucheth to call the Prophets. n Thou hast bene as an house and defence vnto vs in all our troubles & calamities now this foure hundred yeres. o Thou hast chosen vs to be thy people before foundations of the worlde were layed. p d Moses by lamenting the frailtie & shortnes of mans life moueth God to pitty.

2 The floods haue lifted vp, O Lord: the floods haue lifted vp their voice: the floods lift vp their waues.
3 The waues of the sea [are] maruelous through the noise of manie waters, [yet] the Lord on high is more mightie.
4 Thy testimonies are verie sure: holines becommeth thine house, O Lord, for ever.

PSAL. XCIII.

He praiseth vnto God against their violence and arrogancie of tyrants. VVarning them of Gods iudgements. Then doth he comfort the afflicted by the good issue of their afflictions, as he is in himself, & did see in others, & by the ruine of the wicked. VVhome the Lord will destroy.

O Lord God the aduenger, O God the aduenger, shewe thyself clearly.
Exalt thyself, O Iudge of the worlde, & render a rewarde to the proude.
Lord, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph?
They prate & speake fiercely: all the workers of iniquitie vante themselves.
They smite downe thy people, O Lord, and trouble thine heritage.

6 They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherles.
7 Yet they saie, The Lord shall not see: neither wil the God of Iakob regarde it.
8 Vnderstand ye vnwise among the people: and ye fooles, when wil ye be wise?
9 He that planted the eare, shall he not heare? or he that formed the eye, shall he not see?
10 Or he that chastiseth the nations, shall he not correct? he that teacheth man knowledge, shall he not knowe?
11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanitie.
12 Blessed [is] the man, whome thou chastisest, O Lord, and teacheest him in thy Law, 13 That thou maiest giue him rest from the daies of euil, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked.
14 Surely the Lord wil not faile his people, neither wil he forsake his inheritance.
15 For iudgement shall returne to iustice, and all the vpriight in heart shall followe after it.

16 Who wil rise up with me against the wicked? [or] who wil take my parte against the workers of iniquitie?
17 If the Lord had not holpen me, my soule had almost dwelt in silence.
18 When I said, My fote slideth, thy mercie, O Lord, staied me.
19 In the multitude of my thoughts in mine heart, thy comfortes haue reioyced my soule.
20 Hathe the throne of iniquitie fellowship with thee, which forgetteth wrong for a law?
21 They gather them together against the soule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood.
22 But the Lord [is] my refuge, and my God [is] the rocke of mine hope.
23 And he wil recompense them their wickednes, and destroye them in their owne malice: [yea] O Lord our God shall destroye them.

It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpose is broken, but more, when they are destroyed in their owne malice.

PSAL. XCV.

An earnest exhortation to praise God. For the gouernment of the worlde, and the election of his Church. An admonition not to followe the rebellion of the olde fathers, that tempted God in the wilderness: For the which they might not enter into the land of promise.

Come, let vs reioyce vnto the Lord: let vs sing aloud vnto the rocke of our saluation.
Let vs come before his face with praise: let vs sing loude vnto him with psalmes.
For the Lord [is] a great God, and a great King aboue all gods.

He sheweth that they are desperate in malice, forasmuch as they feared not God, but gave themselves wholly to bowlickeiery. He sheweth that it is impossible, but God should heare, & vnderstand their wickednes. If God punish whole nations for their sins, it is more foile for any one man, or any a fawle to think that God will spare them. A God haue eare ouer his and chastise them for their sinne, & they should not perish for euer with this wicked. God wil restore the state & gouernment of things to their right vie, & then the godlie shall followe him cheertully. He complaieth of them, which wolde not helpe him to rebite the enemies: yet was assured that Gods helpe wolde not faile. VVhen I thought there was no way but death. In my trouble & distress I euer founde thy present helpe. Though the wicked iudge prentend iustice in oppressing the Church, yet they haue not that autoritie of God. Of the wicked is broken, but more, when they are destroyed in their owne malice.

He sheweth Gods sinners standeth not in dead ceremonies, but chiefly in the service of praise & thanksgiving. Euen Angels (who in respect of men are thought as gods) are nothing in his sight: much lesse the idols, which man hath invented.

8 Let the floods clap their hands, [&] let the mountaines reioyce together

9 Before the Lord: for he is come to iudge the earth: with righteousnes shall he iudge the worlde and the people with equitie.

PSAL. XCIX.

1 He commendeth the power, equitie and excellencie of the kingdome of God by Christ ouer the Iewes and Gentiles, 5 And prouoketh them to magnifie the same & to serue the Lord, 6 Following the example of the ancient Fathers, Moses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling vpon God, were heard in their prayers.

THe Lord reigneth, let the people tremble: he sitteth [betwene] Cherubims, let the earth be moued.

2 The Lord [is] great in Zion, & he is high above all the people.

3 Thei shall praise thy great and feareful Name ([for] it is holie)

4 And the Kings power, that loueth iudgement: [for] thou hast prepared equitie: thou hast executed iudgement & iustice in Iakob.

5 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before, his foteftole [for] he is holie.

6 Moses & Aaron [were] among his Priests, and Samuel among such as call vpon his Name: these called vpon the Lord, & he heard them.

7 He spake vnto them in the cloudie pillar: thei kept his testimonies, [&] the Lawe [that] he gaue them.

8 Thou heardest them, O Lord our God: thou wast a fauourable God vnto them, though thou didest take vengeance for their inuentions.

9 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his holie Mountaine: for the Lord our God is holie.

PSAL. C.

1 He exhortheth al to serue the Lord, 3 VWho hath chosen vs & preferred vs, 4 And to entre vnto his assemblies to praise his Name.

A Psalm of praise.

Sing ye loude vnto the Lord, all the Seath.

2 Serue the Lord with gladnes: come before him with ioyfulness.

3 Knowe ye that euen the Lord is God: he hath made vs, & not we ourselues: [we are] his people, and the shepe of his pasture.

8 Mine enemies reuile me dailey, [&] they rage against me, haue sworn against me.

9 Surely I haue eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weping,

10 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast heaued me vp, and cast me downe.

11 My daies [are] like a shadowe that fadeth, and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou, O Lord, dost remaine for euer, and thy remembrance from generation to generation.

13 Thou wilt arise [&] haue mercie vpon Zión: for the time to haue mercie thereon, for the appointed time is come.

14 For thy seruants delight in the stones thereof, and haue pitie on the dust thereof.

15 Then the heathen shall feare the Name of the Lord, & all the Kings of the earth thy glorie,

16 While the Lord shall build vp Zión, [&] shall appeare in his glorie, 17 [And] shall turne vnto the praier of the desolate, and not despise their praier.

18 This shall be written for the generation to come: & the people, which shall be created, shall praise the Lord.

19 For he hath looked downe from the height of his Sanctuarie: out of the heauē did the Lord beholde the earth,

20 That he might heare the mourning of the prisoner, and deliuer the children of death:

21 That they maie declare the Name of the Lord in Zión, and his praise in Ierusalem, 22 When the people shall be gathered together, and the kingdomes to serue the Lord.

23 He abated my strength in the waie, [&] shortened my daies.

24 [And] I said, O my God, take me not away in the maddes of my daies: thy yeres [endure] from generation to generation.

25 Thou hast afore time laied the foundation of the earth, and the heauens [are] thy worke of thine hands.

26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: euen they all shall waxe olde as doeth a garment, as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed.

27 But thou art the same, and thy yeres shall not faile.

28 The children of thy seruants shall continue, and their sede shall stand fast in thy sight.

In that that we, which naturally are slowe to praise God, exhort the Angels, & willingly do it, we stirre up our selves to consider our duetie, & awake out of our sluggishnes.

The Prophet sheweth that we neede not to enter into the heauens to seeke God, for as much as all the ordre of nature, with y^e proprietye and placing of the elements, are most liuely mirrors to se his maiestie in. As the Prophet here sheweth y^e all visible powers are readie to serue God: so the Apostle to y^e Ebr. 1.7. beholde in this glasse, how y^e verie Angels also are obedient to his commanement.

Thou makest the sea to be an ornament vnto y^e earth. If by thy power y^e didst not bridle the rage of y^e waters, it were not possible, but the whole world shulde be de stroied.

God provide for y^e verie brasse, much more wil he extend his prouident care to man. There is no part of the world so barren, where most euident signes of Gods blessings appeare not.

From the cloudes, he describeth Gods prouident care ouer man, who doeth not only provide for the necessitie of things, but also for the reioyce of the heart, as heere y^e wine & bread [that] strengtheneth mans heart. The high trees are satisfied, [euē] the cedres of Lebanon, which he hath planted.

21 Praise the Lord, all his hostes, ye his seruants that do his pleasure.

22 Praise the Lord, all his workes, in all places of his dominion: my soule, praise thou the Lord.

PSAL. CIII.

An excellent Psalm to praise God for the creation of the worlde & the gouernance of the same by his maruelous prouidence, 35 VVherein the Prophet praiseth against the wicked, who are occasions that God diminisheth his blessings.

MY soule, praise thou y^e Lord: o Lord my God, thou art excedding great, thou art clothed with glorie & honour.

2 Which couereth him self with light as with a garment, [&] spreadeth the heauens like a curtaine.

3 Which laieth the beames of his chambers in the waters, and maketh the cloudes his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.

4 Which maketh the spirits his messengers, [&] a flaming fyre his ministers.

5 He set the earth vpon her foundations, so that it shal neuer moue.

6 Thou coueredst it with y^e deepe as with a garment: the waters wolde stand aboute the mountaines.

7 [But] at thy rebuke they flee: at the voice of thy thunder they haste awaie.

8 [And] the mountaines ascend, [&] the valles descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

9 [But] thou hast set them a bonde, which they shal not passe: they shal not returne to couer the earth.

10 He sendeth the springs into the valles, which runne betwene the mountaines.

11 They shal giue drinke to all the beastes of the field, and the wilde asses shal quench their thirst.

12 By these springs shal the foules of the heauen dwell, and sing among the branches.

13 He watereth the mountaines from his chambers, [&] the earth is filled with the frute of thy workes.

14 He causeth grasse to growe for the cattel, and herbe for the vse of man, that he maie bring forth the bread out of the earth,

15 And wine [that] maketh glad the heart of mā, [&] oyle to make the face to shine, & bread [that] strengtheneth mans heart.

16 The high trees are satisfied, [euē] the cedres of Lebanon, which he hath planted.

17 That the birdes maie make their nestes there: the stork dwelleth in the fyre trees.

18 The high mountaines [are] for y^e goats: the rockes [are] a refuge for the conies.

19 He appointed the moone for certaine seasons: the sunne knoweth his going downe.

20 Thou makest darkenes, and it is night, wherein all the beastes of the forest cripe forth.

21 The lions roare after their preie, and seke their meate at God.

22 [When] the sunne riseth, they retire, and couche in their denues.

23 [Then] goeth man forth to his worke, and to his labour vntil the euening.

24 O Lord, how manifolde are thy workes! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is ful of thy riches.

25 [So is] this sea great & wide: [for] therein [are] things creeping, innumerable, bothe small beastes and great.

26 There go y^e shippes, [yea] that Liuitan, whome thou hast made to plaine the rein.

27 All these waite vpon thee, that thou maiest giue them fode in due season.

28 Thou giuest it to them, [&] they gather it: thou openest thine hand, [&] they are filled with good things.

29 [But if] thou hide thy face, they are troubled: [if] thou take awaie their breath, they dye and returne to their dust.

30 [Againe if] thou send forth thy spirit, they are created, and thou renewest the face of the earth.

31 Glorie be to the Lord for euē: let the Lord reioyce in his workes.

32 He loketh on the earth and it trembleth: he toucheth y^e mountaines, & they smoke.

33 I wil sing vnto the Lord [all] my life: I wil praise my God, while I liue.

34 Let my wordes be acceptable vnto him: I wil reioyce in the Lord.

35 Let the sinners be consumed out of the earth, & the wicked til there be no more: o my soule, praise thou the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

He praiseth the singular grace of God, who hath of all the people of the worlde chosen a peculiar people to him self, and hauing chosen them, neuer ceaseth to do the good, euen for his promises sake.

1 Praise y^e Lord, & call vpō his Name: declare his workes among the people.

2 Sing vnto him, sing praise vnto him, [&] talke of all his wonderous workes.

3 Reioyce in his holie Name: let the heart of them that seke the Lord, reioyce.

4 Seke the Lord & his strength: seke his face continually.

5 Remember his maruelous workes, that he hath done, his wonders and the iudgements of his mouth,

6 Ye seide of Abraham his seruant, ye children of Iakob, which are his elect.

7 He is the Lord our God: his iudgements [are] through al the earth.

8 He hath alwaie remembred his couenant [&] promises, that he made to a thousand generations,

9 [Euen] that which he made with Abraham and his othe vnto Izhak:

10 And [since] hath confirmed it to Iakob for a Law, [&] to Israel for an euertlasting couenant, 11 Saying, vnto thee wil I giue the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.

12 Albeit thei were fewe in number, [yea] verie fewe & strangers in the land,

13 And walked about fro nation to nation, from [one] kingdome to another people,

14 [Yet] suffred he no man to do them wrong, but reprobued Kings for their fakes, [saying]

15 Touche not mine Anointed, & do my Prophetes no harme.

16 More ouer he called a famine vpon the land, [&] vtterly brake the staf of bread.

17 [But] he sent a man before them: Ioseph was solde for a slaue.

18 Thei helde his fete in the stockes, [&] he was laied in yrons,

19 Vntill his appointed time came, [&] the counsel of the Lord had tryed him.

20 The King sent and lofed him: [euen] the Ruler of the people deliuered him.

21 He made him Lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance,

22 That he shulde binde his princes vnto his wil, & teache his Ancients wisdom:

23 Then Israel came to Egypt, and Iakob was a stranger in the land of Ham.

24 And he increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger then their oppressers.

25 He turned their heart to hate his people, and to deale craftely with his seruants.

26 [Then] sent he Moses his seruant, [&] Aaron whome he had chosen.

27 They shewed among them the message of his signes, and wonders in the land of Ham.

31 He spake, & there came swarmes of flies [&] lice in all their quarters.

32 He gaue them haile for raine, [and] flames of fyre in their land.

33 He smote their vines also and their fig-trees, and brake downe the trees in their coastes.

34 He spake, and the gresfhoppers came, and caterpillers innumerable,

35 And did eat vp all the grasse in their land and deuoured the frute of their ground.

36 He smote also all the firstborne in their land, [euen] the beginning of all their strength.

37 He brought them forth also with siluer and golde, and there was none feble among their tribes.

38 Egypt was glad at their departing: for the feare of them had fallen vpon them.

39 He spread a cloude to be a couering, and fyre to giue light in the night.

40 They asked, and he brought quailles, & he filled them with the bread of heauen.

41 He opened the rocke, and the waters flowed out, [and] ran in the drye places [like] a riuer.

42 For he remembred his holie promises to Abraham his seruant.

43 And he brought forth his people with ioye, [&] his chosen with gladnes,

44 And gaue them the lands of the heathen, and they toke the labours of the people in possession, 45 That they might kepe his statutes, and obserue his Lawes. Praise ye the Lord.

Confession of finnes.

Psalmes.

The zeale of Phineas.

d By earnest confession of their owne, as of their fathers finnes, they shew that they had hope that God according to his promises wolde pite them.

e The inestimable goodness of God appeareth in this, that he wolde change the order of nature, rather than his people shoulde not be delivered, although they were wicked.

* Exod. 14. 27. f The wonderful workes of God caused this to beleeve for a time and to praise him.

g They wolde praeise his wisdom and providence.

h The abundance that God gaue them, profited not, but made the pine away, because God cursed it.

i By greatness of the punishment the heinous offence must be considered: for they that rise against Gods ministration, rebel against him.

k He sheweth that all idolaters renounce God to be their glorie, who in stead of him they worship anie creature, much more wood, stone, metal or suchlike.

l If Moses by his intercession had not obtained Gods fauour against their rebellion, as Tharib, Canaan, & was as severe an example of Gods iustice in this.

m Which was the will of the Lord.

5 That I may see the felicitie of thy chosen and reioyce in the ioye of thy people, and glorie with thine inheritance.

6 We haue sinned with our fathers: we haue committed iniquitie, [and] done wickedly.

7 Our fathers vnderstode not thy wonders in Egypt, nether remembred they the multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, [euē] at the red Sea.

8 Neuertheles he s^eaued them for his Names sake, that he might make his power to be knowne.

9 And he rebuked the red Sea, and it was dryed vp, and he led them in the depe, as in the wilderness.

10 And he s^eaued them frō the aduersaries hand, and deliuered them from the hand of the enemie.

11 * And the waters couered their oppressers: not one of them was left.

12 Then f^ebeleued they his wordes, & sang praise vnto him.

13 But incontinently they forgate his wordes: they waited not for his cōsēl, 14 But lusted with concupiscēce in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.

15 Then he gaue them their desire: but he sent l^eannes into their soule.

16 They inuied Moses also in the tentes, & Aaron the holie one of the Lord.

17 [Therefore] the earthe opened & i^e swallowed vp Dathan, and couered the companie of Abiram.

18 And the fyre was kindled in their assēblie: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

19 They made a calfe in Horēb, & worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their glorie into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth grasse.

21 They forgate God their Sauour, which had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wonderous workes in the land of Ham and feareful things by the red Sea.

23 Therefore he minded to destroye them had not Moses his chosen stand in the breache before him to turne away his wrath, lest he shoulde destroye them.

24 Also they contemned that p^easant lād [and] beleued not his worde.

25 But murmured in their tentes, & hearkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

26 Therefore h^e lifted vp his hand against them, to destroye them in the wilderness, 27 And to destroye their sede among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countreis.

28 They ioyned them selues also vnto Baal-peor, and did eat the offerings of the dead.

29 Thus they p^rouoked [him] vnto angre, with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

30 But r^e Phineas stode vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was staied.

31 * And it was i^mputed vnto him for righteousnes from generation to generation for euer.

32 They angered him also at the waters of Meribah, so that * Moses was punished for their sakes.

33 Because they vexed his spirit, so that he spake vnaduisedly with his lippes.

34 Nether destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them,

35 But were mingled among the heathen, & learned their workes,

36 And serued their idoles, which were their ruine.

37 Yea, they offered their sonnes, and their daughters vnto diuels,

38 And shed innocent blood, [euē] the blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters, whome they offered vnto the idols of Canaan, and the land was defiled with blood.

39 Thus were they steined with their owne workes, and went a^w whoring with their owne inuentions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, & he abhorred his owne inheritance.

41 And he gaue them into the hand of the heathen: and they that hated them, were lords ouer them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were humbled vnder their hand.

43 Manie a time did he deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their cōsēls: therefore they were brought downe by their iniquitie.

44 Yet he sawe when they were in affliction, and he heard their crye.

45 And he remembred his couenant toward them, and * repented according to the multitude of his mercies, 46 And gaue them fauour in the sight of all them, that led them captiues.

47 Saue vs, o Lord our God, and * gather vs from among the heathen, that we maie praise thine holie Name, and glorie in thy praise.

48 Blessed (be) the Lord God of Israel for euer & euer, and let all the people say, So be it. Praise ye the Lord.

p Sacrifices offered to dead idoles.

* Nom. 35. 12. p^rof. 97. 1. e It is notable a Prophet of God escape punishment though others prouoked him to sinne, howe much more shal they be iudged to Gods iudgement, which cause Gods children to sinne.

u He sheweth how monstrous a thing idolatry is, we can winne vs in things abhorring to nature where as Gods worde can not obtaine moles small things.

x Then chastitie is to cleaue wholly & onely vnto God.

y The Prophet sheweth f^ether by menaces, nor promises we cō come to God, except we be altogether newly reformed, & f^e his mercie ouer our malice.

z Not that God is changeable in him self, but that then he smeth to vs to repent, when he alereth his punishment, & f^e his grace vs.

a Gather thy Church, & is dispersed, and giue vs constant vnder the crosse, that one constant we may all praise thee.

PSAL. CVII.

The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lord, & gathered vnto him to giue thanks, 9 For his merciful providence of God, governing all things at his good good pleasure, 20 Sending good & euill, prosperitie and aduersitie to bring men vnto him, 43 Therefore as the righteous thereat reioyce, so shal the wicked haue their miseries stopped.

Praise the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Let them, which haue bene redeemed of the Lord, shewe how he hath deliuered them from the hand of the oppressor,

3 And gathered the out of the lands, from the East and from the West, fro the North and from the South.

4 [When] they wandred in the desert [&] wilderness out of the way, [and] found no citie to dwell in,

5 Bothe hungrie [and] thirstie, their soule fainted in them.

6 Then they cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble, [&] he deliuered them from their distresses,

7 And led the forth by the right way, that they might go to a citie of habitation.

8 Let them [therefore] confesse before the Lord his louing kindenes, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

9 For he satisfied the thirstie soule, & filled the hungrie soule with goodnes.

10 They that dwel in darkenes and in the shadowe of death, being bounde in misery and yron,

11 Because they rebelled against the wordes of the Lord, and dispised the counsell of the moste High,

12 When he humbled their heart with heauines, [then] they fel downe and there was no helper.

13 Then they cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble, [and] he deliuered the from their distresses.

14 He brought them out of darkenes, & out of the shadowe of death, & brake their bandes a sunder.

15 Let them [therefore] confesse before the Lord his louing kindenes, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

16 For he hath broken the gates of brasse and brass the barres of yron a sunder.

17 Fooles by reason of their transgression and because of their iniquities are afflicted.

18 Their soule abhorreth all meat and they are brought to deaths dore.

19 Then they crye vnto the Lord in their trouble, [and] he deliuereth them from their distresses.

20 He sendeth his worde and healeth them, and deliuereth them from their i graues.

21 Let them [therefore] confesse before the Lord his louing kindenes, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

22 And let them offer sacrifices of praise, and declare his workes with reioysing.

23 They that go downe to the sea in shippes, [and] occupie by the great waters, 24 They see the workes of the Lord, and his wonders in the depe.

25 For he commandeth and raiseth the stormie winde, and it listeth vp the waues thereof.

26 They mount vp to the heauen, [and] descend to the depe, so that their soule melteth for trouble.

27 They are tossed to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and all their cunning is gone.

28 Then they crye vnto the Lord in their trouble, [and] he bringeth them out of their distresses.

29 He turneth the storme to calme, so that the waues thereof are stil.

30 When they are quieted, they are gladd, and he bringeth them vnto the haven, where they wolde be.

31 Let them [therefore] confesse before the Lord his louing kindenes, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

32 And let them exalt him in the Congregation of the people, and praise him in the assemblie of the Elders.

33 He turneth the floods into a wildernes, and the springs of waters into drieness, 34 [And] a fruteful land into barrennes for the wickednes of them that dwell therein.

35 [Again] he turneth the wilderness into pooles of water, & the drye land into water springs.

36 And there he placeth the hungrie, and they buyld a citie to dwell in,

37 And sowe the fields, & plant vineyardes, which bring forth fruteful increase.

38 For he blesteth them, and they multiply exceedingly, and he diminisheth not their cattell.

39 [Again] men are diminished, & brought lowe by oppression, euill and sorowe.

40 He powreth contempt vpon princes, and causeth them to erre in desert places out of the way.

41 Yet he raiseth vp the poore out of misery, and maketh him families like a flocke of shepe.

42 The righteous shal see it, and reioyce, and all iniquitie shal stop her mouth.

43 Who is wise that he maie obserue these things: for they shal vnderstand the louing kindenes of the Lord.

PSAL. CVIII.

This Psalme is composed of two other Psalms before, the seven and fiftieth, & the sixtieth. The matter here contained is, That Dauid giueth him self with thankes and

1 He sheweth by sea what care God hath for his ouer man, for in that he deliuereth them from the great dangers of the sea, he deliuereth the, as it were, fro a thousand deaths. m Their feare & danger is so great. n VVhen their arte & meanes faile them, they are compelled to confesse that onely Gods prouidence doeth preserve them.

o Though before came drop seemed to fight one against another, yet at his comandement they are as still, as though they were frozen.

p This great benefite ought not onely to be considered particularly, but magnified in all places & assemblies. † Or, takenness.

q For the loue he beareth to his Church, he changeth the order of nature for their commodity.

r Continual increase & yearning.

s As God by his prouidence doeth exalte men, so doeth he also humble them by affliction, to knowe their felices. t For their wickednes and tyrannie he causeth people to subiect to contemne them. u They, whose faith is lightened by Gods Spirit, shal reioyce in Gods mercie, vnto the wicked vngodly.

voice to praise the Lord. And assureth himself of the promises of God concerning his kingdome over Israel, and his power against other nations: 11 VWho though he seeme to forsake vs for a time, yet he alone will in the end cast downe our enemies.

A song or Psalm of David.

O God, mine heart [is] prepared, [is] my tongue: I wil sing & giue praise.

2 A wake viole & harpe: I wil awake early.
3 I wil praise thee, o Lord, among the people, and I wil sing vnto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercie is great about the heauens, and thy trueth vnto the cloudes.

5 Exalt thy self, o God, about the heauens, and [let] thy glorie [be] vpon all the earth,

6 That thy beloued maie be deliuered: ^d helpe with thy right hand and heare me.

7 God hath spoken in his holines: [therefore] I wil reioyce, I shal diuide Shechem and measure the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead [shalbe] mine, [and] Manasseh [shalbe] mine: Ephraim also [shalbe] the strength of mine head: Iuda [is] my Lawgiuer.

9 Moab [shalbe] my washpot: ouer Edom wil I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina wil I triumph.

10 Who wil leade me into the strong citie? who wil bring me vnto Edom.

11 Wilt not thou, o God, [which] haddest forsaken vs, & didest not go forthe, o God, with our armies?

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God we shal do valiantly: for he shal tread downe our enemies.

PSAL. CIX.

David being falsely accused by flatterers vnto Saul praeth God to helpe him and to destroy his enemies. 8 And vnder them he speaketh of Iudas the traitour vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God: 37 And desireth so to be deliuered, that his enemies maie knowe the worke to be of God. 30 Then doeth he promise to giue praises vnto God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Holde not thy tongue, o God of my praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth [ful] of deceit are opened vpon me: thei haue spoken to me with a lying tongue.

3 Thei compassed me about also with wordes of hatred, and foght against me without a cause.

4 For my friendship thei were mine aduersaries, but I gaue my self to prayer.

5 And they haue regarded me euil for good, and hatred for my friendship.

7 When he shalbe iudged, let him be condemned, and let his ^d praier be turned into sinne.

8 Let his daies be fewe, and let another take his charge.

9 Let his children be fatherles, & his wife a widowe.

10 Let his childre be vagabunds & begges and seke [bread, comming out] of their places destroyed.

11 Let the extortioner catche all ^f he hath, & let the strangers spoile his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercie vnto him: nether let there be anie to shewe mercie vpon his fatherles children.

13 Let his posteritie be destroyed, [&] in the generation following let their name be put out.

14 Let the iniquitie of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother be done awaie.

15 [But] let the alway be before the Lord, that he maie cut of their memorial from the earth:

16 Because ^h he remembred not to shewe mercie, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the sorowful hearted to slaye him.

17 As he loued cursing, ⁱ so shal it come vnto him, [&] as he loued not blessing, so shal it be farre from him.

18 As he clothed him self with cursing like a raiment, so shal it come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.

19 Let it be vnto him as a garmēt to couer him, and for a girdle, wherewith he shalbe alwaie girded.

20 Let this be the rewarde of mine aduersarie ^k from the Lord, and of them, that speake euil against my soule.

21 But thou, o Lord my God, deale with me according vnto thy Name: deliuer me, (for thy mercie is good)

22 Because I am poore and nedie, and mine heart is wounded within me.

23 I departe like ^l shadowe that declineth, and am shaken of as the grasshopper.

24 My knees are weake through fasting, & my flesh ^m hath lost all fatnes.

25 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked their heads.

26 Helpe me, o Lord my God: ⁿ I haue according to thy mercie.

27 And they shal knowe, that this is thine hand, [&] that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 [Though] they ^o curse, yet thou wilt blesse: they shal arise and be confounded, but thy seruant shal reioyce.

29 Let mine aduersaries be clothed with shame

d As to ^p all things turne to their praier, so to ^q reprobare even those things, that are good, turne to their damnation. ^r This was chiefly accomplished in Iudas, Act. 1. 16. ^s He declared that ^t curse of God lieth vpon the extortioner, who thinking to enrich his children by their vniuersal gottes goods, are by Gods iust iudgement deprived of all. ^u Thus punisheth the Lord to the third, & fourth generation the wickednes of ^v parents in their wicked children.

h He sheweth ^w God accustomed to plague them after a strange sort, ^x shewe them so cruel toward other. ^y Thus giueth the Lord to ^z uerie man the thing, wherein he deliureth, that the reprobate can not accuse God of wrong, when they are giuen vp to their lusts and reprobate mindes.

k For being destitute of mans helpe, he fully trusted in the Lord, that he wolde deliuer him. ^l As ^m art named merciful, gracious and long suffering, so shewe thy self in effect. ⁿ Meaning, ^o he hath on faste nor affluence in this world. ^p For hunger, that came of sorow, he was leane, & his rural moysture failed him. ^q The more grieuous ^r Iudas afflicted him, & more earnestly he impiaied. ^s They shal gaine nothing by cursing him.

a This earnest affection declarereth that he is free from hypocrisie, and that sluggishness staideth him not. ^b Or, my glorie, because it chiefly setteth forth the glorie of God.

b He prophesieth of ^c calling of the Gentiles: for excepte thei were called, they coulde not heare the goodnes of God.

c Let all the worlde see thy iudgements, in that that thou art God ouer all, & so confesse that thou art glorious.

d Vnto God by his benefices maketh vs partakers of his mercies, he admitteth vs to be earnest in praier to desire him to continue & finish his graces.

e As he hath spoken to Samuel concerning me, so wil he shewe him self constant, and holie in his promises, so ^f these nations following shalbe subiect vnto me.

9 He sent redemption vnto his people: he hath commanded his couenāt for euer:
holie and feareful [is] his Name.

10 The ^a beginning of wisdom [is] the feare of the Lord: all they that obstruct them, haue good vnderstanding: his praise endureth for euer.

PSAL. CXII.

1 He praiseth the felicitie of them, that feare God, 18. And condemneth the cursed state of the contemners of God.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Blessed [is] the man, that ^a feareth the Lord, [and] deliteth greatly in his commandments.

2 His sede shal be mightie vpon earth: the generatiō of the righteous shal be blessed.

3 ^b Riches and treasure [shal be] in his house, and his righteousness endureth for euer.

4 Vnto the ^c righteous ariseth light in dar-kenes: [he is] merciful and full of compassion and righteous.

5 A good man [is] merciful and ^d lendeth,
[and] wil measure his affaires by iudge-ment.

6 Surely he shal neuer be moued: [but] the righteous shal be had in euerslating remembrance.

7 He wil not be afraid of euil tidings: [for] his heart is fixed, [and] beleueth in the Lord.

8 His heart is stablished: [therefore] he wil not feare, vntil he se [his desire] vpon his enemies.

9 He hath ^e distributed [and] giuen to the poore: his righteousness remaineth for e-uer: his ^f home shal be exalted with glorie.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 An ascription to praise the Lord for his preeminence in that that contrariety to the course of nature he wrought in his Church.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise, O ye seruants of the Lord, praise
the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed be the Name of the Lord from nowe forthe and for euer.

3 The Lords Name is praised from the rising of the sunne vnto the going downe

PSAL. CXV.

A prayer of the faithful oppressed by idolatrous tyrants: a gainst whom they desire that God would succoure them. Trusting wholly constantly that God will preserue them in this their need, seeing that he hath adopted & received them to his fauour. Promising finally that they will not be vngratefull of so great a benefice, if it wolde please God to heare their prayer, & deliuer them by his omnipotent power.

NOr vnto vs, o Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the glorie, for thy louing mercie [and] for thy truthes sake.

Wherefore shall the heathen saie, ^b Where is now their God, which hath deliuered them out of the hand of the Lord?
 But our God [is] in heauen: he doth what he will.

Their idoles [are] silver and golde,
 the worke of mens hands.

Which is to say, that they are made of the impudent to let his will. A seeing that the same can be moved the idoles, it followeth that there is no power in them.

5 Thei haue a mouth and speake not: thei haue eyes and se not.

6 Thei haue eares and heare not: thei haue noses and smell not.

7 Thei haue^c hands and touche not: thei haue fete and walke not: nether make thei a founde with their throte.

8 Thei that make them are^c like vnto the:
 [so are] al that trust in them.

9 O Israel, trust thou in the Lord: for [he] is their helpe and their shield.

10 O house of Aaron, trust ye in^d the Lord:
 [for] he is their helpe and their shield.

11 Ye that feare the Lord, trust in the Lord:
 [for] he is their helper and their shield.

12 The Lord hath bene mindeful of vs:
 he wil blesse, he^e wil blesse the house of Israel, he wil blesse the house of Aaron.

13 He wil blesse them that feare the Lord, bothe smal and great.

14 The Lord wil increase [his graces] toward you, [euen] toward you and toward your children.

15 Ye are blessed of the Lord, which^f made the heauen and the earth.

16 The^g heauens, [euen] the heauens [are] the Lords: but he hath giuen the earth to the sonnes of men.

17 The dead praise not the Lord, nether canie that^h go downe into the [place of] silence.

18 But we wil praise the Lord from hence forth and for euer. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXV.

1 David being in great danger of Saul in which he was perceiving the great and inestimable loue him, magnifieth such great merities, and praiseth that he wil be thankfull for the same.

I^a Loue^b the Lord, because he hath heard my voyce [and] my prayers.

2 For he hath inclined his eare vnto me, when I did call [vpon him]^b in my day-es.

3 [When] the soates of death compassed me, & the griefs of the graue caught me,
 [when] I founde trouble and sorowe.

4 Then I called vpon the Name of the Lord, [saying] I beseeche thee, o Lord, de-liuer my soule.

5 The Lord [is]^c mercifull & righteous, & our God [is] full of compassion.

6 The Lord preserue the simple: I was in miserie and he saued me.

7 Reuenge vnto me, o Lord, my soule: for the Lord hath bene beneficial vnto thee.

9 I shal walke before the Lord in the land of the living.

10 I beleued, therefore did I speake: [for]
I was fore troubled.

11 I said in my feare, All men are lyers.

12 What shal I rendre vnto the Lord for all his benefites toward me?

13 I wil take the cup of saluation, and call vpon the Name of the Lord.

14 I wil paye my vowes vnto the Lord, [euē]

PSAL. CXVII.

1 He exhorteth the Gentiles to praise God, because he hath accomplished a service to them as to the lawes, the promises of life everlasting by Iesu Christ.

1 All nations, praise ye the Lord: all ye people, praise him.

2 For his louing kindenes is great toward vs, and the truth of the Lord [endureth] for euer. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXVIII.

1 Dauid reioiced of Saul and of the people, at the time appointed obtained the kingdom. 4 For the which he bid derh all them, that feare the Lord, to be thankfull. And vnder his person in all this was Christ liuely for foete, who shoulde be of his people rejected.

1 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good:
[for] his mercie [endureth] for euer.

2 Let Israel now saie, That his mercie [endureth] for euer.

3 Let the house of Aaron now saie, That his mercie [endureth] for euer.

4 Let them, that feare the Lord, now saie,
That his mercie [endureth] for euer.

5 I called vpon the Lord in trouble, [and] the Lord heard me, [and] set me at large.

6 The Lord [is] with me: [therefore] I wil not feare what man can do vnto me.

7 The Lord [is] with me among them that helpe me: [therefore] shal I fe [my desire] vpon mine enemies.

8 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in man.

9 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in princes.

10 All nations haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord shal I destroye them.

11 Thei haue compassed me yea, they haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord I shal destroye them.

12 Thei came about me like bees, [but] they were quenched as a fyre of thornes:
for in the Name of the Lord I shal de-stroye them.

13 Thou hast thrust fore at me, that I might fall: but the Lord hath holpen
me.

14 The Lord [is] my strength and song:
for he hath bene my deliuerance.

15 The voice of ioye and deliuerance [shalbe] in the tabernacles of the righteous, [saying.] The right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

16 The right hand of the Lord is exalted:
the right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

17 I shal not dye, but liue, and declare the workes of the Lord.

18 The Lord hath chastened me sore, but he hath not deliuered me to death.

19 Open ye vnto me the gates of righte-ousnes, [that] I maie go in to the [and] praise
the Lord.

20 This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous shal entre into it.

21 I wil praise thee: for thou hast heard me,
and hast bene my deliuerance.

22 The stone, [which] the buylders refused, is the head of the corner.

23 This was the Lords doing, [and] it is mar-uelous in our eyes.

24 This is the daie, [which] the Lord hath made: let ys reioyce and be glad in it.

25 O Lord, I praie thee, saue now: o Lord,
I praie thee now giue prosperitie.

26 Blessed [be he,] that cometh in the Name of the Lord: we haue blessed you out of the house of the Lord.

27 The Lord [is] mightie, and hath giuen vs light: binde the sacrifice with cordes vnto the hornes of the altar.

28 Thou art my God, and I wil praise thee [euē] my God: therefore I wil exalt thee.

29 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good:
for his mercie [endureth] for euer.

liues according to his holie wordes. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 6. 7. 8. 9. 10. 11. 12. 13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100. 101. 102. 103. 104. 105. 106. 107. 108. 109. 110. 111. 112. 113. 114. 115. 116. 117. 118. 119. 120. 121. 122. 123. 124. 125. 126. 127. 128. 129. 130. 131. 132. 133. 134. 135. 136. 137. 138. 139. 140. 141. 142. 143. 144. 145. 146. 147. 148. 149. 150. 151. 152. 153. 154. 155. 156. 157. 158. 159. 160. 161. 162. 163. 164. 165. 166. 167. 168. 169. 170. 171. 172. 173. 174. 175. 176. 177. 178. 179. 180. 181. 182. 183. 184. 185. 186. 187. 188. 189. 190. 191. 192. 193. 194. 195. 196. 197. 198. 199. 200. 201. 202. 203. 204. 205. 206. 207. 208. 209. 210. 211. 212. 213. 214. 215. 216. 217. 218. 219. 220. 221. 222. 223. 224. 225. 226. 227. 228. 229. 230. 231. 232. 233. 234. 235. 236. 237. 238. 239. 240. 241. 242. 243. 244. 245. 246. 247. 248. 249. 250. 251. 252. 253. 254. 255. 256. 257. 258. 259. 260. 261. 262. 263. 264. 265. 266. 267. 268. 269. 270. 271. 272. 273. 274. 275. 276. 277. 278. 279. 280. 281. 282. 283. 284. 285. 286. 287. 288. 289. 290. 291. 292. 293. 294. 295. 296. 297. 298. 299. 300. 301. 302. 303. 304. 305. 306. 307. 308. 309. 310. 311. 312. 313. 314. 315. 316. 317. 318. 319. 320. 321. 322. 323. 324. 325. 326. 327. 328. 329. 330. 331. 332. 333. 334. 335. 336. 337. 338. 339. 340. 341. 342. 343. 344. 345. 346. 347. 348. 349. 350. 351. 352. 353. 354. 355. 356. 357. 358. 359. 360. 361. 362. 363. 364. 365. 366. 367. 368. 369. 370. 371. 372. 373. 374. 375. 376. 377. 378. 379. 380. 381. 382. 383. 384. 385. 386. 387. 388. 389. 390. 391. 392. 393. 394. 395. 396. 397. 398. 399. 400. 401. 402. 403. 404. 405. 406. 407. 408. 409. 410. 411. 412. 413. 414. 415. 416. 417. 418. 419. 420. 421. 422. 423. 424. 425. 426. 427. 428. 429. 430. 431. 432. 433. 434. 435. 436. 437. 438. 439. 440. 441. 442. 443. 444. 445. 446. 447. 448. 449. 450. 451. 452. 453. 454. 455. 456. 457. 458. 459. 460. 461. 462. 463. 464. 465. 466. 467. 468. 469. 470. 471. 472. 473. 474. 475. 476. 477. 478. 479. 480. 481. 482. 483. 484. 485. 486. 487. 488. 489. 490. 491. 492. 493. 494. 495. 496. 497. 498. 499. 500. 501. 502. 503. 504. 505. 506. 507. 508. 509. 510. 511. 512. 513. 514. 515. 516. 517. 518. 519. 520. 521. 522. 523. 524. 525. 526. 527. 528. 529. 530. 531. 532. 533. 534. 535. 536. 537. 538. 539. 540. 541. 542. 543. 544. 545. 546. 547. 548. 549. 550. 551. 552. 553. 554. 555. 556. 557. 558. 559. 560. 561. 562. 563. 564. 565. 566. 567. 568. 569. 570. 571. 572. 573. 574. 575. 576. 577. 578. 579. 580. 581. 582. 583. 584. 585. 586. 587. 588. 589. 590. 591. 592. 593. 594. 595. 596. 597. 598. 599. 600. 601. 602. 603. 604. 605. 606. 607. 608. 609. 610. 611. 612. 613. 614. 61

ALEPH.

Blessed [are] ^a those that are vpright in [their] waie, [&] walke in the Lawe of the Lord.

Blessed [are] thei that kepe his testimonies, [&] seke him with their whole heart.

Surely they worke none iniquitie, [that] walke in his waies.

Thou hast commanded to kepe thy precepts diligently.

Oh that my waies were directed to kepe thy statutes.

Then shulde I not be confounded, when I haue respect vnto all thy commandements.

I wil praise thee with an vpright ^d heart, when I shal learne the iudgements of thy righteousness.

I wil kepe thy statutes: forsake me not ^e ouerlong.

BETH.

Wherewith shal ^a yong man redresse his way: in taking hede [thereto] according to thy worde.

With my whole heart haue I sought thee: let me not wander from thy commandements.

I haue ^b hid thy promises in mine heart, that I might not sinne against thee.

Blessed art thou, ^c Lord: teache me thy statutes.

With my lippes haue I declared all the iudgements of thy mouth.

I haue had as great ^e delite in the waie of thy testimonies, as in all riches.

I wil meditate in thy precepts, and consider thy waies.

I wil delite in thy statutes, [&] I wil not forget thy worde.

GIMEL.

Be beneficial vnto thy seruant, [that] I maie ^a liue and kepe thy worde.

Open mine eyes, that I maie see the wonders of thy Law.

I am a ^b stranger vpon earth: hide not thy commandements from me.

Mine heart breaketh for the desire to thy iudgements alwaie.

Thou hast destroyed the proud: cursed are they that do erre from thy commandements.

Remoue from me shame and contempt: for I haue kept thy testimonies.

Princes also did sit, & speake against me: [but] thy seruant did meditate in thy statutes.

Also thy testimonies [are] my delite, [&] my counsellers.

DALETH.

My soule cleaueth to the ^a dust: quicken me according to thy worde.

I haue ^b declared my wayes, and thou heardest me: teache me thy statutes.

Make me to vnderstand the waie of thy precepts, and I wil meditate in thy wonderful workes.

My soule melteth for heauines: raise me vp according vnto thy ^c worde.

Take from me the ^d waie of lying, and grant me graciously thy Law.

I haue chosen the waie of truth, [&] thy iudgements haue I laied [before] me.

I haue cleaued to thy testimonies, ^e Lord: confounde me not.

I wil runne the waye of thy commandements, when ^f thou shalt enlarge mine heart.

HE.

Teach me, ^a Lord: the waie of thy statutes, and I wil kepe it vnto the end.

Give me vnderstanding, and I wil kepe thy Law: yea, I wil kepe it with [my] whole heart.

Direct me in the path of thy commandements: for therein is my delite.

I neline mine heart vnto thy testimonies, and not to ^c couetousnes.

Turne awaie mine ^d eyes fro regarding vanitie, [&] quicken me in thy waie.

Stablish thy promises to thy seruant, because he feareth thee.

Take awaie ^e my rebuke that I feare: for thy iudgements [are] good.

Beholde, I desire thy commandements: quicken me in thy righteousness.

VAV.

And let thy ^a louing kindenes come vnto me, ^b Lord, [&] thy saluatio according to thy promises.

So shal I ^c make answer vnto my blasphemers: for I trust in thy worde.

And take not the worde of truth vtterly out of my mouth: for I wait for thy iudgements.

So shal I alwaie kepe thy Lawe for euer and euer.

And I wil ^d walke at libertie: for I kepe thy precepts.

I wil speake also of thy testimonies before ^e Kings, and wil not be ashamed.

And my delite shal be in thy commandements, which I haue loued.

Mine hands also wil I lift vp vnto thy commandements, which I haue loued, & I wil not forget thy statutes.

ZAIN.

Also I will praise thee, ^a Lord: for thou hast delivered me from all mine iniquities.

Also I will praise thee, ^b Lord: for thou hast delivered me from all mine iniquities.

Also I will praise thee, ^c Lord: for thou hast delivered me from all mine iniquities.

^a Here thei are not called blessed, which thinke them selues wise in their owne iudgement, nor which imagine to the selues a certaine holines, but thei whose conuersation is without hypocrisie.

^b For thei are ruled by Gods spirit and embrace no doctrine but his.

^c Dauid acknowledgeth his imperfection, desiring God to reforme it: that his life maie be conformable to Gods worde.

^d For true religion standeth in fearing God without hypocrisie.

^e That is, thy precepts, & conuincing perfite righteousness.

^f He refuseth not to be tried by tentations, but he feareth to faint, if God succour not his infirmities in time.

^g Because youth is most given to licentiousnes, he chiefly warneth them to frame their liues befitting to Gods worde.

^h If Gods worde be grauen in our hearts, we shalbe more able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him diligently in his statutes.

ⁱ The Prophet desireth that he may be able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him diligently in his statutes.

^j The Prophet desireth that he may be able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him diligently in his statutes.

^k The Prophet desireth that he may be able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him diligently in his statutes.

^l The Prophet desireth that he may be able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him diligently in his statutes.

ⁿ The Prophet desireth that he may be able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him diligently in his statutes.

^a That is, he almost brought to the graue, & without thy worde I can not liue.

^b I haue confessed mine offences, & now depend wholly on thee.

^c If God did not maintaine vs by his worde, our liues woulde drop awaie like water.

^d Instruct me in thy worde, whereby my minde may be purged fro vanitie & taught to obey thy wil.

^e By this he sheweth that he can nether do good, cleane to Gods worde, nor runne forward in his waie, except he make our hearts large to receiue his grace, & willing to obey.

^f He sheweth that he can not followe on to the end, except God teache him oft times and lead him forward.

^g Not onely outward conuersation, but also inward affection.

^h Herby meaning all other vices, because that conuersion is the root of all euil.

ⁱ Meaning, of his senses.

^j Let me not fall to thy honour, but let mine heart desire in thy glorious worde.

^k Give me strength to continue in thy worde sun to the end.

^l He sheweth Gods mercy and love in the first, cause of our salvation.

^m By trusting in Gods worde he assurth himself to be able to confute the slanderers of his aduersaries.

desireth a newe
grace: & is that he woulde continue his comfort.

ZAIN.

49 Remembre the promises made to thy seruant, wherein thou hast caused me to trust.

50 It is my comfort in my trouble: for thy promises haue quickened me.

51 The proud haue had me exceedingly in derision: [yet] haue I not declined fro thy Law.

52 I remembred thy iudgements of olde,
O Lord, and haue bene comforted.

53 Feare is come vpon me for the wicked, that forsake thy Law.

54 Thy statutes haue bene my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.

55 I haue remembred thy Name, O Lord, in the night, and haue kept thy Law.

56 This I had because I kept thy precepts.

CHETH.

57 O Lord, [that art] my portion, I haue determined to kepe thy wordes.

58 I made my supplication in thy presence with [my] whole heart: be merciful vnto me according to thy promises.

59 I haue considered my wayes, & turned my fete into thy testimonies.

60 I made haste and delayed not to kepe thy commandements.

61 The bands of the wicked haue robbed me: [but] I haue not forgotten thy Law.

62 At midnight wil I rise to giue thanks vnto thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

63 I am a companion of all them that feare thee, and kepe thy precepts.

64 The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercie:
teache me thy statutes.

TETH.

65 O Lord, thou hast dealt graciously with thy seruant according vnto thy worde.

66 Teache me good iudgement and knowledge: for I haue beleued thy commandements.

67 Before I was afflicted, I went astray:
but now I kepe thy worde.

68 Thou art good and gracious: teache me thy statutes.

69 The proud haue imagined a lie against me: [but] I wil kepe thy precepts with [my] whole heart.

70 Their heart is fat as greafe: [but] my delite is in thy Law.

71 It is good for me, that I haue bene afflicted, that I maie learne thy statutes.

72 The Law of thy mouth is better vnto me, then thousands of golde and siluer.

LOP.

73 Thine hands haue made me & deli-uered me: giue me vnderstanding [therefore] that I maie learne thy commandements.

74 So thei feare thee, seing me, that reioyce, because I haue trusted in thy worde.

75 I knowe, O Lord, that thy iudgements [are] right, and that thou hast afflicted me truly.

76 I praeie thee that thy mercie maie comfort me according to thy promises vnto thy seruant.

77 Let thy tender mercies come vnto me, that I maie liue: for thy Law [is] my de-lite.

78 Let the proud be ashamed: for thei haue dealt wickedly [and] falsely with me:
[but] I meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let suche as feare thee turne vnto me, and thei that knowe thy testimonies.

80 Let mine heart be vpight in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed.

COPH.

81 My soule fainteth for thy saluation:
[yet] I waite for thy worde.

82 Mine eyes faile for thy promises, saying,
When wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am like a bottel in the smoke:
[yet] do I not forget thy statutes.

84 How manie are the daies of thy seruant: when wilt thou execute iudgement on them that persecute me?

85 The proud haue digged pittes for me, which is not after thy Law.

86 All thy commandements [are] true:
they persecute me falsely: helpe me.

87 They had almost consumed me vpon
the earth: but I forsoke not thy precepts.

88 Quicken me according to thy louing kindenes: so that I kepe the testimonie of thy mouth.

LAMED.

89 O Lord, thy worde endureth for euer in heauen.

90 Thy truth [is] from generation to generation: thou hast laied the fundamen-tation of the earth, and it abideth.

91 They continue [eue] to this daie by thy ordinances: for all [are] thy seruants.

92 Except thy Law had bene my delite, I shulde now haue perished in mine affliction.

93 I wil neuer forget thy precepts: for by them thou hast quickened me.

94 I am thine, saue me: for I haue forgotten thy precepts.

95 The wicked haue waited for me to destroy me: [but] I wil consider thy testimonies.

96 I haue seene an end of all persecutions:
[but] thy commandement is exceeding large.

MEM.

97 Oh how loue I thy Law! it is my meditation continually.

98 My heart is ready to burst out of my throat, because I haue loved thy testimonies.

99 My heart is ready to burst out of my throat, because I haue loved thy testimonies.

100 My heart is ready to burst out of my throat, because I haue loved thy testimonies.

101 My heart is ready to burst out of my throat, because I haue loved thy testimonies.

comforted by mine example.

He sheweth
that there can be no true feare of God without the knowledge of his worde.

Though my soule fainteth for thy saluation, yet I waite for thy worde.

bottel or bladder that is parched in the smoke.

How long wilt thou afflict
thy seruant?

They haue not onely oppressed me vnitously, but also truly considered against me.

He sheweth himself, & God will deliuer his & destroye such as vniu-ally persecute them.

Finde no
helpe in earth,
he looketh vnto
his eyes to heauen.

Because none
shulde esteeme Gods worde according to the changes of things
in this worlde,
he sheweth that it abideth in heauen & therefore is immutable.

the Law.

AIN.

do not only teach me obedience, but also me to feare, confession, and repentance, which cause a true repentance.

98 By thy commandements thou hast made me wiser then mine enemies: for they are euer with me.

99 I haue had more vnderstanding then all my teachers: for thy testimonies [are] my meditation.

100 I vnderstode more then the ancient, because I kept thy precepts.

101 I haue refrained my fete from euerie euil way, that I might kepe thy worde.

102 I haue not declined from thy iudgements: for thou didest teach me.

103 How swete are thy promises vnto my mouth! [yea,] more then honie vnto my mouth.

104 By thy precepts I haue gotten vnderstanding: therefore I hate all the wayes of falsehood.

NVN.

105 Thy worde [is] a lanterne vnto my fete, and a light vnto my path.

106 I haue sworne and wil performe it, that I wil kepe thy righteous iudgements.

107 I am verie sore afflicted: o Lord, quicken me according to thy worde.

108 O Lord, I beseeche thee accept the offerings of my mouth, and teach me thy iudgements.

109 My soule is continually in mine hād: yet do I not forget thy Law.

110 The wicked haue layed a snare for me: but I swaried not from thy precepts.

111 Thy testimonies haue I taken [as] an heritage for euer: for they are the ioye of mine heart.

112 I haue applied mine heart to fulfil thy statutes alwaye, [euen] vnto the end.

SAMECH.

113 I hate vaine inuentions: but thy Law do I loue.

114 Thou art my refuge and shield, [and] I trust in thy worde.

115 Awaie from me, ye wicked: for I wil kepe the commandements of my God.

116 Stablish me according to thy promes, that I maye liue, and disapoint me not of mine hope.

117 Staie thou me, and I shalbe safe, and I wil delite continually in thy statutes.

118 Thou hast troden downe all them that departe from thy statutes: for their decent [is] vaine.

119 Thou hast taken away all the wicked of the earth [like] drossle: therefore I loue thy testimonies.

120 My flesh trembleth for feare of thee, and I am afraid of thy iudgements.

AIN.

121 I haue executed iudgement & iustice:

leauie me not to mine oppressours.

122 Answer for thy seruant in that, which is good, [and] let not the proude oppress me.

123 Mine eyes haue failed [in waiting] for thy saluation, and for thy iuste promes.

124 Deale with thy seruant according to thy mercie, & teach me thy statutes.

125 I am thy seruant: grante me [therefore] vnderstanding, that I maie knowe thy testimonies.

126 It is time for the Lord to worke, [for] they haue destroyed thy Law.

127 Therefore loue I thy commandements aboute golde, yea, aboute moeste fine golde.

128 Therefore I esteeme all thy precepts moeste iuste, and hate all false waies.

PM.

129 Thy testimonies [are] wonderful: therefore doeth my soule kepe them.

130 The entrance into thy wordes sheweth light, [and] giueth vnderstanding to the simple.

131 I opened my mouth & panted, because I loued thy commandements.

132 Loke vpon me and be merciful vnto me, as thou vtest to do vnto those that loue thy Name.

133 Direct my steppes in thy worde, and let none iniquitie haue dominion ouer me.

134 Deliuer me from the oppression of men, and I wil kepe thy precepts.

135 Shewe the light of thy countenance vpon thy seruant, and teach me thy statutes.

136 Mine eyes gush out with riuers of water, because they kepe not thy Law.

TSADDI.

137 Righteous art thou, o Lord, and iuste [are] thy iudgements.

138 Thou hast commanded iustice by thy testimonies and trueth especially.

139 My zeale hathe euen consumed me, because mine enemies haue forgotten thy wordes.

140 Thy worde is proued moeste pure, and thy seruant loueth it.

141 I am smale and despised: [yet] do I not forget thy precepts.

142 Thy righteousness [is] an euermolde righteousness, and thy Law [is] trueth.

143 Trouble and anguish are come vpon me: [yet] are thy commandements my delite.

144 The righteousness of thy testimonies [is] euermolde: grante me vnderstanding, & I shal liue.

ding to thy fludgement.

150 They drawe nere, that followe after malice, [and] are farre from thy Law.

151 Thou art nere, O Lord: for all thy com-mandements [are] true.

152 I haue knowen long since by thy testimonies, that thou hast established them for euer.

RESH.

153 Beholde mine affliction, and deliuer me: for I haue not forgotten thy Law.

154 Pleade my cause, & deliuer me: quicken me according vnto thy worde.

155 Saluation [is] farre from the wicked, because they seke not thy statutes.

156 Greater thy tender mercies, O Lord:
quicken me according to thy iudge-ments.

157 My persecutors and mine oppressours [are] many: [yet] do I not swaue from thy testimonies.

158 I haue the transgressours & was grie-ued, because they kept not thy worde.

159 Consider, O Lord, how I loue thy precepts: quicken me according to thy louing kindenes.

160 The beginning of thy worde is truth, and all the iudgements of thy righteousnes [endure] for euer.

161 Princes haue persecuted me without cause, but mine heart stood in awe of thy wordes.

162 I reioyce at thy worde, as one that findeth a great spoile.

163 I haue falsehode and abhorre it, [for] thy Lawe do I loue.

164 Seven times a daie do I praise thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

165 They that loue thy Law, shall haue great prosperitie, and they shall haue none

mes.

171 My lippes shall speake praise, when thou hast taught me thy statutes.

172 My tongue shall intreate of thy worde: for all thy commandements [are] righteous.

173 Let thine hand helpe me: for I haue chosen thy precepts.

174 I haue longed for thy saluation, O Lord, and thy Law [is] my desire.

175 Let my soule live, & let me praise thee, labours among those iniquities. V. We were given to all kinde of wickednes and contention.

A song of degrees.

1 Called vnto the Lord in my trouble, and he heard me.

2 Deliuer my soule, O Lord, from lying lippes, [and] from a deceitful tongue.

3 What doeth [thy] deceitful tongue bring vnto thee, or what doeth it auail thee?

4 It [is] as the marke arrowes of a mighty man, and as the coles of iuniper.

5 Wo is to me that I remaine in the shech, [and] dwell in the tents of Kedar.

Lord, remember David with all his affliction.

Who swaie vnto the Lord, & vowed vn to the mightie God of Iaakob, [saying,]

It wil not enter into the tabernacle of mine house, nor come vpon my pallet [or] bed,

Nor suffer mine eyes to slepe, nor mine eyelids to slumber,

Vntil I finde out a place for the Lord, an habitation for the mightie God of Iaakob.

Lo, we heard of it in Ephraim, and founde it in the fields of the forest.

We wil entre into his Tabernacles, and worship before his foteftole.

Arise, O Lord, [to come] into thy rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength.

Let thy Priests be clothed with righteousness, and let thy Saintes reioyce.

For thy seruant Dauids sake refuse not the face of thine Anointed.

The Lord hath sworne in trueth vnto David, and he wil not shrinke from it, [saying,] Of the fruite of thy bodie wil I set vpon thy throne.

If thy sonnes kepe my couenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teache them, their sonnes also shal sit vpon thy throne for euer.

For the Lord hath chosen Zión, [and] loued to dwell in it, [saying,]

This is my rest for euer: here wil I dwell, for I haue a delite therein.

I wil surely blesse her vitales, [and] wil satisfie her poore with bread,

And wil clothe her Priests with saluation, and her Saintes shal shewe for ioye.

There wil I make the horne of David to bud: [for] I haue ordeined a light for mine Anointed.

His enemies wil I clothe with shame, but on him his crowne shal florish.

Meaning, for his owne sake, and not for the plentifulnes of the place: for he promisseth to blesse it, declaring before, it was barren. That is, with my protection, whereby they shal be safe.

Though this song for a time seemed to be broken, yet he promisseth to restore it.

The Lord, that hath made heauen and earth, blesse thee out of Zión.

PSAL. CXXXV.

He exhorteth all the faithful, of what estate so euer they be, to praise God for his maruelous works, 13 And specially for his graces toward his people, wherein he hath declared his maiestie, 15 To the confusion of all idolaters and their idoles.

Praise ye the Lord.

Praise the Name of the Lord: ye seruants of the Lord, praise [him.]

Ye that stand in the House of the Lord, [and] in the courtes of the house of our God.

Praise ye the Lord: for the Lord is good: sing praises vnto his Name: for it is a comely thing.

For the Lord hath chosen Iaakob to him selfe, [and] Israël for his chief treasure.

For I knowe that the Lord [is] great, & that our Lord [is] aboue all gods.

Whatsoever pleased the Lord, that did he in heauen and in earth, in the sea, and in all the depths.

He bringeth vp the cloudes from the ends of the earth, and maketh the lightnings with the raine: he draweth forth the winde out of his treasures.

He smote the first borne of Egypt both of man and beast.

He hath sent tokens and wonders into the middes of thee, O Egypt, vnto Pharaoh and vpon all his seruants.

He smote many nations, and slew mightie Kings:

[As] Sihon King of the Amorites, and Og King of Bashan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

And gaue their land for an inheritance, [euen] an inheritance vnto Israël his people.

Thy Name, O Lord, endureth for euer: O Lord,

By Hermón, he meaneth the plentiful countrey about Ierusalem, & VVherther is such a countrey.

Ye that are Leuites and chief appointed to this office.

For their charge was not onely to kepe the Temple, but to pray there and to give God thanks. And therefore hath the power blesse thee with his fatherly love declared in Zión. Thus the Leuites used to praise the Lord, and blesse the people.

A Ye Leuites are in his Sanctuarie. Meaning, the peoples for the people and the Leuites had their courtes, & were places of the Temple separate.

That is, hath truly loued the posteritie of Abraham.

6 Lord, thy remembrance [is] from generation to generation.

14 For the Lord wil iudge his people, & be pacified towards his seruants.

15 The idoles of the heathen [are] siluer & golde, [euen] the worke of mens hands.

16 They haue a mouth, and speake not: they haue eyes and se not.

17 They haue eares and heare not, nether is there any breath in their mouth.

18 They that make them, are like vnto the: [so are] all that trust in them.

19 Praise the Lord, ye house of Israel: praise the Lord, ye house of Aaron.

20 Praise the Lord, ye house of Levi: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.

21 Praised [be] the Lord out of Zión, which dwelleth in Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

A most earnest exhortation to giue thanks vnto God for the creation and gouernance of all things, which cometh in confessing that he giueth vs all of his mere libe-

Praise ye Lord, because he is good: for his mercie [endureth] for euer.

2 Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercie [endureth] for euer.

3 Praise ye the Lord of lords: for his mercie [endureth] for euer.

4 Which onely doeth great wonders: for his mercie [endureth] for euer.

5 Which by his wilddome made the hea- uens: for his mercie [endureth] for euer.

6 Which hath stretched out the earth vpon the waters: for his mercie [endureth] for euer.

7 Which made great lights: for his mercie [endureth] for euer.

8 [As] the sunne to rule the daie: for his mercie [endureth] for euer.

The people of God in their banishment seeing Gods true religion decay, lined in great anguish and sorowe of heart, the which grief the Chaldeans did so little pittie, 3 That they rather increased the same daylie with tauntes, reproches and blasphemies against God. 7 VVherefore the Israelites desire God first to punish the Edomites, who prouoked the Babylonians against them, 8 And moued by the Spirit of God, prophetic the destruction of Babylon, where they were handled for yannously.

BY the riuers of Babel we sate, and there we wept, when we remembred Zión.

2 We hanged our harpes vpon the willowes in the middes thereof.

3 Then thei that led vs captiues, required of vs songs and mirth, when we had hanged vpon [our harpes, saying,] Sing vs [one] of the songs of Zión.

4 How shal we sing, [said we,] a song of the Lord in a strange land?

5 If I forget thee, O Ierusalem, let my right hand forget [to play.]

6 If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleaue to the rofe of my mouth: [yea,] if I preferre not Ierusalem to my chiefe ioye.

7 Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the daie of Ierusalem, which said, Rase it, rase it to the foundation thereof.

8 O daughter of Babel, worthy to be destroyed, blessed [shal he be] that rewardeth thee, as thou hast serued vs.

9 Blessed [shal he be] that taketh & casteth thy children against the stones.

VVhere for space of fortie yeres he shewed infinite & most strange wonders. Declaring the rebey & no power nor autowhie was to dere vnto him, as the loue of his Church.

That is, we abode along time: and alen of the country was pleasant, yet could it not haue our cares, nor turne vs from true seruice of our God.

To wit, of country.

The Babylonians spake thus in mocking vs, as though by our silence we should signifie that we hoped no more in God. 5 Albeit I said ful afterthought with their particular griefs, yet the common sorowe of the Church is most grievous vnto them. 7 Archers as they are, but remember and lament. 8 The Sea of Guad leaue their countrey, as they are glad to see them.

PSAL. CXXXVIII.

David with great courage praiseth the goodness of God toward him, the which is so great, 4 That it is known to forren princes, who shall praise the Lord together w him. 6 And he is assured to haue the like comfort of God in the time following, as he hath had heretofore.

A Psalme of David.

I Will praise thee with mine whole heart: [euen] before the gods wil I praise thee.

I wil worship toward thine holy Temple and praise thy Name, because of thy louing kindenes and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy Name aboue all things by thy worde.

When I called, then thou heardest me, [and] hast increased strength in my soule.

All the Kings of the earth shall praise thee, o Lord: for they haue heard the wordes of thy mouth.

And they shall sing of the wayes of the Lord, because the glorie of the Lord [is] great.

For the Lord is high: yet he beholdeth the lowely, but the proude he knoweth a farre of.

Thogh I walke in the middes of trouble, [yet] wilt thou reuiue me: thou wilt stretch forth the thine hand vpon the wrath of mine enemies, & thy right hand shall saue me.

The Lord wil performe [his worke] toward me: o Lord, thy mercie [endureth] for euer: forsake not the workes of thine hands.

PSAL. CXXXIX.

David to cleanse his heart from all hypocritie sheweth, there is nothing so hid, which God seeth not. 13 VVhich he confirmed by the creation of man. 14 After declaring his zeale and feare of God, he protesteth to be enemie to all them that contemne God.

To him that excelleth. A Psal. of David.

O Lord, thou hast tryed me & knowen [me.]

Thou knowest my sitting & my rysing: thou vnderstandest my thought a farre of.

Thou compassest my paths, and my lying downe, and art accustomed to all my wayes.

For there is not a worde in my tongue, [but] lo, thou knowest it wholly, o Lord.

Thou holdest me strait behinde and before, and layest thine hand vpon me.

[Thy] knowledge is so wonderfull for me: it is so high that I can not asseigne [it] to it.

Whether shall I go from thy Spirit? or whether shall I flee from thy presence?

If I ascend into heauen, thou art there: if I fly downe in hell, thou art there.

Let the wings of the morning, and shadowe of the evening, embrace me: and let the voice of the Lord be heard.

Yet thether shall thine hand lead me, & thy right hand holde me.

If I saie, Yet the darkenes shall hide me, euen the night [shall be] light about me.

Yea, the darkenes hideth not from thee: but the night shineth as the daie: the darkenes and light are bothe alike.

For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast couered me in my mothers wombe:

I wil praise thee, for I am fearfully and wonderously made: maruelous [are] thy workes, and my soule knoweth it wel.

My bones are not hid from thee, thogh I was made in a secret [place, &] facioned beneth in the earth.

Thine eyes did see me, when I was with out forme: for in thy boke were all things written, [which] in continuance were facioned, when there was none of them [before.]

Howm dere therefore are thy thoughts vnto me, o God! how great is the summe of them!

If I shulde counte them, they are more than the sand: when I wake, I am still with thee.

Oh that thou woldest slay, o God, the wicked and bloodie men, [to] whome I saie, Departe ye from me:

Which speak wickedly of thee, [and] beign thine enemies are lifted vp in vaine.

Do not I hate them, o Lord, that hate thee? and do not I earnestly contend with those that rise vp against thee?

I hate them with an vnfaigned hatred, as they were mine [vnter] enemies.

Trye me, o God, and knowe mine heart: proue me and knowe my thoughts,

And consider if there be any wickednes in me, and lead me in the waye for euer.

Or any rebellions: meaning, that thogh he were subiect to sinne, yet was he not giuen to wickednes and to provoke God by rebellion. 14 That is, continue thy fauour towards me to the ende.

PSAL. CXL.

David complaineth of the cruell, falsehode and inuention of his enemies. 1 Against the which he prayeth vnto the Lord and asseureth him selfe of his helpe and succour. 12 VVherefore he propoeth the lust to praise the Lord, and to assure them felices of his iustition.

To him that excelleth. A Psal. of David.

Deliver me, o Lord, from the euill man: preferre me from the cruel man:

Which imagine euill things in their heart, [and] make warre continually.

They haue sharpened their tongues like a serpent: adders poyson [is] vnder their lippes. Selah.

Kepe me, o Lord, from the hands of the wicked: preferre me from the cruel man, which purpoeth to cause my steppes to slide.

He declareth the godly, when they are oppressed by the worldlings.

a But in the presence of Angels, and of them, I haue authoritie among men. b Bothe the Temple and ceremoniall seruice at Christs coming were abolished: so I now God wil be worshipped in spirit and truth. c Thou hast strengthened me against mine outward & inward enemies. d All the world shall confesse, I thou hast wonderfully preferred me, & performed thy promise. e Distance of place can not hinder God to shewe mercy to his, & to iudge the wicked, thogh they thinke that he is farre of. f Thogh mine enemies rage neuer so much, yet the Lord, which hath begun his worke in me, wil continue his grace to the end.

g He considereth their father our actions, thoughts, or any parte of our life, as behid to God, thogh he seeme to be farre of. h So that they are suddenly knowne to they. i Thou knowest my meaning before I thinke. k I am so grieved with thine hand, that I can not do wayes, where thou wilt.

l Which persequeth me of malice & without cause. m That is, by their false accusations & lies they binde the heart of the wicked against me. n He sheweth what weapons the wicked vs, when power & force faile the. o He declareth the godly, when they are oppressed by the worldlings.

5 The proude haue laid a snare for me and spread a net with cordes in my path waie, [and] set gremnes for me. Selah.

6 [Therefore] I said vnto the Lord, Thou art my God: heare, o Lord, the voice of my praier.

7 O Lord God the strength of my saluation, thou hast couered mine head in the daie of battel.

8 Let not the wicked haue his desire, o Lord: performe not his wicked thoght, [lest] thei be proude. Selah.

9 [As for] the chief of them, that compass me about, let the mischief of their owne lippes come vpon them.

10 Let coles fall vpon them: let him cast them into the fyre, [and] into the depe pitres, that thei rise not.

11 [For] the backebiders shal not be established vpon the earth: euil shal hunt the cruel man to destruction.

12 I knowe that the Lord wil auenge the afflicted, [and] iudge the poore.

13 Surely the righteous shal praise thy Name, [and] the iust shal dwell in thy presence.

PSAL. CXLI.

David being grievously persecuted vnder Saul, onely fleeth vnto God to haue succour. 3 Desiring him to bridle his affections that he may patiently abyde til God take vengeance of his enemies.

A Psalm of David.

O Lord, I call vpon thee: haste thee vnto me: heare my voyce, when I cry vnto thee.

2 Let my praier be directed in thy sight [as] incense, [and] the lifting vp of mine hands [as] an euening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch, o Lord, before my mouth, [and] kepe the dore of my lippes.

4 Incline not mine heart to euil, that I shulde commit wicked workes with men that worke iniquitie: and let me not eat of their delicates.

5 Let the righteous smite me: [for that is] a benefite: & let him reprove me, [and] it shal be a precious oyle, that shal not breake mine head: for within a while I shal euene praye in their miseries.

6 When their iudges shal be cast downe in stonie places, thei shal heare my wordes, for thei are swete.

7 Our bones lie scattered at the graues mouth, as he that heweth wood for diggeth in the earth.

The people which followed their wicked ruler, punished. Here appeareth that David was deliuered out of many deaths, as 1. Chro. 19.

8 But mine eyes [loke] vnto thee, o Lord God: in thee is my trust: leaue not my soule destitute.

9 Kepe me from the snare, [which] thei haue laied for me, and from the gremnes of the workers of iniquitie.

10 Let the wicked fall into his nettes together, whiles I escape.

PSAL. CXLII.

The Prophet nether astonished with feare, nor caried awaie with angre, nor forced by desperation, wolde kill Saul, but with a quiet minde directed his earnest praier to God, who did preferre him.

A Psalm of David, to giue instruction, and a prayer, when he was in the caue.

I Cryed vnto the Lord with my voyce: with my voyce I praied vnto the Lord.

2 I powred out my meditation before him, [and] declared mine affliction in his presence.

3 Thogh my spirit was in perplexitie in me, yet thou knewest my path: in the waie, wherein I walked, haue thei priuely laied a snare for me.

4 I looked vpo my righthand, and behelde, but there was none that wolde knowe me: all refuge failed me, [and] none feared for my soule.

5 [Then] cryed I vnto thee, o Lord, [and] said, Thou art mine hope, [and] my portion in the land of the liuing.

6 Hearken vnto my crye, for I am brought verie lowe: deliuer me from my persecuters, for they are to strong for me.

7 Bring my soule out of prison, that I may praise thy Name: [then] shal the righteous come about me, when thou art beneficial vnto me.

PSAL. CXLIII.

An earnest prayer for remission of finnes, acknowledging that his enemies did thus cruelly persecute him by Gods iust iudgement. 8 He desireth to be restored to grace. 10 To be gouerned by his holy Spirit, that he may spend the remnant of his lyfe in the true feare and seruice of God.

A Psalm of David.

Hear my prayer, o Lord, [and] hearken vnto my supplication: answer me in thy truth [and] in thy righteousness.

2 [And] entre not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy sight shal none that is iust, be iustified.

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soule: he hath smitten my life downe to the earth: he hath laied me in the darkness, as they that haue bene dead long ago.

I knowe Gods nettes, whereby he catcheth & vntred in their own malice. So that none of them escapes.

a Davids patience and instant prayer to God condempned their wicked rage, & in their troubles either despairing or murmuring against God, or els seeking to others, then to God, to haue redres in their miseries.

b Ebr. was folded & wrapped in me, meaning, as a thing I could not haue none yfste.

c Or, fight for my soule.

d Thogh all means failed him, yet he knewe that God wolde neuer forsake him.

e For he was of all sides beleagured by his enemies, as though he had bene in a most strait prison. Esther to reioyce at my victory full deliuerance, as to let a crowe vpon my head.

8 * The Lord is gracious and * merciful, slowe to angrer, and of great mercie.

9 The Lord is good to all, and his mercies [are] ouer all his workes.

10 All thy workes praise thee, O Lord, and 15 The eyes of all waite vpon thee, and thou giuest them their meat in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things liuing of thy good pleasure.

17 The Lord [is] * righteous in all his waies, and holie in all his workes.

18 The Lord [is] nere vnto all that call vpo him: [yea], I to all that call vpon him in truet.

19 He wil fulfil the^m desire of them that feare him: he also wil heare their crye, and wil saue them.

20 The Lord preferueth all them that loue him: but he wil destroye all the wicked.

21 My mouth shal speake the praise of the Lord, and all^f flesh shal blesse his holie
Name for euer and euer.

^a To wit, of man, as of beast. ^b He praiseth God, not onely for that he is beneficiall to all his creatures, but also in that he justly punisheth the wicked, & mercifully examineth his by the crosse, giuing them strength and deliuering them. ^c VVhich onely apperaineth to ^d faithful: and this vertue is contrarie to infidelitie, doubting, impatience and murmuring. ^e For they wil aske or with for nothing, but according to his wil, 1 Joh. 5, 14. ^f That is, all men shal be bounde to praise him.

God, 3 And teacheth, not to trust in man, but onely in God alwaies, 7 VVhich deliuereth the afflicted, 9 Defendeth the strangers, comforteth the fatherles, and the widowes, 10 And reigneth for euer.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 PRAISE thou the Lord, O my * soule.
2 I wil praise the Lord during my life:
as long as I haue anie being, I wil sing vnto my God.

3 Put not your trust in ^b princes, [nor] in the sonne of man, for there is none helpe

1 The Prophet praiseth the bountie, wisdom, justice and prouidence of God vpon all his creatures, & especially vpon his Church, which he gathereth together after their disperſion, 19 Declaring his worde and iudgements so vnto them, as he hath done to none other people.

†Ebr. fat.

His secret working in all creatures is a commandment to keep them in order, and to give them moving force.

For immediately and without resisting all things obey him.

As before he called Gods secret working in all his creatures his worde: so he meaneth here, by his worde, the doctrine of life everlasting, which he hath left to his Church, as a most precious treasure.

The cause of this difference is Gods fremercy, which hath elected him in his Sonne Christ Iesus to saluatio: and his iust iudgement, where by he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

14 He setteth peace in thy borders, [and] satisfieth thee with the floure of wheat.

15 He sendeth forth his commandment vpon earth, [and] his worde runneth verie swiftly.

16 He giueth snow like wooll, [and] scattereth the hoare frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his yce like morsels: who can abide the colde thereof?

18 He sendeth his worde and melteth the: he causeth his winde to blowe, [and] the waters flowe.

19 He sheweth his^m worde vnto Iaakob, his statutes and his iudgements vnto Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with euerie natio, nether haue theyⁿ knowen [his] iudgements. Praise ye the Lord.

21 The cause of this difference is Gods fremercy, which hath elected him in his Sonne Christ Iesus to saluatio: and his iust iudgement, where by he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

1 He prouoketh all creatures to praise the Lord in heaven and earth and all places. 14. Specially his Church for the power that he hath given to the same after that he had chosen them and ioyned them vnto him.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise ye the Lord from the heaven: Praise ye him in the high places.

2 Praise ye him, all ye^a his Angels: praise him, all his armie.

3 Praise ye him, ^bsunne and moone: praise ye him all bright starres.

4 Praise ye him, ^cheauens of heauens, and ^dwaters, that be aboue the heauens.

5 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created.

people, [which is] a praise for all his Sanctes, [euen] for theⁱ children of Israel, a people [that is] nere vnto him. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLIX.

1 An exhortation to the Church to praise the Lord for his victorie and conquest that he giueth his Saints against all mans power.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Sing ye vnto the Lord ^aa new song: let this praise [be heard] in the Congregation of Saints.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that^b made him, and let the children of Zion reioyce in their^c King.

3 Let them praise his Name with the flute: let them sing praises vnto him with the timbrel and harpe.

4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: he wil make the meke glorious by deliuerance.

5 Let the Saints be ioyful with glorie: let them sing loude vpon their^d beddes.

6 Let the high Actes of God be in their mouth, and a two edged sworde in their hands, in the kingdom of Christ, when Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies: and it giueth no libertie to any to reuenge their priuate iniuries. f Not onely the people, but the Kings, that were their enemies, shulde be destroyed. g Hereby God bindeth the hands and mindes of all his to enterprise no farther then he appointeth.

PSAL. CL.

1 An exhortation to praise the Lord without cease by all manner of wayes, for all his mightie and wonderfull workes.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise ye God in his^a Sanctuaries: Praise ye him in the^b firmament of his power.

2 Praise ye him in his mightie Actes: praise ye him according to his excellent greatnes.

3 Praise ye him in the sounde of the^c trumpet: praise ye him vpon the viole and the harpe.

4 Praise ye him with timbrel & flute: praise ye him with virginales and organs.

5 Praise ye him with sounding cymbals: praise ye him with high sounding cymbals.

6 Let euerie thing that hath^d breath praise the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

in the old Law, but vnder Christ the via thereof is abolished in the Church. d He sheweth that all the order of nature is bound to this duty, and much more Gods children, who ought neuer to cease to praise him, till they be gathered into that kingdom, which he hath prepared for his, where they shal sing eternall praise.

i By reason of his conuention with Abraham.

a For his part manifeste by his fires bestowed vpon his Church.

b In that that they were preferred before all other nations, it was as a new creation, and therefore Psal. 95, 6. they were called ^e works of Gods hands.

c For God as he is the Create of the soule and body so wil be borne two serues him, & that his people be continually subiect vnto him as to their moste lawfull King.

d He alludeth to that obsequie, rest, and quietnes, which they shulde haue, if they wolde suffer God to rule them.

e This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdom of Christ, when Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies: and it giueth no libertie to any to reuenge their priuate iniuries. f Not onely the people, but the Kings, that were their enemies, shulde be destroyed. g Hereby God bindeth the hands and mindes of all his to enterprise no farther then he appointeth.

a That is, in the heaven.

b For his wonderfull power appeareth in the firmament, as in Ebr. is called a stretching out or spreading abroad, wherein ^e mightie workes of God be do.

c Exhorting the people continually reioyce in praising God, he maketh mention of these instruments, which by Gods commandment were appointed.

THE wonderful love of God toward his Church is declared in this booke: forasmuche as the summe and effect of the whole Scripture is here set forth in these brief sentences, which partly containe doctrine, and partly maners, and also exhortations to bothe. VVhereof the nine first chapters are as a preface full of graue sentences, and deepe mysteries, to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow: which are left as a most precious Jewell to the Church, of these three thousand parables mentioned King. 4. 32, and were gathered and committ to writing by Salomons seruants and indited by him.

1 Wisdom exhorteth to obey her. 5 She teacheth the feare of God. 6 She is giuen of God. 10 She preserveth from wickednes.

1 MY sonne, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, and hide my commandements within thee,

2 And cause thine eares to hearken vnto wisdom, [and] incline thine heart to vnderstanding,

3 (For if thou callest after knowledge, [and] cryest for vnderstanding:

4 If thou seekest her as siluer, and searchest for her as for treasures,

5 Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lord, and finde the knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord giueth wisdom, out of his mouth [commeth] knowledge & vnderstanding.

7 He preserveth the state of the righteous: [he is] a shield to them that walke vprightly,

8 That they may kepe the wayes of iudgement: & he preserveth the way of his Saints)

9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousness, and iudgement, and equitie, [and] euerie good path.

10 ¶ When wisdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge deliteth thy soule,

11 [Then] shall counsel preserve thee, [and] vnderstanding shall kepe thee,

12 And deliuer thee from the euil waye, [and] from the man that speaketh frowarde things,

13 [And from] them that leaue the wayes of righteousness to walke in the wayes of darkenes:

14 Which reioyce in doing euil, [and] delight in the frowardnes of the wicked, 15 Whose wayes are croked and they are lewde in their paths.

16 And it shall deliver thee from the strange woman, [euen] from the stranger, which flattereth with her wordes.

17 Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the couenant of her God.

18 Surely her house tendeth to death, & her pathis vnto the dead.

19 All they that go vnto her, returne not againe, nether take they holde of the wayes of life.

20 Therefore walke thou in the wayes of good men, & kepe the wayes of the righteous.

21 For the iust shall dwell in the land, and the vpright men shall remaine in it.

22 But the wicked men shall be cut off from the earth: and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it.

CHAP. III.

1 MY sonne, forget not thou my Law, but let thine heart kepe my commandements.

2 For they shall increase the length of thy dayes, and the yeres of life, and [thy] prosperitie.

3 Let not mercy and trueth forsake thee: binde them on thy necke, [and] write them vpon the table of thine heart.

4 So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of God and man.

5 ¶ Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisdom.

6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy wayes.

7 ¶ Be not wise in thine owne eyes: [but] feare the Lord, and departe from euil.

8 [So] health shall be vnto thy navel, and marow vnto thy bones.

9 Honour the Lord with thy riches, and with the first [frutes] of all thine increase.

10 So shall thy barnes be filled with abundance, and thy presses shall be burst with newe wine.

11 ¶ My sonne, refuse not the chastenig of the Lord, nether be grieued with his correction.

 the worde of God. 24 To see adulterie.

1 MY sonne, if thou be swertie for thy neighbour, [and] hast stricken hands with the stranger,

2 Thou art snared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art [euē] taken with the wor-des of thine owne mouth.

3 Do this now, my sonne, and deliuer thy self: seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, go, and humble thy self, and solicit thy friends.

4 Giue no slepe to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyeliddes.

5 Deliuer thy self as a doe from the hand [of the hunter,] and as a birde from the hand of the fowler.

6 ¶ Go to the pismire, o sluggard: beholde her wayes, and be wise.

7 For she hath no guide, gouernour, nor ruler,

8 Prepareth her meat in the sommer, [and] gathereth her fode in harvest.

9 How long wilt thou slepe, o sluggard:
 when wilt thou arise out of thy slepe?

10 [Yet] a little slepe, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to slepe.

11 Therefore thy powerie cometh as one that travaileth by the waie, and thy ne-cessitie like an armed man.

 struction.

1 MY sonne, bestow vnto my wisdom, thy lippes obserue knowledge.

3 For the lippes of a strange woman drop paths are moueable: thou shalt not knowe

 them.

[but] rebuke a wise man, and he wil loue thee.

9 Giue [admonition] to the wife, and he wil be the wiser: teache a righteous man, and he wil increase in learning.

10 The beginning of wisdom [is] the feare of the Lord, and the knowledge of holy things, [is] vnderstanding.

11 For thy dayes shalbe multiplied by me, and the yerres of thy life shalbe augmented.

12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thy self, [and if] thou be a scorner, thou alone shalt suffice.

13 ¶ A foolish woman [is] troublesome: she [is] ignorant, and knoweth nothing.

14 But she sitteth at the dore of her house on a seat in the hye places of the citie,

15 To call them that passe by the way, that go right on their way, [saying.]

16 Who so is simple, let him come hether: and to him that is destitute of wisdom, she faith also,

17 Stollen waters are swete, and hid bread is pleasant.

18 But he knoweth not, that the dead [are] there, [and that] her ghesies [are] in the depth of hel.

¶ CHAP. X.

In this chapter and all that followe vnto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which he calleth parables, to followe vertue, and flee vice: and sheweth also what profite cometh of wisdom, and what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnes.

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON.

1 A Wise sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish sonne [is] an heauines to his mother.

2 The treasures of wickednes profite nothing: but righteousness deliuereth fro death.

3 The Lord wil not famish the soule of the righteous: but he casteth away the substance of the wicked.

4 A slothful hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh riche.

5 He that gathereth in sommer, [is] the sonne of wisdom: but he that slepeth in harvest, [is] the sonne of confusion.

6 Blessings [are] vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shal couer the mouth of the wicked.

7 The memorial of the iust [shalbe] blessed: but the name of the wicked shal rotte.

8 The wise in heart wil receiue commandements: but the foolish in talke shalbe beaten.

9 He that walketh yprightly, walketh bol-dely: but he that peruerteth his waies, shal be knowen.

10 He that winketh with the eye, worketh sorowe, and he that is foolish in talke, shal be beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a well spring of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred stirreth vp contentions: but loue couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lippes of him that hath vnderstanding wisdom is founde, and a rod shalbe for the backe of him that is destitute of wisdom.

14 Wise men laye vp knowledge: but the mouth of the foole [is] a present destruction.

15 The riche mans goods are his strong citie: [but] the feare of the nedie [is] their pouertie.

16 The labour of the righteous [tendeth] to life: [but] the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.

17 He that regardeth instruction, [is in] the way of life: but he that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way.

18 He that dissembleth hatred with lying lippes, and he that inuenteth scandre, is a foole.

19 In manie wordes there can not want iniquitie: but he that refraineth his lippes, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iust man [is as] fined siluer: [but] the heart of the wicked [is] little worthe.

21 The lippes of the righteous do fede man: but fooles shal dye for want of wisdom.

22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh riche, and he doeth adde no sorowes with it.

23 [It is] as a passe time to a foole to do wickedly: but wisdom [is] vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shal come vpon him: but [God] wil grante the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirle winde passeth, so [is] the wicked no more: but the righteous [is as] an euerlasting foundation.

26 As vinegre [is] to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so [is] the slothful to them that send him.

27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the yerres of the wicked shal be diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous [shalbe] gladnes: but the hope of the wicked shal perish.

29 The way of the Lord [is] strength to the

He that beareth a false conscience, imagineth mischief in his heart, as Chap. 6. 13.

For the corruption of his heart is knowne by his talke.

1. Cor. 14. 15.

That is, God wil finde him out to punish him.

And so maketh him bold to do euil, whereas pouertie brideth the poore from many such things.

For he speaketh truth and edifies many by exhortations, admonition and counsel.

Meaning, that all worldly things bring care & sorow, where as they that feele the blessings of God, haue none.

He is but a trouble & grief to him that getteth him about any business.

In the time of their prosperitie shalbe short because of their great fall, as the great fall of the wicked.

^a They enioye in this lyfe by faith, and hope the eternall life.

vpright man: but feare shalbe for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shal^a neuer be remoued: but the wicked shal not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iuste shalbe fruteful in wisdom: but the tongue of the frowarde shalbe cut out.

32 The lippes of the righteous knowe what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked [speaketh] frowarde things.

CHAP. XI.

^a Vnder this worde he condemneth all false weights, measures and deceit.

^b VVhen man forgetteth him selfe, and thinketh to be exalted about his vocation, the God bringeth him to confusion.

^c Ezek 7, 19. eccle. 5, 10.

1 False^a balances [are] an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perfit^t weight pleaseth him.

2 When pride cometh, then cometh^b shame: but with the lowlie [is] wisdom.

3 The vprightnes of the iuste shal guide them: but the frowardnes of the transgressors shal destroye them.

4 Riches auaille not in the day of wrath: but righteousness deliuereth from death.

5 The righteousness of the vpright shal direct his way: but the wicked shal fall in his owne wickednes.

6 The righteousness of the iuste shal deliuer them: but the transgressors shalbe take in [their] owne wickednes.

^d VVild. 5, 15.

7 When a wicked man dyeth, [his] hope perisheth, and the hope of the vniust shal perish.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, and the wicked shal come in his^e stead.

9 An^d hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but the righteous shalbe deliuered by knowledge.

10 In the prosperitie of the righteous the citie^e reioyeth, and when the wicked perish, [there is] ioye.

11 By the^t blessing of the righteous, the citie is exalted: but it is subuerted by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisdom: but a man of vnderstanding wil^t kepe silence.

13 He that goeth about [as] a slanderer, discouereth a secret: but he that is of a faithful heart, conceileth a matter.

14 Where no counsel is, the people fall: but where manie^e counselors are, [there is] health.

15 He shal be sore vexed that is suretie for a^t stranger, and he^t that hateth suretieship, is sure.

16 A^t gracious woman attaineth honour, and the strong men attaine riches.

17 He that is merciful, rewardeth his owne soule: but he that troubleth his owne flesh, is cruel.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitful worke: but he that soweth righteousness, [shal receiue] a sure rewarde.

19 As righteousness [leadeth] to life: so he followeth euil, [seeketh] his owne death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, [are] abomination to the Lord: but they that are vpright in [their] way, [are] his delite.

21 [Though] hand [ioyne] in hand, the wicked shal not be vn timer: but the seede of the righteous shal escape.

22 [As] a iewel of golde in a swines snoute, [so is] a faire woman, which lacketh discretion.

23 The desire of the righteous [is] onely good: [but] the hope of the wicked^a [is] indignation.

24 There is that scattereth, and is more increased: but he that spareth more^a then is right, surely [cometh] to pouertie.

25 The liberal persone shal haue plentie: and he that watereth, shal also haue raine.

26 He that withdraweth the corne, the people wil curse him: but blessing [shalbe] vpon the head of him that sellerh corne.

27 He that seeketh good things, getteth fauour: but he that seeketh euil, it shal come to him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches, shal fall: but the righteous shal flourish as a leafe.

29 He that troubleth his owne^a house, shal inherite the winde, & the foole [shalbe] seruant to the wise in heart.

30 The frute of the righteous [is as] a tree of life, and he that^t winneth soules, [is] wise.

31 Beholde the righteous shalbe^t recompensed in the earth: how muche more the wicked and the sinner?

CHAP. XII.

1 HE that loneth instruction, loneth knowledge: but he that hateth correction, [is] a foole.

2 A good man getteth fauour of the Lord: but the man of wicked imaginations wil he condemne.

3 A man can not be established by wickednes: but the^a roote of the righteous shal not be moued.

4 A verteous woman [is] the crowne of her housband: but she that maketh [him] ashamed, [is] as corruption in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the iust [are] right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceitful.

6 The talking of the wicked [is] to lye in wait for blood: but^t mouth of the righteous wil^t deliuer them.

7 [God] ouerthroweth the wicked, & they are

⁷ That profiteth for the use of them that are in need.

⁸ The courteous men that spare their riches to the hinderance of their families, shalbe depriued thereof miserably.

⁹ For though the wicked be rich, yet are they but slaves to godly, which are the true possessors of the gifts of God.

¹⁰ That is, bringeth them to the knowledge of God.

¹¹ Shal be punished as he deserveth, as 1. Pet. 4, 15.

¹² They are grounded in the fauour of God, that their conscience shal prosper continually. ¹³ Ebr. strong of person.

are not: but the house of the righteous shal stand.

8 A man shalbe commended for his wisdom: but the froward of heart shalbe despised.

9 He that is despised, and [is] his owne servant, is better then he that boasteth himself and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man^d regardeth the lyfe of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked [are] cruel.

11 *He that tilleth his land, shal be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth ^fidle, [is] destitute of ^fvnderstanding.

12 The wicked desireth the *net of euils: but the ^froote of the righteous giueth [frute.]

13 The euil man is snared by the wickednes of [his] lippes, but the iust shal come out of aduersitie.

14 A man shal be satiate with good things by the frute of [his] mouth, and the recompense of a mans hands shal [God] giue vnto him.

15 The way of a foole [is] bright in his owne eyes: but he that heareth counsel, [is] wise.

16 A foole in a day shal be known by his angre: but he^b that couereth shame, [is] wise.

17 He that speaketh trueth, wil shewe righteousness: but a false witnes [vseth] disceit.

18 * There is that speaketh [wordes] lyke the prickings ofⁱ a sword: but the tongue of wise men [is] health.

19 The lippe of trueth shalbe stable for euer: but a lying tongue [varieth] incontinently.

20 Disceit [is] in the heart of them that imagine euil: but to the counsellors of peace [shalbe] ioye.

21 There shal none iniquitie come to the iuste: but the wicked are ful of euil.

22 The lying lippes [are] an abomination to the Lord: but they that deale truly [are] his delite.

23 A wise man conceileth knowledge: but the heart of the fooles publisheth foolishnes.

24 * The hand of the diligent shal beare rule: but the idle [shalbe] vnder tribute.

25 Heauines in ^fheart of man doeth bring it downe: but a^k good worde reioyceth it.

26 The righteous^l [is] more excellent then his neighbour: but the way of the wicked wil disceiue them.

27 The disceitful man roseth not, that he stroke in hunting: but the riches of the diligent man [are] precious.

28 Life [is] in the way of righteousness, & [in that] pathway [there is] no death.

¶ CHAP. XIII.

1 A Wife sonne [wil obey] the instruction of his father: but a scorner wil heare no rebuke.

2 A man shal eat good things by the frute^a of [his] mouth: but the soule of the trespassers [shal suffer] violence.

3 He that kepeth his mouthe, kepeth his lyfe: [but] he that openeth his lippes, destruction [shalbe] to him.

4 The sluggarde^b lusteth, but his soule hathe nought: but the soule of the diligent shal haue plentie.

5 A righteous man hateth lying wordes: but the wicked causeth sclander & shame.

6 Righteousnes preserueth the vpright of ^flife: but wickednes ouerthroweth the^f sinner.

7 There is that maketh him self riche, and hathe nothing, [and] that maketh him self poore, hauing great riches.

8 A man [wil giue] his riches for the raunsome of [his] life: but the poore^c can not heare the reproche.

9 The light of the righteous reioyceth: but the candle of the wicked shalbe put out.

10 Onely by pride^d doeth [man] make contention: but with the wel aduised [is] wisdom.

11 The riches of vanitie shal diminish: but he that gathereth with^e the hand, shal increase [them.]

12 The hope that is differred, [is] the fainting of the heart: but when the desire cometh, [it is as] a tre of life.

13 He that despiseth^g the worde, he shalbe destroyed: but he that feareth the commandement, he shal be rewarded.

14 The instruction of a wise man [is as] the well spring of life, to turne away from the snares of death.

15 Good vnderstanding maketh acceptable: but the way of the disobedient [is] hated.

16 Euerie wise man wil worke by knowledge: but a foole wil spread abroad follie.

17 * A wicked messenger falleth^h into euil: but a faithful ambassadour [is] preservation.

18 Pouertie and shame [is] to him that refuseth instruction: but he that regardeth correction, shal be honored.

19 A desire accomplished deliteth the soule, but [it is] an abomination to fooles to departe from euil.

20 He that walketh with the wise, shal be

21 Affliction followeth sinners: but vnto ^f righteous [God] wil recompense good.

22 The good mā shal giue inheritance vnto [his] childrens childrē: and the ^k riches of the sinner is laied vp for the iuste.

23 Muche foode [is] in the field of the ^l poore: but [the field] is destroyed without discretion.

24 ^a He that spareth his rod, hateth his sonne: but he that loueth him, chasteneth him betime.

25 The righteous eateth to the contentation of his minde: but the bellie of the wicked shal want.

¶ CHAP. XIII.

1 A Wise woman ^a buyldeth her house: but the foolish destroyeth it with her owne hands.

2 ^b He that walketh in his ^b righteousness, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewde in his waies, despiseth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish [is] the ^c rodde of pride: but the lippes of the wise preferue them.

4 Where none ^d oxen [are] there the crib [is] empty: but muche increase [cometh] by the strength of the oxe.

5 A faithful witness wil not lye: but a false recorde wil speake lyes.

6 A scorner ^e seeketh wisdom, and [findeth] it not: but knowledge [is] casie to him that wil vnderstand.

7 Depart from the foolish man, when thou perceiuest not [in him] the lippes of knowledge.

8 The wisdom of the prudent [is] to vnderstand his way: but the foolishnes of the fooles [is] discit.

9 The foole maketh a mocke ^f of sinne: but among the righteous [there is] fauour.

10 The heart knoweth the ^g bitterness of his soule, and the stranger shal not medle with his ioye.

11 The house of the wicked shal be destroyed: but the tabernacle of the righteous shal flourish.

12 ^h There is a way which seemeth right to a man: but the yssues thereof [are] the wayes of death.

13 Euen in laughing the heart is sorowful, ⁱ and the end of that mirth [is] heauines.

14 The heart that declineth, ^j shal be sacrificed with his owne wayes: but a good man [shal departe] from him.

15 The foolish wil beleue euerie thing: but the prudent wil consider his steppes.

16 A wife man feareth, and departeth from euil: but a foole rageth, and is careles.

17 He that is hastie to angrē, committeth folie, and a ^k busie bodie is hated.

18 The foolish do inherite folie: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The euil shal bowe before the good, and the wicked ^l at the gates of the righteous.

20 The poore is hated euen of his owne neighbour: but the friends of the riche [are] manie.

21 The sinner despiseth his neighbour: but he that hath mercie on the poore, [is] blessed.

22 Do not they erre that imagine euil: but to them that thinke on good things, [shal be] mercie, and trueth.

23 In all labour there is abundance: but the talke of the lippes [bringeth] onely want.

24 The crowne of the wise [is] their riches, [and] the folie of fooles [is] foolishnes.

25 A faithful witness deliuereth soules: but a disceiuer speaketh lies.

26 In the feare of the Lord [is] an assured strength, and his children shal haue hope.

27 The feare of the Lord [is as] a wel spring of life, to auoide the snares of death.

28 In the multitude of the ^m people is the honour of a King, and for the want of people [cometh] the destruction of the prince.

29 He that is slowe to wrath, [is] of great wisdom: but he that is of an hastie minde exalteth folie.

30 A sound heart [is] the life of the ⁿ flesh: but enuie [is] the rotting of the bones.

31 ^o He that oppresseth the poore, repro- ueth him that made him: but he honoreth him that hath mercie on the poore.

32 The wicked shal be cast away for his malice: but the righteous hath hope ^p in his death.

33 Wisdom resteth in the heart of him that hath vnderstanding, and is known ^q in the middes of fooles.

34 Iustice exalteth a nation, ^r but sinne is a shame to the people.

35 The pleasure of a King [is] in a wise ser- uant: but his wrath shal be toward him that is lewde.

¶ CHAP. XV.

1 A ^s Soft answer putteth away wrath: but grievous wordes stirre vp angrē.

2 The tongue of the wise vseth know- ledge aright: but the mouth of fooles ^t ba- bleth out foolishnes.

3 The eyes of the Lord in euerie place beholde the euil and the good.

4 A wholesome tongue [is as] a tre of life: but the the frowardnes thereof [is] the breaking of the minde.

5 A foole despiseth his fathers instruction: but he that regardeth correction, is prudent.

6 The house of the righteous [hathe] much treasure: but in the reuernes of the wicked is a trouble.

7 The lippes of the wise do spread abroad knowledge: but the heart of the foolish [doeth] not so.

8 The sacrifice of the wicked [is] abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable vnto him.

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination vnto the Lord: but he loueth him that followeth righteousness.

10 Instruction is euil to him that forsaketh the way, [and] he that hateth correction, shal dye.

11 Hel and destruction [are] before the Lord: how much more the hearts of the sonnes of men?

12 A scorner loueth not him that rebuketh him, nether wil he go vnto the wise.

13 A ioyful heart maketh a cheereful countenance: but by the sorow of the heart the minde is heauie.

14 The heart of him that hathe vnderstanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is fed with foolishnes.

15 All the daies of the afflicted [are] euil: but a good conscience [is] a continual feast.

16 Better [is] a litle with the feare of the Lord, then great treasure and trouble therewith.

17 Better [is] a dinner of greene hebes where reioyces [is], then a stalled oxe and hatred therewith.

18 An angrie man stirreth vp strife: but he that is slowe to wrath, appeaseth strife.

19 The way of a slouthful man [is] as an hedge of thornes: but the way of the righteous is plaine.

20 A wife sonne reioycest the father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.

21 Foolishnes [is] ioye to him that is destitute of vnderstanding: but a man of vnderstanding walketh vprightly.

22 Without counsel thoghts come to naught: but in the multitude of counsellors there is stedfastnes.

23 A ioye [cometh] to a man by the answer of his mouth: and how good [is] a worde in due season?

24 The waie of life [is] on high to the prudent, to auoide from hel beneth.

25 The Lord wil destroy the house of the proude men: but he wil stablish the borders of the widowe.

26 The thoughts of the wicked are abomination to the Lord: but the pure [haue] pleasant wordes.

27 He that is greedy of gaine, troubleth his owne house: but he that hateth giftes, shal liue.

28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answer: but the wicked mans mouth babbeth euil things.

29 The Lord is farre off from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes reioycest the heart, & a good name maketh the bones far.

31 The eare that hearkeneth to the correction of life, shal lodge among the wise.

32 He that refuseth instruction, despiseth his owne soule: but he that obedieth correction getteth vnderstanding.

33 The feare of the Lord [is] the instruction of wisdom: and before honour [goeth] humilitie.

¶ CHAP. XVI.

1 The preparatiōs of the heart [are] in man: but the answer of the tongue [is] of the Lord.

2 All the waies of a man [are] cleane in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the spirits.

3 Commit thy workes vnto the Lord, and thy thoughts shal be directed.

4 The Lord hathe made all things for his owne sake: yea, euen the wicked for the day of euil.

5 All that are proude in heart, [are] an abomination to the Lord: [though] hand ioyne in hand, he shal not be vnpunished.

6 By mercie and truth iniquitie shal be forgien, and by the feare of the Lord they departe from euil.

7 When the waies of a man please the Lord, he wil make also his enemies at peace with him.

8 Better is a litle with righteousness, then great reuernes without equitie.

9 The heart of man purposeth his way: but the Lord doeth direct his steppes.

10 A diuine sentence [shal be] in the lippes of the King: his mouth shal not transgresse in iudgement.

11 A true weight and balance are of the Lord: all the weights of the bagge [are] his worke.

12 It is an abomination to Kings to commit wickednes: for the throne is stablished by iustice.

13 Righteous lippes are the desire of Kings, and the King loueth him that speaketh right things.

27 For a whore is as a deepe ditch, and a strange woman (is as) a narrow pit.

28 Also she lieth in waite as for a pray, and she increaseth the transgressors among men.

29 To whome is woe to whome is sorrowe to whome is strife? to whome is murmuringe to whome are woundes without cause? [and] to whome is the rednes of the eyes?

30 [Even] to them that tarry long at the wine, to them that go, and seke mixt wine.

31 Loke not thou vpon the wine, when it is red, [and] when it sheweth his colour in the cuppe, for goeth downe pleasantly.

32 In the end thereof it will bite like a serpent, and hurt like a cockatrice.

33 Thine eyes shall loke vpon strange women, and thine heart shall speake lewd things.

34 And thou shalt be as one that sleepeth in the middes of the sea, and as he that sleepeth in the top of the mast.

35 They haue stricken me, [saith] thou say, but I was not sick: they haue beaten me, [but] I knewe not, when I awoke, I founde me as I seke it yet still.

CHAP. XXIII.

BE not thou enuious against euill men, neither desire to be with them.

2 For their heart imagineth destruction, & their lippes speake mischief.

3 Through wisdom is an house builded, and with vnderstandinge it is established.

4 And by knowledge shall the chambers be filled with all precious, and pleasant riches.

5 A wise man is strong for a man of vnderstandinge encreaseth his strength.

6 For with counsel shalt thou shalt enterpriue thy waye, and in the multitude of them that can giue counsel, is health.

7 Wisdom is high as a castle, therefore shall he can not open his mouth in the gate.

8 He that imagineth to do euill, men shall call him an auctor of wickednes.

9 The wicked thought of a fooler is [saith] the scorner is an abomination vnto men.

10 If thou be hurt in the day of reuenge, thy strength is small.

11 Deliuere them that are drawn to death, and wilt thou not perseuere them that led to be slaine?

12 If thou say, Beholde, we knewe not of it: he that pondereth the hearts, doeth not he vnderstand it? and he that kepeth thy soule, knoweth he it not? wilt not he also recompense euery man according to his workes?

13 My sonne, eat thou home, for it is good, & the honie combe, [for it is] sweete vnto thy mouth.

14 So shall the knowledge of wisdom be vnto thy soule, if thou finde it, and there shall be an end, and thine hope shall not be cut of.

15 Lay no waite, O wicked man, against the house of the righteous, and spoyle not his resting place.

16 For a righteous man falleth seuen times, and riseth againe: but the wicked fall into mischief.

17 Be thou not glad when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart reioyce when he stumbleth.

18 Lest the Lord see it, and it displease him, and he turne his wrath from him.

19 Breake not thy self because of the malicious, neither be enuious at the wicked.

20 For there shall be none end of plagues to the cruel man, the light of the wicked shall be put out.

21 My sonne, feare the Lord, and the King, [and] meddle not with them that are seditions.

22 For their destruction shall come suddenly, and who knoweth the ruine of them? be thou.

23 ALSO THESE THINGS PERTEINE TO THE WISE.

24 He that saith to the wicked, Thou art righteous, him shall the people curse, [and] the multitude shall abhorre him.

25 But to them that rebuke thine euill pleasure, and vpon them shall come the blessing of goodness.

26 They shall liue the lippes of him that answereth with right wordes.

27 Prepare thy worke without, and make ready thy things in the field, and after, buyde thine house.

28 Be not a witness against thy neighbour without cause: for wilt thou dispute with thy neighbour?

29 Say not, I will do to him, as he hath done to me, I will recompense euery man according to his workes.

nie to a foole.

9 [As] a thorne standing vpon in the hand of a drunkard, so [is] a parable in the mouth of fooles.

10 The excellent that formed all things, bothe rewardeth the foole and rewardeth the transgressors.

11 As a dogge turneth againe to his owne vomite, so a foole turneth to his foolishnes.

12 Seest thou a man wise in his owne conceite: more hope [is] of a foole then of him.

13 The slouthful man saith, A lyon [is] in the waye: a lyon [is] in the stretes.

14 [As] the dore turneth vpon his hinges, so [doeth] the slouthful man vpon his bed.

15 The slouthful hideth his hand in [his] bosome, [and] it grieveth him to put it againe to his mouth.

16 The sluggard is wiser in his owne conceit, then [eu]en [men] that can rendre a reason.

17 He that passeth by and medleth with the strife [that belongeth] not vnto him, [is as] one that taketh a dogge by the eares.

18 As he that faineth him self mad, casteth fyre brandes, arrowes and mortal things, 19 So [dealeth] the deceitful man with his friend and saith, Am not I in sporte?

20 Without wood the fyre is quenched, & without a tale bearer strife ceaseth.

21 [As] the cole [maketh] burning coles, and wood a fyre, so the contentious man [is apt] to kindle strife.

22 The wordes of a tale bearer [are] as flatterings, and they go downe into the bowels of the bellie.

23 [As] siluer drosse ouerlaid vpon a potshard, [so are] burning lippes, and an euil heart.

24 He that hateth, wil counterfait with his lippes, but in his heart he layeth vpon deceit.

25 Thogh he speake fauorably, beleue him not: for [there are] ¹seuen abominations in his heart.

26 Hatred may be couered by deceit: [but] the malice thereof shalbe discovered in the ^mCongregation.

27 He that diggeth a pit, shal fall therein, and he that rolleth a stone, it shal returne vnto him.

28 A false tongue hateth the afflicted, and a flattering mouth causeth ruine.

CHAP. XXVII.

Boast not thy self of to morowe: for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine owne mouth: a stranger, and not thine owne lips.

3 A stone [is] heauie, and the sand weightie: but a fooles wrath [is] heauier then them bothe.

4 Anger [is] cruel, and wrath [is] raging: but who can stand before ^benueie?

5 Open rebuke [is] better then secret loue.

6 The woundes of a louer [are] faithful, & the kisses of an enemy [are] ^cpleasant.

7 The persone that is full, despiseth an honie combe: but vnto the hungrie soule euerie bitter thing is swete.

8 As a birde that wadereth from her nest, so [is] a man that wandereth fro his owne place.

9 [As] iointement and perfume reioyce the heart, so [doeth] the sweteness of a mans friend by heartie counsel.

10 Thine owne friend & thy fathers friend forsake thou not: neither entre into thy brothers ^dhouse in the day of thy calamities: for better [is] a neighbour [that is] ^enefe, then a brother farre of.

11 My sonne, be wise, and reioyce mine heart, that I may answer him that reprocheth me.

12 A prudent man seeth the plague, and hideth him self: [but] the foolish go on still, [and] are punished.

13 Take his garment that is suretie for a stranger, and a pledge of him for the stranger.

14 He that ^fpraiseth his friend with a lowdeuoyce, rising ^gearly in the morning, shalbe counted to him as a curse.

15 A continual dropping in the day of raine, and a contentious woman are alike.

16 He that hideth her, hideth the winde, & [she is as] the oyle in his right hand, that vttereth it self.

17 Yron sharpeneth yron, so doeth ^hman sharpen the face of his friend.

18 He that kepeth the figge tre, shal eat the frute thereof: so he that waiteth vpon his master, shal come to honour.

19 As in water face [answereth] to face, ⁱso the heart of man to man.

20 The grane & destruction can neuer be full, so ^jthe eyes of man can neuer be satisfied.

21 [As is] the fining pot for siluer and the fornace for golde, so [is] ^keuerie man according to his dignitie.

22 Thogh thou shuldest braye a foole in a mortar among wheat brayed with a pestel, [yet] wil not his foolishnes departe from him.

- 2 Surely I am more * foolish then any mā, and haue not the vnderstanding of a man in me.
- 3 For I haue not learned wisdome, nor attained to the knowledge of holy things.
- 4 Who hathe ascended vp to ^dheauen, and descended? Who hathe gathered the winde in his fist? Who hathe bounde the waters in a garmēt? Who hathe established all the ends of the worlde? What is his name, & what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tel?
- 5 * Euerie worde of God is pure: he is a shield to those, that trust in him.
- 6 * Put nothing vnto his wordes, lest he reprove thee, and thou be founde a lyer.
- 7 Two * things haue I required of thee: deny me them not before I dye.
- 8 Remoue farre from me vanitie and lies: giue me not pouertie, nor riches: fede me with foode conuenient for me,
- 9 Left I be full, and deny [thee,] and say, * Who is the Lord? or lest I be poore and steale, and take the Name of my God [in vaine.]
- 10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, lest he curse thee, & when thou hast offended.
- 11 [There is] a generatiō that curseth their father, and doeth not blesse their mother.
- 12 [There is] a generatiō that are pure in their owne conceit, and [yet] are not washed from their filthines.
- 13 [There is] a generatiō, whose eyes are haucie, and their eye liddes are lifted vp.
- 14 [There is] a generatiō, whose teeth [are as] swordes, and their chawes [as] kniues to eat vp the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among men.

- 15 The rodde and correction giue wifdome: but a childe set at libertie, maketh his mother ashamed.
- 16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shal see their fall.
- 17 Correct thy sonne & he wil giue thee rest, and wil giue pleasures to thy soule.
- 18 ^d Where there [is] no vision, the people decay: but he that kepeth the Law, [is] blessed.
- 19 A * seruant wil not be chastised with wordes: though he vnderstand, yet he will not answer.
- 20 Seekest thou a man hastie in his matters? [there is] more hope of a foole, then of him.
- 21 He that delicately bringeth vp his seruant from youth, at length he wil be euen [as] his sonne.
- 22 * An angrie man stirreth vp strife, and a furious man aboundeth in transgression.
- 23 * The pride of a man shal bring him lowe: but the humble in spirit shal enioye glorie.
- 24 He that is partaner with a thief, hateth his owne soule: he heareth cursing, & declareth it not.
- 25 The feare of man bringeth a ^f snare: but he that trusteth in the Lord, shalbe exalted.
- 26 Many do seke the face of the ruler: but euerie mans iudgement [commeth] from the Lord.

ECCLESIASTES, OR the Preacher.

THE ARGUMENT.

Salomon, as a preacher, and one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deceivable vanities of this worlde, that man shulde not be addicted to any thing vnder the sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heavenly lyfe: therefore he confuteth their opinions, which set their felicitie either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is vnitied with God and shal inioye his presence: so that all other things must be reiected, save in as much as they further vs to attaine to this heavenly treasure, which is sure & permanent, and can not be founde in any other save in God alone.

CHAP. I.

2 All things in this worlde are ful of vanitie, and of none indurance. 3 All mans wisdom is but folie and grief.

HE wordes of the Preacher, the sonne of Dauid King of Ierusalem.

Vanitie of vanities, saith the Preacher: vanitie of vanities, all [is] vanitie.

3 What remaineth vnto man in all his travail, which he suffereth vnder the sunne? 4 [One] generation passeth, and [another] generation succedeth: but the earth remaineth for euer.

5 The sunne riseth, and the sunne goeth downe, and draweth to his place, where he riseth.

6 The winde goeth roward the South, & compasseth toward the North: the winde goeth rounde about, and returneth by his circuit.

7 All the riuers go into the sea, yet the sea is not full: [for] the riuers go into the place, whence they returne, and go.

8 All things are ful of labour: man cannot ytter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.

9 What is it that hath bene? that that shalbe: & what is it that hath bene done? that which shalbe done: and there [is] no new thing vnder the sunne.

10 Is there any thing, whereof one may say, Beholde this, it is newe? it hath bene already in the olde time that was before vs.

11 There is no memorie of former, neither shal there be a remembrance of the latter that shalbe, with them that shal come after.

12 I the Preacher haue bene King ouer Israel in Ierusalem:

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to search, and finde out wisdom by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this sore travail hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby)

14 I haue considered all the workes that are done vnder the sunne, and beholde, all [is] vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

15 That which is crooked can none make straight: and that which faileth, can not be nombred.

16 I thought in mine heart, and said, Beholde, I am become great, and excel in wisdom all them that haue bene before me in Ierusalem: and mine heart hath sent muche wisdom and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to knowe wisdom and knowledge, madnes and foolishnes: I knewe also that this is a vexation of the spirit.

18 For in the multitude of wisdom [is] muche grief: and he that encreaseth knowledge, encreaseth sorrow.

He proueth if any colde haue attained to felicitie in this worlde by labour and study, he chiefly shuld haue obtained it, because he had giftes & aydes of God thereunto above al other.

Man of nature hath a desire to knowe, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sinne, to humble man, and to teache him to depend onely vpon God.

Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to go otherwise than they do: neither can he number the fautes that are committed, muche lesse remedie them.

1 That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commodity, but grief and trouble of conscience. 2 V Wisdom and knowledge can not be come by without great paine of body and minde, for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this worlde is no true felicitie.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches & possessions are but vanitie. 14 The wise and the foole haue both one end, touching the bodily death.

^a Salomon maketh this discourse with him self, as though he wold try whether there were contentation in ease and pleasures.
† Ebr. draw my flesh to wine.
b Albeit I gaue my self to pleasures, yet I thought to kepe wisdom and feare of God in mine heart, and gouerne mine affaires by the same.
† Ebr. do.

† Ebr. paradises

c Meaning, of seruants or slaves, which he had bought: so children borne in their seruitude, were the manner.

d That is, what fouer man taketh pleasure in. e V Which were the most beautiful of them. f were taken in warre, as Iudg. 5. 30. Some vnderstand by these wordes, not women but instruments of musike. f For all this God did not take his gift of wisdom from me.

g This was the frute of all my labour, a certaine pleasure mixt with care, which he calleth vanitie in the next verse.

h I bethought w my self whether it were better to followe wisdom, or mine owne affections: & pleasures, which he calleth made nes.

† Or, compare with the King. * Prover. 17. 14. i He foretelleth things, which a foole can not forsake of wisdom.

k For both dye and are forgotten, as verse 16. or they bothe like haue profited, or aduanti-

I Said in mine heart, Go to now, I will proue^a thee with ioye: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and behold, this also is vanitie.

2 I said of laughter, Thou art mad: and of ioye, What is this that thou doest?

3 I sought in mine heart[†] to giue my self to wine, and to lead mine heart in^b wisdom, and to take holde of folie, til I might see where is that goodnes of the children of men, which they[†] enioye vnder the sunne: the [whole] number of the daies of the ir life.

4 I haue made my great workes: I haue buylt me houses: I haue planted me vineyards.

5 I haue made me gardens and orchardes, and planted in them trees of all frute.

6 I haue made me cisternes of water, to watter therewith the woods that growe with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruants & maids, and had children [borne] in the^c house: also I had great possession of beues and shepe aboute all that were before me in Ierusalem.

8 I haue gathered vnto me also siluer and golde, and the chief treasures of Kings & prouinces: I haue prouided me me^d fingers and women fingers, and the^d delites of the sonnes of men, [as] a woman^e taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was great, and encreased aboute all that were before me in Ierusalem: also my wisdom^f remained with me.

10 And what fouer mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from the: I withdrew not mine heart from anie ioye: for mine heart reioyced in all my labour: and this was my^g portion of all my trauail.

11 The^h I loked on all my workes that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauail that I had labored to do: and beholde, all [is] vanitie and vexation of the spirit: and there [is] no profite vnder the sunne.

12 ¶ And I turned to beholde^h wisdom, and madnes and folie: (for who is the ma that wil come after the King in things, w men now haue done?)

13 Then I sawe that there is profite in wisdom, more then in folie: as light is more excellent then darkenes.

14 * For the wise mansⁱ eyes [are] in his head, but the foole walketh in darkenes: yet I knowe also that the same^k condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth vnto me, as it befalleth to the foole. Why therefore do I then labour to be more wise? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shalbe no remembrance of the wise, nor of the foole^l for euer: for that that now is, in the daies to come shal all be forgotten. And^m how dyeth the wise man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne is grievous vnto me: for all [is] vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne, which I shal leaue to the man that shalbe after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shalbe wise or foolish? yet shal he haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue trauailed, & wherein I haue shewed my self wise vnder the sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heartⁿ abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauail is in wisdom, & in knowledge and in equities: yet to a man that hath not trauailed herein, shal he^o giue his portion: this also is vanitie and a great grief.

22 For what hathe man of all his trauail and grief of his heart, wherein he hathe trauailed vnder the sunne?

23 For all his dayes are sorowes, & all his trauail grief: his heart also taketh not rest in the night, which also is vanitie.

24 There [is] no profite to ma: but that he eat, and drinke, and^p deliue his soule with the profite of his labour: I sawe also this, that it was of the hand of God.

25 For who colde eat, and who colde haste to^q outward things more then I?

26 Surely to a man that is good in his sight, [God] giueth wisdom, and knowledge, & ioye: but to the sinner he giueth paine to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God: this is also vanitie, & vexation of the spirit.

¶ CHAP. III.

¹ All things haue their time. ¹⁴ The workes of God are perfite, and cause vs to feare him. ¹⁷ God shal iudge both the iust, and iniuste.

TO all things [there is] an^a appointed time, & a time to euerie purpose vnder the heauen.

2 A time to be borne, and a time to dye: a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp that, which is planted.

3 A time to slay, & a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to buyld.

4 A time to wepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to dance.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time

^m He wondereth that me forget a wise man being dead, as one as they do a foole.

ⁿ That I might seeke the true felicitie which is in God.

^o Among other griefes this was not the least to leaue^q which he had gotten by great trauail, yet one that had taken no paine therefore, and whome he knewe not whether he were a wise man or a foole.

^p V When man hathe all laboured, he can get no more then fode, & refreshing: yet he confelleth also that this cometh of Gods blessing, as Chap. 3. 13. ^q Meaning, to pleasures.

^a He speaketh of time for two causes, first to declare that there is nothing in this worlde perpetuall: next to teache vs not to be grieved, if we haue not all things at once accordig to our desires, neither enioye them so long as we wold de wish.

time to be farre from embracing.

6 A time to seke, and a time to lose: a time to kepe, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rent, and a time to sowe: a time to kepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What profite[th] he that worketh, of the thing wherein he trauaileth?

10 I haue sene the trauail that God hath giuen to the sonnes of men ^b to humble them thereby.

11 He hath made euerie thing beautiful in his time: also he hath set the ^c worlde in their heart, yet can not man finde out the worke that God hath wrought from the beginning euen to the end.

12 I knowe that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce, and to do good in his life.

13 And also that euerie mā eateth and drinketh, and seeth the commoditie of all his labour. this is the ^d gift of God.

14 I knowe that whatsoeuer God shal do, it shal be for ^e euer: to it can no man adde: and from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they shulde feare before him.

15 That that hath bene, is now: and that that shal be, hath now bene: for God ^f requireth that which is past.

16 And moreover I haue sene vnder the sunne the place of iudgement, where [was] wickednes, and the place of iustice where [was] iniquitie.

17 I thought in mine heart, God wil iudge the iuste & the wicked: for time is there for euerie purpose and for euerie worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men that God had ^h purged them: yet to se to, they are in the selues [as] beasts.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beastes [are] euen [as] one ⁱ condition vnto them. As the one dyeth, so dyeth the other: for they haue all one breath, and there is no excellencie of man aboue the beast: for all [is] vanitie.

20 All go to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shal returne to the dust.

21 Who ^k knoweth whether the spirit of man ascende vpward, and the spirit of the beast descend downward to the earth?

22 Therefore I se that there is nothing better then that a man shulde ^l reioyce in his affaires, because that is his portion.

For who shal bring him to se what shal be after him?

CHAP. IIIII.

¹ The innocents are oppressed. ⁴ Mens labours are full of abuse and vanitie. ⁹ Mans societie is necessarie. ¹³ A yong man poore and wise is to be preferred to an olde King that is a foole.

2 Wherefore I praised the ^b dead which now are dead, aboue the liuing, which are yet alieue.

3 And [I counte] him ^c better then them both, which hath not yet bene: for he hath the not sene the euil workes which are wrought vnder the sunne.

4 Also I behelde all trauail, and all ^d perfection of workes, that this is the enuie of a man against his neighbour: this also [is] vanitie and vexation of spirit.

5 The foole foldeth his hands, and ^e eateth vp his owne flesh.

6 Better is an handfull with quietnes, then two handfulls with labour and vexation of spirit.

7 Againe I returned, and sawe vanitie vnder the sunne.

8 There is one [alone,] and there [is] not a seconde, which hath nether sonne nor brother, yet [is] there none end of all his trauail, nether can his eye be satisfied with riches: nether [doeth he thinke,] For whom do I trauail and defraude my soule of pleasure? this also is vanitie, and this is an euil trauail.

9 ^f Two [are] better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one wil lift vp his fellowe: but wo vnto him [that is] alone: for he falleth, and there [is] not a seconde to lift him vp.

11 Also if two slepe [together,] then shal they haue heat: bot to one how shulde there be heat?

12 And if one ouercome him, two shal stande against him: and a threholde ^g is coard is not easely broken.

13 Better is a poore and wise childe, then an olde and foolish King, which wil not more be admonished.

14 For out of the ^h prison he cometh forth to reigne: when as he that is ⁱ borne in his kingdome, is made poore.

15 I behelde all the liuing, which walke vnder the sunne, ^k with the seconde childe,

^a He maketh here another discourse with himself concerning the tyrannie of them that oppressed the poore.

^b Because they are no more subiect to these oppressions.

^c He speaketh according to the iudgement of flesh, which cannot abyde to feele, or se troubles. ^d The more profit the more is the enuie of the wicked.

^e For ydleness he is compelled to destroy himself.

^f Forasmuche as when man is alone, he can neither helpe himself nor others, he sheweth that men ought to liue in mutual societie, to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may increase.

^g By this proverbe he declareth how necessarie it is, for men shulde liue in societie.

^h That is, from a poore, and base estate, or out of trouble, and prison, as Ioseph did, Gen. 41. 14.

ⁱ Meaning, borne a King.

^k VVhich follow, and flatter the Kings, or him that shal succede: to enter into credit with them in hope of gain.

^b Read Chap. 3, 13.

^c God hath giuen man a desire and affection to seke out the things of this worlde & to labour therein.

^d Read Chap. 2, 14, and these places declare that we shulde do a things with sobriety, and in feare of God forasmuche as he giueth not his giftes to the intent that they shulde be abused.

^e That is, man shal neuer be able to let God worke, but as he hath determined, so it shal come to passe.

^f God onely causeth that, which is past, to returne.

^g Meaning, w God, howsoeuer man neglect his dutie.

^h And made the pure in their first creation.

ⁱ Man is notable by his reason, and iudgement to put difference betwene man & beast, as touching those things whereunto both are subiect: for yf we can iudge any other way of a man being dead, the of a beast, w is dead: yet by the word of God & faith we easily knowe the difference, as ver. 21.

^k Meaning, that reason can not comprehend that which faith beleueth here. ¹ By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap. 2, 14, and Chap. 3, 12, and 33. chap. 5, 17, and chap. 8, 15, he declareth that man by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life than to vse the giftes of God soberly and comfortably: for so knowe farther is a special gift of God reueiled by his Spirit.

1 They neuer cease by all meanes to crepe in to fauour: but when they obtaine not their greedie desires, they thinke the felues abused, as other haue bene in time past, & so care no more for him.

m That is, with what affectioⁿ cometh to heare to please God wth which shal stande vp in his place.

6 There is none¹ end of all the people, [nor] of all that were before them; & they that come after, shal not reioyce in him: surely this is also vanitie and vexation of spirit.

7 Take hede to thy^m foote when thou entrest into the House of God; and be mote nere to heare then to giue the sacrifice of^a fooles: for they knowe not that they do euil.

^a The worde of God. ⁿ Meaning, of the wicked, which thinke the ceremonies, and haue nether faith nor repentance.

CHAP. V.

1 Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters. 9 The couetous can neuer haue ynough. 11 The laborers slepe is swete. 14 Man when he dyeth, taketh nothing with him. 18 To liue ioyfullie, and with a contented minde is the gift of God.

BE not^a rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart be hastie to vtter a thing before God: for God [is] in the heauens, and thou art on the earth: therefore let thy wordes be^b fewe.

2 For [as] a dreame cometh by the multitude of busines: so the voice of a foole [is] in the multitude of wordes.

3^a When thou hast vowed a vow to God, deferre not to pay it: for he deliteth not in fooles: pay therefore that thou hast^c vowed.

4 It is better that thou shuldest not vowe, then that thou shuldest vowe and not paye it.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy^d flesh to sinne: nether say before the^e Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shal God be angrie by thy voyce, and destroye^f worke of thine hands?

6 For in the multitude of dreames, & vanities [are] also many wordes: but feare thou God.

7 If in a countrie thou seest the oppression of the poore, & the defrauding of iudgement and iustice, be not astonied at the matter: for he that is^g higher then the highest, regardeth, and [there be] higher then they.

8 And the^h abundance of the earth is ouer all: the Kingⁱ [also] consisteth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that toucheth siluer shal not be satisfied with siluer, and he that toucheth riches, [shal be] without the frute [thereof]: this also is vanitie.

10 When goods encrease, they are encreased that eat them: and what good cometh to the owners thereof, but the beholding [thereof] with their eyes?

11 The slepe of him^j that traualleth, [is] swete, whether he eat litle or much: but the societie of the riche wil not suffer him to slepe.

12 There is an euil sickenes [that] I haue sene vnder the sunne: [to wit] riches^k referred to the owners thereof for their euil.

13 And these riches perish by euil^l traual, and he begetteth a sonne, and in his^m hand [is] nothing.

14ⁿ As he came forth of his mothers belly, he shal returne naked to go as he came, and shal beare away nothing of his labour, which he hath caused to passe by his hand.

15 And this also is an euil sickenes [that] in all pointes as he came, so shal he go, and what profite hath he that he hath traualled for the^o winde?

16 Also all his dayes he eateth in^p darkenes, with muche grief, and [in] his sorow and angre.

17 Beholde then, what I haue sene good, that it is comelie to^q eat, and to drinke, & to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein he traualleth vnder the sunne, the^r whole^s n^ober of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 Also to euerie man to whome God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eat thereof, and to take his parte, and to enioye his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 Surely he wil not muche remember the dayes of his^t life, because God answereth to the ioye of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whome God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

THERE is an euil, which I sawe vnder the sunne, and it is muche among men.

2 A man to whome God hath giue^u riches and treasures and honour, & he wanteth nothing for his soule of all that it desireth: but^v God giueth him not power to eat thereof, but a strange man shal eat it vp: this is vanitie, and this is an euil sickenes.

3 If a man beget an hundreth [children] and liue manie yeres, and the dayes of his yeres be multiplied, and his soule be not^w satisfied with good things, and he be not^x buried, I say that an vntimely frute is better then he.

4 For^y he cometh into vanitie and goeth into darkenes: & his name shal be couered with darkenes.

5 Also he hath not sene the sunne, nor knowen it: [therefore] this hath more rest the^z other.

6 And if he had liued a thousand yeres twice tolde, and had sene no good, shal not all

For who knoweth what is good for mā in the life, and in the number of the dayes of the life of his vanitie, being he maketh them as a shadowe. For who can shewe vnto man what shalbe after him vnder the sunne.

2 A good name [is] better then a good ornament, and the day of death, then the day that one is borne.

3 It is better to go to the house of mourning, then to go to the house of feasting, because this is the end of all men, and the liuing shal lay it to his heart.

4 Anger is better then laughter: for by a sad looe the heart is made better.

5 The heart of the wise [is] in the house of mourning: but the heart of fooler [is] in the house of mirth.

6 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wife man, then that a mā shulde heare the song of fooler.

7 For like the noise of the thornes vnder the pot, so [is] the laughter of the fooler: this also is vanitie.

8 Surely oppressio maketh a wife mā mad: and the rewarde destroyeth the heart.

9 The end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof: & the patient in spirit is better then the proude in spirit.

10 Benot of an hatis spirit to be angrie: for angrie resteth in the bosome of fooler.

11 Say not thou, Why is it that the former daies were better then these: for thou doest not enquire wisely of this thing.

12 Wisdome is good with an inheritance, and excellent to them that se the sunne.

13 For man shal rest in the shadowe of wisdome, & in shadowe of liuer: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wisdome giueth life to the possessers thereof.

14 Beholde the worke of God: for who can make straight that which he hath made croked?

15 In the day of wealth be of good confort, & in the day of affliction consider: God also hathe made this contrary to that, to the intent that man shulde finde nothing after him.

16 I haue sene all things in the daies of my vanitie: there is a iuste man that perisheth in his iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his mallice.

17 Be not thou iuste ouermuche, nether make thy self ouer wife: wherefore shuldest thou be desolate?

18 Be not thou wicked ouermuche, nether be thou foolish: wherefore shuldest thou perish nor in thy time.

19 It is good that thou laie holde on this: but yet withdrawe not thine hand from that: for he that feareth God, shal come forth of them all.

20 Wisdome shal strengthen the wife man more then ten mightie princes that are in the citie.

21 Surely there is no man iust in the earth that doeth good and sinneth not.

22 Giue not thine heart also, to all wordes that men speake, lest thou do heare thy servant cursing thee.

23 For often times also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast cursed others.

24 All this haue I proued by wisdome: I thought I wil be wise, but it went farre frome.

25 It is fame of what maie it be, and it is a profound depenes, who can finde it.

26 I haue compassed about, [both] land and mine heart to knowe and to enquire, and to searche wisdome and reason, and to knowe the wickednes of folie, and the foolishnes of madnes,

27 And I finde more bitter then death the womā whose heart is as a snare, & her hands [as] bads: he that is good before God, shalbe deliuered from her, but the sinner shalbe taken by her.

28 Beholde, saith the Preacher, this haue I founde, [seeking] one by one to finde the counte:

29 And yet my soule seeketh, but I finde it not: I haue founde one man of a thousand: but a woman among them all haue I not founde.

30 Onely so, this haue I founde, that God hath made man righteous: but they haue sought manie inuentions.

worke, nor inuention, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the graue whether thou goest.

11 I returned, & I sawe vnder the sunne the race is not to the swift, nor the battell to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and chance cometh to them all.

12 For nether doeth man knowe his time, [but] as the fishes, which are taken in an euil net, & as the birdes that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euil time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also sene this wisdom vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A litle citie and fewe men in it, and a great King came against it, and compassed it about, and buylded fortes against it.

15 And there was founde therein a poore and wise man, and he deliuered the citie by his wisdom: but none remembred this poore man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisdom then strength: yet the wisdom of the poore is despised, and his wordes are not heard.

17 The wordes of the wise are more heard in quietnes, then the crye of him that ruleth among fooles.

18 Better is wisdom then weapons of warre: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

1 The difference of foolishnes and wisdom. 11 A slanderer is like a serpent that can not be charmed. 15 Of foolish Kinges, and drunken princes. 17 And of good King, and prince.

DEAD flies cause to stinke, and purifie the ointment of the apoticarie: [so doeth] a litle folie him that is in estimation for wisdom, [and] for glorie.

2 The heart of a wise man [is] at his right hand: but the heart of a foole [is] at his left hand.

3 And also when the foole goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he telleth vnto all that he is a foole.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth, rise vp against thee, leaue not thy place: for gentlenes pacifieth great sinnes.

5 There is an euil [that] I haue sene vnder the sunne, as an error that procedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Folie is set in great excellencie, and the riche set in the lowe place.

7 I haue sene seruants on horses, & princes walking as seruants on the grounde.

8 He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it, & he that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 He that remoueth stones, shall hurt himself thereby, [&] he that cutteth wood, shall be in danger thereby.

10 If the yron be blunt, and one hath not whet the edge, he must then put to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisdom.

11 If the serpent bite when he is not charmed: no better is a babler.

12 The wordes of the mouth of a wise man [haue] grace: but the lippes of a foole deuoure him self.

13 The beginning of wordes of his mouth [is] foolishnes, and the latter end of his mouth [is] wicked madnes.

14 For the foole multiplieth wordes, [saying,] Man knoweth not what shall be: and who can tel him what shall be after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doeth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the citie.

16 Wo to thee, o land, when thy King is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, o land, when thy King [is] the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eat in time, for strength and not for drunkennes.

18 By slouthfulnes the roose of the house goeth to decay, and by the ydlenes of the hands, the house droppeth through.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, & wine comforte the liuing, but siluer answereth to all.

20 Curse not the King, no nor in thy thought nether curse the riche in thy bed chamber for the soule of the heauen shall cary the voyce, and that which hath wings, shall declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberal to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods providence. 8 All worldlye prosperitie is but vanitie. 9 God will iudge all.

CAST thy bread vpon the waters: for after manie dayes thou shalt finde it.

2 Giue a portion to seuen and also to eight, for thou knowest not what euil shall be vpon the earth.

3 If the cloudes be full, they will powre for the raine vpon the earth: and if the tre do fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tre falleth, there it shall be.

4 He that obserueth the winde, shall not sowe, and he that regardeth the cloudes, shall not reape.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirit, [nor] how the bones do growe in the wombe of her that is with childe: so Without wisdom what fauour a man taketh in hand, turneth to his owne hurte.

The ignorantie and beastliness of the wicked is such, that they knowe not commune things, & yet will they discusse his matters. That is, with out wisdom and counsel. Are giuen to their lustes and pleasures. Meaning, when he is noble for vertue & wisdom, & with the gifts of God.

Thou canst not worke euil so secretly, but it shall be known.

That is, be liberal to the poore, & though it seeme to be as a thing ventred on the sea, yet it shall bring thee profits.

As the cloudes that are full powre out raine, so the riche that haue abundance, must distribute it liberally.

He that seeketh to be liberal while he liueth, for after there is no power.

We that see reth in conuention, where we see frie requireth that we do as duties.

Thus wordes say to prove that all things are lawfull for them & attribute that to chance and fortune, which is done by the providence of God. That is, he doeth not force to what shall come.

So that he doeth all things well, and iustly, where as the foole doeth the contrary. By his doings he be raich him self. If thy superiour be angry with thee, be thou discrete, & not moued.

Meaning, if it is an euil thing, when that are in euillie faile, & do not their duty.

They that are rich in wisdom and vertue. Psal. 7. 16. prou. 16. 17. eccl. 17. 30.

thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh all.

In the morning sowe thy sede, and in the evening: let not thine hand rest: for thou knowest not whether thou shalt prosper, this or that, or whether bothe shall be alike good.

Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the sunne.

Though a man liue manie yeres, [and] in them all he reioyce, yet he shall remember the daies of darkness, because they are manie, all that cometh [is] vanitie.

Reioyce, o yong man, in thy youth, & let thine heart chere thee in the dayes of thy youth: & walke in the waies of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but knowe that for all these things, God will bring thee to iudgement.

Therefore take away grief out of thine heart, and cause euil to departe from thy flesh: for childehode and youth [are] vanitie.

CHAP. XII.

To thinke on God in youth and not to differre til age.

The soule returneth to God, 11 VVildome is the gift of God and consisteth in fearing him and keeping his commandements.

Remember now thy Creator in the daies of thy youth, whiles the euil daies come not, nor the yeres approche wherein thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them:

Whiles the sunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the starres, nor clouds returne after the raine:

When the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bowe them selues, and the grinders shall cease, because they are fewe, and they waxe darke that looke out by the windowes:

And the dorres shall be shut without by the base founde of the grinding, and he shall rise vp at the voyce of the birde: & all the daughters of singing shall be abased.

Also they shall be afraied of the hie thing, and feare [shall be] in the waye, and the almonde tree shall flourish, & the grasshopper shall be a burden, and concupiscence shall be driuen away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners go about in strete.

Whiles silver corde is not lengthened, nor the golden pewer broken, nor a pitcher broken at the well, nor the wheele broken at the cistern:

And dust returne to the earth as it was, & the spirit returne to God that gaue it.

Vanitie of vanities, saith the Preacher, all is vanitie.

And the more wise the Preacher was, the more he taught the people knowledge, & caused them to heare, & searched for the, and prepared manie parables.

The Preacher sought to finde out pleasant wordes, & an vpright writing, [even] the wordes of truth.

The wordes of the wise are like goades, and like nailes fastened by the masters of the assemblies, [which] are giuen by one pastour.

And of other things besides these, my sonne, take thou hede: for there is none end in making manie bokes: and much reading is a wearines of the flesh.

Let vs heare the end of all: feare God & kepe his commandements: for this is the whole [duetic] of man.

For God wil bring euerie worke vnto iudgement, with euerie secret thing, whether it be good or euil.

These things can not be comprehended in bokes, or learned of studie, but God must instruct the heart that thou maiest onely knowe the true felicitie, and the way thereunto is to feare God.

AN EXCELLENT SONG

which was Salomons.

THE ARGUMENT

In this Song, Salomon by moste sweete and comfortable allegories & parables describeth the perfect loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon & King of peace, & the faithful soule or his Church which he haue sanctified & appointed to be his spouse, both with and without reprehension. It is declared the singular loue of the bridegome toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefites wherewith he doeth enrich her of his pure holinesse and grace without any other deservings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ desiring to be more and more ioyned to him in love and fellowship for a full and perfect felicitie that is in him.

CHAP. I.

Drawe me: we wil runne after thee: the King hath brought me into his chambers: we wil reioyce and be glad in thee, we wil remember thy loue more then wine: the righteous do loue thee.

ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

GOD, according to his promes Deut. 18, 15. that he wolde neuer leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare vnto the people the things to come, wherof they had a special reuelation, but also to interpret and declare the Law, and to apply particularly the doctrine, contained briefly therein, to the vtilitie & profite of those, to whome they thought it chiefly to appertene, & as the time & state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe they had respect to three things, which were the groundes of their doctrine: First to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: secondly to the promises and threatenings of the Law:
& thirdly, to the covenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded vpon our Sauour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Law. VVhereunto they nether added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church & the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for anie care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their sauergarde by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation they haue more clearly intreated it then Moses, and set forth more liuely Iesus Christ, in whome this couenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: euery applying the doctrine, as he sawe that the disease of the people required. He declareth also manie notable prophecies which he had receiued of God, as touching the promes of the Messiah, his office, and his kingdome. Also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their vnion with the Iewes. VVhich are as most principal pointes contained in this booke, and a gathering of his sermons that he preached. VVhich after certaine daies that they had stand vpon the Temple dore (for the maner of the Prophets was to set vp the summe of their doctrine for certaine daies that the people might the better marke it, as Isa. 8, 1. and Habak. 2, 2.) the Priests toke it downe and referred it among their registers: and so by Gods prouidence these booke were preserved as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his persone and time, he was of the Kings stocke: for Amos his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best writers agree, and prophesied more then 64 yeres, from the time of Vzziah vnto the reigne of Manasse, whose father in lawe he was (as the Hebrewes write) and of whome he was put to death. And in reading of the Prophecies this one thing among other is to be obserued, that he speake of things to come as though they were now past, because of the certaintie thereof, and that they coulde not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counsel, and so reueiled them to his Prophets.

1 It is onely the worke of God to purifie the heart of man, which thing he doeth because of his promes, made concerning the saluation of his Church.
m By iustice is meant Gods faithful promes, & is the cause of the deliuerance of his Church.
n The wicked shal not be partakers of Gods promes, Psal. 93.9.
o That is, the trees and pleasant places, where yecommitt idolatrie, which was forbidden, Deut. 16.32.
p The false god, wherein ye put your confidence, shal be consumed as easily, as a piece of towre.

2 Mich. 4.1.
a The decre & ordinance of God, touching the restauration of his Church, & is chiefly ment of the time of Christ.
b In an euident place to be seene & discerned.
c VVhen the kingdome of Christ shalbe enlarged by the preaching of his doctrine. Here also is declared the zeale of the childre of God, when they are called.
d Alluding to mount Zion, where his visible Church shewas.
e Meaning, the whole doctrine of saluation.
f This was accomplished, when the Gospel was first preached in Ierusalem, and from thence went through all the world.
g The Lord, & is Christ, shal haue all power giuen him.
h That they may acknowledge their finnes, & turne to him.
i He sheweth the fruite of the peace, & the Gospel shalbe bring to wit, men shalbe good one to another, where as before they were enemies.
k He sheweth not against the use of weapons & lawfull warre, but sheweth howe the minde of God shalbe affected one toward another: & peace & loue doth beginne & growe in this life, but shal be perfected, when we are loyned w our head Christ Iesus.
l Seing the Gentiles will be soe readie, make you haste and shewe them the way to worship God.
m The Prophet seing the small hope, that the Iewes wolde shew, complaineth to God, as though he had utterly forsaken them for their finnes.
n Full of corruptions & reigned chiefly in the East part.
o They altogether giue them selues to the factions of other nations.

26 And I wil restore thy iudges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterwarde shalt thou be called a citie of righteousness, and a faithful citie.
27 Zion shalbe redeemed in iudgement, & they that returne in her, in iustice.
28 And the destruction of the transgressours and of the sinners shalbe together: and they that forsake the Lord, shalbe consumed.
29 For they shal be confounded for the ookes, which ye haue desired, & ye shalbe ashamed of the gardens, that ye haue chosen.
30 For ye shalbe as an oke, whose leafe fadeth: & as a garden that hath no water.
31 And the strong shalbe as towre, and the maker thereof, as a sparke: and they shal bothe burne together, and none shal quench them.]

CHAP. II.

1 The Church shalbe restored by Christ, and the Gentiles called. 6 The punishment of the rebellious & obstinate.

The worde that Isaiāh the sonne of Amoz sawe vpon Iudāh and Ierusalem.

1 It shalbe in the last dayes, that the mountaine of the house of the Lord shalbe prepared in the top of the mountaines, and shalbe exalted aboue the hilles, and all nations shal flowe vnto it.
2 And manie people shal go, & say, Come, and let vs go vp to the mountaine of the Lord, to the house of the God of Iacob, and he wil teache vs his waies, and we wil walke in his paths: for the Law shal go forth of Zion, & the worde of the Lord from Ierusalem.
3 And he shal iudge among the nations, & rebuke manie people: they shal breake their swordes also into mattocks, and their speares into sithes: nation shal not lift vp a sworde against nation, nether shal they learne to fight anie more.
4 O house of Iacob, come ye, and let vs walke in the light of the Lord.
5 Surely thou hast forsaken thy people, the house of Iacob, because they are full of the East [maners,] and [are] forcerers as the Philistims, & abunde with strange children.

7 Their land also was full of silver and golde, and there [was] none end of their treasures: and their land was full of horses, and their charrets [were] infinite.
8 Their land also was full of idoles: they worshipped the worke of their owne hands, which their owne fingers haue made.
9 And a man bowed him self, and a man humbled him self: therefore spare them not.
10 Enter into the rocke, & hide thee in the dust from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glorie of his maiestie.
11 The hie lode of man shalbe humbled, and the losines of men shalbe abased, & the Lord onely shalbe exalted in that day.
12 For the day of the Lord of hostes [is] vpon all the proude and haurie, and vpon all that is exalted: & it shalbe made lowe.
13 Euen vpon all the cedres of Lebanon, that are hie and exalted, and vpon all the ookes of Bashan.

14 And vpon all the high mountaines, & vpon all the hilles that are lifted vp,
15 And vpon euerie hie towre, and vpon euerie strong wall,
16 And vpon all the shippes of Tarshish, and vpon all pleasant pictures.
17 And the hautines of men shalbe brought lowe, and the losines of men shalbe abased, and the Lord shal onely be exalted in that day.
18 And the idoles wil he utterly destroye.
19 Then they shal go into the holes of the rockes, and into the caues of the earth, from before the feare of the Lord, & from the glorie of his maiestie, when he shal arise to destroye the earth.
20 At that day shal man cast away his silver idoles, and his golden idoles (which they had made them selues to worship them) to the mowles and to the backes,
21 To go into the holes of the rockes, and into the toppes of the ragged rockes from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glorie of his maiestie, when he shal rise to destroye the earth.
22 Cease you from the man whose breath is in his nostrilles: for wherein is he to be esteemed?

CHAP. III.

For the sinne of the people God wil take away the wise men, and giue them foolish princes. 14 The couetousnes of the gouernours. 16 The pride of the women.

For lo, the Lord God of hostes wil take away from Ierusalem and from Iudāh the stay, and the strength: [euen] all the stay of bread, and all the stay of water.

p The Prophet first condemned their superstitious and idolatrie: next their couetousnes, and thirdly, their vaine trust in worldly meanes.
q He noteth the nature of idoles, which are neuer satisfied in their satisfactions.
r Thus the prophet spake, being inflamed w the zeale of Gods glorie, and that he might feare them w Gods iudgement.
s Meaning, as God shal begin to execute his iudgements.

t By high trees & mountaines are met them: they are proude, and losine, & think them selues more strong in this world.
u He condemneth their vaine confidence, w they had in strong holdes, & in their rich marchandise, w brought in vaine pleasures, wherewith mens mindes became effeminate.
v Hoseah. 10.8. Iuk. 23.30. reuel. 6.3. & 9.6.
x They shal cast them into most vile and filthy places, where they perceiue they are not able to helpe them.
y Cast of your vaine confidence of man, whose life is so fraile, that if his nose be stopped, he is dead, & consider that you haue to do with God.

z Because that trusted in their abundance and prosperitie, he sheweth they shalbe bereaued from them.

The strong man, and the man of warre, the iudge and the Prophet, the prudent and the aged,

The captaine of officie, and the honorable,
and the counseller, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent man.

And I wil appoint children (to be) their princes, and babes shal rule ouer them.

The people shalbe oppressed one of another, & euerie one by his neighbour: the children shal presume against the ancient,
& the wife against the honorable.

When euerie one shal take holde of his brother of the house of his father, [and say,] Thou hast clothing: thou shalt be our prince, and let this fall be vnder thine hand.

In that day he shal sweare, saying, I can not be an helper: for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: [therefore] make me no prince of the people.

Douteles Ierusalem is fallen, and Iudah is fallen downe, because their tongue and workes [are] against the Lord, to prouoke the eyes of his glorie.

The tryal of their countenance testifieth against them, yea, they declare their sinnes, as Sodom, they hide them not.
Wo be vnto their soules: for they haue rewarded euil vnto them selues.

Say ye, Surely it shalbe wel with the iuste: for they shal eat the frute of their workes.

Wo be to the wicked, it shalbe euil [with him:] for the rewarde of his hands shalbe giuen him.

Children [are] extortioners of my people, and women haue rule ouer them:
o my people, they plead thee, cause thee to erre, & destroye the way of thy paths.

The Lord standeth vp to pleade, yea,
he standeth to iudge the people.

The Lord shal entre into iudgement with the Ancients of his people & the princes thereof, for ye haue eaten vp the vineyarde: the spoyle of the poore [is] in your houses.

What haue ye to do, that ye beat my people to pieces, and grinde the faces of the poore, saith the Lord, [even] the Lord of hostes?

The Lord also saith, Because the daughters of Zion are haucie, and walke vv stretched out neckes, and with vv drawing eyes, walking and minning as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet.

Therefore shall I be to them as a signe, that they were not chaste. vv Which they desired then in slippers that did cracke, or had litle plates vpon them, which they tickled as they went.

Therefore shal the Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zion belde, and the Lord shal discover their secret purues.

In that day shal the Lord take away the ornament of the slippers, & the calles, &
the rounde tyres,

The swete balles, and the brasselets, and the bonnets,

The tyres of the head, and the sloppes, & the head bands, and the tablets, & the earings,

The rings and the mufflers,

The costelie apparel and the vailles, and the wimpels, and the crisping pinnes,

And the glasse, and the fyne linen, and the hoodes, and the lawnes,

And in stead of swete sauour, there shal-be stinke, and in stead of a girdle, a rent, & in stead of dressing of the hure, bel-dnes, and in stead of a stomach, a girding of sacke cloth, [&] burning in stead of be-autie,

Thy men shal fall by the sworde, and thy strength in the battell.

Then shal her gates mourne and lament, and she, being desolate, shal sit vpon the grounde.

CHAP. III.

The finale remnant of men after the destruction of Ieru-salem. 2 The graces of God vpon them that remaine.

And in that day shal seven women take holde of one man, saying, We wil eat our owne bread, and we wil weare our owne garments: onely let vs be called by thy name, [and] take away our reproche.

In that day shal the budde of the Lord be beautiful and glorious, and the frute of the earth shalbe excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

Then he that shalbe left in Zion, and he that shal remaine in Ierusalem, shalbe called holie, [and] euerie one shalbe written among the liuing in Ierusalem.

When the Lord shal wash the filthines of the daughters of Zion, and purge the blood of Ierusalem out of midders thereof by the spirit of iudgement, and by the spirit of burning,

And the Lord shal creat vpon euerie place of mount Zion, and vpon the assemblies thereof, a cloude & smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fyre by night: for vpon all the glorie shalbe a defense.

Chapter 4. 1. Someby the bud of Lord meaneth Christ. 2. He alludeth to the boke of Ieremias, whereof read Jerod. 32, 33. Meaning Gods secret counsell, whereby his elect are predestinate to life euermoring. 3. That is, the true way of iustification, auarice, & all wickednes. 4. VVhen things shalbe iudged, & reuenged.
5. He alludeth to the pillar of the cloude, Exod. 13, 21. meaning Gods labour & protection shalbe appeare in euery place. 6. The which shalbe the glory of God, & shall be his image, & tokens of his gracie shalbe in them.

My beloued had a vineyard in a verie
fruteful hil,

2 And he hedged it, and gathered out the ſtones of it, and he planted it with the beſt plants, and he buylt a towre in the mid-des thereof, and made a wine preſſe therein: then he looked that it ſhuld bring forth the grapes: but it brought forth the wilde grapes.

3 Now therefore, o inhabitants of Ieruſalem and men of Iudah, iudge, I pray you, betwene me and my vineyard.

4 What colde I haue done anie more to my vineyard that I haue not done vnto it: why haue I looked that it ſhulde bring forth the grapes, and it bringeth forth the wilde grapes?

5 And now I wil tel you what I wil do to my vineyard: I wil take away the hedge thereof, and it ſhal be eaten vp: I wil breake the wall thereof, and it ſhal be troden downe:

6 And I will lay it waſte: it ſhal not be cut, nor digged, but briers, and thornes ſhal

they regard not the worke of the Lord, neither conſider the worke of his hands.

13 Therefore my people is gone into ledge, and the glorie thereof are men fa-miſhed, and the multitude thereof is dry-

CHAP. VI.

Isaiāh sheweth his vocation by the vision of the diuine maiestie. 9 He sheweth the obstinate of the people. 11 The destruction of the land. 13 The remnant rescued.

IN the yere of the death of King Vzziah, I sawe also the Lord sitting vpon an high throne, and lifted vp, and the lower partes thereof filled the temple.

The Seraphims stode vpon it: euery one had six wings: with twaine he couered his face, and with twaine he couered his feete, and with twaine he dids flie.

And one cryed to another, and said, Holy, holy, holy [is] the Lord of hostes, the whole worlde is ful of his glorie.

And the lintels of the dore chekes moued at the voyce of him that cryed, and the house was filled with smoke.

Then I said, Wo is me: for I am vndone, because I am a man of polluted lippes, and I dwell in the middes of a people of polluted lippes: for mine eyes haue sene the King [and] Lord of hostes.

Then fiewe one of the Seraphims vnto me w an hote cole in his hand, [which] he had raken from the altar with the tongs:

And he touched my mouth, & said, Lo, this hath touched thy lippes, and thine eyes shal be opened, and thou shalt see: and thou shalt say, Woe is me, because I am polluted.

Then answered he, and said, Thy iniquities shal be purged, and thou shalt be called righteous: and thou shalt be called a man of truth, and thou shalt be called a man of peace.

Then said he, Whom shall I call? and he answered, A man of truth, and a man of peace, and a man of righteousness, and a man of holiness.

iniquitie shal be taken away, and thy iniquitie shal be purged.

8 Also I heard the voyce of the Lord, saying, Whome shal I send? and who shal go for vs? Then I said, Here am I, send me.

9 And he said, Go, and say vnto this people, Ye shal heare in dede, but ye shal not vnderstand: ye shal plainly se, and not perceiue.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, make their eares heauie, and shut their eyes, lest they se with their eyes, & heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, and conuert, and he heale them.

11 Then said I, Lord, how long? And he answered, Vntil the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be vtterly desolate.

12 And the Lord haue remoued men farre away, and [there be] a great desolation in the middes of the land.

13 But yet in it [shal be] a tenth, and shal returne, and shal be eaten vp as an elme, or as an oke, which haue a substance in them, when they cast [their leaues: for] the holie sede shal be the substance thereof.

ble affectio toward the people. q Meaning, the tenth part: it was reuiled to Isaiāh for the confirmation of his prophesie, that ten Kings shulde come before their captiuitie, as were from Vzziah to Zedekiah. r For fewenes they shal seme to be eaten vp: yet they shal after flourish as a tree, which in winter loseth his leaues, and [seemeth] to be dead, yet in sommer is fresh, and grene.

CHAP. VII.

1 Jerusalem besieged. 4 Isaiāh comforteth the King. 14 Christ is promised.

AND in the dayes of Ahaz, the sonne of Iotham, the sonne of Vzziah King of Iudah, Rezin the King of Aram came vp, and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah King of Israel, to Ierusalem to fight against it, but he coldenot ouercome it.

2 And it was tolde the house of David, saying, Aram is ioyned with Ephraim: therefore his heart was moued, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moued by the winde.

3 Then said the Lord vnto Isaiāh, Go, for the now to mete Ahaz [thou and Shear-iashub thy sonne] at the end of the conduit of the vpper poole, in the path of the fullers field,

4 And say vnto him, Take hede, & be stille: feare not, nether be faint hearted for the two tailles of these smoking fyrebrandes, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Aram, and of Remaliahs sonne:

5 Because Aram hath taken wicked counsel against thee, [and] Ephraim, & Remaliahs sonne, saying,

6 Let vs go vp against Iudah, and let vs waken them vp, and make a breche therein for vs, and set a King in the middes thereof, [euen] the sonne of Tabeal.

7 VVhich thing declared I prompt obedience of Angels to execute Gods commaundments. h This oft repetition signifieth, that holy Angels can not satisfie them selues in praising God, to reach in all our lines vs shulde giue our selues to the continual praise of God.

ing one doeth not onely appeare in the heauens, but through all the worlde, he sheweth all creatures are bound to praise him. k VVhich things were to confirme a Prophet, it was not the voyce of man, & by the smoke was signified the iudgements shulde come vpon this Iewes. l He sheweth this spirit can be moued, because he was a mortall creature, and therefore had more neede to be moued by God then the Angels, did it not: and the other, because the more man appoetheth to God, the more doeth he knowe his owne floures, & corruption. m Of the burnt offerings, here the fyre neuer went out.

In This declaration I am can not render the obedience to God, as he haue purged vs.

14 VVhereby is declared, that for the sake of his God, we shal not immediately take away this order, but he wil cause it to be preached to the redeemed nation, when as they wil not learne hereby to obey his wil, and be saved: hereby he sheweth that his ministers to de their due tie, and answer to the wicked men.

A Meaning, that they shoulde not feare the thing that they feare, for we have no hope in God.

In putting your trust onely in him, in calling upon him in aduersitie, patiently looking for his helpe, & desiring to do a good thing contrary to his wil.

He wil defend you which are his elect, & defend all y^e rest. There is men of Christ against whom y^e law is shuld stonke & fall, Luk. 11. 14. roman. 9. 31. 1. pet. 2. 7.

Though all forsake me, yet y^e elect are mine, keepe my worde sure sealed in your hearts.

A Meaning that those were willing to heare & obey y^e worde of God, whom the worlde hated as though they were moles, and not worthy to live.

This was a consolation in their troubles, knowing that nothing goldene cometh into shew, but by the way of the Lord. Answer the wicked thus, Shulde not Gods people seeke favour onely at him. 2. That y^e will refuse to be taught of the Prophet, who is the mouth of God, and take helpe at the dead, which is the illusion of Satan. y^e Seeke remedie in the worde of God where his wil is declared.

They have no knowledge, but are blinde leaders of the blinde. 4. That is, in Iudah, where they shoulde have had rest, if they had not this grievously offended God. 5. In whom afore they put their trust. 6. That shal thinke that heathen and earth and all creatures are bent against them to trouble them.

He comforteth the Church, saying after these great tribulations, promising to restore them to great glory in Messiah. That which was a light scourge in respect of that which they suffered afterwards, that is, the Babylonian captivity.

11. For the Lord spake thus to me in taking of [mine] hand, and taught me, that I shoulde not walke in y^e way of this people, saying,

12. Say ye not, A confederacie to all the, to whome this people saith a confederacie, nether feare you^e their feare, nor be afraid of them.

15. And manie among them shal stonble, and shal fall, & shal be broken, and shalbe snared, & shalbe taken.

16. Binde vp the testimonie: scale vp the Law among my disciples.

17. Therefore I wil wait vpon the Lord that hathe hid his face from the house of Iacob, and I wil loke for him.

18. Beholde I, & the children whome the Lord hathe giue me, [are] as signes and as wonders in Israel, by the Lord of hostes, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19. And whic thei shal say vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of diuination, and at the soothsayers, which whisper and murmur. Shulde not a people enquire at their God: from the liuing to the dead?

20. To the Lawe, and to the testimonie, if they speake not according to this worde: [it is] because there [is] no light in them.

21. Then he y^e is afflicted & famished, shal go to and fro in a it: & when he shalbe hungrie, he shal euen freat him self, and curse his King and his gods, and shal loke vpwarde.

22. And when he shal loke to the earth, beholde trouble, & darkenes, vexation [&] anguish, and he [is] driuen to darkenes.

griuous by the way of the sea beyonde Iorden in Galilee of the Gentiles.

2. The people that walked in darkenes, hauefene a great light: thei that dwelled in the land of the shadow of death, vpon them hathe the light shined.

3. Thou hast multiplied the nation, [and] not increased [their] ioye: thei haue reioyced before thee according to the ioye in harvest, [and] as men reioyce whe they diuide a spoile.

4. For the yoke of their burden, and the staffe of their shulder, [and] the rodde of their oppressour hast thou broken as in the day of Midian.

5. Surely euerie battel of the warriour [is] with noise, & with tumbling of garments in blood: but [this] shalbe with burning [and] deuouring of fyre.

6. For vnto vs a Childe is borne, [&] vnto vs a sonne is giuen: & the gouernement is vpon his shulder, and he shal call his name Wonderful, Counsellor, The mightie God, The euerlasting Father, The prince of peace.

7. The increase of his gouernement and peace shal haue none end: he shal sit vpon the throne of David, and vpon his kingdome, to order it, and to stablish it with iudgement and with iustice, from hence forth, [euen] for euer: the zeale of the Lord of hostes wil performe this.

8. The Lord hathe sent a worde into Iacob, and it hathe lighted vpon Israel.

9. And all the people shal knowe, [euen] Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that saie in the pride and presumption of the heart,

10. The bricke are falle, but we wil buylde it with hewen stones: the wilde figtrees are cut downe, but we wil change them into cedres.

11. Neuertheles the Lord wil raise vp the aduersaries of Rezin against him, & ioyne his enemies together.

12. Aram before & the Philistims behind, and thei shal deuoure Israel with open mouth: [yet] for all this his wrath is not turned awaie, but his hand [is] stretched out still.

13. For the people turneth not vnto him that smiteth them, nether do thei seeke the Lord of hostes.

14. Therefore wil the Lord cut off from Israel head and taile, branch and rull in one daie.

VVith mockers and contemptors of Gods promys and menaces. VVhen the enemy overcame vs, but we wil make ourselues strong, that we wil neither care for our enemies, nor feare Gods threatening. Rezin King of Syria, who was in league with Israel, was slaine by the Assyrians after whose death Aram, that is, the Syrians were againe against Israel, which on the other side were assailed by the Philistims.

VVhere as y^e lawes & Gentiles dwell together by reason of those twentie ciues, which Salomon gaue to Hyram.

VVhich were captiue in Babylon: & y^e Prophet speaketh of that thing, which shulde come to passe thre score yeres alter, as though it were nowe done.

A Meaning, the colour of their deliuerance.

This captiue & deliuerance were figures of our captiue by sinne, and of our deliuerance by Christ through y^e preaching of y^e Gospel, Mat. 4. 13. Their bondage was greater when they were into captiuitie then when they returned, but their ioye was greater at their returne, Hag. 2. 10.

Thou gauest the pacific ioye, by deliuering them & by destroying y^e tyrants y^e had kept them in cruel bondage, as y^e didest deuiet the by Gideon from y^e Midianites, Iud. 7. 32.

He speaketh of y^e deliuerance of his Church, where he hath deliuered miraculously from his enemies, but specially by the coming of Christ, of whom he prophesied in y^e next verse.

The author of eternitie, and by whose life Church & euery manner there of shalbe preserved for euer, & haue an eternal life.

His singular love and care for his elect. This is another prophesie against the of Samaria.

VVhen the enemy overcame vs, but we wil make ourselues strong, that we wil neither care for our enemies, nor feare Gods threatening. Rezin King of Syria, who was in league with Israel, was slaine by the Assyrians after whose death Aram, that is, the Syrians were againe against Israel, which on the other side were assailed by the Philistims.

with the weapons of his wrath to destroy the whole land.

6 Howle you, for the day of the Lord is peine, as a woman travaileth: euerie one shalbe amazed at his neighbour, and their faces [shalbe like] flames of fyre.

9 Beholde, the daye of the Lord cometh, cruel, with wrath and fierce angrie to lay the land waste: and he shal destroy the sinners out of it.

10 For the starres of heauen and the planets thereof shal not giue their light: the sunne shalbe darkened in his going for-the, & the moone shal not cause her light to shine.

11 And I wil visite the wickednes vpō the ked, and I wil cause the arrogantie of the proude to cease, and wil cast downe the pride of tyrants.

12 I wil make a man more precious then of golde of Ophir.

13 Therefore I wil shake the heauen, and the earth shal remoue out of her place in wrath of the Lord of hostes, and in the day of his fierce angrie.

14 And it shalbe as a chased doe, and as a shepe that no man taketh vp. euerie man shal turne to his owne people, & flee eche one to his owne land.

15 Euerie one that is found, shalbe stricken through: and whosoever ioyneth him self, shal fall by the sworde.

16 Their children also shalbe broken in be spoiled, and their wiues rauished.

17 Beholde, I wil stirre vp the Medes against them, which shal not regard siluer, nor be desirous of golde.

18 With bowes also shal they destroye the children, & shal haue no compassion vpon the frute of the wombe, and their eies shal not spare the children.

19 And Babel the glorie of kingdomes, the beautie & pride of the Chaldeans, shalbe

Gomorah.

20 It shal not be inhabited for euer, nether shal it be dwelled in from generation to generation: nether shal the Arabian pic-che his tents there, nether shal the shepherdes make their foldes there.

21 But Zim shal lodge there, and their houses shalbe ful of Ohim: Ostriches shal dwell there, and the Satyrs shal dance there.

22 And lim shal crye in their palaces, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and the time thereof is readie to come, & the day-

1 The returne of the people from captiuitie. 4 The destruction of the King of Babylon. 11 The death of the King. 29 The destruction of the Philistines.

a He sheweth why God will kill to destroy his enemies: to wit, because he wil deliuer his Church.

b Meaning, that the Gentiles shalbe ioyned with the Church and worship God.

c Signifying, that the lawes should be superiours to the Gentiles, & that they should be brought vnder the seruice of Christ by the preaching of the Apostles, whereby all are brought to the subiection of Christ, 1. Cor. 10. 3.

d That is, he suffered all violence and iniuries to be done. e Meaning, that when tyrants reigne, there can be no rest nor quietnes, and also how detestable a thing tyrannie is, seeing the insensible creatures haue occasion to reioyce at their destruction.

f As though they feared lest thou shouldest trouble the dead, as thou diddest the liuing: & here he d. rideth the pride of tyrants of the wicked, & knowe not that all creatures with the destruction of them maie reioyce.

g In stead of thy costly carpets and couerings.

h Thou that thoughtest thy self most glorious, and as it were, placed in the heauen: for the morning starre, that goeth before the sunne, is called lucifer to whom Nebuchadnezzar compared North side, as psal. 138. 2. whereby he meaneth that tyrants fight against God, when they persecute his Church, & would set them selues in his place.

For the Lord wil haue compassion of Iakob, and wil yet chuse Israel, and cause them to rest in their owne land: and the stranger^b shal ioine him self vnto them, and they shal cleaue to the house of Iakob.

2 And the people shal receiue them, and bring them to their owne place, and the house of Israel shal possesse them in the land of the Lord, for seruants and handmaids: and they shal take them prisoners, whose captiues they were, and haue rule ouer their oppressors.

3 And in that day when the Lord shal giue thee rest from thy sorow, & from thy feare, & from the sore bondage, wherein thou didest serue,

4 Then shalt thou take vp this prouerbe against the King of Babel, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased: and the golde thirstie [Babel] rested?

5 The Lord hath broken the rodde of the wicked, [and] the sceptre of the rulers:

6 Which smote the people in angre with a continual plague, [and] ruled the nations in wrath: if aie were persecuted, he did not let.

7 The whole worlde is at rest [and] is quiet: they sing for ioye.

8 Also the fyre trees reioyced of thee, [and] the cedres of Lebanon, [saying,] Since thou art laide downe, no hewer came vp against vs.

9 Hell beneth is moued for thee to mete thee at thy comming, raising vp the dead for thee, [euen] all the prices of the earth, and hath raised from their thrones all the Kings of the nations.

10 All they shal crye, & say vnto thee, Art thou become weake also as we? art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe is broght downe to the graue, [and] the sounde of thy viols: the wormes is spread vnder thee, & the wormes couer thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heauē, o^h Lucifer, sonne of the morning? [and] cut downe to the ground, which didest cast lottes vpon the nations?

13 Yet thou saidest in thine heart, I wil ascend into heauen, and exalt my throne aboue beside the staries of God: I wil sit also vpon the mount of the Congregation in the sides of the North.

i Meaning, Jerusalem, whereof the Temple was on the North side, as psal. 138. 2. whereby he meaneth that tyrants fight against God, when they persecute his Church, & would set them selues in his place.

14 I wil ascend aboue the height of the cloudes, [and] I wil be like the moste high.

15 But thou shalt be broght downe to the graue, to the sides of the pit.

16 They that se thee, shal looke vpon thee [and] consider thee, [saying,] Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, [and] that did shake the kingdomes?

17 He made the worlde as a wilderness, & destroyed the cities thereof, [and] opened not the house of his prisoners.

18 All the Kings of the nations, [euen] they all slepe in glorie, euerie one in his owne house.

19 But thou art cast out of thy graue like an abominable branche: [like] the raiment of those that are slaine, [and] thrust thorow with a sworde, which go downe to the stones of the pit, as a carkeise troden vnder fete.

20 Thou shalt not be ioyned with the in the graue, because thou hast destroyed thine owne land, [and] slaine thy people: the sede of the wicked shal not be renoumed for euer.

21 Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquitie of their fathers: let them not rise vp nor possesse the land, nor fil the face of the worlde with enemies.

22 For I wil raise vp against the Lord of hostes) and wil cut of from Babel the name, and the remnant, & the sonne, and the nephewe, saith the Lord:

23 And I wil make it a possession to the hedgehog, and pooles of water, and I wil swepe it with the besome of destruction, saith the Lord of hostes.

24 The Lord of hostes hath sworn, saying, Surely like as I haue purposed, so shal it come to passe, and as I haue consulted, it shal stand:

25 That I wil breake to pieces Asshur in my land, and vpon my mountaines wil I treade him vnder fote: so his yoke shal departe from them, and his burden shal be taken from of their shuldre.

26 This is the counsel that is consulted vpon the whole worlde, and this is the hand stretched out ouer all the nations;

27 Because the Lord of hostes hath determined it, and who shal disanul it, and his hand is stretched out, and who shal turne it away?

28 In the yere that King Ahaz dyed, was this burden.

3 Therefore with ioy shal ye drawe waters out of the welles of saluation.

4 And ye shal say in that day, Praise the Lord: call vpon his Name: declare his workes among the people: make mention of them, for his Name is exalted.

5 Sing vnto the Lord, for he hath done excellent things: this is knowen in all the worlde.

6 Crye out, and shoute, O inhabitant of Zion: for great [is] the holy one of Israel in the middes of thee.

The Medes and Persians shal destroye Babylon.

1 THE burden of Babel, which Isaiah the sonne of Amoz did see.

2 Lift vp a standard vpon the hie mountain: lift vp the voyce vnto them: wagge the hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.

3 I haue commaded them, that I haue sanctified, and I haue called the mightie to my wrath, [and] them that reioyce in my glorie.

4 The noyse of a multitude [is] in y^e mountaines, like a great people: a tumultuous voyce of y^e kingdomes of the nations gathered together: the Lord of hostes nombreth the hoste of the battell.

5 They come from a farre countrey, from the end of the heaven: [euen] the Lord with the weapons of his wrath to destroy the whole land.

6 Howle ye you, for the day of the Lord is at hand: it shal come as a destroyer from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shal all hands be weakened, and all mens hearts shal melt.

8 And they shalbe affrayed: anguish & sorrow shal take [them], and they shal haue peine, as a woman y^etrauileth: cruel one shalbe amased at his neighbour, and their faces [shalbe like] flames of fyre.

9 Beholde, the day of the Lord cometh, cruel, with wrath and fierce angre to lay the land waste: and he shal destroy the sinners out of it.

10 For the ^bstarres of heauen and the planets thereof shal not giue their light: the sunne shalbe darkened in his going forth, & the moone shal not cause her light to shine.

11 And I wil visite the wickednes vp^o the worlde, and their iniquitie vpon the wicked, and I wil cause the arrogantie of the ^bproude to cease, and wil cast downe the pride of tyrants.

12 I wil make a ^bman more precious then fine golde, euen a man about the wedge of golde of Ophir.

13 Therefore I wil shake the heauen, and the earth shal remoue out of her place in y^e wrath of the Lord of hostes, and in y^e day of his fierce angre.

14 And ^bit shalbe as a chased doe, and as a shepe that no man taketh vp. euerie man shal turne to his owne people, & flee eche one to his owne land.

15 Euerie one that is found, shalbe stricken through: and whosoever ioyneth himself, shal fall by the sword.

16 ^bTheir children also shalbe broken in pieces before their eies: their houses shalbe spoiled, and their wiues rauished.

17 Beholde, I wil stirre vp y^e Medes against them, which shal not regard siluer, nor be desirous of golde.

18 With bowes also shal they destroye the children, & shal haue no compassion vpon the frute of the wombe, and their eies shal not spare the children.

19 And Babel the glorie of kingdomes, the beautie & pride of the Chaldeans, shalbe as the destruction of God ^bin Sodóm and Gomorah.

20 It shal not be inhabited for euer, nether shal it be dwelled in from generation to generation: nether shal the Arabian pitch his tents there, nether shal the shepherdes make their foldes there.

21 But y^e Ziiim shal lodge there, and their houses shalbe ful of Ohim: Ostriches shal dwell there, and the Satyrns shal dance there.

22 And Iim shal crye in their palaces, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and the time thereof is readie to come, & the dayes thereof shal not be prolonged.

A prophesie against Moab.

THE burden of Moab. Surely Ar of Moab was destroyed [and] brought to silence in a night: surely Kir of Moab was destroyed, [and] brought to silence in a night.

2 He shal go vp to the temple, and to Dibon to the hie places to wepe: for Nebó and for Medeba shal Moab howle: vpon all their heads [shalbe] beldenes, & euery beard shauen.

3 In their stretes shal they be girded with sackcloth: on the toppes of their houses, and in their stretes euerie one shal howle, [and] come downe with weping.

4 And Heshbón shal crye, and Elcaléh: their voyce shalbe heard vnto Iahaz: therefore the warriors of Moab shal showte: the soule of euerie one shal lament in himself.

5 Mine heart shal crye for Moab: his fugitiues [shal flee] vnto Zoar, & an heiffer of thre yere olde: for they shal go vp w weping by the mounting vp of Luhith: and by the way of Horonáim they shal raise vp a crye of destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shal be dried vp: therefore the grasse is withered, the herbes consumed, [and] there was no grene herbe.

7 Therefore what [euerie man] hath left, and their substance shal they beare to the broke of the willowes.

8 For the crye went rounde aboute borders of Moab: [and] the howling thereof vnto Eglaim, & the shriking thereof vnto Beer Elim.

9 Because the waters of Dimón shal be full of blood: for I wil bring more vpon Dimón, euen Lyons vpon him that escapeth of Moab, and to the remnant of the land.

CHAP. XVI.

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

SEND ye a lambe to the ruler of the Sworde from the rocke of the wilderness, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zion.

2 For it shalbe as a birde that flyeth, and a nest forsaken: daughters of Moab shal be at the fordes of Arnón.

3 Gather a counsel, execute iudgement: make thy shadowe as the night in midday: hide them that are chased out, bewraye not him that is fled.

4 Let my banished dwel with thee: Moab be thou their covert from the face of the destroyer: for the extorcionier shal end: the destroyer shalbe consumed, [and] the oppressour shal cease out of the land.

5 And in mercie shal the throne be prepared, & he shal sit vpon it in stedfastnes, in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and seking iudgement, and hastening iustice.

6 We haue heard of the pride of Moab (he is verie proud) [euen] his pride, and his arrogancy, and his indignation, [but] his lies [shal] not [be] so.

7 Therefore shal Moab howle vnto Moab: euerie one shal howle: for the foundations of Kir-hareseth shal ye mourne, yet they shal be stricken.

8 For the vineyardes of Heshbón are cut downe, [and] the vine of Sibmah: the lords of the heathen haue broken the principal vines thereof: they are come vnto Iazzar: they wandred in the wilderness: her goodlie branches stretched out them selues, [and] went over the sea.

9 Therefore wil I wepe with the weping of Iazzer, and of the vine of Sibmah, o Heshbón: and Elealeh, I wil make thee drunke with my teares: because vpon thy sommer frutes, and vpon thy harvest showing is fallen.

10 And gladnes is taken away, & ioye out of the plentiful field: and in the vineyardes shalbe no singing nor shouting for ioye: the treader shal not tread wine in the wine presses: I haue caused the reioycing to cease.

11 Wherefore, my bowels shal sounde like an harpe for Moab, & mine inward partes for Ker-harësh.

12 And when it shal appeare that Moab shalbe wearie of his hie places, then shal he come to his temple to pray, but he shal not preuaile.

13 This is the worde that the Lord hath spoken against Moab since that time.

14 And now the Lord hath spokē, saying, In thre yeres, as the yeres of a phyrcling, shal not be able to helpe them.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes shal be left in it, as the shaking of an oliue tre, two [or] three berries [are] in the top of the vpmoste boughs, [&] foure [or] five in þe hie branches of the frute thereof, saith the Lord God of Israël.

7 At that day shal a man loke to his ^k maker, and his eyes shal loke to the holie one of Israēl.

8 And he shal not loke to the altars, the workes of his owne hands, neither shal he loke to those things, which his owne fingers haue made, as groues and images.

9 In that day shal the cities of their strength be as the forsaking of boughs & brāches, which ¹ they did forsake, because of the children of Israel, and there shalbe desolation.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not remembred the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graffe strange vine branches:

Isaiah.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The destruction of the Egyptians by the Assyrians.
16 Of their conversion to the Lord.

2 Read Chap.
13, 1.

b Because the Egyptians trusted in the defense of their country in the multitude of their idols, and in the valianties of their men, the Lord sheweth that he will come over all their munitions in a swift cloude, & that their idols shall tremble at his coming, and mens hearts shall faint.
c As he caused the Ammonites, Moabites, and Idumeans to kill one another when they came to destroy the Church of God, 2. Chron. 20, 22. chap. 49, 26.

d Meaning, their policie, & wisdom.

e He sheweth that the sea & Nilus their great river, whereby they thought themselves most sure, should not be able to defend them from his anger, but that he would send the Assyrians among them that should keep them vnder as slaves.

f For Nilus ran into the sea by seven streames, as though they were so many rivers.

g The Hebrew word is mouth, whereby they meant the spring, out of which water gusheth as out of a mouth.

h The Scripture is to describe the destruction of a country by taking away of the commodities thereof, as by vines, fish, fish, and such other things, whereby countries are enriched.

i Called also Pans, a famous city vpon Nilus. k He noteth the flatterers of Pharaoh, who persuaded the King that he was wise, and noble, and that his house was more ancient, & so flattered him self, saying, I am wise. l Or Memphis, others Alexandria, and now called the great Cair. m The principal vpholders thereof are the chiefest cause of their destruction.

1 The burden of Egypt. Beholde, the Lord rideth vpon a swift cloude, & shall come into Egypt, and the idoles of Egypt shall be moued at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the middes of her.

2 And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: so euery one shall fight against his brother, and euery one against his neighbour, citie against citie, [and] kingdom against kingdom.

3 And the spirit of Egypt shall faile in the middes of her, & I will destroye their counsel, & they shall seke at the idoles, & at the forcerers, & at them that haue spirits of diuination, and at the soothsayers.

4 And I will deliuer the Egyptians into the hand of cruel Lords, and a mightie King shall rule ouer them, saith the Lord God of hostes.

5 Then the waters of the sea shall faile, & the riuer shall be dryed vp, and wasted.

6 And the riuers shall go farre away: the riuers of defense shall be emptied and dryed vp: the reedes & flagges shall be cut downe.

7 The grasse in the riuer, [and] at the head of the riuers, and all that groweth by the riuer, shall wither, [and] be driuen away, & be no more.

8 The fishers also shall mourne, & all they that cast angle into the riuer, shall lament, and they that spread their net vpon the waters, shall be weakened.

9 Moreouer, they that worke in flax of diuers sortes, shall be confounded, and they that weaue nettes.

10 For their nettes shall be broken, and all they that make ponds, [shall be] heauie in heart.

11 Surely the prices of Zoan are foolcs: the counsel of the wise counselors of Pharaoh is become foolish: how say ye vnto Pharaoh, I am the sonne of the wise: I am the sonne of the ancient Kings?

12 Where are now thy wise men, that they may tel thee, or may know what the Lord of hostes hath determined against Egypt?

13 The princes of Zoan are become foolcs: the princes of Noph are deceiued, they haue deceiued Egypt, [euery] the corners of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them the flatterers of Pharaoh, who persuaded the King that he was wise, and noble, and that his house was more ancient, & so flattered him self, saying, I am wise. l Or Memphis, others Alexandria, and now called the great Cair. m The principal vpholders thereof are the chiefest cause of their destruction.

the spirit of errorrs: and they haue caused Egypt to erre in euery worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomite.

15 Nether shall there be any worke in Egypt, which the head maie do, nor the taile, the branche, nor the rush.

16 In that daie shall Egypt be like vnto women: for it shall be afraide & feare because of the mouing of the had of the Lord of hostes, which he shaketh ouer it.

17 And the land of Iudah shall be a fear vnto Egypt: euery one shall maketh mention of it, shall be afraid thereof, because of the counsel of the Lord of hostes, which he hath determined vpon it.

18 In that daie shall fiue cities in the land of Egypt speake the language of Canaan, and shall sweare by the Lord of hostes: one shall be called the citie of destruction.

19 In that daie shall the altar of the Lord be in the middes of the land of Egypt, and a pillar by the border thereof vnto the Lord,

20 And it shall be for a signe and for a witness vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry vnto the Lord, because of the oppressers, and he shall send them a Sauour and a great man, and shall deliuer them.

21 And the Lord shall be known of the Egyptians, & the Egyptians shall knowe the Lord in that daie, and do sacrifice & oblation, & shall vowe vnto the Lord, and performe [them].

22 So the Lord shall smite Egypt, he shall smite and heale it: for he shall returne vnto the Lord, & he shall be intreated of them, and shall heale them.

23 In that daie shall there be a path from Egypt to Asshur, & Asshur shall come into Egypt, & Egypt into Asshur: so the Egyptians shall worship with Asshur.

24 In that daie shall Israel be the third with Egypt and Asshur, [euery] a blessing in the middes of the land.

25 For the Lord of hostes shall blesse it, saying, Blessed [be] my people Egypt and Asshur, the worke of mine hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

spiritual seruice vnder Christ. y By these two nations, which were then chief enemies of the Church, he sheweth that the Gentiles, & the Iewes should be ioyned together in one faith and religion, and should be all one fold vnder Christ their shepherd.

n For the Spirit of wisdom he hath made them drunken & giddy with the spirit of error.

o Nether the great nor the small, & strong nor weak.

p Considering that through their occasion the Iewes made not God their defence, but put their trust in them, and were therefore now punished, they shall feare lest they be like them vpon them.

q Shall make one confession of faith with the people of God: by the speache of Canaan meaning the language wherein God was then serued.

r Shall renounce their superstitions and protest to serue God aright.

f Meaning, of six cities that should serue God, and the six remaine in their wickednes: and so of these six parts the shulde be but one loke.

t There shall be euident signes & tokens, that Gods religion is there: which manner of speech is taken of the Patriarkes and ancient times, when God had not as yet appointed the place, and full manner how he would be worshipped.

u This declarereth that this prophesie should be accomplished in the time of Christ.

x By these ceremonies he comprehended the spiritual seruice vnder Christ. y By these two nations, which were then chief enemies of the Church, he sheweth that the Gentiles, & the Iewes should be ioyned together in one faith and religion, and should be all one fold vnder Christ their shepherd.

Of the deſtruction of Babylon by the Perſians and Medes. 12 The ruine of Idumea, 13 And of Arabia.

THe burden of a the deſert ſea. As the whirlwindes in the South yſe to paſſe from the wildernes, [ſo] ſhal it come fro the horrible land.

A grieuous viſion was ſhewed vnto me, The tranſgreſſour [againſt] a tranſgreſſour and the deſtroyer [againſt] a deſtroyer. Go vp Elām, beſiege Media: I haue cauſed all the mourning thereof to ceaſe.

Therefore are my ſloines filled with ſorrow: ſorowes haue takē me as the ſorowes of a woman that trauiſeth: I was bowed downe when I hearde it, [and] I was aſeſed when I ſawe it.

Mine heart failed: fearefulnes troubled me: the night of my pleaſures hath he turned into feare vnto me.

Prepare thou the table: waſche in water thoure eat, drinke: ariſe ye princes, anoint the ſhield.

For thus hath the Lord ſaid vnto me, Go, ſet a watchman, to tel what he ſeeth.

And he ſawe a charēt with two horſemen: a charēt of an aſſe, [and] a charēt of a camel: and he hearkened [and] toke diligent hede.

And he cryed, A lyon: my Lord, I ſtand continually vpon the watche towre in the day time, and I am ſet in my watche euerie night.

And beholde, this mans charēt cometh with two horſemen, And he answered and ſaid, Babel is fallen: it is fallen, & all the images of her gods hath he broken to the ground.

O my threshing, and I come of my floore. That which I haue heard of Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, haue I ſhewed vnto you.

The burden of Dumah, He calleth vnto me out of ſcīt, Watchman, what was in the night? Watchman, what was in the night?

The watchman ſaid, The morning cometh, and alſo the night. If ye wil aſke, enquire: returne [and] come.

The burden againſt Arabia. In the foreſt of Arabia ſhal ye tary all night, [euen] in the waies of Dedanim.

O inhabitants of the land of Temā, bring forth the water to mete the thirſtie, [and] prevent him that ſeeth with his bread.

For they flee from the drawn ſwordes, [euen] from the drawn ſworde, & from the bent bowe, and from the grieuousnes of warre.

For thus hath the Lord ſaid vnto me, Yet a yere according to the yerres of an hyreling, and all the glorie of Kedār ſhal faile.

And the reſidue of the number of the ſtrong archers of the ſonnes of Kedār ſhal be ſewe: for the Lord God of Iſrael hath ſpoken it.

Thou art ful of noiſe, a citie ful of brute, a idyous citie: thy ſlaine men ſhal not [be] ſlaine with the ſworde; nor dye in bartel.

All thy princes ſhal flee together from bowe: they ſhal be bounde all that ſhal be founde in thee, ſhal be bounde together which haue fled from ſarre.

Therefore ſaid I, Turne away from me: I wil wepe bitterly: labour not ſo comfort me for the deſtruction of the daughter of my people.

For it is a day of trouble, & of ruine, and a day for hunger. And let into captiuitie. Which haue fled from the place to Ieruſalem for ſuccour. He ſaith what is the dole of the godlie, when Gods plagues hang ouer the Church, and ſpecially of the miniſters, Ierem. 9, 1.

13 Beholde the land of the Chaldeans: this was no people: Asshur founded it by the inhabitants of the wilderness, they set vp the towres thereof: they raised & palaces thereof: [&] he brought it to ruine.

14 How theye shippes of Tarsish, for your strength is destroyed.

15 And in that daie shall Tyrus be forgotten seuentie yeres, (according to the yeres of one King) at the end of seuentie yeres shall Tyrus be as an harlot.

16 Take an harpe, [&] go about the citie: (thou harlot that hast bene forgotten) make sweete melodie, sing mo songs that thou maiest be remembered.

17 And at the end of seuentie yeres shall the Lord visite Tyrus, and she shall returne to her wages, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdomes of the earth, that are in the worlde.

18 Yet her occupying and her wages, shall be holie vnto the Lord: it shall not be laid vp nor kept in store, but her marchandise shall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and to haue durable clothing.

19 The Lord hath decreed this, that the long forgotten, shall be remembered by all men, to entertaine her to his house, and for aigne shall give herself to all men, like a harlot. He sayeth & God yet by the preaching of the Gospel will call her to worshipping of God and libeallitie toward his Saints.

CHAP. XXXIII.

A prophesie of the curse of God for the sinners of the people.

1 Beholde, the Lord maketh the earth desolate, & he maketh it waste: he turneth it upside downe, & scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there shall be like people, like Priest, and like sernant, like master, like maide, like man of warre, like buyer, like seller, like lender, like borrower, like giuer, like taker, so shall be the curse of God vpon them.

3 Also applied to them, which were not of Aarons familie, & so forth, as 2 Sam. 8. 13. & 20. 15. 1 Chron. 13. 17. and by these wordes the Prophet signifieth an horrible confusion, which shall be vnto the people, and not policie, Hoies. 4. 9.

3 The earth shall be cleane emptied, and utterly spoyled: for the Lord hath spoken this worde.

4 The earth lamenteth and sadeth away: the worlde is febled & decayed: the people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth also deceiveth, because of the inhabitants thereof: for they transgressed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, [&] brake the euerlasting euenant.

6 Therefore hath the Lord cursed, & deuoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are desolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are burned vp, and fewe men are left.

7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might: all that were of merry heart, do mourne.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, the noise of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioye of the harpe ceaseth.

9 They shall not drinke wine with mirth: strong drinke shall be bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The citie of vanity is broken downe: euerie house is shut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in stretes: all ioye is darkened: the mirth of the worlde is gone away.

12 In the citie is left desolation, & the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 Surely thus shall it be in the middes of the earth, among the people, as the shaking of an olive tree, [and] as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They shall lift vp their voyce: they shall shout for the magnificence of the Lord: they shall reioyce from the sea.

15 Wherefore praise ye the Lord in & valdeis, & euen the Name of the Lord God of Israel, in the yles of the sea.

16 From the uttermost part of the earth we haue heard praises, & euen glorie to the Lord, and I said, My leaneenes, my leaneenes, wo is me: the transgressors haue offended: yea, the transgressors haue grievously offended.

17 Feare, and the pit, and the snare (are) vpon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And he that heeth fro the noise of the feare, shall fall into the pit: and he that cometh vp out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for the windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do shake.

19 The earth is utterly broken downe: the earth is cleane dissolved: the earth is mooued exceedingly.

CHAP. XXV.

A thankſgiving to God in that that he ſeruech him ſelfe iudge of the worlde, by puniſhing the wicked and maintaining the godly.

1 O Lord, thou art my God: I wil exalte thee, I wil praiſe thy Name: for thou haſt done wonderful things, [according] to the counſels of olde, with a ſtable truth.

2 For thou haſt made of a citie an heape, of a ſtrong citie, a ruine: [euē] the palace of ſtrangers of a citie, it ſhal neuer be buylt.

3 Therefore ſhal the mightie people giue glorie vnto thee: the citie of the ſtrong nations ſhal feare thee.

1 In that day ſhal this ſong be ſung in the land of Iudah, We haue a ſtrong citie: ſaluation ſhal [God] ſet for walles and bulwarkes.

2 Open ye the gates that righteous nation, which kepeth the truth, may entre in.

3 By an aſſured purpoſe wilt thou preferue perſite peace, becauſe they truſted in thee.

4 Truſt in the Lord for euer: for in Lord God [is] ſtrength for euer more.

5 For he wil bring downe them that dwell on hie: the hie citie he wil abate: [euē] vnto the grounde wil he caſt it downe & bring it vnto duſt.

6 The ſore ſhal treade it downe, [euē] the ſete of the poore, [and] the ſteps of the nedie.

7 The way of the iuſte [is] righteousnes: thou wilt make equal the righteous path of the iuſt.

8 Alſo we, O Lord, haue waited for thee in the way of thy iudgements: the deſire of [our] ſoule [is] to thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my ſoule haue I deſired thee in the night: and with my ſpirit within me wil I ſee thee in the morning: for ſeing thy iudgements [are] in the earth, the inhabitants of the worlde ſhal learne righteousnes.

10 Let mercie be ſhewed to the wicked, [yet] he wil not learne righteousnes: in the land of vprightnes wil he do wickedly, and wil not beholde the maiestie of the Lord.

11 O Lord, they wil not beholde thine hie hands:

1 By Moab meant all the enemies of his Church.
 2 There were two cities of this name: one in Iudah, 1. Chro. 2. 49. and another in the land of Moab, Gen. 48. 2. which ſeemeth to haue bene a plentiful place of corn, Chap. 19. 31.

2 This ſong was made in conſideration of the ſaluation of the Church, when their captiuitie ſhould come, allowing them alſo of their encouragement, for the which they ſhould ſing this ſong.
 3 God's protection and defence ſhal be ſufficient for vs.
 4 He aſſured the godlie to returne after the captiuitie to Ieruſalem.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou wilt ordeine peace: for thou also hast wrought all our workes for vs.

13 O Lord our God, [other] lords beside thee haue ruled ys, [but] we wil remember thee onely, [and] thy Name.

14 The dead shal not liue, [neither] shal the dead arise, because thou hast visited & scattered them, & destroyed all their memorie.

15 Thou hast encreased ^o nation, O Lord: thou hast encreased the nation: thou art made glorious: thou hast enlarged all the coastes of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they visited thee: they powred out a prayer when thy chastening [was] vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with childe, draweth nere to the trauail, is in sorow, & cryeth in her peines, so haue we bene in thy sight, O Lord.

18 We haue conceiued, we haue borne in peine, as thogh we shulde haue brought forth ^{the} winde: there was no helpe in the earth, neither did the inhabitants of the worlde fall.

19 Thy dead men shal liue: [euen] wth my bodie shal they rise. Awake, & sing, ye that dwell in dust: for thy dewe [is as] dewe of herbes, & the earth shal cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people: entre thou into thy chambers, and shutte thy doores after thee: hide thy self for a very litle while, vntil the indignation passe ouer.

21 For lo, the Lord cometh out of his place, to visite the iniquitie of the inhabitants of the earth vpon them: and the earth shal disclose her blood, and shal no more hide her slayne.

22 As herbes, dead in winter, flourish againe by the raine in the spring time: so they lie in the dust, shal rise vp to ioye when they see dewe of Gods grace.

23 He exhorteth the faithful to be patient in their afflictions, & so waite vpon Gods worke. 24 The earth shal vomit & cast out the innocent blood, which hath drunke, that it may crye for vengeance against the wicked.

CHAP. XXVII.

A prophecie against the kingdome of Satan. 2 And of the ioye of the Church for their deliuerance.

In that day the Lord with his sore and great & mightie sworde shal visite Liuiathan, that percing serpent, euen Liuiathan, that croked serpent, and he shal slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyard of red wine.

3 I the Lord do kepe it: I wil water it euery moment lest anie assaile it, I wil kepe it night and day.

Meaning, of the best wine, which this vineyard, that is the Church, shulde bring forth the most agreeable to the Lord.

4 Anger is not in me: who wolde set the briers and the thornes [against] me in battel? I wolde go through them, I wolde burne them together.

5 Or wil he fele my strength, that he may make peace with me, [and] be at one with me?

6 Here after, Iakob shal take rote: Israel shal flourish and growe, and the worlde shal be filled with fruite.

7 Hathe he smitten him as he smote those that smote him? or is he slayne according to the slaughter of them that were slaine by him?

8 In measure in the branches thereof wilt thou contend with it, [when] he bloweth with his rough winde in the day of East winde.

9 By this therefore shal the iniquitie of Iakob be purged, & this is all the fruite, the taking away of his sinne: when he shal make all the stones of the altars, as calke stones, broken in pieces, [that] the groues & images may not stand vp.

10 Yet the defended citie [shalbe] desolate, [and] the habitation [shalbe] forsaken, & left like a wilderness. There shal the calfe fede, and there shal he lie, & consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughs of it are drye, they shalbe broken: the women come, and fet them on fyre: for it is a people of none vnderstanding: therefore he that made them, shal not haue compassion of them, and he that formed them, shal haue no mercie on them.

12 And in that day shal the Lord thresh from the chanel of the Riuer vnto the riuer of Egypt, and ye shalbe gathered, one by one, O children of Israel.

13 In that day also shal the great trumpet be blown, and they shal come, which perished in the land of Asshur: and they that were chased into the land of Egypt, and they shal worship the Lord in the holy mount of Ierusalem.

Meaning, for the wise women shal do it to their great shame. In the day shal destroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for some fled toward Egypt, thinking to haue escaped. In the time of Cyrus, by whom they shulde be deliuered: but this was chiefly accomplished vnder Christ.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride & drunkennes of Israel. 9 The vntowardnes of them that shulde learne the wordes of God. 14 God doth all things in time and place.

Vnto the crowne of pride, the drunkenards of Ephraim: for his glorious beautie shalbe a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, [and] are overcome with wine.

Because the Israelites for the most parte dwelt in plentiful valleys, he meaneth here by the valley of them, that had abundance of worldly prosperitie, and were as it were crowned therewith, as with garlands.

Therefore he wil destroy the kingdome of Satan, because he lough his Church for his owne murcies sake, & can not be angry wth it, but witheth he may powre his anger vpon the wicked iniquities, whom he meaneth by briers & thornes.

He marueleth that Israel wil not come by gentleness, except God make the to fele his rodde, & so bring this vnto him.

Thogh I afflict & diminish my people for a time, yet shal they rote spring againe, & bring forth in great abundance.

He sheweth that God punisheth his iniquities, and his enemies in iudice.

That is, thou wilt not destroy the rote of thy Church thogh the branches thereof shall meo perish by the sharpe winde of affliction.

He sheweth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from all idolatrie, & the monuments thereof destroyed.

Not withstanding his fauour he wil shew them after, yet Ierusalem shalbe destroyed, & the grasse fouled.

God shal not haue neede of mightie enemies: for the wise women shal do it to their great shame. In the day shal destroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for some fled toward Egypt, thinking to haue escaped.

In the time of Cyrus, by whom they shulde be deliuered: but this was chiefly accomplished vnder Christ.

Meaning, the proud kingdome of the Israelites, which were drunken with worldly prosperitie.

Because the Israelites for the most parte dwelt in plentiful valleys, he meaneth here by the valley of them, that had abundance of worldly prosperitie, and were as it were crowned therewith, as with garlands.

I Ah

A H^e altar, altar of the citie that Dauid dwelt in: adde yere vnto yere: let them kill lambes.

But I will bring the altar into distress, and there shall be heaumes and sorowe, and it shall be vnto me like an altar.

And I will besiege thee as a circle, & fight against thee on a mount, & wil cast vpram parts against thee.

So shalt thou be humbled, & shalt speake out of the ground, and thy speache shall be (as) out of the dust: thy voyce also shall be out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

Moreover, the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of strong men shall be as chaffe that passeth away, and it shall be in a moment, [cuen] suddenly.

Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hostes with thunder, and shaking, and a great noise, a whirlewinde, and a tempest, and a flame of deuouring fyre.

And the multitude of all nations that fight against the altar, shall be as a dreame [or] vision by night: eue all they that make the waite against it, and strong holdes against it and laye siege vnto it.

And it shall be like as an hungry man dreameth, and behold, he eateth: & when he awaketh, his soule is empty: or like as a thurstie man dreameth, and lo, he is drin king, & when he awaketh, behold, he is faint, and his soule longeth: so shall the multitude of all nations be that fight against mount Zion.

Stay your selues and wonder: they are blinde, and make [you] blinde: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

For the Lord hath covered you with a spirit of slomber, & hath shute vp your eyes: the Prophets, and your chief Seers hath he covered.

And the vision of them all is become vnto you as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can read, saying, Read this, I pray thee. Then shall he say, I can not: for it is sealed.

And the booke is giuen vnto him that can not read, saying, Read this I pray thee. And he shall say, I can not read.

Therefore the Lord said, Because this people come nere vnto me with their mouth, and honour me with their lippes, but haue remoued their heart faile from me, and their feare towards me was taught by the precept of men,

Therefore beholde, I wil againe do a maruelous worke in this people, (euen) a maruelous worke and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wisemen shall perishe, & the vnderstanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

W^e vnto them that seeke depe to hide [their] counsel fro the Lord: for their workes are in darkenes, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

Your turning [of deuises] shall it not be esteemed as the potters claye: for shall the worke say of him that made it, He made me not: or the thing formed, say of him that facient it, He had none vnderstanding?

Is it not yete but a litle while, and Lebanon shall be turned into Carmel: and Carmel shall be counted as a forest?

And in that day shall the deafe heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blind shall be out of obscuritie, and out of darkenes.

The meke in the Lord shall receiue ioye againe, and the poore men shall reioyce in the holie one of Israel.

For the cruel man shall cease, and the scornful shall be consumed: and all that hastied to iniquitie, shall be cut of:

Which made a man to sinne in the sword, and toke him in a snare: which reprobated [them] in the gate, and made the iust to fall without cause.

Therefore thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Iacob, [cuen] he that redeemed Abraham, Iacob shall not now be comforted, neither now shall his face be pale.

But when he seeth his children, the worke of mine hands, in the middes of him, they shall sanctifie my Name, and sanctifie the holie one of Iacob, & shall feare the God of Israel.

Then they that erred in spirit, shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shall learne doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

He reprobeth the Iewes which in their aduersitie used their owne counsels, and sought helpe of the Egyptians, 10 Dispensing the Prophetes. 16 Therefore he sheweth what distress shall come vpon them, 18 But effecteth mercie to the repentant.

VO to the rebellious children saith the Lord, that take counsell but not of me, and couer with a couering, but not by my spirit, that they may lay sinne vpon sinne:

Which walke forthe to go downe into Egypt, & haue not asked at my mouth, to strengthen them selues with the strength of Pharaon, and trust in the shadowe of Egypt:

32 And in euerie place that the staffe shal passe, it shal cleave fast, which the Lord shal lay vpon him with tabrets and harpes: and with battels, [and] lifting vp [of] hands shal he fight against it.

33 For Tophet is prepared of olde: it is euen prepared for the King: he hathe made it depe and large: the burning thereof [is] fyre & muche wood: the breath of the Lord, like a riuer of brimstone, doeth kinde it.

¶ CHAP. XXXI.

1 He curseth them that forsake God, and seeke for the helpe of men.

1 VVnto them that go downe into Egypt for helpe, and stay vpon horses, and trust in charettes, because they are manie, and in horsemen, because they be very strong: but they loke not vnto the holic one of Israel, nor seeke vnto the Lord.

2 But he yet is wisest: therefore he wil bring euil, and not turne backe his worde, but he wil arise against the house of the wicked, & against the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

3 Now the Egyptians [are] men, & not God, and their horses flesh and not spirit: and when the Lord shal stretch out his hand, the helper shal fall, & he that is holpen shal fall, and they shal altogether faile.

4 For thus hathe the Lord spokē vnto me, As the lion or lions whelpē roareth vpon his praie, against whome [is] a multitude of shepherds be called, he wil not be afraid at their voice, nether wil humble himself at their noise: so shal the Lord of hostes come downe to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birdes that flie, so shal the Lord of hostes defend Ierusalem by defending and delyuering, by passing through and preseruing it.

6 O ye children of Israel, turne againe, in as much as ye are sunken depe in rebellion.

7 For in that day euerie man shal cast out his idoles of siluer, and his idoles of golde: his yong whiche euer lieth about them for his defence: which haue taught the Scripture [is] in diuers places, as Deut. 32. 1. Mat. 23. 37. f. He teacheth their conscience, & they might earnestly seeke their gramine sinnes, & be truly repēt, forasmuch as now they are almost drowned in past rebellions. g. By these statutes your repentance shalbe knowne, in Chap. 58.

which your hands haue made you, [euen] a sinne.

8 Then shal Ashur fall by the sworde, not of man, nether shal the sworde of man deuoure him, and he shal flie from the sworde, and his yong men shal faint.

9 And he shal go for feare to his towre, & his princes shal be afraide of the standert, saith the Lord, whose fyre is in Zion, & his fornaie in Ierusalem.

¶ CHAP. XXXII.

The conditions of good rulers and officers described by the gouernment of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

1 Beholde, a King shal reigne in iustice, and the princes shal rule in iudgement.

2 And [that] man shal be as an hiding place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest: as riuers of water in a drye place, [and] as the shadowe of a great rocke in a wearie land.

3 The eyes of the seing shal not be shut, and the eares of them that heare, shal hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shal vnderstand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shal be ready to speake distinctly.

5 A nigarde shal no more be called liberal, nor the churle riche.

6 But the nigarde wil speake of nigardnes, and his heart wil worke iniquitie, and do wickedly, and speake falsely against the Lord, to make emptie the hungrie soule, and to cause the drinke of the thirstie to faile.

7 For the weapons of the churle [are] wicked: he diuileth wicked counsels, to vndo the poore with lying wordes: and to speake [against] the poore in iudgement.

8 But the liberal man wil diuise of liberal things, & he wil continue [his] liberalitie.

9 Rise vp, ye women that are at ease: heare my voicce, ye careles daughters: hearken to my wordes.

10 Ye women, that are careles, shal be in feare about a yere in dayes: for the vintage shal faile, [and] the gathering shal come no more.

11 Ye women, that are at ease, be astonished: feare, O ye careles women: put of the clothes: make bare, and girde [sacketclothe] vpon the loynes.

12 Men shal lament for the teates, [euen] for the pleasant fields, [and] for the fruitful vine.

13 Vpon the land of my people shal growe thornes, [and] briars: yea, vpon all houses dance of worldly goods. i. By the teares he meaneth the whereby men are nourished, as children with the teares: as shew, and lechones shal lase in the.

l This prophesie is of Hezekiah who was a figure of Christ, & therefore it ought chiefly to be referred to him.

m By iudgement and iustice is meant an vpright gouernment, both in pollicie and religion.

n Where men are weake with traveling, for lacke of water, he promisseth to giue the thirstie liquid, which is the pure doctrine of Gods worde, and vnderstanding, and scale of the same, contrary to the threatening against the wicked, Chap. 69. and 29. 10.

27 Beholde, the Name of the Lord cometh from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof [is] heauie: his lippes are ful of indignation, and his tongue [is] as a deuouring fyre.

28 And his Spirit [is] as a riuer, & ouerfloweth vp to the necke: it diuideth alongre, to fanne the nations with the fanne of vanitie, & there shalbe a bridle to cause the to erre in the chawes of the people.

29 [But] there shalbe a song vnto you as in the night, when a solemd feast is kept: & gladnes of heart, as he cometh with a pipe to go vnto the mount of the Lord, to the mightie one of Israel.

voicce to be heard, and shal declare the lighting downe of his arme with the angre of [his] countenance, and flame of a deuouring fyre, with scattering and tempest, and haile stones.

31 For with the voicce of the Lord shal Ashhur be destroyed, which smote with the rodde.

32 And in euerie place that the staffe shal passe, it shal cleaue fast, which the Lord shal lay vpon him with tabrets and harpes: and with battels, [and] lifting vp [of] hands shal he fight against it.

33 For Tophet is prepared of olde: it is euen prepared for the King: he hathe made it depe and large: the burning thereof [is] fyre & much wood: the breath of the Lord, like a riuer of brimstone, doeth kinde it.

¶ CHAP. XXXI.

1 He curseth them that forsake God, and seke for the helpe of men.

1 VO vnto them that go downe into Egypt for helpe, and stay vpon horses, and trust in charettes, because they are manie, and in horsemen, because they be very strong: but they loke not vnto the holie one of Israel, nor seke vnto the Lord.

2 But he yet is wisest: therefore he wil bring euil, and not turne backe his worde, but he wil arise against the house of the wicked, & against the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

3 Now the Egyptians [are] men, & not God, and their horses flesh and not spirit: and when the Lord shal stretch out his hand, the helper shal fall, & he that is holpen shal fall, and they shal altogether faile.

4 For thus hathe the Lord spokē vnto me, As the lion or lions whelpē roareth vpon his prae, against whome [is] a multitude of shepherds be called, he wil not be afraid at their voice, nether wil humble himself at their noise: so shal the Lord of hostes come downe to fight for mount Zión, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birdes that flie, so shal the Lord of hostes defend Ierusalem by defending and deliuering, by passing through and prestering it.

6 O ye children of Israel, turne againe, in as much as ye are sunken depe in rebellion.

7 For in that day euerie man shal cast out his idoles of siluer, and his idoles of golde his yong, which euer lieth about them for their defence: which thing the Scripture vseth in diuers places, as Deut. 32. 1. Mat. 23. 17. He toucheth their conscience & they might earnestly seke their gramine sinnes & earnestly repent, forasmuch as now they are almost drowned in past reprobation. By these sinnes your repentance shal be known, as Chap. 45. 1.

which your hands haue made you, [such] a sinne.

8 Then shal Ashhur fall by the sworde, not of man, nether shal the sworde of man deuoure him, and he shal flie from the sworde, and his yong men shal faint.

9 And he shal go for feare to his towre, & his princes shal be afraid of the stander, saith the Lord, whose fyre is in Zión, & his fornaie in Ierusalem.

¶ CHAP. XXXII.

The conditions of good rulers and officers described by the gouernment of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

1 Beholde, a King shal reigne in iustice, and the princes shal rule in iudgement.

2 And [that] man shal be as an hiding place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest: as riuers of water in a drye place, [and] as the shadowe of a great rocke in a wearie land.

3 The eyes of the seing shal not be shut, and the cares of them that heare, shal hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shal vnderstand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shal be ready to speake distinctly.

5 A nigarde shal no more be called liberal, nor the churle riche.

6 But the nigarde wil speake of nigardnes, and his heart wil worke iniquitie, and do wickedly, and speake falsely against the Lord, to make emptie the hungrie soule, and to cause the drinke of the thirstie to faile.

7 For the weapons of the churle [are] wicked: he diuileth wicked counsels, to vndo the poore with lying wordes: and to speake [against] the poore in iudgement.

8 But the liberal man wil diuise of liberal things, & he wil continue [his] liberalitie.

9 Rise vp, ye women that are at ease: heare my voyce, ye careles daughters: hearken to my wordes.

10 Ye women, that are careles, shal be in feare about a yere in dayes: for the vintage shal faile, [and] the gathering shal come no more.

11 Ye women, that are at ease, be astonished: feare, O ye careles women: put of the clothes: make bare, and girde [sacketclothe] vpon the loynes.

12 Men shal lament for the teates, [euen] for the pleasant fields, [and] for the fruitful vine.

13 Vpon the land of my people shal growe thornes [and] briars: yea, vpon all houses dance of worldly goods. By the teates he meaneth the whereby men are nourished, as children with the teate: as Deut. 32. 18. and Ieremies shal labe milke.

1 VVhen your repentance appeareth.

1 This was accomplished soon after when Sennacheribs arme was discomfited and he fled to his capital in Niniveh for succour.

2 To destroy his enemies.

2 This prophetic is of Hezekiah who was a figure of Christ, & therefore it ought chiefly to be referred to him.

3 By iudgement and iustice is meant an upright gouernment, both in politics and religion.

4 Where men are weary with traveling, for lacke of water, & he promiseth to giue the thirstie, which is the pure doctrine of Gods worde, and vnderstanding, and zeale of the same, contrarie to the threatenings against the wicked, Chap. 69, and 29. 10.

5 Vices shal no more be called vertue, nor vertue esteemed by power and riches.

6 He prophesie of such calamities to come, that they wil not spare the women and children, and therefore willett them to take hede and provide.

7 Meaning, that the affliction shalbe continual long, and when one yere were past, yet they shalbe like for newe plagues.

CHAP. XXXIII.

The destruction of them, by whom God hath punished his Church.

VV O to thee that spoilest, & wast not spoiled: and doest wickedly, and thei did not wickedly against thee: when thou shalt cease to spoile, thou shalt be spoyled: when thou shalt make an end of doing wickedly, they shal do wickedly against thee.

2 O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs, we haue waited for thee: be thou, [which wast] their arme in the morning, our helpe also in time of trouble.

3 At the noise of the tumult, the people fled: at thine exalting the nations were scattered.

4 And your spoile shal be gathered [like] gathering of caterpillers: & he shal go against him like leaping of grasshoppers.

5 The Lord is exalted: for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zión with iudgement and iustice.

6 And there shalbe stabilitie of thy times, strength, saluation, wisdom and knowledge: [for] the feare of the Lord shalbe his treasure.

f That is, the Assyrians fled before the arme of the Chaldeans, or Chaldeans for feare of Medes and Persians. g VVhen thou O Lord, didst lift vp thine arme to punish thine enemies. h Ye that as caterpillers destroyed with your number whole crops, shal haue no strength to resist your enemies the Chaldeans, but shal be gathered up as heape and destroyed. i Meaning the Medes and Persians against the Chaldeans. k That is, in the daies of Hezekiah.

7 Beholde, their messengers shal crye without, and the ambassadours of peace shal wepe bitterly.

8 The paths are waste: the waifaring man ceaseth: he hath broken the couenant: he hath contemned the cities: he regarded no man.

9 The earth mourneth & fainteth: Lebanon is ashamed, and hewen downe: Sharon is like a wilderness, and Bashan is shaken and Carmel.

10 Now wil I arise, faith the Lord: now wil I be exalted, now wil I lift vp my self.

11 Ye shal conceiue chaffe, [and] bring forth the stubble: the fyre of your breth shal deuoure you.

12 And the people shalbe [as] the burning of lime: [and as] the thornes cut vp, shal they be burnt in the fyre.

13 Heare, ye that are farre of, what I haue done, and ye that are nere, knowe my power.

14 The sinners in Zión are afraid: a feare is come vpon the hypocrites: who among vs shal dwell with the deuouring fyre: who among vs shal dwell with the euerslitting burnings?

15 He that walketh in iustice, and speaketh righteous thigs, refusing gaine of oppression, shaking his hands from taking of giftes, stopping his eares from hearing of blood, and shutting his eyes from seing euil.

16 He shal dwell on hye: his defence shal be the munitions of rockes: bread shalbe giuen him, [and] his waters shalbe sure.

17 Thine eyes shal se the King in his glorie: they shal beholde the land farre of.

18 Thine heart shal meditate feare: Where is the scribe, where is the receauer: where is he that counted the towres?

19 Thou shalt not se a fierce people, a people of a darke speache, that thou canst not perceiue, [and] of a stammering tongue that thou canst not vnderstand.

20 Loke vpon Zión the cite of our solenne feastes: thine eyes shal se Ierusalem a quiet habitation, a Tabernacle that can not be remoued: & the stakes thereof can neuer be taken away, nether shal any of the cordes thereof be broken.

21 For surely there the mightie Lord [wil be] vnto vs, [as] a place of floods [and] brode riuers, whereby shal passe no shippe with oares, nether shal great ship passe the rebys.

22 For the Lord [is] our iudge, the Lord [is] our law giuer: the Lord [is] our King, he wil saue vs.

p To helpe and deliuer my Church. q This is spoken against the enemies, who thought all was their owne: but he sheweth that their enterprise shal be in vaine, & that the fyre, which they had kindled for others, shoulde consume them.

r His vengeance shalbe so great, that all the world shal talke thereof.

s VVhich do not beleue the wordes of the Prophet and the assurance of their deliuerance.

t Meaning that God wil be a sure defence to all them that liue according to his wordes.

u They shal se Hezekiah deliuered from his enemies and restored to honour and glorie.

x They shal be no more shut in as they were by Saneherib, but go where it pleaseth them.

y Before that this liberie cometh, thou shalt thinke that thou art in great danger: for the enemy shal so sharply assaile you, that one shal cry, VVhere is the Clarke that writeth names of them that are taxed another, VVhere is the receiuer? another shal crye for him that valseth the rich houses, but God wil deliuer you from this feare.

z Let vs be content with this small river of Shiloah, & not desire the great

24. And none inhabitant shal say, I am sicke: the people that dwell therein, shal haue their iniquitie forgien.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1. He sheweth that God punisheth the wicked for the love that he beareth toward his Church.

1. Come nere, ye^a nations, and heare, & hearken, ye people: let the earth heare and all that is therein; the worlde & all that procedeth thereof.

2. For the indignation of the Lord [is] vpon all nations, [and] his wrath vpon all their armies: he hath destroyed them [and] delivered them to the slaughter.

3. And their staine shal be cast out, and their stincke shal come vp out of their bodies, and the mountaines shal be melted with their blood.

4. And all the hoste of heauen shal be dissolved, and the heauens shal be folded like a boke: and all their hostes shal fall as the leafe falleth from the vine, and as it falleth from the figtree.

5. For my sworde shal be^a drunken in the heauen; beholde, it shal come downe vpon Edom, euen vpon the people of^b my curse to iudgement.

6. The sworde of the Lord is filled with blood: it is made fat with the fat [and] with the blood of the^c lambes and the goats, with the fat of the kidneis of the rams: for the Lord hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

7. And the^d unicornes shal come downe with them & the heiffers with the bulles; and their land shal be drunken w^e blood, and their dust made fat with fatnes.

8. For [it is] the day of the Lords vengeance, [and] the yere of recompence for the iudgement of Zion.

9. And the riuers thereof shal be turned in to pitch, and the dust thereof in to^a brimstone, & the land thereof shal be burning pitch.

10. It shal not be quenched night nor day: the smoke thereof shal go vp euen more: it shal be desolate fro^b generation to generation: none shal passe through it for ever.

11. But the pellicane^c & the hedgehog shal possesse it, & the great owle, & the rauen shal dwell in it, and he shal stretch ouer vpon it the line of vanitie, and the stones of emptines.

12. The nobles thereof shal call to the kingdome, and there shal be none, and all the princes thereof shal be [as] nothing.

13. And it shal bring forth the thornes in the palaces thereof, nettles and thistles in the strong holdes thereof, and it shal be an habitation for dragons, and a court for ostriches.

14. There shal^d mete also Zim and lim, & the Saryre shal crye to his fellowe, & the shriche owle shal rest there; and shal finde for her self a quiet dwelling.

15. There^e shal the owle make her nest, & lay, and hatche, & gather them vnder her shadowe: there shal the vultures also be gathered, euerie one with her make.

16. Seke in the^f booke of the Lord & read: none of^g these shal faile, none shal want her make: for his mouth hath commanded, and his verie spirit hath gathered them.

17. And he hath cast the^h lot for them, and his hand hath diuided it vnto them by line: they shal possesse it for ever: from generation to generation shal they dwell in it.

CHAP. XXXV.

1. The great ioye of them that beleeue in Christ. 2. The effect which preache the Gospel. 3. The fruites that followe thereof.

1. The^a desert and the wildernes shal reioyce: and the waste ground shal be glad and flourish as the rose.

2. It shal flourish abundantly & shal greatly reioyce also and ioy: the glorie of Lebanon shal be given vnto it: the beautie of Carmel, and of Sharon, they shal see the glorie of the Lord, [and] the excellencie of our God.

3. Strengthen the weake hands, and comfort the feeble knees.

4. Say vnto them that are feareful, Be ye strong, feare not: beholde, your God cometh with vengeance: [euen] God with a recompence, he wil come and save you.

5. Then shal the eyes of the^b blinde be lightened, and the eares of the deafe be opened.

6. Then shal the lame man leape as an hart, and the domme mans tongue shal sing: for in the^c wildernes shal waters breake out, and riuers in the desert.

7. And^d drye ground shal be as a poole, and the thirstie (as springs of water in the habitation of dragons: where they lay, [shal be] a place for reedes and rushes.

8. When the knowledge of Christ is reuelled, & they are brought out of the grace of God, shal haue them given by Christ.

m Meaning, that shal be neither quiet nor polluted, nor state of common weale.

n Read Chap. 13. 21.

o Signifying, Iouma shal be an horrible desolation and bare wilderness.

p That is, in Lawe where the curses are threatened against the wicked. q To wit, beastes and foules. r That is, among the of Lord. s He hath gathered the beastes and foules Iouma for an habitation.

t The Church.

u The Church.

v He prophesied of the full restoration of the Church both of the Iewes & Gentiles vnder Christ. w shal be fully accomplished at the day: albeit as yet it is compared to a desert wilderness.

x The Church was before compared to a desert wilderness, shal by Christ be made most plentiful & beautiful.

y He sheweth the presence of God in the cause that Church bring forth the fruit and flourish.

z He will be all to encourage one another, & specially the weaker to the stronger, that they may partly by abiding the coming of God be strengthened.

aa To destroy your enemies.

It shalbe for the Saints of God & not for the wicked. & God shal lead & guide them, alluding to the bringing forth of Egypt. & As he threatened to be destroyed hereby, Chap. 30. 6. I VVhose the Lord shal deliver from the captivity of Babylon.

a This historie is rehearsed, because it is as a seale & confirmation of the doctrine afore, both for the threatnings & promises: to wit, that God would suffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length would send deliverance.

b VVhen he had abolished superstition & idolatrie, and restored religion, yet God would exercise his Church to trye their faith and patience. & For he was now restored to his office, as Isaiah had prophesied, Chap. 22. 30.

c This declaration that there were fewe gods, shoulde be founde in the Kings house, when he was driven to send this wicked man in such a weightie matter.

d Sanherib was chief captaine. & He speaketh this in the person of Hezekiah, falsely charging him, that he put his trust in his wit and eloquence, where as his onlie confidence was in the Lord.

e Satan labored to put the godlie King from one vaine confidence to another: to wit, from trust in the Egyptians, whose power was weak and would deceive them, to yelde him self to the Assyrians, and so note hope for any helpe of God. † Or, turne backe. h He reprocheth to Hezekiah his small power, which is not able to resist one of Sanheribs least captaine.

8 And there shalbe a path and a way, and the way shalbe called ^h holy: the polluted shal not passe by it: for ⁱ he shalbe with them, and walke in the way, and the fooles shal not erre.

9 There shalbe ^k no lyon, nor noisome beastes shal ascend by it; nether shal they be founde there, that the redeemed may walke.

10 Therefore the ^l redeemed of the Lord shal returne & come to Zⁱon with praise, and eu^erlasting ioy shal be vpon their heads: they shal obtaine ioy and gladnes, & sorow and mourning shal flee away.

¶ CHAP. XXXVI.

a Sanherib sendeth Rabshakeh to beseege Ierusalem. 19. His blasphemies against God.

NOW ^a in the ^b fourteenth yere of King Hezekiah, Sanherib King of Asshur came vp against all the strong cities of Iudah, and toke them.

2 And the King of Asshur sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Ierusalem vnto King Hezekiah, with a great hoste, and he stode by the conduite of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

3 Then came forth vnto him Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the ^c steward of the house, and Shebna ^d the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Alaph the recorder.

4 And ^e Rabshakeh, said vnto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus saith the great King, the King of Asshur, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest?

5 I saie, ^f Surely [I haue] eloquence, [but] counsel and strength [are] for the warre: on whome then doest thou trust, y^{thou} rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in this broken staffe of reede on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it wil go into his hand, and perceit: so [is]

^g Pharaoh King of Egypt, vnto all y^{thou} trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, We trust in ^h Lord our God, Is not that he, whose hie places and whose altars Hezekiah toke downe, and said to Iudah and to Ierusalem, Ye shal worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the King of Asshur, & I wil giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy parte to set riders vpon them.

9 For how canst thou ⁱ despise anie captaine of the ^k least of my lords seruants?

and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come vp without the Lord to this land to destroy it? The Lord said vnto me, ^l Go vp against this land and destroy it.

11 ¶ Then said Eliakim, and Shebna and Ioah vnto Rabshakeh, ^m Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language, (for we vnderstand it) & talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then said Rabshakeh, Hathe my master sent me to thy master and to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men that sit on the wall? that they may eat their owne dounge, and drinke their owne piss with you?

13 So Rabshakeh stode, and cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes language, and said, Heare the wordes of the great King, the King of Asshur, 14 Thus saith the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he shal not be able to deliuer you.

15 Nether let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord wil surely deliuer vs: this citie shal not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Asshur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the King of Asshur, Make ⁿ appointment with me, and come out to me, that euerie man may eat of his owne vine, and euerie man of his owne figre, and drinke euerie man the water of his owne well,

17 Til I come and bring you to a land like your owne land, [euery] a land of wheat and wine, a land of bread and vineyardes, 18 Lest Hezekiah disceiue you, saying, The Lord wil deliuer vs. Hathe anie of ^o gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Asshur?

19 Where is the god of ^p Hamath, and of Arpad? Where is the god of Sepharuaim? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

20 Who is he among all the gods of these lands, that hathe deliuered their countrey out of mine hand, that the Lord shulde deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they ^q kept silence, and answered him not a worde: for the Kings commandement was, saying, Answer him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Alaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with re-son that they did desert his blasphemie, for they had now rent their clothes: but they knewe it was in vaine so vs long reasoning with this infidel: wherefore they shoulde haue so much more prouoked.

i Thus the wicked, wil pretend the Name of the Lord: but we must trye this spirit, whether they be of God or no. k They were afraid, lest by his wordes he shoulde haue stirred the people against the King, and also recended to growe to some appointment with him. † Ebt. the wound of their flesh.

l The Hebrew word signifieth blessing: whereby this wicked captaine wolde haue persuaded the people, that their condition shoulde be better vnder Sanherib then vnder Hezekiah.

m That is, of Antiochia in Syria, of the which these two other cities also were: whereby we see how euery towne had his peculiar idole and how the wicked make God an idole, because they do not vnderstand that God smeth them by scourges and punishment for sinne.

n Northward did not shew by euident signes that they did desert his blasphemie, for they had now rent their clothes: but they knewe it was in vaine so vs long reasoning with this infidel: wherefore they shoulde haue so much more prouoked.

Hezekiah asketh counsel of Isaiah, who promitteth him victory. 10 The blasphemie of Saneherib. 16 Hezekiah's prayer. 16 The arme of Saneherib is slaine of the Angel. 18 And he him selfe of his owne finnes.

AND when King Hezekiah heard it, he rent his clothes and put on sackcloth, and came into the house of the Lord.

And he sent Eliakim the steward of his house, and Shebna the chancellor, with the Elders of the Priests, clothed in sackcloth vnto Esaiâh the Prophet, the sonne of Amôz.

And they said vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation & of rebuke and blasphemie: for the childre are come to birth, & there is no strength to bring forth.

Ifso be the Lord thy God hath heard the wordes of Rabshaké, whome King of Asshur his master hath sent to raile on the living God, and to reprove him with wordes which the Lord thy God hath heard, then lift thou vp thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

So the seruants of the King Hezekiah, came to Isaiâh.

And Isaiâh said vnto them, Thus say vnto your master. Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes: thou hast heard wherewith the seruants of the King of Asshur haue blasphemed me.

Beholde I wil send a blast vpon him, and he shal heare a noise, and returne til his owne land, and I wil cause him to fall by the sworde in his owne land.

So Rabshaké returned, & founde the King of Asshur fighting against Libnâh: for he had heard that he was departed fro Lachish.

He heard also men say of Tirhakah, King of Ethiopia, Beholde, he is come out to fight against thee: and when he heard it, he sent [other] messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

Thus shal ye speake to Hezekiah King of Iudah, saying, Let not thy God deceiue thee in whome thou trustest, saying, Ierusalem shal not be giuen into the hand of the King of Asshur.

Beholde thou hast heard what the Kings of Asshur haue done to all lands, in destroying them, and that thou be deliuered.

Haue the gods of the nations deliuered them, which my fathers haue destroyed:

[as] Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, & the children of Eden, which were at Telassar.

Where is the King of Hamath, and the King of Arpad, and the King of the citie of Sepharuim, Hena and Iuah?

So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the messengers and red it, and he went vp into the House of the Lord, and Hezekiah spred it before the Lord.

And Hezekiah praied vnto the Lord, saying,

O Lord of hostes, God of Israel, which dwellest betwene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen and the earth.

Encline thine eare, O Lord, and heare open thine eyes, O Lord, and le, and heare all the wordes of Saneherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the living God.

Truth it is, O Lord, that the Kings of Asshur haue destroyed all lands, & their country,

And haue cast their gods in the fyre: for they were not gods, but the worke of mans hands, reuenjered of stone: therefore they destroyed them.

Now therefore, O Lord our God, saue thou vs out of his hand, that all the kingdomes of the earth may knowe, that thou onely art the Lord.

Then Isaiâh the sonne of Amôz sent vnto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Because thou hast prayed vnto me, concerning Saneherib King of Asshur,

This is the worde that the Lord hath spoken against him, O virgin, daughter of Zion, he hath despised thee, & laughed thee to scorne: O daughter of Ierusalem, he hath shaken his head at thee.

Whome hast thou railed on & blasphemed? and against whome hast thou exalted [thy] voyce; and lifted vp thine eyes en hie against the holy one of Israel.

By thy seruants hast thou railed on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my charrets I am come vp to the top of the mountains, to the sides of Lebanon, & wil cut downe the hig cedres thereof, & the faire syttees thereof, and I wil go vp to the heights of his toppe, and to the forest of his fruitful places.

I haue digged, and dronke the waters, and with the plant of my feet haue I dried all the riuers closed in.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 Hezekiah is sicke. 5 He is restored to health by the Lord, and liueth fiftene yeres after. 10 He giueth thanks for his benefite.

1 About that time was Hezekiah sicke vnto the death, and the Prophet Iaiāh sonne of Amōz came vnto him, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Put thine house in an ordre, for thou shalt dye, and not liue.

2 Then Hezekiah ^a turned his face to the wall, and praied to the Lord,

3 And said, I beseeche thee, Lord, remember now how I haue walked before thee in trueth, & with a perfite heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.

4 ¶ Then came the worde of the Lord to Iaiāh, saying,

5 Go, and say vnto Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of David thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, [and] sene thy teares: beholde, I wil adde vnto thy dayes fiftene yeres.

6 And I wil deliuer thee ^a out of the hand of the King of Asshur, and this citie: for I wil defend this citie.

7 And ^a this signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord wil do this thing, that he hath spoken.

8 Beholde, I wil bring againe the shadowe of the degrees (whereby it is gone downe in the dial of Ahaz by the ^a sunne) ten degrees backward: so the sunne returned by ten degrees, by the which degrees it was gone downe.

Hezekiah is reuolued, because he shewed his treasures vnto the ambassadeurs of Babylon.

1 ^a T^a the same time, ^a Merodach Bala-dan, the sonne of Baladan, King of Babel, sent letters, and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had bene sicke, and was recovered.

2 And Hezekiah was ^a glad of them, and shewed them the house of the treasures, the siluer, and the golde, and the spices, & the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, & all that was found in his treasures: there was no thing in his house, nor in all his kingdome that Hezekiah shewed them not.

4 Then said he, What haue ^a they sene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they sene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

5 And Isaiāh said to Hezekiah, Heare the worde of the Lord of hostes,

6 Beholde, the dayes come that all that is in thine house, & which thy fathers haue laid vp in store vntil this day, shalbe ^a carryed to Babel: nothing shalbe left, saith the Lord.

7 And of thy sonnes, that shal procede out of thee, [and] which thou shalt beget, shal they take away, & they shalbe ^a eunuches in the palace of the King of Babel.

9 For I haue taken thee from the ends of earth, and called thee before the chief the- roof, & said vnto thee, Thou art my seruāt: I haue chosen thee, and not cast thee a- way.

10 Feare thou not, for I am with thee: be not afraid, for I am thy God, I wil streng- then thee, and helpe thee, and wil susteine thee with the ^k right hand of my iustice.

11 Beholde, all thei that prouoke thee, shal- be ashamed, and confounded: thei shalbe as nothing, and thei that striue with thee, shal perish.

12 Thou shalt seke them & shalt not finde them: [to wit,] the men of thy strife, [for] thei shalbe as nothing, and the men ^y war- re against thee, as a thing of naught.

13 For I the Lord thy God wil holde thy right hand, saying vnto thee, Feare not, I wil helpe thee.

14 Feare not thou ^m worme Iakób, [&] ye men of Israel: I wil helpe thee, saith the Lord and thy redemer the holy one of Is- raél.

15 Beholde I wil make thee a roller, and a newe threshing instrument, hauing tethe: thou shalt thresh the ^a mounraines, and bring them to poudre, and shalt make the hilles as chaffe.

16 Thou shalt fanne them and the winde shal cary the away, & the whirlwind shal scatter them: and thou shalt reioyce in the Lord, [and] shalt glorie in the holie one of Israel.

17 [When] ^o the poore and the nedie seke water, and there is none [their tongue fai- leth for thirst: I the Lord wil heare them: I the God of Israel wil not forsake them]

18 I wil open riuers in the toppes of the hilles, & fountaines in the middes of the valleis: I wil make the wilderness as a poble of water, and the waste land as springs of water.

19 I wil set in the wilderness the cedre, the shittah tre, and the myrbe tre & the pine tre, & I wil set in the wilderness the syne- tre, the elme and the boxe tre together.

20 Therefore let them se and knowe, and let them consider and vnderstand together that the hand of the Lord hath done this and the holy one of Israel that he created it.

21 Stand to your cause, saith the Lord: bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Iakób.

22 Let them bring them forth, & let the tel vs what shal come, let them shewe the former things what thei be, that we may consider them, and knowe the latter end of them: ether declare vs things for to come.

23 Shewe the things that are to come here after, ^y we may knowe that you are gods: yea, do good or do euil, that we may declare it, and beholde it together.

24 Beholde, ye are of no value, & your ma- king is of naught: [man] hath chosen an abomination by them.

25 ¶ I haue raised vp ^r from the North, and he shal come: from the East sunne shal ^u he cal vpon my Name, and shal come vpon ^x princes as vpon claye, and as the potter treadeth mye vnder the fote.

26 Who hath declared fro ^y beginning, that we may knowe? or before time, that we may say, He is righteous? Surely there is none that sheweth: surely there is none that declareth: surely there is none that heareth ^y your wordes.

27 I [am] the first, [that saith] to Zión, Be- holde, beholde ^z them: and I wil giue to Ie- rusalem ^a one that shal bring good ty- dings.

28 But when ^b I behelde, there was none: and when I enquired of them, there [was] no counsellour: and when I demanded of them, thei answered not a worde.

29 Beholde, they are all vanitie: their wor- ke is of nothing, their images are winde & confusion.

^b V When I looked whether the idols could do these things, I founde that thei had nether wisdom nor power to do any thing: therefore he concludeth ^y all are wicked, that truste in such vanitie.

2 I wil go before thee & make the crooked straight: I wil breake the brasen dores, and burst the yron barres.

3 And I wil giue thee the treasures of darkenes, and the things hid in secret places, that thou maist knowe that I am Lord which call thee by thy name, euen God of Israel.

4 For Iakob my seruants sake: and Israel mine elect, I wil euen call [thee] by thy name [and] name thee, though thou hast not knowen me.

5 I am the Lord and there is none other: there is no God besides me: I girded thee though thou hast not knowen me;

6 That they maye knowe from the rising of the sunne and from the West, there is none besides me. I am the Lord, & there is none other.

7 I forme the light and creat darkenes: I make peace and creat euil: I the Lord do all these things.

8 Ye heauens, send the dewe from aboue, and let the cloudes drop downe: righteousness: let the earth open, and let saluation and iustice growe forth: let it bring them forth together: I the Lord haue created him.

9 Wo be vnto him that strueth with his maker, the potsherd with the potsherds of the earth: shal the claie saie to him that facioneth it, What makest thou? or thy worke, what hathe none hands?

10 Wo vnto him that saith to [his] father, What hast thou begotten? or to [his] mother, What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the Lord, the holy one of Israel, and his maker, Aske me of things to come concerning my sonnes, and concerning the workes of mine hands: commande you me.

12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: I, whose hands haue spread out the heauens, I haue euen commanded all their armie.

13 I haue raised him vp in righteousness, & I wil direct all his waies: he shal buyde my citie, and he shal let go my captiues, not for price nor reward; saith the Lord of hostes.

14 Thus saith the Lord, The labour of Egypt, and the marchandise of Ethiopia, and of the Sabeans, men of stature shal come vnto thee, and they shal be thine: they shal followe thee, & they shal go in chaines: they shal fall downe before thee, & make supplication vnto thee, [saying] Surely God is in thee, and there [is] none other God besides.

15 Verely thou, O God, hidest thy self, O God, the Saviour of Israel.

16 All they shalbe ashamed and also confounded: they shal go to confusion together, that are the makers of images.

17 [But] Israel shalbe saued in Lord, with an euerlasting saluation: yet shal not be ashamed nor confounded worlde without end.

18 For thus saith the Lord (that created heauen; God him self, that formeth the earth, and made it: he that prepared it, he created it not in vaine: he forme it to be inhabited) I am the Lord, and there [is] none other.

19 I haue not spoken in secret, [neither] in a place of darkenes in the earth: I said not in vaine vnto the sede of Iakob, Seke you me: I the Lord do speake righteousness, & declare righteous things.

20 Assemble your selues, and come: drawe nere together, ye abiect of the Gentiles: they haue no knowledge; that set vp the wood of their idole, and pray vnto a god, that can not saue them.

21 Tel ye and bring them, & let them take counsell together, who hathe declared this from the beginning: [or] hathe tolde it of olde? Haue not I the Lord, & there [is] none other God beside me, a iust God, & a Saviour: there [is] none beside me.

22 Loke vnto me, and ye shal be saued: all the ends of the earth shal be saued: for I am God, and there [is] none other.

23 I haue sworne by my self: the worde is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shal not returne, That euerie knee shal bowe vnto me, [and] euerie tongue shal sweare [by me.]

24 Surely he shal say, In the Lord haue I righteousness and strength: he shal come vnto him, and all that prouoke him, shal be ashamed.

25 The whole sede of Israel shalbe iustified, and glorie in the Lord.

4 Therefore vnto olde age, I the same, euen I wil beare you vntil the hore heeres:
I haue made [you:] I wil also beare [you] and I wil carye you: and I wil deliuer
[you.]

5 ¶ To whome wil ye make me like, or make me equal, or compare me, that I shul-de be like him?

6 They drawe golde out of the bagge and weigh siluer in the balance, [and] hyre a goldsmith to make a god of it, [and] they bowe downe, and worship it.

7 They beare it vpon the shoulders: they cary him & fet him in his place: so doeth he stand, [and] can not remoue from his place. Thegh one crye vnto him, yet can he not answer, nor deliuer him out of his tribulation.

8 Remember this, and be ashamed: brig it again to minde, o you transgressers.

9 Remēber the former things of olde: for I am God, and there [is] none other God, and there [is] nothing like me,

of my counsell from far: as I haue spoken, so wil I bring it to passe: I haue purposed
it, and I wil do it.

12 Heare me, ye stubburne hearted; that are farre from iustice.

13 I bring nere my iustice: it shal not be farr off; and my saluation shal not tary:
for I wil giue saluation in Zion, [and] my glorie vnto Israel.

CHAP. XLVII.

The destruction of Babylon and the causes wherefore.

Come downe and sit in the dust: o virgine, daughter Babel, sit on the grounde: there is no throne, o daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, Tendre and delicate.

b Thy government shal be taken from thee.

Take the mill stones, & grindemill stone: thy lockes, make bare the feet: vnto ouer the legges, [and] passe through the floods.

Thy filthines shal be discovered, and thy shame shal be seene: I wil take vengeance, and I wil not mete [thee as] a man.

4 Our redeemer, the Lord of hostes [is] his Name, the holy one of Israel.

5 Sit still, and get thee into darkness, o daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The ladie of kingdomes.

6 I was wrath with my people: Phane polluted mine inheritance, and giuen them into thine hand: thou didest shewe them no mercie, but thou didest lay thy very heauie yoke vpon the ancient.

7 And thou saidest, I shal be a ladie for e-uer, so that thou didest not let thy minde to these things, neither didest thou remember the latter end thereof.

8 Therefore now heare, thou that art gi-uen to pleasures, & dwellest careles, She saith in her heart, I am and none els: I shal not sit [as] a widdow, neither shall I knowe the losse of children.

9 But these two things shal come to thee suddenly on one day, the losse of children and widdowe head: they shal come vpon thee in their perfection, for the multitude of thy diuinations, and for the great abundance in thine incantations.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednes:
thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wi-dome & thy knowledge, they haue caused thee to rebell, and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none els.

11 Therefore shal euil come vpon thee, and thou shalt not know the morrow therof:
destruction shal fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put away: destruction shal come vpon thee suddenly, or thou beware.

12 Stand now among thine incantations, & in the multitude of thy soothsayers (with whome thou hast wearied thy self from thy youth) if so be thou must haue profite, [or] if so be thou must haue strength.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the stargazers, & pronosticators stand vp, and saue thee from these things; that shal come vpon thee.

14 Beholde, they shal be as stubble: the fyre shal burne the: they shal not deliuer their owne liues from the power of the flame:
there shal be no coles to warme at,
[nor] light to sit by.

CHAPTER, XLIX.

the ministers of his worde.

By Israel is meant Christ, & all the body of the faithful as the members of their head.

Thus, Christ in his members complaceth, & his labour, and preaching take more effect, yet he is contented, that his doings are approved of God.

Though the Jewes refuse my doctrine, yet God will approve my ministry.

To declare my Gospel to Gentiles, Chap. 43, 6. act. 13, 47 luk. 2, 31.

Meaning, the Jewes, who were tyrants kept in bondage.

The benefit of their deliverance shall be so great, that great and small shall acknowledge, and reverence God for it.

Thus he speaketh of his Church, when he would shew his mercie towards it, 2 Cor. 6, 2.

Meaning, Christ alone.

Signifying, before Christ came the earth by his word, there is nothing, but confusion and disorder.

To that they are in the prison of sinne, & death.

Bring in Christs protection, they shall be safe against all dangers, and free from the fear of enemies.

Meaning, there shall be nothing in their way from Baby Ion, that shall hinder or hurt them; but this is accomplished spiritually.

Meaning, the youth & decay, so that Christ shall deliver his people from all the perils of swarms.

Read Chap. 44, 23.

And said unto me, I will be my strength to Israel, for I will be glorious in them.

And I said, I have laboured in vain: I have spent my strength in vain and for nothing: but my judgement is with the Lord, and my worke with my God.

And now saith the Lord, that formed me from the wombe to be his servant, that I maie bring Iakob againe to him (though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord: and my God shall be my strength).

And he said, It is a small thing that thou shouldest be my servant, to raise up the tribes of Iakob, and to restore the desolations of Israel: I will also give thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou maiest be my saluation vnto the end of the world.

Thus saith the Lord the redeemer of Israel, and his holie one, to him that is despised in soule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a servant of rulers, Kings shall see, and arise, and princes shall worship, because of the Lord, that is faithful: and the Holie one of Israel, which hath chosen thee.

Thus saith the Lord, in an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of saluation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and will give thee for a covenant of the people, that thou maiest raise up the earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the desolate heritages.

That thou maiest say to the prisoners, Go forth: and to them that are in darkness, Shewe your selues: they shall fede in the wayes, and their pastures shall be in all the toppes of the hilles.

They shall not be hungrie, neither shall they be thirstie, neither shall the heat smite them nor the sunne: for he that hath compassion on them, shall lead them: & vnto the springs of waters shall he driue them.

And I will make all my mountaines, as a way, & my paths shall be exalted.

Beholde, these shall come from farre: & lo, these from the North and from the West, & these from the land of Sinim.

Reioyce, O heauens: and be ioyful, O earth: bragge forthe in to praise, O mountaines: for God hath comforted his people, and will haue mercie vpon his afflicted.

But Zion said, The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

Can a woman forget her childe, & not have compassion on the son of her womb? though they should forget, yet will I not forget thee.

Beholde, I haue graven thee vpon the palme of [mine] hands: thy walles shall crie in my sight.

Thy buyldeings shall make haste: thy destroyers and they that made thee waste, are departed from thee.

Lift vp thine eyes rounde about & beholde: all these gather them selues together, and come to thee: as I haue said the Lord, thou shalt surely put them all vpon thee as a garment, and gird thy self with them like a bride.

For thy desolations, and thy waste places, and thy land destroyed, shall surely be now narrow for thee that shalt dwell in it, and they that did deuoure thee, shall be farre away.

Thy children of thy barennes shall say againe in thine eares, The place is strait for me: giue place to me that I may dwell.

Thou shalt say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I am barren and desolate, a captiue and a wanderer to and fro? & who hath nourished them? behold, I was left alone: whence are these?

Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will lift up mine hand to the Gentiles, & set up mine standart to the people, & they shall bring thy sonnes in [their] armes: and thy daughters shall be carryed vpon [their] shoulders.

And Kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and Queenes shall be thy nourses: they shall worship thee with [their] faces toward the earth, and lick vp the dust of thy feet: & thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord: for they shall not be ashamed that waite for me.

Shall the praise be taken from the mighty, or the iust captiuitie delivered?

But thus saith the Lord, euen the captiuitie of the mightie shall be taken away: and the praise of the tyrant shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will saue thy children.

And will fede them that spoile thee, with their owne flesh, and they shall be drunken with their owne blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall knowe that I the Lord am thy Saviour & thy redeemer, the mightie one of Iakob.

I will cause them to destroy one another, 2 Iud. 7, 25.

chap. 19, 2.

CHAP. L.

The Jewes forsaken for a time, yet the power of God is not diminished, 3 Christs obedience vs. 11.

Because I would not forget thee.

Meaning, the good order of policie and discipline.

I haue a conuentional care to build thee vp againe, and to destroy thine enemies.

He sheweth what are the members of the Church: to be namely children, which are assembled by the words of God and gathered by his spirit.

He sheweth that Christ will not onely gather this great number of the Jewes, but also of the Gentiles. Meaning, that Kings shall be converted to the Gospel and shew their power, and auersion for the preservation of the Church.

Being ioyned with the Church, they shall humble them to Christ their head, and put him alibonant. He maketh this an obligation, as though the Chaldeans were strong, & had them in their possession.

This is the answer to their question, the more is knowne, the more they shall love the Lord, & shall hate their sinne.

2 Chron. 20, 23.

Hus saith the Lord, Where is that bil of your mothers diuorcement, whome I haue cast of? or who is the creditour to whome I solde you? Beholde, for your iniquities are ye solde, and because of your transgressions is your mother forsaken.

Wherefore came I, & there was no ma?
I called, and none answered: is mine hand so shortened, that it can not helpe? or haue I no power to deliuer? beholde, at my rebuke I drye vp the Sea: I make floods desert: their fish rotteth for want of water, and dyeth for thirst.

I clothe the heauens with darknes, and make a sacke their couering.

The Lord God hath giuen me a tongue of the learned, that I shulde knowe [to minister] a worde in time to him that is weary: he wil raise me vp in the morning: in the morning he wil waken mine eare to heare, as the learned.

The Lord God hath opened mine eare and I was not rebellious, nether turned
I backe.

I gaue my backe vnto the sinners, and my cheekes to the nippers: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

For the Lord God wil helpe me, therefore shal I not be confounded: therefore haue I set my face like a flint, and I knowe that I shal not be ashamed.

He is nere that iustifieth me: who wil contend with me? Let vs stand together:
who is mine aduersarie? let him come ne-re to me.

Beholde, the Lord God wil helpe me: who is he that can condemne me? lo, they shal waxe olde as a garment: the mothe shal eat them vp.

Who is among you that feareth the Lord? let him feare the voyce of his seruant: he that walketh in darkenes, & hath no light, let him trust in the Name of the Lord, and lay vpon his God.

Beholde, all you kinde a fyre, and are compassed about with sparkes: walke in light of your fyre, and in the sparkes that ye haue kindled. This shal ye haue of mine hand: ye shal lie downe in sorowe.

Therefore shall the redeemed of the Lord
shal retorne, and come with ioye vnto
Zion, and everlasting ioye shal be vpon their head: they shal obtaine ioye, and gladnes, [and] sorowe and mourning shal flye away.

I, [I return] I, am he, that comfort you.

Surely the Lord shal comfort Zion: the shal comfort all her desolations, & he shal make her desert like Eden, & her wildernes like garden of the Lord, ioye & glad-nes shalbe founde therein: praise, and the voyce of singing.

Hearken ye vnto me, my people, and giue eare vnto me, o my people: for a Law shal procede from me, and I wil bring for-the my iudgement for the light of the people.

My righteousness is nere: my saluation goeth forth, and mine armes shal iudge the people: the yles shal waite for me, and shal trust vnto mine arme.

Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and loke vpon the earth beneth: for the hea-uens shal vanish away like smoke, and the earth shal waxe olde like a garment, and they that dwell therein shal perishe in like manner: but my saluation shalbe for euer, and my righteousness shal not be abolished.

Hearken vnto me, ye that knowe right-eousnes, the people in whose heart [is] my Law. Feare ye not the reproche of men, nether be ye affraid of their rebukes.

For the mothe shal eat them vp like a garment, and the worme shal eat them like wol: but my righteousness shalbe for e-uer, and my saluation from generation to generation.

Rise vp, rise vp, and put on strength, O arme of the Lord: rise vp, as in the olde time in the generations of the worlde. Arnot thou the same, that hast cut Rahab, and wounded the dragon?

Art not thou the same, which hath dried the Sea, [reuen] the waters of the great de-pe, making the depth of the Sea a way for the redeemed to passe ouer?

Therefore the redeemed of the Lord
shal retorne, and come with ioye vnto

That all things may be restored in heaven & earth, Ephes. 1. 10.

Thou hast bene lustily punished and sufficiently, as Chap. 40. 3. & this punishment in the east is by measure, and according as God giveth grace to bear it: but in the west it is the just vengeance of God to drive them to an insensible and madnes, as Jer. 25. 15.

14 The captiue hasteneth to be loosed, and that he shoulde not dye in the pit, nor that his bread shoulde faile.

15 And I am the Lord thy God that diuided the Sea, when his waues roared: the Lord of hostes [is] his Name.

16 And I haue put my wordes in thy mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadow of mine had, that I may plant the heauens, and laye the fundation of the earth, and say vnto Zión, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp, O Ierusalem, which hast drunke at the hand of the Lord the cup of his wrath: thou hast drunken the dregges of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the sonnes, whome she hath brought forth: there [is] none that taketh her by the hand of all the sonnes that she hath brought vp.

19 These two things are come vnto thee: who wilt lament thee? desolation and destruction, and famine, and the sword: by whome shall I comforte thee?

20 Thy sonnes haue fainted, and lie at the head of all the stretes as a wilde bulle in a net, and are ful of the wrath of the Lord, [and] rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare now this, thou miserable and drunken, but not with wine.

22 Thus saith thy Lord God, euen God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Beholde, I haue taken out of thine hand the cuppe of trembling, & the dregges of the cuppe of my wrath: thou shalt drinke it no more.

23 But I will put it into their hand that spoile thee: which haue said to thy soule, Bowe downe, that we may go ouer, and thou hast laid thy bodie as the ground, & as the strete to them that went ouer.

CHAP. LII.

A Rife, arise: put on thy strength, O Zión: put on the garments of thy beautie, O Ierusalem, the holy citie: for hence forth there shall no more come into thee the victuall and the vncleane.

Shake thy self from the dust: arise, and sit downe, O Ierusalem: looke the bandes of thy necke, O thou captiue daughter, Zión.

3 For thus saith the Lord, Ye were sold for naught: therefore shall ye be redeemed without money.

4 For thus saith the Lord God, My people went downe afore time into Egypt to sojourn there, and Asshur oppressed them without cause.

5 Now therefore what haue I here, saith the Lord, that my people is taken away for naught, and they that rule over them make them to howle, saith the Lord: and my Name all the day continually is blasphemed?

6 Therefore my people shall knowe my Name: [therefore they shall knowe] in that day, that I am he that do speake: beholde, it is I.

7 How beautiful vpon the mountaines are the feet of him, that declareth [and] publisheth peace: & declareth good tidings, [and] publisheth saluation, saying vnto Zión, Thy God reigneth.

8 The voyce of thy watchmen [shall be heard:] they shall lift vp their voyce, and shout together: for they shall see eye to eye, when the Lord shall bring againe Zión.

9 O ye desolate places of Ierusalem, be glad and reioyce together: for the Lord hath comforted his people: he hath redeemed Ierusalem.

10 The Lord hath made bare his holy arme in the sight of all the Gentiles, and all the ends of the earth shall see the saluation of our God.

11 Departe, departe ye: go out from thence and touche no vncleane thing: go out of the middes of her: be ye cleane, that beare the vessels of the Lord.

12 For ye shall not go out with haste, nor departe by fleeing away: but the Lord will go before you, and the God of Israel will gather you together.

13 Beholde, my seruant shall prosper: he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high.

14 As manie were astonished at thee (his visage was so deformed of men, and his forme of the sonnes of men) so shall he sprinkle manie nations: the Kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not bene tolde them, shall they see, and that which they had not heard, shall they vnderstand.

Signifying that the ioye and good tidings of their deliuerance should make their affliction in the present time more easy: but this is chiefly meant of the spiritual ioy, as Nah. 1. 15. rom. 10. 35.

11 So shal my ^m worde be, that goeth out of my mouth: it shal not returne vnto me voide, but it shal accomplish that which I wil, and it shal prosper in the thing where to I sent it.

12 Therefore ye shal go out with ioye, and be led forth with peace: the ⁿ mountains and the hills shal breake forth before you into ioye, and all the trees of the field shal clappe [their] hands.

13 For thornes there shal growe fyre trees for nettles shal growe the myrrhe tree, and it shalbe to the Lord ^o for a name, [&] for ¶ CHAP. LVI.

1 An exhortation to iudgement and iustice. 10 Against shepherds that deuour their flocke.

THus saith the Lord, ^a Kepe iudgemēt and do iustice: for my saluation is at hand to come, & my ^b righteousness to be reueiled.

2 Blessed [is] the man that doeth this, and the sonne of mā which laieth holde on it:
he that kepeth the ^c Sabbath & pollutech it not, and kepeth his hand from doing anie euill.

3 And let not the sonne of the stranger, w is ioyned to the Lord, speake & say, The Lord hath surely separate me from his people: nether let ^d Eunuch say, Beholde
I am a drye tree.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the Eunu-ches, that kepe my Sabbaths, and chuse thing that pleaseth me, and take holde of my couenant,

5 Euen vnto them will I giue in mine ^e House and within my walles, a place and a ^f name, better then of the sonnes and of the daughters: I will giue them an euermlasting name, that shal not be put out.

6 Also the strangers that cleaue vnto the Lord, to serue him, & to loue the Name of the Lord, and to be his seruants: euery one that shall be called by the Name of the Lord shall be my seruant.

9 All ye beastes of the field, come to deuoure, [euery] all ye beastes of the forest.

10 Their watchmen are all blinde: they haue no knowledge: they are all dogme dogs: they can not barke: they lie & slepe and delite in sleping.

11 And these greidie dogs can neuer haue ynough: and these shepherds can not vnderstand: [for] they all loke to their owne way, euery one for his aduantage, [and] for his owne purpose.

CHAP. LVII.

1 God taketh awaie the good, that he shoulde not see the horrible plagues to come. 3 Of the wicked idolatry. 9 And their vaine confidence.

1 The righteous perished, and no man considereth it in heart: and merciful men are taken awaie, and no man vnderstandeth that the righteous is taken awaie from the euil [to come].

2 Peace shall come: they shall rest in their beddes; [euery one] that walketh before him.

3 But you wretched children, come hither, the sede of the adulterer and of the whore.

4 On whome haue ye rested? vpon whome haue ye gaped and thrust out your tongue: are not ye rebellious children, [and] a false fede?

5 Inflamed with idoles vnder euery grene tree: and sacrificing the children in the valles vnder the toppes of the rockes.

6 Thy portion is in the smoothe stones of riuers: they are thy lotte: euen to them hast thou powred a drinke offering:

7 For thou hast hated the word of the Lord thy God, thou hast despised his voice, thou hast despised his word, thou hast despised his voice, thou hast despised his word, thou hast despised his voice, thou hast despised his word.

thou hast offered a sacrifice. Shouldest thou not have feared these?

7 Thou hast made thy bed vpon a wicket mountaine: thou wentest vpon thither, euen thither wentest thou to offer sacrifice.

8 Behinde the dores also and postes hast thou set vpon thy remembrance: for thou hast discovered thy self [to another] therein, and wentest vpon and didest enlarge thy bed, and make a covenant betwene thee and them, and founded their bed in [euery] place where thou sawest it.

9 Thou wentest to the Kings with oyle, and didest increase thine oyntments, (&) send thy messengers farr of, and didest humble thy selfe vnto hel.

10 Thou weariedst thy self in thy manifold iourneys, [yet] saidst thou not, There is no hope: thou hast founde life by thine hand, therefore thou wast not grieved.

11 And whome didest thou reuerence or feare, seeing thou hast lied vnto me, and hast not remembered me, nether set thy minde thereon: is it not [because] I holde my peace, and that of long time: therefore thou fearest not me.

12 I wil declare thy righteousness and thy workes and they shall not profite thee.

13 When thou cryest, let them that thou hast gathered together deliuer thee: but the winde shall take them all way: vanitie shall pul them awaie: but he that trusteth in me, shall inherit the land, and shall possesse mine holie Mountaine.

14 And he shall saie, Cast vp, cast vp: prepare the waie: take vp the stumbling blockes out of the waie of my people.

15 For thus saith he, that is his & excellent, he that inhabiteth the eternitie: whose Name is the Holie one, I dwell in the high and holie place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit to reuiue the spirit of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I wil not contende for euill, neither wil I be alwaies wrath, for the spirit shal de faile before me: and I haue made the breathe.

17 For his wicked couetousnes I am angrie with him, and haue smitten him: I hid me and was angrie, yet he went awaie, & turned after the waie of his owne heart.

18 I haue seene his waies, and wil heale him: I will leade him also, and restore comfort vnto him, and to those that lament him.

19 For I haue seene his waies, and wil heale him: I will leade him also, and restore comfort vnto him, and to those that lament him.

That is, I frame the speache and wordes of my messengers which shal bring peace.

7 As wel to him that is in captiuitie as to him that remaineth at home.

8 Their euil conscience doeth euer torment them, and 19 I creat the frute of the lippes [to be] peace: peace vnto them that are farre off, and to them that are nere, saith the Lord: for I will heale him.

20 But the wicked [are] like the raging sea that can not rest, whose waters cast vp myre and dirt.

21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

wherefore they can neuer haue rest, read Chap. 48, 22.

CHAP. LVIII.

1 The office of Gods ministers. 2 The worke of the hypocrites. 6 The fast of the faithfull. 13 Of the true Sabbath.

2 The Lord thus speaketh to the Prophet, willing him to vse all diligence and feueritie to rebuke the hypocrites.

3 They wil seme to worship me and haue outward holiness.

4 He setteth forth the malice and disdain of the hypocrites, which grudge against God, if their workes be not accepted.

5 Thus he conuinceth the hypocrites by the seconde table and by their enuie toward their neighbour that they haue neither faith nor religion.

6 So long as you vse contention & oppression, your fasting and prayer shal not be heard.

7 That you leaue of all your intentions.

8 For in him thou seest thy self as in a glasse.

9 That is, the prosperous estate which God wil bestow vpon thee.

10 The testimony which thy good workes shal appeare before God and man.

11 Whereby is meant all manner of inuirtue.

CRye a loud, spare not: lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and shewe my people their transgression, and to the house of Iaakob, their finnes.

2 Yet they seke me daily, and wil knowe my waies, euen as a nation that did righteously, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: thei aske of me the ordinances of iustice: they wil draw nere vnto God, [saying,]

3 Wherefore haue we fasted, & thou seest it not? we haue punished our selues, & thou regardest it not. Beholde, in the day of your fast you wil seke [your] wil, and require all your dettes.

4 Beholde, ye fast to strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickednes: ye shal not fast as [ye do] to day, to make your voyce be heard aboute.

5 Is it such a fast, that I haue chosen that a man shulde afflict his soule for a day, and to bowe downe his head, as a bulle rush, and to lye downe in sackcloth and ashes? wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the fasting, that I haue chosen to loose the bands of wickednes, to take of the heauie burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye breake curie fyoke?

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house? whe thou seest the naked that thou couer him, and hide not thy self from thine owne flesh?

8 Then shal thy light breake forth as the morning, and thine health shal growe speedily: thy righteousness shal go before thee, [and] the glorie of the Lord shal embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shal answer: thou shalt crye and he shal say, Here I am: if thou take away from the middes of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and wicked speaking,

10 If thou powre out thy soule to the hungry, and reffrest the troubled soule: then shal thy light spring out in the darke, and thy darkenes [shal be] as the none day.

11 And the Lord shal guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, & like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

12 And they shalbe of thee, that shal buyld the olde waste places: thou shalt raise vp the foundations for manie generations, & thou shalt be called the repaire of the breache [and] the restorer of the paths to dwell in.

13 If thou turne away thy fote from the Sabbath, from doing thy wil on mine holy day, and call the Sabbath a delite, to consecrate it, [as] glorious to the Lord, and shalt honour him, not doing thine owne waies, nor seking thine owne wil, nor speaking a vaine worde.

14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lord, and I wil cause thee to mounte vpon the high places of the earth, and fede thee with the heritage of Iaakob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

1 The wicked perish through their owne iniquities. 12 The confession of sinners. 16 God alone wil preserve his Church, though all men faile.

Beholde, the Lords hand is not shortened, that it can not saue: neither is his care heauy, that it can not heare.

2 But your iniquities haue separated betwene you and your God, & your finnes haue hid [his] face from you, that he wil not heare.

3 For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your lippes haue spoken lies, [and] your tongue ha the murmured iniquitie.

4 No man calleth for iustice: no man contendeth for truth: they trust in vanitie, & speake vaine things: thei couene mischief, and bring forth the iniquitie.

5 They hatche cocker rice egges, & create the spiders webe: he that eateth of their egges, dyeth, and that which is trod vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their webbes shalbe nogarment, neither shal they couer them selues with their labours: [for] their workes [are] workes of iniquitie, and the worke of crueltie [is] in their hands.

7 Their fete tunne to euil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked.

1 That is, have compassion on their miseries. 2 Thine aduersitie shalbe turned into prosperitie.

13 Signifying that of the leues of the temple, as shal buyld against the ruines of Ierusalem and Iudea, but chiefly this is meant of the spiritual Ierusalem: whose buylders were the Apostles. 14 If thou refrain thy self from thy wicked workes.

are wicked thoghts: desolation & destruction [is] in their paths.

8 The way of peace they knowe not, and there [is] none equitie in their goings: they haue made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein, shal not knowe peace.

9 Therefore is iudgement farre from vs, nether doeth iustice come nere vnto vs: we waite for light, but lo, it [is] darkenes, for brightnes: but we shalbe in darkenes, 10 We grope for the wall like the ^a blinde, and we grope as one without eyes: we stamble at the none day as in the twilight: [we are] in solitarie places, as dead men.

11 We roare all like ^b beares, and mourne like doves: we loke for equitie, but there [is] none: for health, [but] it is farre from vs.

12 For our trespasses are manie before thee, and our ^c sinnes testifie against vs: for our trespasses [are] with vs, and we knowe our iniquities.

13 In trespassing & lying against the Lord, and we haue departed away from our God, [and] haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion, concerning & vttering out of the heart false ^d matters.

14 Therefore ^e iudgement is turned backward, and iustice standeth farre of: for trueth is fallen in the strete, & equitie can not enter.

15 Yea, trueth faileth, & he that refreinet from euil, maketh him self ^f a pray: and when the Lord sawe it, it displeased him, that there [was] no iudgement.

16 And when he saw that there [was] no man, he wondred that none wolde offer him self. ^g Therefore his arme did ^h saue it, and his righteousness it self did susteine it.

17 For he put on righteousness, as an habergeon, and an ⁱ helmet of saluation vpon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, & was clad with zeale as a cloke.

18 As [to make] recompence, as to requite the furie of the aduersaries [with] a recompence to his enemies: he wil fully repaire the ^j ylands.

19 So shal they feare the Name of ^k Lord from the West, and his glorie from the rising of the sunne: for theemie shal ^l come like a flood: [but] the Spirit of ^m Lord shal chase him away.

20 And the redemer shal come vnto Zión, and vnto ⁿ them that turne from iniquitie in Iakob, saith the Lord.

^o VWhereby he declareth that the true deliuerance from sinne and Satan belongeth to none but to the children of God, whome he iustifieth.

21 And I wil [make] this my couenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is vpon thee, & my wordes, which I haue put in thy mouth, ^p shal not departe out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy fede, nor out of the mouth of the fede of thy fede, saith the Lord, from hence forth the euen for euer.

^q The Gentiles shal come to the knowledge of the Gospel. ^r They shal come to the Church in abundance. ^s They shal haue abundance, though they suffer for a time.

1 A Rise, [o] Ierusalem: be bright, for thy ^t light is come, and the glorie of the Lords is risen vpon thee.

2 For beholde, darkenes shal couer ^u the earth, and grosse darkenes the people: but the Lord shal arise vpon thee, and his glorie shalbe sene vpon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shal walke in ^v thy light, and Kings at the brightnes of thy rising vp.

4 Lift vp thine eyes rounde about, and beholde: all ^w these are gathered, [and] come to thee: thy sonnes shal come from farre, & thy daughters shalbe nourished at [thy] side.

5 Then thou shalt se and shine: thine heart shalbe astonied ^x & enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shalbe conuerted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shal come vnto thee.

6 The ^y multitude of camels shal couer thee: and the dromedaries of Midián and of Ephāh: all [they] of Shebā, shal come: they shal bring golde & incense, & shewe forth the praises of the Lord.

7 All the shepe ^z of Kedār shalbe gathered vnto thee: ^{aa} rams of Nebaiōth, shal serue thee: they shal come vp to be accepted vpon mine ^{ab} altar: and I wil beautifie the house of my glorie.

¹ The^{*} Spirit of the Lord God [is] vpon me, therefore hath the Lord anointed me: he hath sent me to preach good tidings vnto the poore, to binde vp the^b broken hearted, to preach libertie to the^c captiues, & to them that are bounde, the opening of the prison,

² To preach the^d acceptable yere of the Lord, and the daie of^e vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne,

⁵ And the strangers shal stande and fede your shepe, & the sonnes of the strangers shalbe your plowe men & dressers of your vines.

⁶ But ye shalbe named^k the Priests of the Lord, and men shal saie vnto you, The ministers of our God, Ye shal eat the^l riches of the Gentiles, and shalbe exalted with their glorie.

⁷ For your shame [you shal receiue]^m double, and for confusionⁿ they shal reioyce in^o their porcion: for in their land they shal possesse the^p double euertlasting ioye shalbe vnto them.

⁸ For I the Lord loue iudgement [&] hate robbery for burnt offering, & I wil direct their worke in trueth, & wil make an euertlasting couenant with them.

⁹ And^r their sede shal be knowne among the Gentiles, and their buddes among the people, All that se them, shal knowe them, that they are the sede which the Lord hath blessed.

5 And I loked, and there was none to helpe, and I wondered that there was none to vpholde: therefore mine owne arme helped me, and my wrath is selfe sustained me.

6 Therefore I will tread down the people in my wrath, and make them drunken in mine indignation, and will bring down their strength to the earth.

7 I wil remember the mercies of the Lord [and] the praises of the Lord according vnto all that the Lord hath giuen vs, and for the great goodnes towards the house of Israel, which he hath giuen them according to his tendre loue, & according to his great mercies.

8 For he said, Surely they are my^b people, children that wil not lie: so he was their fauour.

9 In all their troubles he was¹ troubled, & the Angel^k of his presence saved them in his loue and in his mercie he redeemed them, and he bare them and caryed them all waies continually.

10 But they rebelled and vexed his holie Spirit: therefore was he turned to be their emie (and) he fought against them.

5 Which say, Stand aparte, come not nere to me: for I am holier then thou: these are a smoke in my wrath [and] a fyre that burneth all the day.

6 Beholde, it is written before me: I will not kepe silence, but will rendre it and recompense it into their bosome.

7 Your iniquities & the iniquities of your fathers [shalbe] together (saith the Lord) which haue burnt incense vpon the mountaines, & blasphemed me vpon the hilles: therefore wil I measure their olde worke into their bosome.

8 Thus saith the Lord, As the wine is founde in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing [is] in it, so wil I do for my seruants sakes, that I may not destroy them whole.

9 But I wil bring a sede out of Iakob, and out of Iudah, that shal inherite my mountaine: and mine elect shal inherite it, & my seruants shal dwell there.

10 And Sharon shalbe a shepe folde, and the valley of Athor shalbe a resting place for the cattel of my people, that haue loght me.

11 But ye are they that haue forsaken the Lord and forgotten mine holie Mountaine, and haue prepared a table for the multitude, and furnish the drinke offerings vnto the number.

12 Therefore wil I number you to the sworde, and all you shal bowe downe to the slaughter, because I called, & ye did not answer: I spake, & ye heard not, but did euil in my sight, & did chuse that thig which I wolde not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, my seruants shal eat, & ye shal be hungrie: beholde, my seruants shal drinke, and ye shal be thirstie: beholde, my seruants shal reioyce, and ye shal be ashamed.

14 Beholde, my seruants shal sing for ioye of heart, and ye shal crye for sorowe of heart, and shal howle for vexation of minde.

15 And ye shal leaue your name as a curse vnto my chosen: for the Lord God shal slaie you and call his seruants by another name.

(Meaning, that he wolde call the Gentiles, w^{ch} shoulde abhorre the name of the Jewes for their infidelities sake. 17 For lo, I wil create newe heavens and a newe earth, and the former shal not be remembered nor come into minde.

18 But be you glad and reioyce for euer in the things that I shal create: for beholde, I wil create Ierusalem [as] a reioycing & lie people [as] a ioye.

19 And I wil reioyce in Ierusalem, & ioye in my people, & the voice of weping shalbe no more heard in her, nor the voyce of crying.

20 There shalbe no more there a childe of yeres, nor an olde man that hath not filled his daies: for he that shalbe an hundred yeres olde, shal dye as a yong man, but the sinner being an hundred yeres olde shalbe accursed.

21 And they shal buylde houses and inhabit them, and they shal plant vineyardes, and eat the fruite of them.

22 They shal not buylde, and another inhabit: they shal not plant, & another eat: for as the dayes of the tre are the dayes of my people, and mine elect shal inioye in olde age the worke of their hands.

23 They shal not labour in vaine, nor bring forth in feare: for they are the sede of the blessed of the Lord, & their buddes with them.

24 Yea, before they call, I wil answer, and while they speake, I wil heare.

25 The wolfe & the lambe shal fede together, and the lyon shal eat strawe like the bulloke: and to the serpent dust [shalbe] his meat. They shal no more hurt nor destroy in all mine holie mountaine, saith the Lord.

CHAP. LXVI.

1 God dwelleth not in temples made with hands. 2 He despiseth sacrifices done without grace & faith. 3 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 4 The question of the Gentiles. 5 The perpetual Sabbath. 6 The punishment of the wicked is euersliding.

1 Thus saith the Lord, The heauen is my throne, and the earth [is] my footstole: where is that house that ye wil buylde vnto me? and where is that place of my rest?

2 For all these things haue mine hand made, & all these things haue bene said by the Lord: and to him wil I loke, then to him, trusting in the Temple and sacrifices. 3 The Temple and the things therein with the sacrifices done by his appointment, he sheweth that he hath no need thereof, and that he can be without them, Psal. 50, 14.

c To him that is humble and pure in heart, & receiveth my doctrine with reverence and feare.
d Because the Jewes thought them selves holily by offering of their sacrifices, and in the mean season had neither faith nor repentance, God sheweth that he doeth no lesse delect these ceremonies, then he doeth the sacrifices of the heart: then who offered me, dogges and swine to their idols which things were expressly forbidden in the Law.
e I will discover their wickednes and hypocricie, where with they turne ke so blinde mine eyes, to all the world.
f He incourage th faithful by promising to destroy their enemies which pretended to be his brethren, but were hypocrites and hated them that feared God.
g The enemies shall shortly heare a more terrible voyce, even fyre and slaughter, seeing they wolde not heare the gentile voyce of y^e Prophets which called them to repentance.
h Meaning, that the restauration of the Church shalbe so sudden & contrarie to all mens opinion: as when a woman is delivered before she loke for it, and that without paine in travail.
i This shall passe the expectation of man: so shall the multitude that shall come upon us, when they shall see the preaching of the Gospel, whereof they that came up out of Babylon, were a figure.
k Declaring hereby, that as by his power, and providence woman travaileth and is delivered: so hath he power to bring forth his Church at his time appointed.
l That ye may reioyce for all the benefites that God bestoweth upon his Church.
m I will give her felicitie, and prosperitie in great abundance.
n Read Chap: 60, 16.

that is poore, and of a contrite spirit and trembleth at my wordes.
3 He that killeth a bullocke, [is as] if he slew a man: he that sacrificeth a shepe, [as] if he cutte of a dogges necke: he that offereth an oblation, [as] if he offered swines blood: he that remembreth incense, [as] if he blessed an idole: yea, they have chosen their owne waies, and their soule delighteth in their abominations.
4 Therefore wil I chuse out their delusions, and I wil bring their feare vpon them because I called, and none wolde answer: I spake and they wolde not heare: but they did evil in my sight, and chose the things which I wolde not.
5 Heare ye the worde of the Lord, all ye that tremble at his worde, Your brethren that hated you, and caste you out for my Names sake, said, Let the Lord be glorified: but he shall appeare to your ioye, and they shall be ashamed.
6 A voyce foundeth from the citie, [even] a voyce from the Temple, the voyce of the Lord, that recompenceth his enemies fully.
7 Before she travailed, she brought forth: and before her paine came, she was delivered of a childe.
8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? shall the earth be brought forth in one day: or shall a nation be borne at once? for as sone as Zion travailed, she brought forth her children.
9 Shall I cause to travaile, and not bring forth? shall I cause to bring forth & shall be barren, saith thy God.
10 Reioyce ye with Ierusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her: reioyce for ioye with her, all ye that mourne for her,
11 That ye may sucke & be satisfied with the breasts of her consolation: that ye may milke out and be delighted with the brightness of her glorie.
12 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil extend my peace over her like a flood, and the glorie of the Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye sucke, ye shall be borne vpon [her] sides, and be ioyful vpon [her] knees.
13 As one whome his mother comforteth, so wil I comforte you, and ye shall be comforted in Ierusalem.
14 And when ye see this your heart shall re

ioyce, and your bones shall flourish like an herbe: and the hand of the Lord shall be known among his servants, and [his] indignation against his enemies.
15 For behold the Lord wil come with fyre, and his chariots like a whirlwinde, that he may recompence his angre with wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fyre.
16 For the Lord wil iudge with fyre, and with his sworde all flesh, and the slaine of the Lord shall be manie.
17 They that sanctifie themselves, and purifie them selves in the gardens behind one [tree] in the middes eating [swines] flesh, & suche abominatiō, even the mouse shall be consumed together, saith the Lord.
18 For I [wil visite] their worke and their imaginations: [for] it shall come that I wil gather all nations and tongues, and they shall come and see my glorie.
19 And I wil set a signe among them, and wil send those that escape of them, vnto the nations of Tyarish, Pul, and Lud, & to them that drawe the bowe, to Tubal and Iavan, yea a farre off, that haue not heard my fame, nether haue seen my glorie, and they shall declare my glorie among the Gentiles.
20 And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering vnto the Lord out of all nations, vpon horses, and in chariots, and in horse litters, & vpon mules & swift beasts, to Ierusalem mine holy Mountaine, saith the Lord, as the children of Israel offer in a cleane vessel in the House of the Lord.
21 And I will take of them for Priests, & for Levites, saith the Lord.
22 For as the new heavens, and the new earth which I wil make, shall remaine before me, saith the Lord, so shall your feede, and your name continue.
23 And from moneth to moneth, and from Sabbath to Sabbath shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the Lord.
24 And they shall go forth, and loke vpon the carkeises of the men that haue transgressed against me: for their worme shall not dye, nether shall their fyre be quenched, and they shall be an abhorring vnto all flesh.
25 Whereby he meaneth that no necessary means shall want wherewith God shall call the Gentiles to the knowledge of the Gospel. h To wit, of the Gentiles as he did Luke, Timothy & Titus first, & others after to preache his worde.
i Hereby he signifieth the kingdom of Christ wherein his Church shall be situated, & where as before there were appointed seasons to sacrifice: in this there shall be one continual Sabbath so all times & seasons shall be meet.
k As he hath declared felicitie shall be within the Church, for the comfort of godlie, so doeth he shewe what horrible calamities shall come to the wicked, that are out of the Church. l Meaning a continual torment of conscience, which shall ever gnawe them & neuer suffer them to be at rest, Mat. 9, 14.
m That is, the iuste recompence for the wicked, & containing God and his words, shall be by Gods iust iudgment abhorred of all his creatures.

IEREMIAH

THE ARGUMENT.

THE Prophet Ieremiah borne in the cite of Anathoth in the countrey of Benjamin, was the sonne of Hilkiash, whome some thinke to be he that founde out the booke of the Lawe, and gaue it to Iosiah. This Prophet had excellent gifts of God, and most euident reuelations of prophesie, so that by the commandement of the Lord he began very young to prophesie, that is, in the thirteenth yere of Iosiah, and continued eightene yere vnder the said King, and thre moneths vnder Iehoiachin, and thre moneths vnder Iehoiachin, and vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeres vnto the tyme that they were carryed away into Babylon. So that this tyme amounteth to aboue forty yeres, besides the tyme that he prophesied after the captiuitie. In this booke he declareth with teares, and lamentation the destruction of Ierusalem, and the captiuitie of the people, for their idolatrie, couetousnes, subtiltie, crueltie, exesse, rebellion, and contempt of Gods worde, &c for the consolation of the Church, reuileth the iust tyme of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to be considered three things: First the rebellion of the wicked, which waze more stubborne and obstinate, when the Prophetes do admonish them moſte plainly of their destruction. Next how the Prophetes and ministers of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocation, though they be persecuted and rigorously handled of the wicked for Gods sake. And thirdely, though God shewe his iuste iudgement against the wicked, yet wil he neuer shewe him self a preſeruer of his Church, and when all meanes seeme to faile, iudgement to be abolished, then wil he declare him self victorious in preserving his.

CHAP. I.

1 In what time Ieremiah prophesied. 6 He acknowledgeth his imperfection, and is strengthened of the Lord. 11 The Lord sheweth him the destruction of Ierusalem. 17 He commandeth him to preache his worde without feare.

HE wordes of Ieremiah the sonne of Hilkiash [one] of the Priests that were at Anathoth in the land of Benjamin,

2 To whome the wordes of the Lord came in the daies of Iosiah the sonne of Amón King of Iudah in the thirteenth yere of his reigne.

3 And also in the daies of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah vnto the end of the eleuenth yere of Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, [even] vnto the carying awaie of Ierusalem captiue in the first moneth.

4 Then the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Before I formed thee in the wombe, I knewe thee, and before thou camest out of the wombe, I sanctified thee, [and] ordeined thee to be a Prophet vnto the nations.

6 Then said I, Oh, Lord God, Beholde, I can not speake, for I am a childe.

7 But the Lord said vnto me, Saie not, I am a childe: for thou shalt go to all that I shal send thee, and whatsoever I comande thee, shalt thou speake.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

9 Then the Lord stretched out his hand and touched my mouth, and the Lord said vnto me, Beholde, I haue put my wordes in thy mouth.

10 Beholde, this daie haue I set thee ouer the nations and ouer the Kingdomes to plucke vp, and to roote out, and to destroy and throwe downe, to buyde; and to plant.

11 After this the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying, Ieremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an almonder.

12 Then said the Lord vnto me, Thou hast sene aright: for I wil hasten my worde to performe it.

13 Againe the worde of the Lord came vnto me the seconde time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a seething pot looking out of the North.

14 Then said the Lord vnto me, Out of the North shal a plague be spred vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For lo, I wil call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, saith the Lord, and they shal come, and euerie one shal set his throne in the entring of the gates of Ierusalem, and on all the walles thereof rounde about, and in all the cities of Iudah.

16 And I wil declare vnto them my iudgements touching all the wickednes of them that haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other goods, and worshiped the workes of their owne hands.

n Signifying, that the Chaldeans and Assyrians shuld be as a pot to scorch the Iewes, which boyled in their pleasures, and lusts. o Syria and Assyria were Northward in respect of Ierusalem, which were the Chaldeans dominion. p I wil giue them charge and power to execute my vengeance against the idolatry, which haue forsaken me for their idoles.

That is, the sermons and prophesies.

VVhich is thought to be the booke of the Law vnder King Iosiah, 2. King. 22. 8.

This was a cite about three miles distant from Ierusalem, and belonged to the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, Iosh. 21. 18.

This is spoken to confirme his vocation and office: forasmuch as he did not presume of him self to preache, and prophesie, but was called thereunto by God.

Meaning, the nepheue of Iosiah: for Iehoiachin was his father, who reigned but thre moneths, and therefore is not mentioned, no more is Iosiah that reigned no long Of the eleuenth yere of Zedekiah, who was also called Mattaniah, and at this time the Iewes were carryed away into Babylon by Nebuchad-nessar. The Scripture useth this manner of speache to declare, that God hath appointed his ministers to their offices before they were borne, as Isa. 49. 1. Gal. 1. 15.

For Ieremiah did not onely prophesie against the Iewes, but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites, and other nations.

Considering the great iudgements of God, which according to his threatenings shulde come vpon the world, he was moued with a certaine compassion on the one side to pite them that shulde thus perish, and on the other side by the irrefragitie of mans nature knowing how hard a thing it was to enterprise such a charge, as Isa. 6. 11. exod. 3. 11. and 4. 1.

VVhich declareth, that God maketh them mete, and assureth them, whome he calleth to see forth the his glories, giving them all meanes necessary for the same, Exod. 4. 12, 13. Isa. 6. 7.

He sheweth, what is the authority of Gods true ministers, which by his worde haue power to beat downe whatsoever lieth in self vp against God: and to plant and assure the humble, and stablish as gins them felicitie to the obedience of Gods worde, 1. Cor. 10. 4. ebr. 4. 11. and these are the keys which Christ hath left loose, and binde. Matt. 18. 18.

He ioyneth the signe with the worde for a more ample confirmation: signifying by the rod of the almond tree, which first budde, the hasty coming of the Babylonians against the Iewes.

⁹ VVhich declareth that Gods vengeance is prepared against them, which dare not execute their due tie faithfully, ether for feare of man, or for any other cause, 1. Cor. 9. 26.

^t Signifying on the one parte, that more than Satan, and the worlde rage against Gods ministers, the more present will he be to help them, 1. Ch. 1. 5. ebr. 1. 3. 5. and on the other parte, that they are vnto vnmete to serue God, and his Church, which are afraide, & do not resist wickednes, what soeuer danger depende thereon, Isa. 50. 7. eze. 3. 8.

CHAP. II.

^a God rehearteth his benefices done vnto the Iewes. ⁹ Against the Priests and false prophetes. ¹⁰ The Iewes are destroyed, because they forsake God.

Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

² Go, and crye in the eares of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, with the ^a kindenes of thy youth [&] the loue of thy mariage, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness ^b in a land that was not sowed.

³ Israel [was as] a thing ^c halowed vnto the Lord, [and] his first frutes: all thei^d that eat it, shal offend: euil shal come vpon them, saith the Lord.

⁵ Thus saith the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers founde in me, that they are gone ^e farre from me, and haue walked after vanitie, & are become ^f vaine?

⁶ For they said not, Where is the Lord that broght vs vp out of the land of Egypt: that led vs through ^g wilderness, through a desert, and waste land, through a drye land, and ^h by the shadowe of death, by a land that no man passed through, & where no man dwelt?

⁷ And I broght you into a plentiful country, to eat the frute thereof, and the commodities of the same: but when ye entred ye defyled ⁱ my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

⁸ The Priests said not, Where is the Lord and they that shulde minister the ^k Lawe, knewe me not: the ^l pastours also offended against me, and the prophetes prophced

By your idolatrie, and wicked maners, Psal. 78. 58. and 106. 33. ¹ They taught not the people to seke after God. ^h As the Scribes, which shulde haue expounded the Lawe to the people. ⁱ Meaning, he princes and ministers: signifying that all estates were corrupt.

in ^m Baal, and went after [things] that did no profite.

⁹ Wherefore I wil yet ⁿ plead w^o you saith the Lord, and I wil plead with your childrens children.

¹⁰ For go ye to the yles of ^o Chittim, and beholde, and send vnto ^p Kedar, and take diligent hede, and se whether there be such things.

¹¹ Hathe [anic] natio changed there gods which yet are no gods? but my people haue changed their ^q glorie, for that which doeth not ^r profite,

¹² O ye ^s heauens, be astonied at this: be afayed and vtterly confounded, saith the Lord,

¹³ For my people haue committed two euils: they haue forsaken me ^t the fountaine of liuing waters, to digge them pittes, [euil] broken pittes, that can holde no water.

¹⁴ Is Israel ^u a ^v seruant, or is he borne in the house: why [then] is he spoiled?

¹⁵ The ^w Lyons roared vpon him [and] yel- led, and they haue made his land waste: his cities are burnt without ^x an inhabitant.

¹⁶ Also the children of ^y Noph and Tahapanes haue ^z broken thine head:

¹⁷ Hast not thou procured this vnto thy self, because thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, when he ^a led thee by the way?

²¹ Yet I had planted thee, a noble vine, whose ^f plants were all natural: how then art thou turned vnto me into the plants of a strange vine?

Exod. 4. 2. therefore it is their fault onely, if the enemy spoile them.

^x The Babylonians, Chaldeans and Assyrians. ^y Not one shal be left to dwell there.

^z That is, the Egyptians: for these were two great cities in Egypt.

^a Haue grievously vexed thee at sundrie times. ^b Shewing, that God would haue still led them aright, if they wolde haue followed him.

^c To seeke helpe of man, as though God were not able ynough to defende thee, which is to drinke of the puddle, and to leaue the fountaine, read Isa. 31. 1.

^d To wit, Euphrates. ^e Meaning, that the wicked are infectious.

^f The punishment for their sinne was in them, as verse. 26. Isa. 39. 9.

^g VVhen I deliuered thee out of Egypt, Deut. 27. 12. 1. Ch. 24. 16. eze. 10. 12. 27.

^h Ebr. sede was all true.

m That is, like vaine things & broght the people from the true worshipping of God to false idoles: for by Baal, which was the chief idole of the Moabites, are meant all idoles.

n Signifying, that he would not as he might straight way condemn them, but sheweth them by euil examples their great ingratitude, that they might be ashamed, and repented.

o Meaning, the Grecians and Italians, vnto Arabia.

q That is, God which is their glorie, and who maketh them glorious above all other people: reproving the Iewes, that they were not diligent to serue ^r true God, then were the idolaters to honour their vanities.

r Meaning, the idoles, which were their destruction, Psal. 106. 36.

s He sheweth, that the insensible creatures abhorre this vile ingratitude, & as it were tremble for feare of Gods great iudgements against ^t sinners.

t Signifying, that when men forsake Gods worde, which is the fountaine of life, they reject God himself, and forsake to their own inventions, and vaine confidence, and procure to them self destruction, Isa. 2. 8. and 10. 2.

u Haue I ordered them like seruants, & not like deile children.

21. Thogh thou wash thee with hyssop, and take thee much soap, [yet] thine in-iquitie is marked before me, saith the Lord
God.

22. How canst thou say, I am not polluted, neither haue I followed Baalim? beholde thy wayes in the valley, and knowe, what the Lord hath done: [thou art like] a swift dromedarie, that runneth by his wayes.

23. [And] as a wilde asse, vsed to the wildernes, that snuffeth vp the winde by occasio at her pleasure: who can turne her backe?
all they that seeke her, wil not weary them selues, [but] wil finde her in her moneth.

24. Kepe thou thy fete from barenes, & thy throte from thirst: but thou saidst desperatly, No, for I haue loued strangers, and them wil I followe.

25. As the thefe is ashamed, when he is founde, so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their Kings, their Princes and their Priests, and their Prophetes,

26. Saying to a tre, Thou art my father, & to a stone, Thou hast begott me: for they haue turned their backe vnto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they wil say, Arise, and helpe vs.

27. But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Iudah.

28. Wherefore wil ye pleade with men ye all haue rebelled against me, saith the Lord.

29. I haue smitten your children in vaine, they receiued no correction: your owne swords haue deuoured your Prophetes like a destroying lyon.

30. O generation, take hede to the worde of the Lord: haue I bene [as] a swildernes vnto Israel: or a land of darkenes? Wherefore saith my people [the] We are lords, we wil come no more vnto thee.

31. Can a maide forget her ornament; or a bride her attire: yet my people haue forgotten me, daies without number.

32. Why dost thou prepare thy way, to seke amitie? euen therefore wil I teache [thee], [that thy wayes [are] wickednes].

33. Also in thy wings is founde the blood of the soules of the poore innocents: I haue not founde it in holes, but vpon all these places.

34. Yet thou saist, Because I am guiltles, surely his wrath shal turne from me: Beholde,
I wil entere with thee into iudgement, because thou saiest, I haue not sinned.

35. Why runnest thou about so much to change thy wayes: for thou shalt be confounded of Egypt: as thou art confounded of Assyrie.

36. For thou shalt go forth from thence, & thine hands vpon thine head, because the Lord hath reiected thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper thereby.

CHAP. III.

God calleth his people vnto repentance. 14. He promisseth the restitution of his Church. 20. He reproveth Iudah & Israel, comparing them to a woman disobedient to her husband.

1. They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become an other mans, shal he returne againe vnto her: shal not this land be polluted: but thou hast plaid the harlot with manie louers: yet turne againe to me, saith the Lord.

2. Lift vp thine eyes vnto the high places, & beholde, where thou hast not plaid harlot: thou hast sitte waiting for them in waies, as the Arabian in the wildernes: & thou hast polluted the land with thy who-redomes, and with thy malice.

3. Therefore the frowres haue bene restrained, and the latter raine came not, and thou haddest a whores forhead: thou wouldest not be ashamed.

4. Didest thou not stil cry vnto me, Thou art my father, [and] the guide of my youth?

5. Wil he kepe [his anger] for euer: wil he reserve it to the end: thus hast thou spoken, but thou dost euill, euen more and more.

6. The Lord said also vnto me, in the daies of Iosiah the King, Hast thou sene what this rebel Israel hath done? [for] she hath gone vp vpon euery high mountaine, and vnder euery grene tre, & there plaid
the harlot.

7. And I said, when she had done all this, turne thou vnto me: but she returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah saith.

8. When I sawe, how that by all occasions rebellious Israel had plaid the harlot, I cast her away; and gaue her a byl of deportement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not affrayed, but she went also, & plaied the harlot.

8 Wherefore girde you with sackcloth: lament, and howle, for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord, the heart of the King shal perish, and the heart of the princes and the Priests shalbe astonished, and the Prophetes shal wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, surely thou hast^b deceived this people and Ierusalēm, saying, Ye shal haue peace, and the sworde percerth vnto the heart.

11 At that time shal it be said to this people and to Ierusalēm, A dryeⁱ winde in the hie places of the wilderness [cometh] toward the daughter of my people, [but] nether^k to fan, nor to cleanse.

12 A mightie winde shal come vnto me fro those places, and now wil I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 Beholde, he shal come vvas the cloudes, and his charets [shalbe] as a tempest: his horses are lighter then egles. ^m Wo vnto vs, for we are destroyed.

14 O Ierusalēm, wash thine heart from wickednes, that thou maiest be saued: how long shal thy wicked thoughts remaine within thee?

15 For a voyce declareth fromⁿ Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount^o Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention of the heathen, [and] publish in Ierusalēm, Beholde, the skoutes come from a farre countrey, and crye out against the cities of Iudāh.

17 They haue compassed her about as the watchmen of the^p field, because it hathe prouoked me to wrath, saith the Lord.

18 Thy waies & thine inuentions haue procured thee these things, suche is thy wickednes: therefore it shalbe bitter, therefore it shal percerth vnto thine heart.

19 My bely, ^q my bely, I am peined, euen at the very heart: mine heart is troubled within me: I can not be styl: for my soule hathe heard the sounde of the trumpet, [and] the alarme of the battell.

20 Destruction vpon destruction is cryed, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly, are my^r tentes destroyed, [and] my curtaynes in a moment.

21 How long shal I se the standart, [and] heare the sounde of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, thei haue not knowen me: thei are foolish children, and haue none vnderstanding: ^r thei are wise to do euil, but to do wel thei haue no knowledge.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and lo, it was without forme and^t voide: and to the heauens, and thei had no light.

24 I beheld the moūtaines: & lo, they trembled and all the hilles shooke.

25 I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were departed.

26 I beheld, and lo, the fruteful place [was] a wilderness, and all their cities thereof were broken downe at the presense of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hathe the Lord said, The whole land shalbe desolate: yet wil I^u not make a ful end.

28 Therefore shal the earth mourne, and the heauens about shalbe darkened, because I haue pronounced it: I haue thought it, and wil not repent, nether wil I turne backe from it.

29 The whole citie shal flee, for the noise of the horseme and bowe me: thei shal go into thickets; and clime vp vpon the rockes: euerie citie shalbe forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou shalt be destroyed, what wilt thou do? Thogh thou^x clothest thy self with skarlet, thogh thou deckest thee with ornāmets of golde, thogh thou paintest thy face with colours, yet shalt thou trimme thy self in vaine: [for] thy louers wil abhorre thee [and] seke thy life.

31 For I haue heard a noise as of a woman traouailing, or as one laboring of her first childe, [euen] the voice of the daughter Ziōn that sigheth and stretcheth out her hands: ^y wo is me now: for my soule fainteth because of the murthers.

14 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, Because ye speake suche wordes, beholde, I wil put my wordes into thy mouth, like a fyre, and this people shal be [as] wodge, and it shal deuoure them.

15 Lo, I wil bring a nation vpon you from far, o house of Israël, saith the Lord, which is a mightie nation, and an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, nether vnderstandest what they say.

16 Whose quiuer is as an open sepulchre: they are all very strong.

17 And they shal eat thine haruest and thy bread: they shal deuoure thy sonnes and thy daughters: they shal eat vp thy shepe and thy bullocks: they shal eat thy vines and thy figtrees: they shal destroye with the sworde thy fenced cities, wherein thou didest trust.

18 Neuertheles at those daies, saith the Lord, I wil not make a ful end of you.

19 And when ye shal saie, Wherefore doeth the Lord our God do these things vnto vs?

then shalt thou answer them, Like as ye haue forsaken me and serued strange gods in your land, so shal ye serue strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Iakób, and publish it in Iudāh, saying,

21 Heare now this, o foolish people, and without vnderstanding, which haue eyes and see not, which haue eares and heare not.

22 Feare ye not me, saith the Lord: or wil ye not be afraid at my presence, which haue placed the sande for the bondes of the sea by the perpetual decre that it can not passe it, and though the waues thereof rage, yet can they not preuaile, though they roare, [yet] can they not passe ouer it?

23 But this people hath an vnfaithful and rebellious heart: they are departed and gone.

24 For they say not in their heart, Let vs now feare the Lord our God, that giueth raine bothe early and late in due season: he reserueth vnto vs the appointed weekes of the haruest.

25 [Yet] your iniquities haue turned awaie these things, and your sinnes haue hindered good things from you.

26 For among my people are founde wicked persones, that laie waite as he that setteth snares: they haue made a pit to catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birdes, so are their houses full of deceit: thereby they are become great and waxen riche.

28 They are waxen fat [and] shining: they do ouerpasse the dedes of the wicked: they execute no iudgement, no not the iudgement of the fatherles: yet they prosper, though they execute no iudgement for the poore.

29 Shal I not visite for these things, saith the Lord? or shal not my soule be auenged on suche a nation as this?

30 An horrible and filthie thing is committed in the land.

31 The prophetes propheticie lies, and the Priestes receiue [giftes] in their hands, and my people delite therein. What wil ye then do in the end thereof?

1 The coming of the Assyrians and Caldeans. 16 He exhorteth the Iewes to repentance.

O Ye children of Beniamin, prepare to flee out of the middes of Ierusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoā: set vp a standart vpon Beth-haccérem: for a plague appeareth out of the North, and great destruction.

2 I have compared the daughter of Zión to a beautiful and deintie woman.
3 The pastors with their flockes shal come vnto her: they shal pitch [their] tents round about by her, [and] euerie one shal fede in his place.

4 Prepare warre against her: arise, and let vs go vp toward the South: wo vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the shadowes of the euening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let vs go vp by night, and destroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath the Lord of hostes said, Hewe downe wood, and cast a mount against Ierusalém: this citie must be visited: all oppression is in the middes of it.

7 As the fontaine casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her malice: & cruelie and spoile is continually heard in her before me [with] sorow and strokes.

8 Be thou instructed, O Ierusalém, lest my soule departe from thee, lest I make thee desolate, [as] a land, that none inhabiteth.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Thei shal gather as a vine, the residue of Israël: turne backe thine hand as the grape gatherer into the baskets.

10 Vnto whome shal I speake, & admonish that they may heare? beholde, their eares [are] vncircumcised, and they can not hearken: beholde, the worde of the Lord is vnto them as a reproche: they haue no delite in it.

11 Therefore I am ful of the wrath of the Lord: I am wearie with holding it: I wil powre it out vpon the children in the strete, and likewise vpon the assemblie of the yong men: for the housband shal euen be take with the wife, [and] the aged with him that is ful of daies.

12 And their houses [with] their lands, and wiues also shalbe turned vnto strangers: for I wil stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord.

13 For fro the least of them, euen vnto the greatest of them, euerie one is giuen vnto couetousnes, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, they all deale falsely.

14 They haue healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with swete wordes, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, no, nether colde they haue anie shame: therefore they shal fall among the flaine: when I shal visit them, they shalbe cast downe, saith the Lord.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the waies and beholde, and aske for the olde waie, which is the good waye, and walke therein, and ye shal finde rest for your soules: but they said, We wil not walke [therein].

17 Also I set watchmen ouer you, [which said,] Take hede to the sound of the trumpet: but they said, We wil not take hede.

18 Heare therefore, ye Gentiles, and thou Congregation knowe, what is among them.

19 Heare, O earth, beholde, I wil cause a plague to come vpon this people, [euen] the frute of their owne imaginations: because they haue not taken hede vnto my wordes, nor to my Law, but cast it of.

20 To what purpose bringest thou me incense from Shebá, and swete calamus fro a farre country? Your burnt offerings are not pleasant, nor your sacrifices swete vnto me.

21 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil lay stumbling blockes before this people, and the fathers and the sonnes together shal fall vpon them: the neighbour and his friend shal perish.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, a people cometh from the North countrey, and a great nation shal arise from the sides of the earth.

23 With bowe and shield shal they be weaponed: they are cruel and wil haue no compassion: their voyce roareth like the sea, and they ride vpon horses, wel appointed like me of warre against thee, O daughter of Zión.

24 We haue heard their fame, [and] our hands waxe feble: sorowe is come vpon vs, as the sorowe of a woman in traual.

25 Go not forthe into the field, nor walke by the way: for the sworde of the enemy [and] feare [is] on euerie side.

26 O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallowe thy self in the ashes: make lamentation, and bitter mourning [as] for thine onely sonne: for the destroyer shal suddenly come vpon vs.

27 I haue set thee for a defence [and] for tresser among my people, that thou maiest knowe and trye their waies.

28 They are all rebellious traitors, walking craftely: [they are] brasse, and yron, they all are destroyers.

1 OH, that mine head were [ful] of water, & mine eyes a fountaine of teares, that I might wepe day and night for the flaine of the daughter of my people.

2 Oh, that I had in the wilderness a^b cottage of way faring men, that I might leaue my people, & go from them, for they be all adulterers, and an assemblie of rebels, 3 And they bend their tongues [like] their bowes for^d lies: but they haue no courage for the trueth vpon the earth: for they procede from euil to worse, and they haue not knowen me, saith the Lord.

4 Let euerie one take hede of his neighbour, and trust you not in anie^e brother: for euerie brother wil vse deceit, and euerie friend wil deale deceitfully,

5 And euerie one wil deceiue his friend, and wil not speake the trueth: [for] they^f haue taught their tongues to speake lies, and take great paines to do wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the middes of deceiuers: ^g because of [their] deceit they refuse to knowe me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes Beholde, I wil^h melt them, and trye them: for what shulde I [els] do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongueⁱ [is] as an arrowe shot out, [&] speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth waite for him.

18 And let them make haste, and let them take vp a lamentation for vs, that our eyes may cast out teares and our eye liddes gush out of water.

19 For a lamentable noyse is heard out of Zión, How are we destroyed, [and] vtterly confounded, for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings^p haue cast vs out.

CHAP. X.

The constellations of the starres are not to be feared. 3 The weaknes of idoles, and of the power of God. 21 Their pastours are become brute beasts.

HEare ye the worde of the Lord that he speaketh vnto you, o house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Learne not the way of the heathen, and be not afraide for the signes of heauen, thogh the heathen be afraide of suche.

3 For the customes of the people are vaine, for one cutteth a tre out of the forest (which is the worke of the hands of the carpenter) with the axe,

4 And [another] decketh it with siluer, and with golde: they fasten it with nailles, and hammers, that it fall not.

5 The idoles stand vp as the palme tre, but speake not: they are borne because they can norgo: feare them not, for they can not do euil, nether can they do good.

6 There is none like vnto thee, o Lord: thou art great, and thy Name [is] great in power.

7 Who wolde not feare thee, o King of nations: for to thee appertineth [the dominion]: for among all the wise men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdomes there is none like thee.

8 But altogether they dote, and are foolish: [for] the stocke is a doctrine of vanitie.

9 Siluer plates are brought from Tarshish, and golde from Vphāz, [for] the worke of the workman, and the hands of the founder: the blew silke, and the purple [is] their clothing: all these things are made by cunning men.

10 But the Lord [is] the God of truth: he is the liuing God, and an euerlasting King: at his angre the earth shal tremble, and the nations can not abide his wrath.

11 (Thus shal you say vnto them, The gods that haue not made the heauens and the earth, shal perish from the earth, and from the good, which they ought to follow, Reuel. 15. 4. 2 Because the people thought that to haue images was a meane to serue God and to bring them to the knowledge of him, he sheweth that nothing more displeaseth God, nor bringeth man into greater error and ignorance of God: and therefore he calleth them the doctrine of vanitie, & the worke of errors, viz. 15. and Habak. 2. 18. calleth them the teachers of lies: contrarie to that wicked opinion, that they are the bokes of the laye people. 3 VVhereas they founde the best golde: shewing, that they thought nothing to deare for their idoles; some read Ophir, as 1. Kin. 9. 25. 4 This declareth that all that haue bene in this Chapter spoken of idoles, was to arme the Iewes when they shulde be in Caldea among the idolaters, and now with one sentence he instructeth them bothe how to protest their owne religion against the idolaters, and how to answer them to their shame which shulde exhorte them to idolatrie, and therefore he writeth this sentence in the Caldeans tongue for a memoriall, where as all the rest of his writing is in Ebrewe, 12 He hath made the earth by his power, and established the worlde by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

13 He giueth by [his] voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he causeth the cloudes to ascend from the ends of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the winde out of his treasures.

14 Euerie mā is a beast by [his owne] knowledge: euerie founder is confounded by the grauen image: for his melting is but falsehode, and there is no breath therein.

15 They are vanitie, [and] the worke of errors: in the time of their visitation they shal perish.

16 The portion of Iaakōb [is] not like the: for he is the maker of all things, and Israel [is] the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes [is] his Name.

17 Gather vp thy wares out of the land, o thou that dwellest in the strong place:

18 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, at this time I wil throwe as with a sling the inhabitants of the land, and wil trouble them, and they shal finde it [so].

19 Wo is me for my destruction, [and] my grievous plague: but I thought, Yet it is my sorowe, and I wil beare it.

20 My tabernacle is destroyed, and all my coards are broken: my children are gone from me, and are not: there is none to spread out my tent any more, and to set vp my courtaines.

21 For the pastours are become beastes, & haue not fought the Lord: therefore haue they none vnderstanding: and all the flockes of their pastures are scatered.

22 Beholde, the noise of the brute is come, and a great commotion out of the North country to make the cities of Iudah desolate, [and] a denne of dragons.

23 O Lord, I knowe, that the way of man is not in him self, nether [is it] in man to walke and to direct his steps.

24 O Lord, correct me, but with iudgement, not in thine angre, lest thou bring me to nothing.

25 Powre out thy wrath vpon the heathen, that knowe thee not, and vpon the families that call not on thy Name: for they haue eaten vp Iaakōb and deuoured him and consumed him, and haue made his habitation desolate.

which Iſaiah calleth in measure, Chap. 27. 8. measuring his rodde by there infirmities, 1. Cor. 10. 13. for here by iudgement is ment not onely the punishment, but also the mercifull moderation of the same, as Chap. 10. 12. 2. h The more man thinketh to do anie thing wel by his owne wisdom, and not as God instructeth him, the more doeth he proue him self to be a vile beast.

i By these wordes, Portion & rod, he signifieth their inheritance: meaning, God shulde be all sufficient for them, and that their felicitie consisted in him alone, and therefore they ought to renounce all other helpees, & succours as of idoles, &c. Deut. 32. 9.

k The Prophet willett & Iewes to prepare themselves to this captiuitie, shewing that it was now at hand, that they shulde feele the things, whereof he had tolde them.

CHAP. XI.

A taste of them that obey not the worde of Gods couenant. 10 The people of Iudah, following the steppes of their fathers, worshipped strange gods. 14 The Lord forbiddeth Ieremiáh to praise for them.

The worde that came to Ieremiáh frō the Lord, saying,

1 Hear ye the wordes of this couenant, and speake vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalēm,

2 And say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Cursed be the man that obcieth not the wordes of this couenant,

3 Which I commanded vnto your fathers, when I broght them out of the land of Egypt, from the yron fornace, saying, Obey my voyce, and do according to all these things, which I commande you: so shal ye be my people, and I wil be your God,

4 That I may confirme the othe, that I haue sworne vnto your fathers, to giue them a land, which floweth with milke and hony, as [appeareth] this day. Then answered I & said, So be it, o Lord.

5 Then the Lord said vnto me, Crye all these wordes in the cities of Iudah, and in the stretes of Ierusalēm, saying, Heare ye the wordes of this couenāt, and do the.

6 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I broght them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, rising early & protesting, saying, Obey my voyce.

7 Neuertheles they wolde not obey, nor encline their eare: but euery one walked in the stubbernes of his wicked heart: therefore I wil bring vpon them all the wordes of this couenant: which I commanded them to do, but they did it not.

8 And the Lord said vnto me, A conspiracie is founde among the men of Iudah, & among the inhabitants of Ierusalēm.

9 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: [thus] the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue broken my couenant, which I made with their fathers.

10 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde I wil bring a plague vpon them, which they shal not be able to escape, and thogh they crye vnto me, I wil not heare them.

11 Then shal the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalēm go, and crye vnto the gods vnto whome they offer incense: but they shal not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

12 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, o Iudah, and [according] to the number of the stretes of Ierusalēm haue ye set vp altars of confusion, [euen] altars to burne incense vnto Bāal.

13 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, nether lift vp a crye or prayer for them: for when they crye vnto me in their trouble, I wil not heare them.

14 What shulde my beloued [sary] in mine house, seing they haue committed abomination with many: and the holy flesh goeth away from thee: yet when thou doest euil, thou reioycst.

15 The Lord called thy name, A grene oliue tre, faire, [and] of goodlie frute: but with noise and great tumult he hath set fyre vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

16 For the Lord of hostes that plated thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, (for the wickednes of the house of Israel, and of the house of Iudah) which they haue done against them selues to prouoke me to angre in offering incense vnto Bāal.

17 And the Lord hath taught me, and I knowe it, [euen] then thou shewedst me their practises.

18 But I was like a lambe, [or] a bullocke, that is broght to the slaughter, and I knewe not that they had deuised thus against me, [saying,] Let vs destroye the tre with the frute thereof, and cut him out of the land of the liuing, that his name may be no more in memorie.

19 But o Lord of hostes, that iudgeth righteously, and tryest the reines & the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

20 The Lord therefore speaketh thus of the men of Anathóth, (that seke thy life, and say, Prophecies not in the Name of the Lord, that thou dye not by our hands)

21 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I wil visit them: the yong men shal dye by the sworde: their sonnes and their daughters shal dye by famine,

22 And none of them shal remaine: for I wil bring a plague vpon the men of Anathóth, [euen] the yere of their visitation.

23 To heare God named (for herein they wolde shewe them selues moste holy) but because they colde not abide to be sharply reprovēd, & therefore desired to be flattered, Isa. 30, 10. and to be maintained in their pleasures, Mich. 3, 1, and not to heare vice condemned, Amos. 7, 12.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Prophet marueleth at the prosperitie of the wicked, although he confesse God to be righteous. 7 The Iewes are forsaken of the Lord. 10 He speaketh against pastors and preachers, that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threatneth destruction vnto the nations, that troubled Iudah.

O Lord, if I dispute with thee, thou art righteous: yet let me talke with thee of thy iudgements: wherefore doest thou his doings, although man be not able to giue a reason of all his actes.

a He calleth the ewes to the consideration of Gods mercies, who freely chose them, made a couenant of eternal felicitie w them, and how he euer performed it on his behalf, and how they euer shewed them selues rebellious and ingrate toward him & brake it on their parte, and so are subiect to the curse of the Law, Deut. 27, 26. b Thus he speaketh in y persone of the people, w agreed to y couenant.

c Read Chap. 7, 13.

a The Prophet confesseth God to be iuste in all his actes.

⁶ This question hath bene alway a great renation to God, to see the wicked enemies of God in prosperitie, and his children in adversity, as Job 11. 7. psal. 37. 1. 73. 1. Habak. 1. 13. ⁷ They professe God in mouth, but deny him in heart, which is here ment by Jeremias, Isa. 29. 13. mar. 15. 8.

¹¹ God willeth the Prophet to denounce his iudgements against Ierusalem, notwithstanding that they shal bothe by threatnings and flatteries labour to put him to silence. ¹² Ever ramping and raging against me and my Prophetes. ¹³ In stead of bearing my liuery and wearing onely my colours, they haue changed and diuersitie of colours of their idoles and superstitions, therefore their enemies, as thick as the fowles of the ayre, shal come about them to destroye them.

¹⁴ He prophesieth of the destruction of Ierusalem by the captaines of Nebuchadnezar, whome he calleth pastors. ¹⁵ Because no man regardeth my worde, or the plagues that I haue sent vpon the land. ¹⁶ To wit, the Prophet.

the way of the wicked prosper: [why] are all they in welth that rebelliously transgress?

2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken roote: they growe, and bring forth the frute: thou art nere in their mouth and farre from their reins.

3 But thou, Lord, knowest me: thou hast sene me, and tryed mine heart toward thee: put them out like shepe for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourne, and the herbes of euery field wither, for the wickednes of them that dwell therein: the beastes are consumed and the byrdes, because they said, 'He wil not see our last end.

5 If thou hast runne with the footemen, and they haue wearied thee, then how canst thou matche thy self with horses? and if thou thoughtest thy self safe in a peaceable land, what wilt thou do in the swelling of Iordan.

6 For euen thy brethren, and the house of thy father, euen they haue delt vnfaithfully with thee, and they haue cryed out altogethervpon thee: [but] beleue them nor, though they speake faire to thee.

7 I haue forsaken mine house: I haue left mine heritage: I haue giuen the derelict beloued of my soule into the hands of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is vnto me, as a lyon in the forest: it cryeth out against me, therefore haue I hated it.

9 Shal mine heritage be vnto me, as a bird of diuerse colours: are not the birdes about her, [saying,] Come, assemble al the beastes of the field, come to eat her?

10 Many pastors haue destroyed my vineyard, and troden my portion vnder foote: of my pleasant portion they haue made a desolate wilderness.

11 They haue laid it waste, and it, being waste, mourneth vnto me: [and] the whole land lyeth waste, because no man setteth [his] minde on it.

12 The destroyers are come vpon all the high places in the wilderness: for the sword of the Lord shal deuoure from the one end of the land, euen to the [other] end of the land: no flesh shal haue peace.

13 They haue sown wheat, and reaped thornes: they were sicke, [and] had no profite: and they were ashamed of your frutes, because of the fierce wrath of the Lord.

14 Thus saith the Lord against all mine euil neighbours, that touche the inheritance, which I haue caused my people Israel to inherite, Beholde, I wil plucke them out of their land, and plucke out the house of Iudah from among them.

15 And after that I haue plucked them out, I wil returne, and haue compassion on them, and wil bring againe euery man to his heritage, and euery man to his land.

16 And if they wil learne the wayes of my people, to sweare by my Name, [The Lord liueth, as they taught my people to sweare by Baal] then shal they be buylt in the middes of my people.

17 But if they wil not obey, then wil I vterly plucke vp, and destroye that nation [saith] the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

The destruction of the Iewes is prefigured. 1. VVhy Israel was receyued to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken. 15 He exhorteth them to repentance.

1 Thus saith the Lord vnto me, Go, and bye thee a linen girdle, and put it vpon thy loynes, and put it not in water.

2 So I bought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes.

3 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me the seconde time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, go toward Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.

5 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lord had commanded me.

6 And after many daies, the Lord said vnto me, Arise, go toward Perath, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Perath, and digged, and toke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, & beholde, the girdle was corrupt, [and] was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord, After this maner wil I destroye the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ierusalem.

10 This wicked people haue refused to heare my worde, and walke after the stubbernes of their owne heart, & walke after other gods, to serue them, and to worship them: therefore they shalbe as this girdle,

12 Therefore thou shalt saye vnto them this worde, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Euerie bottel shall be filled with wine, and they shall saie vnto thee, Do we not knowe that euerie bottel shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou saie vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil fill all the inhabitants of this land, euen the Kings that sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and the Priests and the Prophets and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with drunkenness.

15 Heare and giue care, be not proude: for the Lord hath spoken it.

16 Giue glorie to the Lord your God before he bring a darkenes, and or euer your feet stumble in the darke mountaines, and whiles you loke for light, he turne it into the shadowe of death, [and] make it as darkenes.

17 But if ye wil not heare this, my soule shall wepe in secret for your pride, and mine eye shall wepe and drop downe teares, because the Lords stocke is caried awaie captiue.

18 Say vnto the King and to the Quene, Humble your selues, sit downe, for the crowne of your glorie shall come downe from your heads.

19 The cities of the South shall be shut vp, and no man shall open them: all Iudah shall be caried away captiue: it shall be wholly caried away captiue.

20 Lift vp your eyes and beholde them that come from the North, where is the stocke that was given thee, [euen] thy beautiful stocke.

21 What wilt thou saie, when he shall visit thee? (for thou hast taught the to be captiues [and] as chief ouer thee) shall not sorrow take thee as a woman in trauail?

25 This is thy portion, [and] the parte of thy measures from me, saith the Lord, because thou hast forgotten me and trusted in lies.

26 Therefore I haue also discovered thy skirts vpon thy face, that thy shame may appeare.

27 I haue sene thine adulteries, and thy neyings, the filthines of thy whoredome on the hilles in the fields, [and] thine abominations. Wo vnto thee, o Ierusalem: wilt thou not be made cleane? when shall it once be?

1 The worde of the Lord that came vnto Ieremiah, concerning the dearth.

2 Iudah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate, they haue bene brought to heauines vnto the ground, and the crye of Ierusalem goeth vp,

3 And their nobles haue sent their inferiours to the water, who came to the welles, [and] founde no water, they returned with their vessels emptie: they were ashamed and confounded, and couered their heads.

4 For the ground was destroyed, because there was no raine in the earth: the plowmen were ashamed, [and] couered their heades.

5 Yea, the hinde also calued in the field, and forsoke it, because there was no grasse.

6 And the wilde asses did stand in the high places, and drewe in their winde like dragons: their eyes did faile, because there was no grasse.

7 O Lord, thogh our iniquities testifie against vs, deale [with vs] according to thy Name: for our rebellions are manie, we sinned against thee.

8 O the hope of Israel, the sauour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a stranger in the land, as one that passeth by to tarie for a night?

9 Why art thou as a man astonied, and as a strong man that can not helpe? yet thou, o Lord, art in the middes of vs, and thy Name is called vpon vs: forsake vs not.

10 Thus saith the Lord vnto this people, Thus haue they delited to wandre: they haue

16. & 17. 14.

11 Then said the Lord vnto me, ⁱ Thou shalt not praye to do this people good.

12 Whē thei fast, I wil not heare their crye, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I wil not accept them: but I wil consume them by the sworde, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

13 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, beholde, the ^k Prophetes say vnto them, Ye shal not se the sworde, nether shal famine come vpon you, but I wil giue you assured peace in this place.

14 Then the Lord said vnto me, The Prophetes prophecie lies in my Name. ⁱ I haue not sent them, nether did I commande them, nether spake I vnto them, but they prophecie vnto you a false vision, and diuination, and vanitie, and deceitfulnes of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Concerning the Prophetes that prophecie in my Name, whome I haue not sent, yet they say, Sworde and famine shal not be in this land, by sworde & famine shal those Prophetes be consumed.

16 And the people to whome these Prophetes do prophecie, shal be cast out in the stretes of Ierusalēm, because of the famine, and the sworde, and there shal be none to burye the, [bothe] they, and there wiues, and their sonnes, and their daughters: for I wil powre their wickednes vpon them.

17 Therefore thou shalt say this worde vnto them, Let mine eyes drop downe ⁱ teares night and day without ceasing: for the virgine daughter of my people is destroyed with a great destruction, [and] with a sore grievous plague.

18 For if I go into the field, beholde the slaine with the sworde: and if I entre into the citie, beholde them that are sicke for hunger also: moreouer the Prophet also and the Priest go a wandring ^m into a land that they know not.

19 Hast thou vtterly reiected ⁿ Iudāh, or hath the thy soule abhorred Zión? Why hast thou smitten vs, that we can not be healed? We looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of health, and beholde trouble.

20 We ^o acknowledge, O Lord, our wickednes, [and] the iniquitie of our fathers: for we haue sinned against thee.

21 Do not abhorre [vs] for thy Names sake, cast not downe the throne of thy glorie: remember [and] breake not thy couenant with vs.

22 Are there anie among ^p vanities of the Gentiles, that can giue raine? or can the heauens giue showers? is it not thou, O Lord our God? therefore we wil waite vpon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

CHAP. XV.

¹ The Lord wolde heare no prayer for the Iewes, ³ But threatneth to destroye them with foure plagues.

ⁱ Then said the Lord vnto me, ^a Though Moses and Samuēl stode before me, [yet] mine affection colde not be toward this people: cast [them] out of my sight, and let them departe.

2 And if they say vnto thee, Whether shal we departe? then tel them, Thus saith the Lord, ^a Suche as are [appointed] to death, vnto death: and suche as are for the sworde, to the sworde: and suche as are for the famine, to the famine: & suche as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

3 And I wil appointe ouer them foure kindes, saith the Lord, the sworde to slay, and the ^b doggs to teare in pieces, and the foules of the heauen, and the beastes of the earth to deuoure, and to destroye.

4 I wil ^c scater them also in all kingdomes of the earth, ^d because of Manassēh the sonne of Hezekiah King of Iudāh, for that which he did in Ierusalem.

5 Who shal then haue pitie vpon thee, O Ierusalem? or who shal be sorie for thee? or who shal go to pray for thy peace?

6 Thou hast forsakē me, saith the Lord, [and] gone backward: therefore wil I stretch out mine hand against thee, and destroye thee: [for] I ^e am wearie with repenting.

7 And I wil scatre them with the fanne ^f in the gates of the earth: I haue wasted, [and] destroyed my people, [yet] they wolde not returne from their wayes.

¶ CHAP. XVI.

The Lord for bidding Jeremiah to marie, sheweth him what shulde be the afflictions vpon Iudah. 13 The captiuities of Babylon. 15 Their deliuerance. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

THE worde of the Lord came also vnto me, saying,

curse me.
11 The Lord said, m Surely thy remnant shal haue welth: surely I wil cause thine ene-mie to intreat thee in the time of trouble, and in the time of affliction.

12 Shal the yron breake the yron, and the brasse [that commeth] from the North?

13 Thy substance & thy treasures wil I giue to be spoiled without t gaine, and that for all thy sinnes euen in all thy borders.

14 And I wil make thee to go with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not: for a fyre is kindled in mine angre, [which] shal burne you.

15 O Lord, thou knowest, remember me, and visit me, and reuenge me of my ^o persecuters: take me not awaie in the continuance of thine angre: knowe that for thy sake I haue suffred rebuke.

16 Thy wordes were founde [by me,] and I did eat them, and thy worde was vnto me the ioye and reioicing of mine heart:
for thy Name is called vpon me, o Lord
God of hostes.

17 I sate not in the assemblie of the mockers; nether did I reioyce, but sate alone because of thy plague: for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is mine heauines continual? and my plague desperate [and] can not be healed? [why] art thou vnto me as a lyer, [and as] waters that faile.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord, If thou returne, then wil I bring thee againe [and] thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take awaie the ^t precious from the vile, thou shalt be ^u according to my worde: let them returne ^x vnto thee, but returne not thou vnto them.

20 And I wil make thee vnto this people gainst thee, but they shal not preuaile against thee: for I am with thee to saue thee and to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

of the wicked, and I wil redeme thee out of the hand of the tyrants.

which through impacientie is oft times assailed, as Chap. 20, 7.

2 Thou shalt not take ^a thee a wife, nor haue sonnes nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sonnes, and concerning the daughters that are borne in this place, and concerning their mothers that beare them, and concerning their fathers, that beget them in this land.

4 They shal dye of deaths [&] diseases: they shal not be lamented, nether shal they be buried, [but] they shalbe as dongue vpon the earth, and they shalbe consumed by the sworde, and by famine, & their carke-ses shalbe meat for the foules of the heauen, and for the beastes of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lord, ^b Entre not into the house of mourning, nether go to lament, nor be moued for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, saith the Lord, [euen] mercie and compassion.

6 Bothe ^c great & the smale shal dye in this land: thei shal not be buried, nether shal men lamēt for them ^c nor cut them selues, nor make them selues bald for them.

7 Thei shal not stretch out [the hands] for them in the mourning to comfort them for the dead, nether shal they giue them the ^d cup of consolation to drinke for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also go into the house of feasting to sit with the to eat & to drinke.

God of Israel, Beholde, I wil cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, euen in your daies the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladnes, the voice of the bride gro-thee, ^{*} Wherefore hathe the Lord pronounced all this great plague against vs

Lord, and haue walked after other gods, and haue serued them, and worshiped them, and haue forsaken me, and haue not kept my Law,

12 (* And ye haue done worse then your land into a land that ye knowe not, [nether] you, nor your fathers, and there shal ye serue other gods daie and night: for I wil shewe you no grace.

 4 And the vessel that he made of claye, was broken in the hand of the potter. so he returned and made it another vessel, as semed good to the potter to make it.
 5 Then the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

^a As the potter hath power o-uer the claye to make what pot he wil, or to breake them, when he hath made them: so haue I power o-uer you to do with you as I semeth good to me. ^b Isa. 45. 9. ^c I will. ^d 1. 7. ^e I will. ^f 1. 7.

6 O house of Israel, can not I do with you as this potter, saith the Lord: beholde, as the claye [is] in the potters hand, so are you in mine hand, o house of Israel.

7 I wil speake suddenly against a nation or against a kingdome to plucke it vp, & to roote it out and to destroye it.

8 But if this nation against whome I haue pronounced, turne fro their wickednes, I wil repent of the plague that I thoght to bring vpon them.

9 And I wil speake suddenly concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdome to buyde it and to plant it.

10 But if it do euil in my sight and heare not my voyce, I wil repent of the good that I thoght to do for them.

11 Speake thou now therefore vnto the men of Iudāh, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalēm, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: returne you therefore euerie one from his euil way, and make your wayes and your workes good.

12 But they said desperately, Surely we wil walke after our owne imaginations, & do euerie man [after] the stubbernes of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Ask now among the heathen, who hath heard such things: the virgine of Israel hath done verie filthily.

14 Wil a man forsake the snowe of Lebanon, [which cometh] from the rocke of the field? or shal the colde flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, [and] haue burnt incense to vanitie, and [there Prophetes] haue caused them to stumble in their wayes [from] the ancient wayes to walke in the paths [and] wayes [is] not troden,

16 To make their land desolate [and] a perpetual derision, [so that] euerie one that passeth thereby, shalbe astonished and wagge his head,

17 I wil scatter them with an East winde before the enemy: I wil shewe them the backe, and not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then said they, Come, and let vs imagine some deuise against Jeremiāh: for the Lawe shal not perish from the Priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the worde from the Prophet: come, and let vs smite him with the tongue, and let vs not giue hede to any of his wordes.

^b VVhen the Scripture attributeth repentance vnto God, it is not that he doeth contrarie to what he hath ordeined in his secret counsel: but when he threatneth, it is a calling to repentance, and when he giueth man grace to repent, the threatening [which euer containeth a condition in it] taketh no place: for this the Scripture calleth repentance in God, because it so appeareth in mans iudgement.

21. Therefore, deliuer vp their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the worde, and let their wiues be robbed of their children, & be widowes: and let their housbands be put to death, and let their yong men be slaine by the sworde in the battel.

22. Let the crye be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an hoste suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet.

He prophecieth the destruction of Ierusalem for the contēpt and despising of the worde of God.

1. Thus saith the Lord, Go, and bye an earthen bottel of a potter, and [take] of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Priests,

2. And go forth vnto the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entrie of the East gate: and thou shalt preache there the wordes, that I shal tel thee,

3. And shalt say, Heare ye the worde of the Lord, o Kings of Iudāh, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israël, Beholde, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his eares shal bingle.

4. Because they haue forsaken me, & prophaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whome [nether] they, nor their fathers haue knowen, nor the Kings of Iudāh (They haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

5. And they haue buylt the hie places of Bāal, to burne their sonnes with fyre for burnt offrings vnto Bāal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, nether came it into my minde)

6. Therefore beholde, & dayes come, saith the Lord, that this place shal nomore be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7. And I wil bring the counsell of Iudāh & Ierusalem to nought in this place, and I wil cause the to fall by the sworde before their enemies, & by the hand of them that seke their liues: and their carkeises wil I giue to be meat for the foules of the heauen, and to the beastes of the field.

8. And I wil make this citie desolate and an hissing, [so that] euerie one that passeth thereby, shalbe astonished and hisse, because of all the plagues thereof.

9. And I wil fede them with the fleshe of their sonnes and with the fleshe of their daughters, and euerie one shal eat the flesh of his friend in the siege & streitnes, wherewith their enemies that seke their liues, shal holde them streit.

10. Then shalt thou breake the bottle in sight of the men that go with thee,

11. And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Euen so wil I breake this people and this citie, as one breaketh a potters vessel, that can not be made whole againe, & they shal burye [them] in Topheth til there be no place to burye.

12. Thus wil I do vnto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I wil make this citie like Topheth.

13. For the houses of Ierusalem, & the houses of the Kings of Iudāh shalbe defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the houses vpon whose rofes they haue burnt incense vnto all the hoste of heauen, and haue powred out drinke offrings vnto other gods.

14. Then came Ieremiāh from Topheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophcie, and he stode in the court of the Lords house, and said to all the people,

15. Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israël, Beholde, I wil bring vpon this citie, and vpon all her townes, all the plagues that I haue pronounced against it, because they haue hardened their neckes, and wolde not heare my wordes.

He prophesieth that Zedekiah shal be taken, and the citie burned.

1 The worde which came vnto Ieremiáh from the Lord, when King Zedekiah sent vnto him Pashúr, the sonne of Malchiáh, and Zephaniáh, the sonne of Maaseiáh the Priest, saying,

2 Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for vs (for Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel maketh warre against vs) if so be † the Lord wil deale with vs according to all his wonderous workes, that he may returne vp from vs.

3 Then said Ieremiáh, Thus shal you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israël, Beholde, I wil † turne backe the weapons of warre that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the King of Babel, and against the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walles, & I wil assemble them into the middes of this citie.

5 And I my self wil fight against you with an outstretched hand, and with a mightie arme, euen in angre and in wrath, and in great indignation.

6 And I wil smite the inhabitants of this citie, bothe man, and beast: they shal dye of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, saith the Lord, I wil deliuer Zedekiah the King of Iudáh, and his seruants, and the people, and suche as are left in this citie, from the pestilence, from the sworde and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seke their liues, and he shal smite them with the edge of the sworde: he shal not spare them, neither haue pitie nor compassion.

8 And vnto this people thou shalt saye, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I set before you the † waye of lyfe, and the waye of † death.

9 He that abideth in this citie, shal dye by the sworde and by the famine, and by the pestilence:

CHAP. XXIII.

Against false Pastors. A prophetic of the great Pastor Iesus Christ.

VVO [be] vnto the Pastors that destroye and scatter the shepe of my pasture, saith the Lord.

Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel vnto the Pastors that fede my people, Ye haue scattred my flocke and thrust them out, and haue not visited them: behold, I wil visite you for the wickednes of your workes, saith the Lord.

And I wil gather the remnant of my shepe out of all countreys, whether I had driuen them, and wil bring them againe to their foldes, and they shal growe and encrease.

And I wil set vp shepherdes ouer them, which shal fede them: and they shal dread no more nor be afraid, nether shal any of them be lacking, saith the Lord.

Beholde, The dayes come, saith the Lord, that I wil raise vnto Dauid a righteous branche, and a King shal reigne, and prosper, and shal execute iudgement, & iustice in the earth.

6 In his dayes Iudah shalbe saved, and Israel shal dwell safely, and this is the name whereby they shal call him, The Lord our righteousness.

7 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that they shal no more say, The Lord liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

8 But the Lord liueth, which brought vp & led the sede of the house of Israel out of the North countrey & from all countreys where I had scattered them, and they shal dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within me, because of the Prophetes, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man (and like a man whome wine hath overcome) for the presence of the Lord and for his holie wordes.

10 For the land is ful of adulterers, [and] because of othes the land mourneth, the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried vp, and their course is euil, and their force is not right.

11 For bothe the Prophet and the Priest do wickedly: and their wickednes haue I founde in mine House, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shalbe vnto them as sliperie [ways] in the darkenes: they shal be driuen forth and fall therein: for I wil bring a plague vpon them, seuen the yere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I haue sene foolishnes in the Prophetes of Samaria, & prophecied in Babel and caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I haue sene also in the Prophetes of Ierusalem filthines: they commit adulterie and walke in lies: they strengthen also the hands of the wicked that none can returne from his wickednes: they are all vnto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorah.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes concerning the Prophetes, Beholde, I wil fede them with wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the Prophetes of Ierusalem is wickednes gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hostes: Heare not the wordes of the Prophetes that prophetic vnto you, and teache you vanities: they speake the vision of their owne heart [and] not out of the mouth of the Lord.

19 Beholde, the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in [his] wrath, and a violent whirlwinde shal fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The angre of the Lord shal not returne vntill he haue executed, and till he haue performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter dayes ye shall vnderstand it plainly.

21 * I haue not sent these Prophetes, saith the Lord, yet they ranne: I haue not spoken to them, and yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stand in my counsell, & had declared my wordes to my people, then they shulde haue turned them from their euil waye, and from the wickednes of their inuentions.

23 Am I a God [at hand], saith the Lord, & not a God farre off?

24 Can any hide him self in secret places, that I shal not see him, saith the Lord? Do not I fill heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I haue heard what the Prophetes said, that prophesie lies in my Name, saying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? Do the Prophetes delite to prophesie lies, euen prophesying the deceit of their owne heart?

27 Thus they to cause * my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which they tel euerie man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotten my Name for Bāal.

30 Therefore beholde, I wil come against the Prophetes, saith the Lord, that * steale my worde euerie one from his neighbour.

31 Beholde, I [wil come] against the Prophetes, saith the Lord, which haue [were] tongues, and say, * He saith.

32 Beholde, I wil come against them that prophesie false dreames, saith the Lord, & do tel them, and cause my people to erre by their lies, and by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commanded them:

therefore they bring no profite vnto this people, saith the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the Prophet, or a Priest shal aske thee, saying, What is the burden of the Lord? thou shalt then say vnto them, What burden: I wil euen forsake you, saith the Lord.

34 And the Prophet, or the Priest, or the people that shal say, The burden of the Lord, I wil euen visit euerie such one, & his house.

35 Thus shall ye say euerie one to his neighbour, and euerie one to his brother, What hath the Lord answered? and what hath the Lord spoken?

36 And the burden of the Lord shall ye mention no more: for euerie mans * worde shal be his burden: for ye haue peruered the wordes of the liuing God, the Lord of hostes our God.

37 Thus shalt thou say to the Prophet, What hath the Lord answered thee? and what hath the Lord spoken?

38 And if you say, The burden of the Lord, Then thus saith the Lord, Because ye say this worde, The burden of the Lord, and I haue set vnto you, saying, Ye shal not say, The burden of the Lord,

39 Therefore beholde, I, euen I, wil utterly forget you, and I wil forsake you, and the cite that I gaue you and your fathers, [and cast you] out of my presence, 40 And wil bring * an euclasting reproche vpon you & a perpetual shame which shal neuer be forgotten.

¶ CHAP. XXIII.

1 The vision of the baskets of figges, 5 Signifieth that parte of the people shulde be brought againe from captiuitie, 8 And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people shulde be carryed away.

1 The Lord shewed me, and beholde, two baskets of figges were set before the Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel had carryed away captiue Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, & the princes of Iudah with the workemen, and cunning men of Ierusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

2 One basket [had] verie good figges, [such] like the figges that are first ripe: & the other basket [had] verie noughtie figges which colde not be eaten, they were so euil.

3 Then said the Lord vnto me, What seeest thou, Jeremiāh? And I said, Figges: the good figges verie good, and the noughtie verie noughtie, which can not be eaten, they are so euil.

4 Again the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, Lyke these good figges, so wil I knowe them that are caryed away captiue of Iudaḥ to be good, whome I haue sent out of this place, into the land of the Caldeans.

6 For I wil set mine eyes vpon them for good, and I wil bring them againe to this land, and I wil buyld them, and not destroye them, and I wil plant them, and not roote them out,

7 And I wil giue them an heart to knowe me, that I am the Lord, and they shalbe my people, and I wil be their God: for they shal returne vnto me with their whole heart.

8 And as the noghtie figges which can not be eaten, they are so euil (surely thus saith the Lord) so wil I giue Zedekiah the King of Iudaḥ, and his princes, and the residue of Ierusalem, that remaine in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt,

9 I wil euen giue them for a terrible plague to all the kingdomes of the earth, [and] for a reproche, and for a prouerbe, for a commune talke, and for a curse, in all places, where I shal cast them.

10 And I wil send the sworde, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they be consumed out of the land, that I gaue vnto them and to their fathers.

CHAP. XXV.

1 He prophesieth that they shalbe in captiuitie seuentie yeres. 12 And that after the seuentie yeres the Babylonians shulde be destroyed. 14 The destruction of all nations is prophesied.

1 The worde that came to Ieremiāh, concerning all the people of Iudaḥ, in the fourth yere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudaḥ that was in the first yere of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel:

2 The which Ieremiāh the Prophet spake vnto all the people of Iudaḥ, and to all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth yere of Iosiah the sonne of Ammon King of Iudaḥ, euen vnto this day (that is the thre and twentieth yere) the worde of the Lord hath come vnto me, and I haue spoken vnto you, rising early and speaking, but ye wolde not heare.

4 And the Lord hath sent vnto you all his seruants the Prophetes, rising early & sending [them], but ye wolde not heare, nor encline your eares to obey.

5 They said, Turne againe now euerie one from his euil way, and from the wickednes of your inuentions, and ye shall dwell in the land that the Lord hath giuen vnto you and to your fathers for euer and euer:

6 And go not after other gods to serue them, and to worship them, and prouoke me not to angre with the workes of your hands, and I wil not punish you.

7 Neuertheles ye wolde not heare me, saith the Lord; but haue prouoked me to angre with the workes of your hands to your owne hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Because ye haue not heard my wordes,

9 Beholde, I wil send and take [to me] all the families of the North, saith the Lord, and Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and wil bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations rounde about, and wil destroye them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continual desolation.

10 Moreover I wil take from them the voyce of mirth and the voyce of gladnes, the voyce of the bridegrome and the voyce of the bride, the noise of the millstones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole land shalbe desolate, & an astonishment, [and] these nations shall serue the King of Babel seuentie yeres.

12 And when the seuentie yeres are accomplished, I wil visit the King of Babel & that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquities, euen the land of the Caldeans, & wil make it a perpetual desolation.

13 And I wil bring vpon that land all my wordes which I haue pronounced against it, [euen] all that is writen in this booke, which Ieremiāh hath prophesied against all nations.

14 For many nations, & great Kings shall euen serue them selues of them: thus wil I recompence them according to their dedes, & according to the workes of their owne hands.

15 For thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken vnto me, Take the cup of wine of this [mine] indignation at mine hand, & cause all the nations, to whome I send thee, to drinke it.

16 And they shal drinke, and be moued, & be madde, because of the sworde, that I wil send among them.

17 Then toke I the cuppe at the Lords hand, and made all people to drinke, vnto whome the Lord had sent me:

18 [Euen] Ierusalem, & the cities of Iudaḥ, and the Kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them desolate, an astonishment, e The Caldeans and all their power.

f So the wicked and Satan himselfe are Gods seruants, because he maketh this to serue him by constraint and turneth that which they do of malice, to his honour and glory. g As the Philistines, Ammonites, Egyptians and others.

* Chap. 16, 9. † Or, destroy. h Meaning, bread & altho' ges that shuld serue vnto their feaster, shuld be taken away.

i This reuelation was for the confirmation of his prophesie, because he tolde this of the tyme that they shuld entre and remaine in captiuitie.

ship in the Lords House all the wordes that I command thee to speake: kepe not the Prophetes; whome I sent vnto you, bothe rising vp early, and sending [them],

and wil not obey [them],

6 Then wil I make this House like Shiloh, and wil make this citie a curse to all the nations of the earth.

wordes in the House of the Lord.

then the Priests, and the Prophetes, & all the people toke him, and said, Thou shalt dye the death.

9 Why haſt thou prophecied in the Name of the Lord ſaying, This houſe ſhal be like Shiloh, & this citie ſhal be deſolate without an inhabitant: and all the people were gathered againſt Jeremiah in the Houſe of the Lord,

10 And when the princes of Iudah heard of these things, they came vp from the Kings house into the House of the Lord, and sate downe in the entrie of the newe gate of the Lords [House.]

¶ Then spake the Priests, and the Prophetes vnto the princes, and to all the people, saying, † This man is worthie to die: for he hath prophesied against this ciety, as we haue heard with your eares.

12 Then spake Ieremiāh vnto all the princes, & to all the people, saying, The Lord hath^e sent me to propheticie against this House and against this citie all the things that ve haue heard.

13 Therefore now amend your wayes and your workes, and heare the voyce of the Lord your God, that the Lord may repēt him of the plague, that he hath pronou-ced againſt you.

14 As forme, beholde, I am in your hands:
do with me as ye thinke good and right.

14 But knowe ye for certeine, that if ye put me to death, ye shal surely bring innocent blood vpon your selues, & vpon this citie, and vpon the inhabitants thereof:
for of a trueth the Lord hath sent me vnto you, to speake all these wordes in your eares.

16 Then said the Princes and all the people vnto the Priests and to the Prophetes, This man is not worthie to dye: for he hath spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 ¶ Then rose vp certaine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assemblie of the people, saying,

18 Michah the Morashite * prophecied in the dayes of Hezekiah King of Iudah, & spake to all the people of Iudah, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Zion shalbe plowed [like] a field, and Ierusalem shalbe an heape, and the mountaine of the House [shalbe] as the high places of the forest.

19 Did Hezekiah King of Judah, and all Judah put him to death? did he not fear the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, & the Lord repented him of the plague, that he had pronounced against them?

thus we might procure great euil against our soules.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the Lord, [one] Vriah the sonne of Shemaiah, of Kiriath-bara, who prophesied against this cite, & against this land, according to all the wordes of Ieremiah.

21 Now when Ichoiakim the King with all his men of power, and all the princes heard his wordes, ¶ King fought to slaye him. But when Vriiah heard it, he was afrayed and fled, and went into Egypt.

23 Then Iehoiakim the King sent men into Egypt, [euen] Elnathan the sonne of Achbór, & certeine with him into Egypt.

23 And they fet Vriiah out of Egypt, and brought him vnto Ichorakim the King, who slewe him with the sworde, & cast his dead body into the graues of the children of the people.

24 But the hand of Ahikám * the sonne of Shaphán was with Ieremiáh that they shulde not giue him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

¶ CHAP. XXVII.

1 Jeremiah at the commandment of the Lord sendeth bonds to the King of Iudah and to the other Kings that were nere, whereby they are monished to be subiectes vnto Nebuchad-nezzar. 9 He warneth the people and the Kings and rulers that they beleue not false Prophets.

IN the beginning of the reigne of ^a Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah came this worde vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord to me, Make thee bonds, and yokes, and put them vpon thy necke.

3 And send them to the King of Edóm, & to the King of Moáb, and to the King of the Ammonites, and to the King of Tyrus, and to the King of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Ierusalém vnto Zedekiah the King of Iudáh.

4 And commande them to say vnto their masters, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Thus shal ye say vnto your masters,

5 I haue made the earth, the man, and the beast that are vpon the grounde, by my great power, and by my outstretched arme, and haue giuen it vnto whome it pleased me.

6 But now I haue giuen all these lands into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and the beastes of the field haue I also giuen him to serue him.

1 Here is declared the furie of tyrants, who cannot abide to have Gods word declared, but persecute the ministers thereof, and yet in the end they prevail nothing, but provoke Gods judgements for much the more. As in the first Hezekiahs example is to be followed, so in this of the Iehoiakims are to be abhorred for Gods plague did lighten him, & his house hold.

9 Therefore heare not your Prophetes nor your southsaiers, nor your dreamers, nor your inchâters, nor your forcerers, which say vnto you thus, Ye shal not serue the King of Babél.

10 For thei prophecie a lie vnto you to can-se you to go farre from your land, and that I shulde cast you out, and you shulde pe-

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babél, & ser-ue him, those wil I let remaine stil in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shal occupie it and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah King of Iudah according to all these wordes, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babél, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why wil ye dye, thou, & thy people by the sworde, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that wil not serue the King of Babél?

14 Therefore heare not the wordes of the Prophetes, that speake vnto you, saying, Ye shal not serue the King of Babél: for they prophecie a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not^a sent the, saith ^f Lord, yet thei prophecie a lie in my Name, that I might cast you out, and that ye might perish, [both] you, & the Prophetes that prophecie vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I speake to ^f Priestes, & to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Heare not the wordes of your Prophetes that prophecie vnto you, saying, Beholde, ^a the vessels of the House of the Lord shal now shortly be^b brought againe from Babél, for they prophecie a lie vnto you.

17 Heare them not, [but] serue the King of Babél, that ye may liue: wherefore shuld this citie be desolate?

18 But if thei be Prophetes, and if ^f worde of the Lord be with them, let them ^c in-treat the Lord of hostes, that the vessels, which are left in the House of the Lord, & in the house of the King of Iudáh, and at Ierusalém, go not to Babél.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, concerning the ^a pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this citie,

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzār King of Babél toke not, when he caryed^a away captiue Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudáh from Ierusalém to Babél, with all the nobles of Iudáh and Ierusalém.

21 For thus saith the Lord of hostes ^f God of Israël, concerning the vessels that re-maine in the House of the Lord, and in the house of the King of Iudáh, and at Ierusalém,

22 They shalbe brought to Babél, and there they shalbe vntil the day that I visite^b the, saith the Lord: then wil I bring them vp,
and restore them vnto this place.

11 And Hananiāh ſpake in the preſence of all the people, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, Euen ſo wil I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzār King of Babel, from the necke of all nations within the ſpace of two yeres: and the Prophet Ieremiāh went his way.

12 ¶ Then the worde of the Lord came vnto Ieremiāh the Prophet, (after that Hananiāh the Prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Ieremiāh) ſaying, 13 Go, and tel Hananiāh, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, Thou haſt broken the yokes of wood: but thou ſhalt make for the yokes of yron.

14 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, I haue put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all theſe nations, that they may ſerue Nebuchad-nezzār King of Babel: for they ſhal ſerue him, and I haue giuen him the beaſtes of the field alſo.

15 Then ſaid the Prophet Ieremiāh vnto the Prophet Hananiāh, Heare now Hananiāh, the Lord hath not ſent thee, but thou makeſt this people to truſt in a lye.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I wil caſt thee from of the earth: this yere thou ſhalt dye, becauſe thou haſt ſpoken rebellioſly againſt the Lord.

¶ CHAP. XXIX.

1 Ieremiāh writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon. 10 He prophecieth their returne after ſeuentie yeres. 16 He prophecieth the deſtruction of the King and of the people that remaine in Ieruſalem. 21 He threatneth the prophetes that ſeducethe people. 23 The death of Semeiah is prophecieth.

NOW theſe are the wordes of the booke that Ieremiāh the Prophet ſent from Ieruſalem vnto the reſidue of the Elders which were caryed away captiues, & to the Priests, and to the Prophetes, and to all the people whome Nebuchad-nezzār had caryed away captiue from Ieruſalem to Babel.

2 (After that Ieconiah the King, and the Queene, and the eunuches, the princes of Iudāh, and of Ieruſalem, & the workemen, and cunning men were departed from Ieruſalem)

3 By the hand of Elaſah the ſonne of Shaphan and Gemariāh the ſonne of Hilkiāh (whome Zedechiāh King of Iudāh ſent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzār King of Babel) ſaying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael ſpoken vnto all that are caryed away captiues, whome I haue cauſed to be caryed away captiues, from Ieruſalem vnto Babel,

5 Builde you houſes to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eat the frutes of them.

6 Take you wiues, and beget ſonnes, and daughters, and take wiues for your ſonnes, and giue your daughters to houſbands, that they may beare ſonnes and daughters, that ye may be increaſed there, & not diminished.

7 And ſeke the proſperitie of the citie, whether I haue cauſed you to be caryed away captiues, and pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof ſhal you haue peace.

8 ¶ For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, Let not your prophetes, & your ſothſayers that be among you, deceiue you, nether giue eare to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophecie you a lye in my Name: I haue not ſent them, ſaith the Lord.

10 But thus ſaith the Lord, That after ſeuentie yeres be accompliſhed at Babel, I wil viſit you, and perſorme my good promes toward you, and cauſe you to returne to this place.

11 For I knowe the thoughts, & I haue thought towardes you, ſaith the Lord, [euen] the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an end, and [your] hope.

12 Then ſhal you crye vnto me, & ye ſhal go and pray vnto me, & I wil heare you.

13 And ye ſhal ſeke me & finde me, becauſe ye ſhal ſeke me with all your heart.

14 And I wil be founde of you, ſaith the Lord, and I wil turne away your captiuitie, and I wil gather you from all the nations and from all the places, whether I haue caſt you, ſaith the Lord, and I wil bring you againe vnto the place, wher I cauſed you to be caryed away captiue.

this citie, your brethren that are not gone forthe with you into captiuitie:

17 [Euē] thus saith the Lord of hostes, Be-holde, I wil send vpon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, & wil make them like vile figges, that can not be eaten, they are so noghtie.

18 And I wil persecute the with the swor-de, with the famine, & with the pestilence:
and I wil make them a terror to all king-domes of the earth, [and] a curse, and a stonishment, and an hissing, & a reproche among all the nations whether I haue cast
them,

19 Because they haue not heard my wor-des, saith the Lord, which I set vnto them by my seruants the Prophetes, rising vp early, and sending [them,] but ye wolde not heare, saith the Lord,

20 ¶ Hear ye therefore the worde of the Lord all ye of the captiuitie, whome I haue sent from Ierusalem to Babel.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, of Ahab the sonne of Kolaiāh, & of Zedekiah the sonne of Maaseiah, which prophecie lies vnto you in my Name, Be-holde, I wil deliuer them into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzār King of Babel and he shal slaye them before your eyes.

22 And all they of the captiuitie of Iudāh, that are in Babel, shal take vp this curse against them, & say, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whome the King of Babel burnt in the fyre,

23 Because they haue committed a vilenie in Israel, and haue committed adulterie w their neighbours wiues, and haue spoken lying wordes in my Name, which I haue not commanded them, euen I knowe it, and testifie it, saith the Lord.

24 ¶ Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah
the Nehelamite, saying,

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast set letters in thy name vnto all the people, that are at Ierusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for Iehoiadā the Priest, that ye shulde be officers in the House of the Lord, for euerie man that raueth and maketh him self a Prophet, to put him in prison and in the stockes.

27 Now therefore why hast not repro-ued Ieremiah of Anathoth, which prophecieth vnto you?

28 For, for this cause he sent vnto vs in Babel, saying, This [captiuitie] is long: buyde houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eat the frutes of them:

29 And Zephaniah the Priest red this lettre in the eares of Ieremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto
Ieremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captiuitie, saying, Thus saith the Lord of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophecied vnto you, and I sent him not,
and he caused you to trust in a lye,

32 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil visite Shemaiah the Nehelamite, & his sede: he shal not haue a man to dwell among this people, nether shal he beholde the good, that I wil do for my people, saith the Lord, because he hath spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

¶ CHAP. XXX.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon. 16 He menaceth the enemies, 18 And comforteth the Church.

1 The worde, that came to Ieremiah fro
the Lord, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the wordes, that I haue spoken vnto thee in a booke.

3 For lo, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I wil bring againe the captiuitie of my people Israel and Iudāh, saith the Lord:
for I wil restore them vnto the land, that I gaue to their fathers, and they shal pos-seesse it.

4 Againe, these are the wordes of the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Iudāh.

5 For thus saith the Lord, We haue heard a terrible voyce, of feare and not of peace.

6 Demand now and beholde, if man trauail with childe: wherefore do I beholde euerie man with his hands on his loines as a woman in trauail, & all faces are turned into a palenes?

7 Alas, for this day is great: none [hathe bene] like it: it is euen the time of Iakobs trouble, yet shal he be deliuered from it.

8 For in that day, saith the Lord of hostes,
I wil breake his yoke from of thy necke, and breake thy bondes, and strangers shal
no more serue them selues of him.

9 But they shal serue the Lord their God, and Dauid their King, whome I wil raise vp vnto them.

10 Therefore feare not, o my seruāt Iakob, saith the Lord, nether be afraid o Israel, for lo, I wil deliuer thee from a farre [coun-trie,] and thy sede from the land of their captiuitie, and Iakob shal turne againe, & shalbe in rest and prosperitie, and none shal make him afraid.

I not utterly destroy thee, but I wil correct thee by iudgement, and not utterly cut thee off.

incurable, [and] thy wound is dolorous.
13 There is none to iudge thy cause, [or to lay] a plaster: there are no medecines, nor helpe for thee.
14 All thy louers haue forgotten thee:

of thine iniquities: [because] thy sinnes were increased, I haue done these things vnto thee.
16 Therefore all they that deuoure thee

12 Therefore they shall come, and reioyce in the light of Zion, and shall runne to the bountifullnes of the Lord, even for the wheat & for the wine, & for the oyle, & for the increase of shepe, and bullockes; & their soule shall be as a watered garden, & they shall haue no more sorrow.

13 Then shall the virgine reioyce in the dance, and the yong men, and the olde men together: for I wil turne their mourning into ioye, and wil comforte them, & glue them ioye for their sorowes.

14 And I wil replenish the soule of the Priests with faires, & my people shall be satisfied with my goodnes, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, A voice was heard on hie, a mourning [and] bitter weping, Rahel weping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Refraine thy voice from weping, and thine eyes from teares: for thy worke shall be rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shall come againe from the land of the enemye.

17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the Lord, that [thy] children shall come againe to their owne borders.

18 I haue heard Ephraim lamenting [thus,] Thou hast corrected me, and I was chastised as an vntamed calfe: & conuert thou me, and I shall be conuerted: for thou art the Lord my God.

19 Surely after that I conuerted, I repented, and after that I was instructed, I smote vpon [my] thigh: I was ashamed, yea, euen confounded, because I did beare the reproche of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim my dere sonne or pleasant childe? yet since I spake vnto him, I stil remembred him: therefore my bowelles are troubled for him: I wil surely haue compassion vpon him, saith the Lord.

21 Set thee vp signes, make thee heapes: set thine heart towards the path & waie, that thou hast walked, turne againe, o virgine of Israel, turne againe to these thy cities.

22 How long wilt thou go astray, o thou rebellious daughter, for the Lord hath created a newe thing in the earth: A WOMAN that compelle a man.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Yet shall they saie this thing in the land of Iudah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring againe the capti-tie, The Lord shall be the habitation of iustice, and holie mountaine.

24 And Iudah shall dwell in it, & all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen, and they that go forth with the flocke.

25 For I haue sariat the weary soule, and I haue replenished euery sorrowful soule.

26 Therefore I awaked and behelde, and my slepe was sweet vnto me.

27 Beholde, the dayes come saith the Lord, that I wil sowe the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah with the seede of man, & with the seede of beast.

28 And like as I haue watched vpon them, to plucke vp & to roote out, & to throwe downe, & to destroye, & to plague them, so wil I wathe over them, to buyde and to plant [them], saith the Lord.

29 In those dayes shall they say no more, The fathers haue eaten a sowre grape, & the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 But euery one shall dye for his owne iniquitie: euery man that eateth the sowre grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 Beholde, the daies come, saith the Lord, that I wil make a newe covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Iudah.

32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, wher I toke them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my covenant they brake, althogh I was an housband vnto them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shall be the covenant that I wil make with the house of Israel, After those daies, saith the Lord, I wil put my Law in their inward partes, and write it in their hearts, & wil be their God, & they shall be my people.

34 And they shall teache no more euery man his neighbour & euery man his brother, saying, Knowe the Lord: for they shall all knowe me from the least of them vnto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I wil forgive their iniquitie, and wil remember their sinnes no more.

35 Thus saith the Lord, which giueth the sunne for a light to the day, and the moon for the night, and the starrs for a light to the night, which breaketh the frost when the waies thereof freeze: thus saith the Lord of hostes.

36 If these ordinances departe out of my sight, saith the Lord, then shall my covenant be broken, & I wil cease to be a God vnto them, & they shall cease to be my people: for my covenant is with them, saith the Lord, & I will be a Father to the fatherles, & a Mercifull to them that are forsaken, & I will be a Father to the fatherles, & a Mercifull to them that are forsaken, & I will be a Father to the fatherles, & a Mercifull to them that are forsaken.

Having vnderstande this vision of the Messiah, which is to come in the house of Israel, & Iudah shall be reioyced, I wil multiplye, & encrease them w people and cattell. Though the covenant of redemption made to the fathers, and this which was giuen after some diuine, yet they are alone, & grounded on Iesus Christ, for as that this is called newe because of the manifestation of Christ, and the abundant graces of the holie Ghost giuen to his Church vnder the Gospell. And so were the occasion of their owne diuorcement through their iniquitie, the Lord made.

Or, made. I am the Lord, saith the Lord, I will be a Father to the fatherles, & a Mercifull to them that are forsaken, & I will be a Father to the fatherles, & a Mercifull to them that are forsaken, & I will be a Father to the fatherles, & a Mercifull to them that are forsaken.

CHAP. XXXII.

Jeremiah is cast into prison because he prophesied that the cite shulde be taken of the King of Babylon. 7 He shew- eth, that the people shulde come againe to their owne possession. 13 The people of God are his seruants, and he is their Lord.

1 The worde that came vnto Ieremiah from ¶ Lord, in the * tenth yere of Zedekiah King of Iudah, which was the eighteenth yere of Nebuchad- nezzar.

2 For then the King of Babels hoste besie- ged Ierusalem: and Ieremiah the Prophet was shut vp in the court of the prison, & was in the King of Iudahs house.

3 For Zedekiah King of Iudah had shut him vp, saying, Wherefore doest thou prophe- cie, & say, Thus saith the Lord, * Beholde, I wil giue this cite into the hands of the King of Babel, and he shal take it.

4 And Zedekiah the King of Iudah shal not escape out of the hand off Caldeans, but shal surely be deliuered into the hands of the King of Babel, and shal speake with him mouthe to mouthe, and his eyes shal beholde his face.

5 And he shal lead Zedekiah to Babel, and there shal he be, vntill I visite him, saith the Lord: though he fight with the Calde- ans, yet shal not prosper.

¶ And Ieremiah said, The worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

7 Beholde, Hanameel the sonne of Shal- lum thine vncle, shal come vnto thee and saie, ¶ Bye vnto thee my field, that is in An- athoth: for the t ride by knred caper- teineth) vnto thee: to bye it.

8 So Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, came to me in the court of the prison, accordig to the worde of the Lord, and said vnto me, Bye my * field, I prae thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Ben- iamin: for the right of the possession [is] thine, and the purchase [belongeth] vnto thee: bye it for thee. Then I knewe that this was the worde of the Lord.

9 And I boght the field of Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, that was in Anathoth, & weighed him the siluer, [euery] seuen she- kels, and ten [pieces] of siluer.

10 And I writ it in the boke and signed it, & toke witnesses, and weighed him the siluer in the balances.

11 So I toke the boke of the possession, being sealed ¶ [according] to the Law, & custome, with the boke that was open,

12 And I gaue the boke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, ¶ sonne of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine vncles [sonne], and in the presence of the witnesses, written in the boke of the possession, before all the lewes that sate in the court of the prison.

13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

14 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Take the writings, [euery] this bo- ke of the possession, bothe that is sealed, & this boke ¶ is open, & put them in an ear- then vessel, that they maie continue a long time.

15 For the Lord of hostes, ¶ God of Israel, saith thus, Houses & fields, & vineyardes shalbe possessed againe in this land.

16 ¶ Now when I had deliuered ¶ boke of the possession vnto Baruch, the sonne of Neriah, I prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

17 Ah Lord God, beholde, thou hast ma- de the heauen and the earth by thy great power, and by thy stretched out arme, and there is nothing t hard vnto thee.

18 * Thou shewest mercie vnto thousands, and recompencest the iniquitie of the fa- thers into the bosome of their * children after them: O God the great and mightie, whose Name [is] the Lord of hostes,

19 Great in counsel, and mightie in worke, (for thine eyes are open vpon all the waies of the sonnes of men, to giue to euery one according to his waies, and according to the frute of his workes)

20 Which hast seuen signes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this * day, & in Is- rael, and among all men, and hast made thee a Name, as it appeareth this day,

21 And hast brought thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt w signs, & with won- ders, and with a strong hand, with a stretch- ed out arme, & with great terror,

22 And hast giuen them this land, which thou didest I weare to their fathers to giue them, [euē] a land, that floweth wth milke and honie.

23 And they came in, and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voyce, nether walked in thy Law: all that thou commandedst them to do, they haue not done: therefore thou hast caused this whole plague to come vpon them.

24 Beholde, the¹ mounts, they are come into the citie to take it, and the citie is giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, that fight against it, by meanes of the sworde, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to passe, and beholde, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said vnto me, O Lord God, Bye vnto thee the field for siluer, & take witness: for the citie shalbe giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 ¶ Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

27 Beholde, I am the Lord God of all flesh: is there anie thing to hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil giue this citie into the had of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzâr, King of Babel, and he shal take it.

29 And the Caldeans shal come and fight against this citie, and set fyre on this citie, and burne it with the houses, vpon whose roofes they haue offred incense vnto Bâal, and powred drinke offrings vnto other gods, to prouoke me vnto angre.

30 For the children of Israël, and the children of Iudâh haue surely done euil before me from their^a youth: for the children of Israël haue surely prouoked me to angre with the workes of their hands, saith the Lord.

31 Therefore this citie hath bene vnto me [as a prouocation] of mine angre, and of my wrath, from^b the daye that they buylt it, euē vnto this daye, that I shulde remoue it out of my sight.

32 Because of all the euil of the children of Israël, and of the children of Iudâh, which they haue done to prouoke me to angre, [euē] they, their Kings, their princes, their Priests, and their Prophetes, & the men of Iudâh, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

33 And they haue turned vnto me^c & backe & not the face: thogh I taught them, & rising vp easly, & instructing them, yet they were not obedient to receiue doctrine.

34 But they set their abominations in the house [whercupon my Name was called] to defile it.

35 And they buylt the hye places of Bâal, which are in the valley of^d Ben-hinnôm, to cause their sonnes, and their daughters to^e passe through [the fyre] vnto Moléché, w^{ch} I commanded them not, nether came it into my minde, & they shulde do suche abomination, to cause Iudâh to sinne.

36 And now^f therefore, thus hathe^g the Lord God of Israël spoken, concerning this citie, whereof ye say, It shalbe deliuered into the hand of the King of Babel by the sworde, and by the famine, and by the pestilence;

37 * Beholde, I wil gather them out of all countreis, wherein I haue scatred them in mine angre, & in my wrath, and in great indignation, and I wil bring them againe vnto this place, and I wil cause them to dwel safely.

38 And they shal be^h my people, and I wil be their God.

39 And I wil giue theⁱ one heart & one way, & they may feare me for euer for^j the welth of them, & of their children after them.

40 And I wil make an^k euerlasting covenant with them, that I wil neuer turne away from them to do them good, but I wil put my feare in their hearts, that they shal not departe from me.

41 Yea, I wil delite in them to do the^l good, and I wil plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart, and with all my soule.

42 For thus saith the Lord, Like as I haue brought all this great plague vpon this people, so wil I bring vpon them all the good that I haue promised them.

43 And the fields shal be possessed in this lād, whereof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast, & shalbe giuen into^m the hand of the Caldeans.

44 Men shal byeⁿ fields for siluer, & make writings, and seale them, & take witnesses in the land of Beniamin, and round about Ierusalem; and in the cities of Iudâh, and in the cities of the mountaines, and in the cities of the plaine, and in the cities of the South: for I wil cause their captiuitie to returne, saith the Lord.

16 In those dayes shal Iudah be saued, and Ierusalem shal dwell safely, & he that shal call her, is the Lord our righteousness.

17 For thus saith the Lord, Dauid shal neuer want a man to sit vpon the throne of the House of Israel.

18 Nether shal the Priests & Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to offer meat offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

19 And the worde of the Lord came vnto Ieremiāh, saying,

21 Then may my couenant be broken with Dauid my seruāt, that he shulde not haue a sonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Levites, [and] Priests my ministers.

nezzār King of Babel, and all his hoste, & all the kingdomes of ^{the} earth, [that were] vnder the power of his hand, and all people fought against Ierusalēm, & against all the cities thereof) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Go, and speake to Zedekiah King of Iudāh, & tel him, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, * I wil giue this citie into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shal burne it with fyre,

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hād, but shalt surely be taken, and deliuered into his hand, and thine eies shal beholde the face of the King of Babel, and he shal speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babel.

4 Yet heare the worde of ^{the} Lord, o Zedekiah, King of Iudāh: thus saith the Lord of thee, Thou shalt not dye by the sworde,

5 [But] thou shalt dye in ^{the} peace: and according to the burning for thy fathers ^{the} former Kings which were before thee, so shal they burne [odours] for thee, & they shal lamēt thee, [saying,] Oh ^{the} Lord: for I haue pronounced the worde, saith the Lord.

6 Then Ieremiāh the Prophet spake all these wordes vnto Zedekiah King of Iudāh in Ierusalēm,

7 When the King of Babels hoste fought against Ierusalēm, and against all the cities of Iudāh, that were left, [euen] against Lachish, & against Azekāh: for these strong cities remained of the cities of Iudāh)

8 This is the worde that came vnto Ieremiāh from the Lord, after that the King Zedekiah had made a couenāt with all the people, which were at Ierusalēm, ^{to} to proclaime libertie vnto them.

9 That euerie man shulde let his ^{owne} seruante go fre, & euerie man his hādmaide, which was an Ebrue or an Ebrueffe, & that none shulde serue him selue of them, [to wit,] of a Iewe his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, & all ^{the} people ^{which} had agreed to the couenant, heard ^{that} euerie one shulde let his seruante go fre, and euerie one his handmaide, & that none shulde serue them selues of them any more, they obeyed and let them go.

11 But afterwarde they ^{did} repented and caused the seruants and the handmaides, whome they had let go fre to returne, & helde them in subiection as seruants and handmaides.

12 Therefore the worde of the Lord came vnto Ieremiāh from the Lord, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I made a couenant with your fathers, when I broght them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of ^{the} seruants, saying,

14 * At the terme of seven yerres let ye giue euerie man his brother an Ebrewe which hath bene sold vnto thee: and when he hath serued thee six yerres, thou shalt let him go fre from thee: but your fathers obeyed me not, nether inclined their eares.

15 And ye were now turned, & had done right in my sight in proclaiming libertie, euerie man to his neighbour, and ye had made a couenāt before me in ^{the} house, whereupon my Name is called.

16 But ye repented, & polluted my Name: for ye haue caused euerie man his seruante, & euerie man his handmaide, whome ye had set at libertie at their pleasure, to returne, & holde them in subiection to be vnto you as seruants & as handmaides.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Ye haue not obeyed me, in proclaiming fredome euerie man to his brother, & euerie man to his neighbour: beholde, I proclaime a libertie for you, saith ^{the} Lord, to ^{the} the sworde, to the pestilence, and to the famine, & I wil make you a terroure to all the kingdomes of the earth.

18 And I wil giue those men that haue broken my couenant, and haue not kept the wordes of the couenant, which they had made before me, when they ^{did} cut the calfe in twaine, and passed betwene the partes thereof,

19 The princes of Iudāh, & the princes of Ierusalēm, the Eunuches, & the Priests, & all the people of the land, which passed betwene the partes of the calfe,

20 I wil euen giue them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hands of them that seke their life: and their dead bodies shal be for meat vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beastes of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah King of Iudāh, and his princes wil I giue into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seke their life, and into the hand of the King of Babels hoste, which ^{are} are gone vp from you.

22 Beholde, I wil commande, saith ^{the} Lord, and cause them to returne to this citie, & they shal fight against it, and take it, and burne it with fyre: and I wil make ^{the} cities of Iudāh desolate without an inhabitant.

ke no wine, nether you nor your sonnes
for euer.

7 Nether shal ye buylde house, nor sowe seede, nor plant vineyarde, nor haue any, but all your daies ye shal dwell in tentes, that ye may liue a long time in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus haue we obeyed the voice of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs, & we drinke no wine all our daies, nether we, our wiues, our sonnes, nor our daughters,

9 Nether buylde we houses for vs to dwell in, nether haue we vineyarde, nor field, nor seede.

10 But we haue remained in tentes, and haue obeyed, & done accordig to all that Ionadab our father commanded vs.

11 But when Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel came vp into the land, we said, Come, and let vs go to Ierusalem, from the hoste of the Caldeans, & from the hoste of Aram: so we dwell at Ierusalem.

12 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto
Jeremiah saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Go, and tel the men of Iudáh, & the inhabitants of Ierusalem, Wil ye not receiue doctrine to obey my wordes, saith
the Lord?

14 The commandement of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab that he commanded his sonnes, that they shulde drinke no wine, is surely kept: for vnto this day they drinke none, but obey their fathers commandement: notwithstanding I haue spoken vnto you, rising early, and speaking, but ye wolde not obcie me.

15 I haue sent also vnto you all my seruāres the Prophetes, rising vp early, and sending them, saying, Returne now euerie man from his euil waie, and amende your workes, and go not after other gods to ser-ue them, and ye shal dwell in the land w^{ch} I haue giuen vnto you, and to your fathers, but ye wolde not incline your eare, nor obcie me.

16 Surely the sonnes of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab, haue kept the commandemēt of their father, which he gaue them, but this people hath not obcieed me.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I wil bring vp-on Iudáh, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, all the euil that I haue pronounced against them: because I haue spoken vnto them, but they wolde not heare, and I haue called vnto them, but they wolde not answer.

18 And Ieremiah said to the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Because ye haue obcieed the commandement of Ionadab your father, and kept all his precepts, & done according vnto all that he hath commanded
you,

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Ionadab the sonne of Rechab shal not want a man, to stand before me for euer.

CHAP. XXXVI.

Baruch writeth, as Ieremiah enditeth, the boke of the curses against Iudáh and Israel. 9 He is sent with the boke vnto the people, and readeth it before them all. 14 He is called before the rulers and readeth it before them also.
15 The King causeth it to be burnt. 18 There is another written at the commandement of the Lord.

1 And in the fourth yere of Iehoiākim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, came this worde vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roole [or] boke, and write therein all the wordes that I haue spoken to thee against Israel, and against Iudáh, & against all the nations, from the daie that I spake vnto thee, [euen] from the daies of Iosiah vnto this daie.

3 It maie be that the house of Iudáh wil heare of all the euil, which I determined to do vnto them, that they may returne eue-rie man from his euil waie, that I maie forgiue their iniquitie and their finnes.

4 Then Ieremiah called Baruch the sonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the Lord, which he had spokē vnto him, vpon a roole [or] boke.

5 And Ieremiah commanded Baruch, sayig,

I am shut up, and I can not go into the House of the Lord.

Therefore go thou, and read the roole wherein thou hast written at my mouth the wordes of the Lord in the audience of the people in the Lords House upon the fasting day: also thou shalt read them in the hearing of all Iudah, that come out of their cities.

It may be that they will pray before the Lord, and euerie one returne from his eu-il way, for the angre and the wrath, that the Lord hath declared against this people.

So Baruch the sonne of Neriāh did according vnto all that Ieremiāh the Prophet commanded him, reading in the boke the wordes of the Lord in the Lords House.

And in the fift yere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Josiah King of Iudah, in ninth moneth, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Ierusalem, & to all the people that came from the cities of Iudah vnto Ierusalem.

Then read Baruch in the boke the wor-des of Ieremiāh in the House of the Lord, in the chambre of Gemariāh the sonne of Shaphān the Secretarie, in the hier court at the entrie of the newe gate of the Lords House, in the hearing of all the people.

When Michaiāh the sonne of Gema-riāh, the sonne of Shaphān had heard out of the boke all the wordes of the Lord,

Then he went downe to the Kings house into the Chancellours chamber, & to all the princes sate there, (euen) Elishamā the Chancellour, and Delaiāh the sonne of Shemaiāh, and Elnathān the sonne of Achbōr, and Gemariāh the sonne of Shaphān, and Zedekiāh the sonne of Hananiāh, and all the princes.

Then Michaiāh declared vnto them all the wordes that he had heard when Baruch read in the boke in the audience of the people.

Therefore all the princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Nethaniāh, the sonne of Shelemiāh, & sonne of Chushi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roole, wherein thou hast read in the audience of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriāh rose the roole in his hand, and came vnto them.

And they said vnto him; Sit downe now, and read in that we may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience.

Now when they had heard all the wor-des, they were affraid bothe one and other, and said vnto Baruch; We wil certi-fie the King of all these wordes.

And they examined Baruch, saying, Tel vs now; how didst thou write all these wordes at his mouth?

Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these wordes vnto me (with his mouth, and I wrote (them) with yale in the boke.

Then said the princes vnto Baruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Ieremiāh, and let no man knowe where ye be.

And they went in to the King in the court, but they laied vnto the roole in the chambre of Elishamā the Chancellour, & tolde the King all the wordes, that he might heare.

So the King sent Iehudi to fet the roole,
& he toke it out of Elishamā the Chancellours chambre, & Iehudi red it in the audience of the King, & in the audience of all the princes, which stode beside the King.

Now the King sate in winter house, in the ninth moneth, & there was a fyre burning before him.

And whē Iehudi had red thre, or foure sides, he cut it with the penknife and cast it into the fyre, that was on the herth, until all the roole was consumed in the fyre, that was on the herth.

Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garmēts, (neither) the King, nor any of his seruants, that heard all these wordes.

Neuertheles, Elnathān, & Delaiāh, and Gemariāh had besoght the King, that he wolde not burne the roole: but he wolde not heare them.

But the King commanded Ierahmeel the sonne of Hammelēch, and Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiāh the sonne of Abdiel, to take Baruch the scribe, & Je-reemiāh the Prophet, but the Lord hid them.

Then the worde of the Lord came to Jeremiāh (after that the King had burnt the roole and the wordes which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiāh) saying,

Take thee againe: another roole, and write in it all the former wordes, which were in the first booke, which Iehoiakim King of Iudah hath burnt.

And thou shalt say to Iehoiakim King of Iudah; Thus saith the Lord; Thou hast burnt this roole, saying; Why hast thou written therein, saying; That the King of Babel shall certainly come and destroye this land, & shall take thence (the) man and beast.

Therefore thus saith the Lord of Ieho-iakim King of Iudah; He shall haue none to sit vpon the throne of Iudah, and his dead bodie shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.

They were godlie among the princes, gave this counsell, by whose meanes
it is like that Je-reemiāh was de-liuered: for they knowe the rage
of the King &
of the wicked
to be such that they coulde not escape without danger of their liues.

Which contained parte of Nouember and part of December.

Shewing, that the wicked in stead of repenting, when they heare Gods iudgements, grow more further against him
& his worde.

Thus we see continual care, that God hath euer over his people, to preferue them from the rage
of the wicked.

Though the wicked thinke to haue abolished the worde of God,
when they haue
burnt the booke thereof; yet this declareth that God wil not only raise it vp again, but also increase it in greater abundance in their conscience.

These are Jehoiakims wor-des.

Though Jehoiakim his sonne succeeded him, yet because he reigned but three moneths,
it was esteemed as no reigne.

33, 39.

31 And I will visit him and his house, & his servants for their iniquities: & I will bring upon them, & upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, & upon the men of Judah all the evil that I have pronounced against them: but they wolde not heare.
32 Then toke Ieremiah another roole, & gave it Baruch the scribe the sonne of Nechemiah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the booke which Iehoiakim King of Iudah had burnt in the fyre, and there were added besides them many like wordes.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Zedekiah succeeded Ieremiah. 3 He sendeth vnto Ieremiah to praye for him. 12 Ieremiah going into the land of Beniamin, is taken. 15 He is beaten and put in prison.

1 And King Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiah reigned for 21 Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim, whome Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel made King in the land of Iudah.

2 But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land wolde obey the wordes of the Lord, which he spake by the ministerie of the Prophet Ieremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the King sent Iehucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest to the Prophet Ieremiah, saying, Pray now vnto the Lord our God for vs.

4 (Now Ieremiah went in & out among the people: for they had not put him into the prison.)

5 Then Pharaohs hoste came out of Egypt: & when the Caldeans that besieged Jerusalem heard tidings of them, they departed from Jerusalem.

6 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Thus shalt thou say to the King of Iudah, that I sent thee vnto me to inquire of me, Beholde, Pharaohs hoste, which is come forth to helpe you, shall returne to Egypt into their owne land.

8 And the Caldeans shall come againe & fight against this cite, and take it & burne it with fyre.

9 Thus saith the Lord, Deceiue not your selves, saying, The Caldeans shall surely departe from vs: for they shall not departe.

10 For though ye had smitten the whole hoste of the Caldeans that fight against you, & there remained but wounded men among them, yet shulde every man rise vp in his arme, and burne this cite with fyre.

11 When the hoste of the Caldeans was broken vp from Jerusalem, because of Pharaohs armie,

12 Then Ieremiah went out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Beniamin, separating him self thence from among the people.

13 And when he was in the gate of Beniamin, there was a chief officer, whose name was Iriah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and he toke Ieremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou fliest to the Caldeans.

14 Then said Ieremiah, That is false, I flee not to the Caldeans: but he wolde not heare him: so Iriah toke Ieremiah, and broght him to the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angrie with Ieremiah, and smote him, and laid him in prison in the house of Iehonathan the scribe: for they had made that the prison.

16 When Ieremiah was entred into the dongeon, and into the prisons, & had remained there a long time,

17 Then Zedekiah the King sent, and toke him out, and the King asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any worde from the Lord? And Ieremiah said, Yea: for, said he, thou shalt be deliuered into the hand of the King of Babel.

18 Moreover, Ieremiah said vnto King Zedekiah, What haue I offended against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison?

19 Where are now your Prophetes, which prophesied vnto you, saying, The King of Babel shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore heare now, I pray thee, O my lord the King: let my prayer be accepted before thee, that thou cause me not to returne to the house of Iehonathan the scribe: lest I dye there.

21 Then Zedekiah the King commanded, that they shulde put Ieremiah in the court of the prison, & that they shulde giue him daily a piece of bread out of the bakers store: vntill all the bread in the cite were eaten vp. Thus Ieremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 By the motion of the officers Ieremiah is put in a dongeon. 7 At the request of Ieremiah the King commandeth Ieremiah to be broght forth of the dongeon. 17 Ieremiah sheweth the King how he might escape death.

1 Then Shephatiah the sonne of Matthan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Pashur, and Iucal the sonne of Shelemiah, & Pashur the sonne of Malchiah, heard the wordes that Ieremiah had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Nebuchad-nezzar besiegeth Ierusalem, 4 Zedekiah fleeing to the Caldeans, 6 His sonnes are slaine, 7 His eyes are put out, 11 Ieremiah is provided for, 15 Ebed-melech is deliuered from captiuitie.

1 IN the ninth yere of Zedekiah King of Iudah in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel and all his hoste against Ierusalem, and they besieged it.

2 [And] in the eleuenth yere of Zedekiah in the fourth moneth, the ninth [day] of the moneth, the citie was broken a vp.

3 And all the princes of the King of Babel came in, and sate in the middle gate, [euē] Neregal, Sharézer, Samgar-nebo, Sarlechim, Rab-saris, Neregal, Sharézer, Rabmag with all the residue of the princes of the King of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the King of Iudah sawe them, and all the men of warre, then they fled, & went out of the citie by night, through the Kings garden, [and] by the gate betwene the two walles, and he went toward the wildernes.

5 But the Caldeans hoste pursued after them, and ouertoke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel vnto Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgemēt vpon him.

6 Then the King of Babel slewe the sonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the King of Babel slewe all the nobles of Iudah.

7 Moreover he put out Zedekiahs eyes, & bounde him in chaines, to carye him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeas burnt the Kings house, and the houses of the people with fyre, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the chief stewarde caryed away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people, that remained in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen vnto him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan the chief steward left the poore that had nothing in the land of Iudah, and gaue them vineyardes and fields at the same time.

11 Now Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel gaue charge concerning Ieremiah vnto Nebuzar-adan the chief steward, saying,

12 Take him, and f loke wel to him, & do him no harme, but do vnto him as he shal say vnto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the chief steward set and Nebushazban, Rab-saris, & Neregal, Sharézer, Rab-mag, and all the King of Babels princes:

14 Euen they sent, and toke Ieremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, & he shulde carye him home: so he dwelt among the people.

15 Now the worde of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah, while he was shute vp in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Go and speake to Ebed-melech the blacke More, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring my wordes vpon this citie for euil, and not for good, and they shal be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I wil deliuer thee in that day, saith the Lord, and thou shalt not be giuen into the hand of the men whome thou fearest.

18 For I wil surely delyuer thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sworde, but thy life shal be for a pray vnto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

1 Ieremiah hath licence to go whether he wil. 6 He dwelt with the people that remaine with Gedaliah.

1 THE worde which came to Ieremiah from the Lord after Nebuzar-adan the chief steward had let him go from Ramath, when he had taken him being bounde in chaines among all that were caryed away captiue of Ierusalem and Iudah, & were caryed away captiue vnto Babel.

2 And the chief steward toke Ieremiah and said vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath brought it, & done according as he hath said: because ye haue

g Thus God recompensed his zeale and fauour, which he shewed to his Prophet in his troubles.

4 And now beholde, I lose thee this daie from the chaines which were on thine handes, if it please thee to come with me into Babel, come, and I will looke wel vnto thee: but if it please thee not to come with me into Babel, I say still: beholde, all the land [is] before thee: whether it seemeth good, and conuenient for thee to go, thether go.

5 For yet he was not returned: therefore the Lord said: Returne to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, sonne of Shaphan, whome the King of Babel hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudah, & dwell with him among the people, or go where thou wilt: I will be with thee, & I will be a father vnto thee. So the chief steward gaue him vitayles and a rewarde, and let him go.

6 Then went Jeremiah vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, to Mizpah, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the captaynes of the hoste, which were in the fields, [even] they & their men, heard, that the King of Babel had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam gouernour in the land, and that he had committed vnto him, men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the land, that were not carryed away captiue to Babel.

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, [even] Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanan, and Ionathan sonne of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth, and the sonnes of Ephai, the Netophathite, and Iezaniah the sonne of Maachathi, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, sware vnto them, and to their men, saying, Feare not to serue the Caldeans, dwell in the land, and serue the King of Babel, & it shall be wel with you.

10 As for me, beholde, I wil dwell at Mizpah to serue the Caldeans, which wil come vnto vs: but you, gather you wine, & sommer frutes, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities, that ye haue taken.

11 Likewise when all the Iewes that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, & in Edom, & that were in all the countreis, heard that the King of Babel had left a remnant of Iudah, & that he had set ouer them Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, 12 Even all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were dispersed, and came to the land of Iudah to Gedaliah vnto Mizpah, and gathered wine and sommer frutes, very muche.

13 Moreover Iohanan sonne of Kareah, and all the captaynes of the hoste, that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah.

14 And he said vnto him, Knowest thou not that Baalis the King of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael sonne of Nethaniah to slay thee? but Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam beleued them not.

15 Then Iohanan the sonne of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I wil slay Ishmael, the sonne of Nethaniah, & no man shall knowe it. Wherefore shulde he kyl thee, that all the Iewes, which are gathered vnto thee, shulde be scattered, and the remnant in Iudah perish?

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam said vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

CHAP. XLI.

1 Ishmael killeth Gedaliah guilefully, and many other with him. 2 Iohanan followeth after Ishmael.

1 BVt in the seventh month came Ishmael sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Elishama of the sede royal, and the princes of the King, and ten men with him, vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, and there they did eate bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then arose Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah with these ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan with the sworde, and slewe him, whome the King of Babel had made gouernour ouer the land.

3 Ishmael also slewe all the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, & all the Caldeans that were founde there, [and] the men of warre.

4 Now the seconde daie that he had slaine Gedaliah, and no man knewe it,

5 There came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, [even] foure score men, hauing their beardes shauen, & their clothes rent and cut, with offerings and incense in their hands to offer in the House of the Lord.

6 And Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping as he went: & when he met them, the burning thereof in the pye, they shewed their signes of mourning.

g For vnder the colour of intertaining of Ishmael he sought only to make them to destroy one another.

h Thus godlie, which thike no harme to others, are soonest deceived & neuer lacke such as conspire their destruction.

a The cite was destroyed in the fourth month, and in the seventh month, which contained part of September, & part of October, was the gouernour Gedaliah slaine.

b Meaning, Zedekiah.

c They did eat together as familiar friends.

d For they thought that the Temple had not bene destroyed, and therefore came vp to the house of Tabernacle, yet bearing of sorrow.

For his death was kept secret, & he feined that he lamented for the destruction of Ierusalem & the Temple: but after he was slain when they came to mourn Gedaliah.

Asa fortified Mizpah for feare of the enemies, and cast ditches & trenches. 1. King. 13. 25.

Which had bene captained vnder Zedekiah.

For Baalis King of Ammonites was the cause of this murder.

he said vnto them, Come to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the middes of the citie, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah slewe them, [and cast them] into the middes of the pit: he and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were founde among them, that said vnto Ishmael, Slay vs not: for we haue treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oyle, and of honie: so he staied, and slewe them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ishmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whome he had slaine because of Gedaliah) is it, & Asa the King had made because of Basah King of Israel, [and] Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slaine.

10 Then Ishmael caryed away captiue all the residue of people that were in Mizpah, [euen] the Kings daughters, & all the people that remained in Mizpah, whome Nebuzar-adan the chief steward had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah caryed them away captiue, and departed to go ouer to the Ammonites.

11 But when Iohanán the sonne of Kareah, & all the captaines of the hoste that were with him, heard of all the euil that Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had done,

12 Then they toke all [their] men, & went to fight with Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and founde him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people whome Ishmael caryed away captiue, sawe Iohanán the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste, that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people, that Ishmael had caryed away captiue from Mizpah, returned and came againe, and went vnto Iohanán the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, escaped from Iohanán with eight men, & went to the Ammonites.

16 Then toke Iohanán the sonne of Kareah, & all the captaines of the hoste that were with him all the remnant of the people, whome Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had caryed away captiue from Mizpah after that he had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam [euen] the strong men of warre, and the women, and the children, and the eunuches, whome he had brought againe from Gibeon:

17 And they departed & dwelt in Geruth

Chinham, which is by Beth-lehem, to go [and] to entre into Egypt.

18 Because of the Caldeans: for they feared them, because Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, whome the King of Babel made gouernour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The captaines aske counsell of Jeremiah what they ought to do. 7 He admonisheth the remnant of the people to go into Egypt.

1 Then all the captaines of the hoste, and Iohanán the sonne of Kareah, & Iezaniah the sonne of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least vnto the moste came,

2 And said vnto Jeremiah the Prophet, Heare our prayer, we beseeche thee, & pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, euē for all this remnant (for we are left, [but] a fewe of manie, as thine eyes do beholde)

3 That the Lord thy God may shewe vs the way wherein we may walke, & the thing that we may do.

4 Then Jeremiah the Prophet said vnto them, I haue heard [you], beholde, I will pray vnto the Lord your God according to your wordes, & whatsoever thing the Lord shal answer you, I will declare it vnto you: I will kepe nothing backe from you.

5 Then they said to Jeremiah, The Lord be a witnes of truth, & faith betwene vs, if we do not, euē according to all things for the which the Lord thy God shal send thee to vs.

6 Whether it be good or euil, we wil obey the voyce of the Lord God, to whome we send thee, that it may be wel with vs, when we obey the voyce of the Lord our God.

7 And so after ten dayes came the worde of the Lord vnto Jeremiah.

8 Then called he Iohanán the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste, which were with him, and all the people from the least to the moste,

9 And said vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, vnto whome ye sent me to present your prayers before him,

10 If ye wil dwell in this land, then I will buyl you, and not destroye [you], & I will plant you, and not roote [you] out: for I repent me of the euil that I haue done vnto you.

11 Feare not for the King of Babel, of whome ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, saith the Lord: for I am with you, to saue you, and to deliuer you from his hand.

CHAP. XLIIII.

He reproveth the people for their idolatrie. 15 They that see light by the threatening of the Lord are chastened. 26 The destruction of Egypt and of the Iewes thence, is prophesied.

THe worde that came to Jeremiāh concerning all the Iewes, which dwell in the land of Egypt, and remained at Migdōl and at Tahpanhes, & at Nōph, and in the countrey of Pathrōs, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israël, Ye haue sene all the euil that I haue brought vpon Ierusalēm, & vpon all the cities of Iudah: and beholde, this day they are desolate, & no man dwelleth therein,

3 Because of their wickednes which they haue committed, to prouoke me to angre in that they went to burne incense, [and] to serue other gods, whome they knewe not, [neither] they [nor] you nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophetes rising early, and sending [them,] saying, Oh, do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they wolde not heare nor incline their eare to turne from their wickednes, & to burne no more incense vnto other gods.

6 Wherefore my wrath, and mine angre was powred forthe & was kindled in the cities of Iudah, and in the stretes of Ierusalēm, and they are desolate, [and] wasted, as appeareth this daye.

7 Therefore now thus saith the Lord of hostes God of Israël, Wherefore commit ye [this] great euil against your soules, to cut of from you man and woman, childe and suckeling out of Iudah, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that ye prouoke me vnto wrath with the workes of your hands, burning incense vnto other gods in the land of Egypt whether ye be gone to dwell, that ye might bring destruction vnto your selues, and that ye might be a curse and a reproche among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue ye forgotten your wickednes of your fathers, and the wickednes of the Kings of Iudah & the wickednes of their wiues and your owne wickednes & the wickednes of your wiues, which they haue committed in the land of Iudah & in the stretes of Ierusalēm?

10 They are not humbled vnto this daye, neither haue they feared nor walked in my Lawe nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israël, Beholde, I will set my face against you* to euil and to destroy all Iudah,

12 And I will take the remnant of Iudah, that haue set their faces to go into the land of Egypt there to dwell, & they shal be consumed [and] fall in the land of Egypt: they shal [euen] be consumed by the sworde [and] by the famine: they shal dye from the least vnto the moste, by the sworde, and by the famine, & they shal be a detestation and an astonishment and a curse and a reproche.

13 For I wil visit them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I haue visited Ierusalēm, by the sworde, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

14 So that none of the remnant of Iudah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shal escape or remaine, that they shuld returne into the land of Iudah to the which they haue a desire to returne to dwell there: for none shal returne, but such as shal escape.

15 Then all the men which knewe their wiues had burnt incense vnto other gods and all the women that stode by, a great multitude, euen all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt in Pathros, answered Jeremiāh, saying,

16 The worde that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord, we wil not heare it of thee,

17 But we wil do whatsoeuer thing goeth out of our owne mouth, [as] to burne incense vnto the Quene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offrings vnto her, as we haue done, [bothe] we & our fathers, our Kings & our princes in the citie of Iudah, and in the stretes of Ierusalēm: for [then] had we plentie of vitailles, & were wel, and felt none euil.

18 But since we left of to burne incense to the Quene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offrings vnto her, we haue had scarcenes of all things, and haue bene consumed by the sworde and by the famine.

19 And when we burnt incense to your Quene of heauen & powred out drinke offrings vnto her, did we make her cakes to make her glad, and powre out drinke offrings vnto her without our housbandes?

20 Then said Jeremiāh vnto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had giuen him that answer, saying,

21 Did not the Lord remember the incense, that ye burnt in the cities of Iudah, & in the stretes of Ierusalēm, [bothe] you, and

h This declarereth how dangerous a thing it is to decline once from God, and to followe our owne fantasies: for Saran euer soliciteth such & doeth not leaue them till he haue brought them to extreme impudencie & madness, euen to iustifie their wickednes against God, & his prophetes.

† Or, sawe. † Or, want. † Or, to appease her. I This teacheth vs how great danger it is for the housbandes to permit their wiues anything whereof they be not assured by Gods worde: for thereby they take an occasion to iustifie their doings, and their housbandes shal giue an account thereof before God, read Isa. 3, 25.

23 Because ye haue burnt incense & because ye haue sinned against ^{the} Lord, and haue not obeyed ^{his} voice of the Lord, nor walked in his Law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come vpon you, as [appeareth] this day.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil ^{send} giue Pharaoh Hophra King of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seke his life: as I gaue Zedekiah King of Iudah into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel his enemy, who also fought his life.

The worde of the Lord against the Philistims.

1 T He wordes of the Lord that came to Ieremiah the Prophet, against the Philistims, before that Pharaoh smote a Azazah.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, waters rise vp out of the b North, & shalbe as a swelling flood, and shal overflowe the land, & all that is therein, & the cities with them that dwell therein: then the men shal crye and all the inhabitants of the land shal howle,

3 At the noyce [and] stamping of the hoo-fes of his strong [horses,] at the noyce of his charets, and at the rumbling of his wheles: the fathers shal not c loke backe to [their] children, for feblenes of d hands,

4 Because of the daye that cometh to destroye all the Philistims, and to destroye Tyrus, and Zidon, [and] all the rest, that take their parte: for the Lord wil destroye the Philistims, the remnant of the yle of e Caphtór.

¶ CHAP. XLVIII.

The worde of the Lord against the Moabites, 26 Because of their pride and crueltie.

1 Concerning Moab, thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Wo vnto Nebó: for it is wasted: Kiriathaim is confounded [and] taken: Misgab is confounded and afraied.

2 Moab shal boast no more of Heshbón:
[for] they haue deuised euil against it. Come,
& let vs destroye it, that it be no more a nation: also thou shalt be destroyed, O Madmén, [and] the sworde shal pursue thee.

3 A voice of crying [shalbe] from Horonaim [with] desolation & great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed: her litle ones haue caused their crye to be heard.

5 For at the going vp of Luhith, the mourner shal go vp with weping: for in going downe of Horonaim, the enemies haue heard a crye of destruction.

6 Flee and saue your liues, and be like vnto
the heath in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy workes and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, & Chemosh shal go for thee into captiuitie with his Priests & his princes together.

8 And the destroyer shal come vpon all cities, and no citie shal escape: the valley also shal perish & the plaine shalbe destroyed as the Lord hathe spoken.

9 Giue wings vnto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shalbe desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 Cursed [be he] that doeth the worke of the Lord negligently, and cursed [be he] that kepeth backe his sworde from blood.

11 Moab hathe bene at rest from his youth, and he hathe settled on his lees, and hathe not bene powred from vessel to vessel, nether hathe he gone into captiuitie: therefore his taste remained in him and his sent is not changed.

12 Thus saith the Lord, because he hath executed of his vengeance against his enemies, his worke:
though the Caldeans fought another end, Isa. 10. 12. † Or deceitfully.
He hath not bene removed as the seues haue, but hath liued at ease and as a vine that sedeth him self on his lees.

12 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I wil send vnto him suche as shal cary him away, & shal emptic his vessels, and breake their bottels.

13 And Moab shal be ashamed of Che-mosh as the house of Israel was ashamed of Beth-el their confidence.

14 How thinke you [thus,] We are mightie and strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroyed, & his cities burnt vp, & his chosen yong men are gone dow-ne to slaughter, saith the King, whose name [is,] The Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab is readie to come, and his rage hasteth fast.

17 All ye that are about him, mourne for him, and all ye that knowe his name, say, How is the strong staffe broken, [and] the beautiful rod!

18 Thou daughter that dost inhabite Dibón, come downe from [thy] glorie, & sit in thirst: for the destroyer of Moab shal come vpon thee, [and] he shal destroy thy strong holdes.

19 Thou that dwellest in Aroér, stand by the way, and beholde: aske him that fleeth & that escapeth, [and] say, What is done?

20 Moab is confounded: for it is destroyed: howle, & crye, tel ye it in Arnón, that Moab is made waste,

21 And iudgement is come vpon the plaine countrey, vpon Holón and vpon Iabazäh, and vpon Mepháath,

22 And vpon Dibón, and vpon Nebó, and vpon the house of Diblathaim,

23 And vpon Kiriathaim, and vpon Bethgamul, and vpon Beth-meón,

24 And vpon Kerióth, and vpon Bozrah, & vpon all the cities of the land of Moab farre or nere.

25 The horne of Moab is cut of, and his arme is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make ye him drunken: for he magnified him self against the Lord: Moab shal wallow in his vomite, and he also shal be in derision.

27 For didest not deride Israel, as though he had bene found among theues? for when thou speakest of him, thou art moued.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leaue the cities, and dwell in the rockes, & be like the dove, that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth.

29 We haue heard pride of Moab: [he is] exceding proude: his slouthnes, and his arrogance, and his pride, & the hautenes of his heart.

30 I knowe his wrath, saith the Lord, but it shal not [be] so: [and] his dissimulations,

9 Come vp, ye horses, and rage ye charrets, and let the valiant men come forth, & the blacke Moors, and the Lybians that beare the shield, & the Lydians that handle [&] bend the bowe.

10 For this is the day of the Lord God of hostes, [and] a day of vengeance, that he may aduenge him of his enemies: for the sworde shal deuoure, and it shalbe satiat, and made drunke with their blood: for the Lord God of hostes hathe^h a sacrifice in the North countryⁱ by the riuer Perath.

11 Go vp vnto Gilcad,^k and take balme, o virgine,^l the daughter of Egypt: in vaine shalt thou vse many^m medicines: [for] thou shalt haue no health.

12 The nations haue heard of thy shame, and thy cryeⁿ hathe filled the land: for the strong hathe stombled against the strong [and] they are fallen bothe together.

13 ¶ The worde that the Lord spake to Ieremiah the Prophet, how Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel shulde come and finite the land of Egypt.

14 Publish in Egypt and declare in Migdol, and prochaime in Noph, and in Tahpanhes, [and] say, Stand still, and prepare thee: for the sworde shal deuoure rounde about thee.

15 Why are thy valiant men put backe: they colde not stand, because the Lord did driue them.

16 He made many to fall, & one fel vpon another: and they said, Arise, let vs go againe to our^o owne people, and to the land of our natiuitie from the sworde of the violent.

17 They did crye there, Pharaoh King of Egypt, [and] of a great multitude^p hathe passed the time appointed.

18 As I liue, saith the King, whose name is the Lord of hostes, surely as Tabór [is] in the mountaines, and as Carmél [is] in the sea: [so] shal it come.

19 O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, make thee geare to go into captiuitie: for Noph shalbe waste and desolate, without an inhabitant.

20 Egypt [is] like a faire calfe, [but] destruction cometh: out of the North it cometh.

21 Also her hired men [are] in the middes of her like fat calves: they are also turned backe and fled away together: they colde not stand, because the day of their destruction was come vpon them, [and] the time of their visitation.

22 The voyce thereof shal go forth like a serpent: for they shal marche with an armie, and come against^q her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They shal cut downe^r her forest, saith the Lord: for they can not be counted, because they are more then^s the gresheppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shalbe confounded: she shalbe deliuered into the hands of the people of the North.

25 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hostes, y God of Israël, Beholde, I wil visite the^y commune people of No and Pharaoh, & Egypt, with their gods & their Kings, euen Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him.

26 And I wil deliuer them into the hands of those, that seke their liues, and into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and into the hands of his seruants, and afterward she shall dwell as^z in the olde time, saith the Lord.

27 ¶ But feare not thou, o my seruant Iakób, and be not thou afraied, o Israël: for beholde, I wil deliuer thee from a fawe [countrey,] and thy fede from the land of their captiuitie, and Iakób shal returne and be in rest, and prosperitie, & none shal make him afraid.

28 Feare thou not, o Iakób my seruant, saith the Lord: for I am with thee, & I wil vtterly destroy all the nations, whether I haue driuen thee: but I wil not vtterly destroy thee, but correct^b thee by iudgement, and not vtterly cut thee of.

¹ The worde of the Lord against the Ammonites, ⁷ Idumea, ²³ Damascus, ²⁸ Kedar, ³⁴ & Elam.

¹ Vnto the children of Ammōn thus saith the Lord, Hathe Israël no sonnes: or hath he none heire? Why [then] hath the King possessed Gad: and his people dwell in his cities?

² Therefore beholde, y dayes come, saith the Lord, that I wil cause a noyse of warre to be heard in Rabbāh of the Ammonites, and it shalbe a desolate heape, and her daughters shalbe burnt with fyre: then shal Israël possesse those that possessed him, saith the Lord.

³ Howle, O Heshbōn, for Aias wasted: crye ye daughters of Rabbāh: gird you with sackcloth: mourne and runne to and fro by the hedges: for their King shal go into captiuitie, [and] his Priests, and his princes likewise.

⁴ Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleis: thy valley floweth away, O rebellious daughter: she trusted in her treasures, [saying,] Who shal come vnto me?

⁵ Beholde, I wil bring a feare vpon thee, saith the Lord God of hostes, of all those that be about thee, and ye shalbe scatred euery man right forthe, & none shal gather him that fleeth.

⁶ And afterward I wil bring againe the captiuitie of the children of Ammōn.

20 Therefore heare the counsell of þe Lord that he hathe deuised against Edóm, and his purpose that he hathe conceiued against the inhabitants of Temán: surely the least of the flocke shal drawe them out: surely he shal make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is moued at þe noyce of their fall: the crye of their voyce is heard in the red Sea.

22 Beholde, he shal come vp, and flie as the egle, & spread his wings ouer Bozráh, and at that day shal the heart of the strong men of Edóm be as the heart of a woman in trauail.

26 Therefore heryong men shal fall in her stretes, and all her men of warre shal be cut of in that day, saith the Lord of hostes.

27 And I wil kindle a fyre in the walle of Damascus, which shal consume the palaces of Ben-hadád.

28 Vnto Kedár, and to the kingdomes of Hazór, which Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel shal smite, thus saith the Lord, Arise, [&] go vp vnto Kedár, and destroye the men of the East.

29 Their tents and their flockes shal they take away: yea, they shal take to them selues their curtaines, and all their vessels, and their camels, and they shal crye vnto them, Feare is on euerie side.

30 Flee, get you farre of (they haue consulted to dwell) ye inhabitants of Hazór, saith the Lord: for Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel hathe taken counsell against you, and hathe deuised a purpose against you.

31 Arise, [&] get you vp vnto the welthie natiō that dwelleth without care, saith the Lord, which haue nether gates nor barres [but] dwell alone.

32 And their camels shal be a bootie, and the multitude of their cattel a spoile, and I wil scatter them into all windes, & to the vtmost corners, and I wil bring their destruction from all sides thereof, saith the Lord.

33 And Hazór shal be a dwelling for dragons, [and] desolation for euer: there shal no man dwell there, nor sonnes of men remaine in it.

CHAP. L

He prophesieth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliuerance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

1 The worde that the Lord spake concerning Babel, [and] concerning the land of the Caldeans by the ministerie of Jeremiāh the Prophet.

2 Declare among the nations, and publish it, and set vp a standart, proclaime it [and] conceile it not: say, a Babel is taken, Bel is confounded, b Merodāch is broken downe: her idoles are confounded, [and] their images are burst in pieces.

3 For out of the North there c cometh vp a nation against her, which shal make her land waste, and none shal dwell therein: they shal flee, [and] departe, bothe man & beast.

4 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shal d come, they, and the children of Iudāh together, going, and e weping shal they go, and seke the Lord their God.

5 They shal aske the waye to Ziōn, with their faces thetherward, [saying,] Come, & let vs cleaue to the Lord in a perpetual couenant that shal not be forgotten.

6 f My people hath bene [as] lost shepe: their g shepherdes haue caused them to go astray, and haue turned them away to the mountaines: they haue gone from h mountaine to hil, [and] forgotten their resting place.

7 All that found them, haue deuoured them, and their enemies said, We offend not, because they haue sinned against the Lord, h the habitation of iustice; euē the Lord the hope of their fathers.

8 i Flee from the middes of Babel, and departe out of the land of the Caldeans, & be ye as the he goates k before the flocke.

9 For lo, I wil raise, and cause to come vp against Babel a multitude of mightie nations from the North countrey, & they shal set them selues in aray against her, whereby she shalbe taken: their arrowes [shalbe] as of a strong man, which is expert, [for] none shal returne in vaine.

10 And Caldea shalbe a spoile: all f spoile her, l shalbe satisfied, saith the Lord.

11 Because ye were glad and reioyced in destroying mine heritage, [and] because ye are growen fat, as the calves in the grasse, m and neyed like strong [horses,]

12 [Therefore] your mothers shalbe sore confounded, and she that bare you shalbe ashamed: beholde, the vttermost of the nations [shalbe] a desert, a drye land, & a wilderness.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lord it shal not be inhabited, but shalbe wholly desolate: euerie one that goeth by Babel, shal be astonished, n & hisse at all her plagues.

14 o Put your selues in aray against Babel round about: all ye that bend the bowe, shoote at her, spare no arrowes: for she hath p sinned against the Lord.

15 Crye against her round about: she hatho t giuen her hād: her foundations are fallē, [and] her walles are destroyed: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance vpon her: as she hath done, down to her.

16 Destroye the q sower from Babel, and him that handleth the sickle in the time of haruest: because of the sworde of the oppressour they shal turne euerie one to his people, and they shal flee euerie one to his owne land.

17 Israel [is like] scattered shepe: the Lyons haue disperfed them: first the King r of Asshur hath deuoured him, & last this Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel hath broken s his bones.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I wil visite the King of Babel, and his land, as I haue visited the King of Assur.

19 And I wil bring Israel againe to his habitation: he shal fede on Carmel & Bashān, and his soule shalbe satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Gilcad.

20 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the iniquitie of Israel shalbe fought for, and there shalbe none: and the sinnes of Iudāh, & they shal not be found: for I wil be merciful vnto them, whome I reſerue.

21 Go vp against the land of the t rebelles, [euē] against it, & against the inhabitants u of Pekōd: destroye, and lay it waste after them, saith the Lord, and do according to all that I haue commanded thee.

22 A crye of battell [is] in the land, and of great destruction.

23 How is the v hammer of s whole worlde destroyed and broken! how is Babel become desolate among the nations!

24 I haue

24 I haue snared thee, and thou art taken, o Babel, & thou wast not aware: thou art founde, & also caught, because thou hast striuen against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his treasure, & hath brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the worke of the Lord God of hostes in the land of the Caldeans.

26 Come against her from the utmost border, open her store houses: tread on her as on theaues, & destroye her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Destroye all her bullockes: let them go downe to slaughter. Wo vnto them, for their day is come, & the time of their visitation.

28 The voice of them that flee, & escape out of the land of Babel to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, & the vengeance of his Temple.

29 Call vp the archers against Babel all ye that bend the bowe, besiege it rounde about: let none thereof escape: recompence her according to her worke, & according to all that she hath done, do vnto her: for she hath bene proude against the Lord, & against the holy one of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her yong men fall in the streets, and all her men of warre shall be destroyed in that day, saith the Lord.

31 Beholde, I come vnto thee, o proude man, saith the Lord God of hostes: for thy day is come, & the time that I will visite thee.

32 And the proude shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him vp: & I will kindle a fyre in his cities, and it shall deuoure all rounde about him.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The children of Israel, and the children of Iudah were oppressed together: and all that toke them captiues, helde them, & wolde not let them go.

34 [But] their strong redemer, whose Name [is] the Lord of hostes, he shall mainteine their cause, that he may giue rest to the land, & disquiet the inhabitants of Babel.

35 A sword [is] vpon the Caldeans, saith the Lord, and vpon the inhabitants of Babel, and vpon her princes, and vpon her wise men.

36 A sword [is] vpon the sothesayers, & they shall dote: a sword [is] vpon her strong men, and they shall be afraid.

37 A sword [is] vpon their horses & vpon their charrets, and vpon all the multitude that are in the middes of her, & they shall be like women: a sword [is] vpon her treasures, and they shall be spoiled.

38 A drought [is] vpon her waters, and they shall be dried vp: for it is the land of grauen images, and they dote vpon their idoles.

39 Therefore the Ziiims with the Iims shall dwell [there] & the ostriches shall dwell therein: for it shall be no more inhabited, neither shall it be inhabited from generation vnto generation.

40 As God destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah with the places thereof nere about, saith the Lord: [so] shall no man dwell there, neither shall the sonne of man remaine therein.

41 Beholde, a people shall come from the North, & a great nation, & many Kings shall be raised vp from the coastes of the earth.

42 They shall holde the bowe & the buckler: they are cruel and vnnmerciful: their voyce shall roare like the sea, and they shall ride vpon horses, [and] be put in aray like men to the battell against thee, o daughter of Babel.

43 The King of Babel hath heard the report of them, and his hands waxed feeble: sorowe came vpon him, & [euen] sorowe as of a woman in trauail.

44 Beholde, he shall come vp like a lyon from the swelling of Iorden vnto the strong habitation: for I will make [Israel] to rest, & I will make them to haste away from her: and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her: for who is like me, & who will appoint me the time? and who is the shepherd that will stand before me?

45 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lord that he hath deuised against Babel, and his purpose: he hath conceived against the land of the Caldeans: surely the least of the flocke shall drawe them out: surely he shall make [their] habitation desolate with them.

46 At the noyse of the winning of Babel the earth is moued, and the crye is heard among the nations.

13 O thou that dwellest vpon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, & the end of thy couetousnes.

14 The Lord of hostes hath sworn by himselfe, [saying,] Surely I wil fil thee with men, as with caterpillers, and they shal crye and shoute against thee.

15 He hath made the earth by his power, and established the worlde by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discrecion.

16 He giueth by this voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, & he causeth the cloudes to ascend from the ends of the earth; he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the winds out of his treasures.

18 They are vanitie, and the worke of errors: in the time of their visitation they shal perish.

19 The portion of Iacob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, & Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

20 Thou art mine hammer, [&] weapons of warre: for with thee wil I breake the nations, and with thee wil I destroye kingdomes.

21 And by thee wil I breake horse & horseman, and by thee wil I breake the charret and him that rideth therein.

22 By thee also wil I breake man & woman, and by thee wil I breake olde & yong, & by thee wil I breake the yong man & the maid.

23 I wil also breake by thee the shepherd & his flocke, & by thee wil I breake the housbandman and his yoke of oxen, & by thee wil I breake the dukes and princes.

24 And I wil rendre vnto Babel, and to all the inhabitants of the Caldeans all their euil, that they haue done in Zion, [euen] in your sight, saith the Lord.

25 Beholde, I [come] vnto thee, & destroye the mountaine, saith the Lord, which destroyest all the earth: and I wil stretch out mine had vpon thee, and roll thee downe from the rockes, & wil make thee a burnt mountaine.

26 They shal not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for fundatiōs, but thou shalt be destroyed for euer, saith the Lord.

27 Set vp a standart in the land: blowe the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: call vp the kingdomes of Ararat, Minni, and Ashchenaz against her: appoint the prince against her: cause horses to come vp as rough caterpillers.

28 Prepare against her the natiōs with the Kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, & the princes thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shal tremble and forowe: for the deuise of the Lord shal be performed against Babel, to make the land of Babel waste without an inhabitant.

30 The strong men of Babel haue ceased to fight: they haue remained in their holdes: their strength hath failed, [&] they were like women: they haue burnt her dwellig places, [and] her barres are broken.

I VVhen God shal execute his vengeance, in I hatis, the true God of Israel is not like to these idoles, for he can helpe when all thinges are desperated. He meaneth the Medes and Persians, as he did before call the Babylonians his hammer, Chap. 10, 23.

By these three nations he meaneth Armenia, the hier, & Armenia lower, & Scythia: for Cyrus had gathered an armie of euers nations.

By turning the course of the river, one side was made open, and the reder did growe in water, were destroyed: which Cyrus did by counsel of Gobria and Gabaatha Belshazzars captaine.

32 And that the passages are stopped, and the reedes burnt with fyre, and the men of warre troubled.

33 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, The daughter of Babel [is] like a threshing floore: & time of her threshing [is] come: yet a litle while, and the time of her haruest shall come.

34 Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel hath deuoured me, and destroyed me: he hath made me an emptie vessel: he swallowed me vp like a dragon, and filled his bellie with my delicates, [and] hath cast me out.

35 The spoile of me, and that which was left of me, [is] broght vnto Babel, shal the inhabitant of Zion say: & my blood vnto the inhabitants of Caldea, shal Ierusalem say.

36 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil mainteine thy cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I wil drye vp the sea, and drye vp her springs.

37 And Babel shall be [as] heapes, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, and an hissing, without an inhabitant.

38 They shall roare together like lyons, & yell as the lions whelpes.

39 In their heat I wil make them feastes, and I wil make them drunken, that they may reioyce, and slepe a perpetual slepe, and not wake, saith the Lord.

40 I wil bring them downe like lambes to the slaughter, [and] like rams and goates.

41 How is Shephach taken! and how is the glorie of the whole earth taken! how is Babel become an astonishment among the nations!

42 The sea is come vp vpon Babel: she is couered with the multitude of the waues thereof.

43 Her cities are desolate: the land is drye and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, nether doeth the sonne of man passe thereby.

44 I wil also visite Bel in Babel, and I wil bring out of his mouth that which he hath swallowed vp, and the nations shall runne no more vnto him, and the wall of Babel shall fall.

45 My people go out of the middes of her, and deliuer ye euery man his soule from the fierce wrath of the Lord.

46 Let your hearteuen faint, and ye feare the rumour, that shall be heard in the land: the rumour shall come [this] yere, and after that in the fourth yere [shall come] a rumour, and crueltie in the land, and ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore beholde, dayes come, that

I wil visite the images of Babel, and the whole land shall be confounded, & all her slaine shall fall in the middes of her.

48 Then the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein, shall reioyce for Babel, for the destroyers shall come vnto her from the North, saith the Lord.

49 As Babel caused the slaine of Israel to fall, so by Babel the slaine of all the earth did fall.

50 Ye that haue escaped the sword, go away, stande not stil: remembre the Lord afarre of, & let Ierusalem come into your minde.

51 We are confounded because we haue heard reproche: shame hath couered our faces, for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the Lords house.

52 Wherefore, beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I wil visite her graues, images, & though all her land the wounded shall grone.

53 Thogh Babel shoulde mounte vp to heauen, and thogh she shoulde defend her strength on hie, [yet] from me shall her destroyers come, saith the Lord.

54 A sounde of a crye [cometh] from Babel, and great destruction from the land of the Caldeans.

55 Because the Lord hath laid Babel waste, and destroyed from her the great voyce, & her waues shall roare like great waters, [and] a sounde was made by their noyse.

56 Because the destroyer is come vpon her, [even] vpon Babel, and her strong men are taken, their bowes are broken: for the Lord God that recompenseth, shall surely recompence.

57 And I wil make drunke her princes, & her wise men, her dukes, and her nobles, & her strong men: & they shall slepe a perpetual slepe, and not wake, saith the King, whose name [is] the Lord of hostes.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The thicke wall of Babel shall be broken, and her hye gates shall be burnt with fyre, and people shall labour in vaine, and the folke in the fyre, for they shall be weary.

59 The word which Jeremiah the Prophet commanded Sheraiah the sonne of Ne-riah, the sonne of Maasiah, when he went with Zedekiah the King of Iudah into Babel, in the fourth yere of his reigne, and this Sheraiah was a peaceable prince.

60 So Ieremiah wrote in a booke all the euill that shoulde come vnto Babel, & vnto all the things, that should befallen against Babel.

61 And Ieremiah said to Sheraiah, When thou comest vnto Babel, and shalt see, and shalt read all these wordes,

All creatures in heauen and earth shall reioyce and praise God for the destruction of Babel. The great Babylon shall be destroyed, and shall be as a desolate place, and shall be as a wilderness, and shall be as a heape of stones, and shall be as a place of dragons, and shall be as a place of hissing, without an inhabitant. The Lord God shall visit Babel, and shall destroy it, and shall make it desolate, and shall make it a wilderness, and shall make it a heape of stones, and shall make it a place of dragons, and shall make it a place of hissing, without an inhabitant.

grauen images for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breth therein.

18 They are vanitie, and the worke of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perishe.

19 The portion of Iacob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, & Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

20 Thou art mine hammer, [&] weapons of warre: for with thee will I breake the nations, and with thee will I destroye kingdomes.

21 And by thee will I breake horse & horseman, and by thee will I breake the charret and him that rideth therein.

22 By thee also will I breake man & woman, and by thee will I breake olde & yong, & by thee will I breake the yong man & the maid.

23 I will also breake by thee the shepherd & his flocke, & by thee will I breake the housbandman and his yoke of oxen, & by thee will I breake the dukes and princes.

24 And I will rendre vnto Babel, and to all the inhabitants of the Caldeans all their euil, that they haue done in Zion, & euery in your sight, saith the Lord.

25 Beholde, I [come] vnto thee, & destroye the mountaine, saith the Lord, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine had vpon thee, and roll thee downe from the rockes, & wil make thee a burnt mountaine.

26 They shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for fundatiōs, but thou shalt be destroyed for euer, saith the Lord.

27 Set vp a standart in the land: blowe the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: call vp the kingdomes of Ararat, Minni, and Ashchenaz against her: appoint the prince against her: cause horses to come vp as rough caterpillers.

28 Prepare against her the nations with the Kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, & the princes thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shall tremble and sorowe: for the deuise of the Lord shall be performed against Babel, to make the land of Babel waste without an inhabitant.

30 The strong men of Babel haue ceased to fight: they haue remained in their holdes: their strength hath failed, [&] they were like women: they haue burnt her dwelling places, [and] her barres are broken.

31 A post shall runne to meete the post, and a messenger to meete the messenger, to shewe the King of Babel, that his citie is taken on a side thereof.

¶ When God shall execute vengeance, in that is, the true God of Israel is not like to these idols, for he can helpe when all things are desolate. In he meaneth the Medes and Persians, as he did before call the Babylonians his hammer, Chap. 10, 23.

¶ Not that Babylon stode on a mountaine, but because it was strong and seemed inuincible.

¶ From thy strong holdes & fortresses.

¶ By these three nations he meaneth Armenia, the hier, & Armenia lower, & Scythia: for Cyrus had gathered an armie of euery nation.

¶ By turning the course of the river, one side was made open, and the reder did growe in water, were destroyed: which Cyrus did by counsel of Gubria and Gabatha Belshazzars captaiues.

7 Therefore beholde, & dayes come, that

Then shall thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to destroye it, & none shulde remaine in it, nether man nor beast, but that it shulde be desolate for ever.

63 And when thou hast made an end of reading this booke, thou shalt binde a stone to it, and cast it in the middes of Euphrates.

64 And shalt say, Thus shal Babel be drowned, and shal not rise from the euil, that I wil bring vpon her: and they shal be wearie. Thus farre [are] the wordes of Ieremiah.

CHAP. LII.

4 Jerusalem is taken. 10 Zedekiah's sonnes are killed before his face, and his eyes put out. 13 The cite is burned. 21 Ichoiash is brought forth of prison, and fed like a King.

1 Zedekiah [was] one & twentie yere olde when he began to reigne, & he reigned eleuen yeres in Ierusalem, and his mothers name [was] Hamutal, the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did euil in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Ichoiakim had done.

3 Doubtes because the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem & Iudah, til he had cast them out from his presence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled against the King of Babel.

4 But in the ninth yere of his reigne, in the tenth moneth the tenth [day] of the moneth came Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, he and all his hoste against Ierusalem, & pitched against it, and buylt fortres against it rounde about.

5 So the cite was besieged vnto the eleuenth yere of the King Zedekiah.

6 Now in the fourth moneth, the ninth [day] of the moneth, the famine was fore in the cite, for there was no more bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the cite was broken vp & all the men of warre fled, & went out of the cite by night, by the way of the gate betwene the two walles, which was by the Kings garden: (now the Caldeans [were] by the cite rounde about) and they went by the way of the wilderness.

8 But the arme of the Caldeans pursued after the King, & toke Zedekiah in the desert of Tercho, and all his hoste was scattered from him.

9 Then they toke the King, and caryed him vp vnto the King of Babel to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

10 And the King of Babel slewe the sonnes of Zedekiah, before his eyes: he slewe also all the princes of Iudah in Riblah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, & the King of Babel bounde him in chaines, and caryed him to Babel, and put him in prison til the day of his death.

12 Now in the fift moneth in the tenth [day] of the moneth (which was the ninth yere of the King Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel) came Nebuzaradan chief steward [which] stode before the King of Babel in Ierusalem, 13 And burnt the House of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all the houses of Ierusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fyre.

14 And all the armie of the Caldeans that were with the chief steward, brake downe all the walles of Ierusalem rounde about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan the chief steward caryed away captiue [certeine] of the poore of the people, & the residue of the people that remained in the cite, & those that were fled, and fallen to the King of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan the chief steward left [certeine] of the poore of the land, to dresse the vines, and to til the land.

17 Also the pillars of brasse that were in the House of the Lord, and the bases, and the brasen Sea, that was in the House of the Lord, the Caldeans brake, and caryed all the brasse of them to Babel.

18 The pottes also and the besomes, and the instruments of musike, and the basins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasse wherewith they ministred, toke they away.

19 And the bowles, and the ashpannes, & the basins, and the pottes, and the candlesticks, & the incense dishes, & the cuppes, [& all] that was of olde, and that was of siluer, toke the chief steward away.

20 With the two pillars, one Sea, & twelue brasen bulles, that were vnder the bases, which King Salomon had made in the House of the Lord: the brasse of all these vessels was without weight.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar [was] eightene cubites, and a threde of twelue cubites did compasse it, and the thickenes thereof [was] foure fingers: [it was] holow.

22 And a chapter of brasse [was] vpon it, and the height of one chapter was fiue cubites with networke, and pomegranates vpon the chapters rounde about, all of brasse: the seconde pillar also, and the pomegranates [were] like vnto these.

23 And there was ninetie & six pomegranates

nates on a side: [and] all the pomegranates vpon the net worke [were] an hundred rounde about.

24 And the chief steward toke Sheraiáh the chief Priest, & Zephaniáh & seconde Priest, & the thre keepers of the dore.

25 He toke also out of the citie an Eunuche, which had the ouersight of the men of warre, and seven men that were in the Kings prefence, which were founde in the citie, and Sopher captaine of the hoste who mustred the people of the land, and thre score men of the people of the land, that were founde in the middes of the citie.

26 Nebuzar-adán the chief steward toke them, and broght them to the King of Babel to Ribláh.

27 And the King of Babel smote them, & slewe them in Ribláh, in the land of Hamáth: thus Iudáh was caryed away captiue out of his owne land.

28 ¶ This is the people, whome Nebuchad-nezzár caryed away captiue, in the seven yere, [even] thre thousand Iewes, and thre and twentie.

29 In the eighteenth yere of Nebuchadnezzár he caryed away captiue from Ierusalem eight hundred thirtie & two persones.

30 In the thre and twentieth yere of Nebuchad-nezzár, Nebuzar-adán the chief steward caryed away captiue of the Iewes seven hundred fourtie and five persones: all the persones [were] foure thousand & six hundred.

31 And in the seven and thirtieth yere of the captiuitie of Iehoiachín King of Iudáh, in the twelft moneth, in the five and twentieth [day] of the moneth, Builmerodách King of Babel, in the first yere of his reigne, lifted vp the head of Iehoiachín King of Iudáh, and broght him out of prison, 32 And spake kindly vnto him, and set his throne about the throne of the Kings, that were with him in Babel.

33 And changed his prison garments, & he did continually eat bread before him, all the dayes of his life.

34 His portion [was] a continual portion giuen him of the King of Babel, euery day a certeine, all the dayes of his life vntil he dyed.

† Ebr. foules.

That is, restored him to libertie and honour.

And gave him princelie apparel.

That is, he had allowance in the court, & thus as length he had rest and quietnes, because he obeyed Iehoiachín the King, & the other that were with him, that would obey him.

LAMENTATIONS.

CHAP. I.

1 The Prophet bewaileth the miserable estate of Ierusalem, 3 And sheweth that they are plagued because of their finnes. The first and second chapter beginne euery verse according to the letters of the Ebrewe Alphabet. The third hath three verses for euery letter, and the fourth is as the first.

A The Prophet wondereth at & great iudgement of God seing Ierusalem, which was so strong & so full of people, to be now destroyed and desolate. V Which had chief rule ouer many prouinces and countreys. So that she hath no rest. Meaning, the Egyptians and Assyrians, which promised helpe & forther crueltie toward the poore and oppression of seruants, Iere. 34. 31.

F As they vse to come vp, & myrrh & ioye, Psl. 45. 4. † Ebr. bitterness. That is, haue rule ouer her, Psal. 44.

How doeth the citie remaine solitarie that was full of people? she is as a widdow: she that was great among nations [&] princeesse among the prouinces, is made tributarie.

2 She wepeth continually in the night, & her teares [runne downe] by her chekes: among all her louers, she hath none to comfort her: all her friends haue delt vnfaithfully with her, [and] are her enemies. 3 Iudáh is caryed away captiue, because of affliction, and because of great seruitude: she dwelleth among the heathen, [&] findeth no rest: all her persecuters toke her in the streites.

4 The wayes of Zión lament, because no man cometh to the solemne feasts: all her gates are desolate: her Priests sigh: her virgines are discomfited, and she is in heaviness.

5 Her aduersaries are the chief, [and] her enemies prosper: for the Lord hath afflicted her, for the multitude of her transgressions, [and] her children are gone into captiuitie before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zión all her beautie is departed: her princes are become like harts that finde no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Ierusalem remembered the dayes of her affliction, and of her rebellion, [&] all her pleasant things, that she had in times past, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, & none did helpe her: her aduersaries sawe her, & did mocke at her Sabbaths, 8 Ierusalem hath grievously sinned, therefore she is in derision: all that honored her, despise her, because they haue sene her filthines: yea, she sigheth and turneth backward.

9 Her filthines is in her skirtes: she remembered not her last end, therefore she came downe wonderfully: she had no comforter: O Lord, beholde mine affliction: for the enemy is proude.

10 The enemy hath stretched out his hand vpon all her pleasant things: for she hath sene the heathen entre into her Sanctuary, whome thou didest commande, that

As men play away with her, & she is as a widdow, & she is in her hand, the enemy hath the great beautie and modities, & she is lost.

At her religion and seruing of God, which was the greatest grief to the godly.

they shulde not entre into thy Church; 11 All her people sigh and seke [their] bread: they haue giue their pleasant things for meat to refresh the soule: se, O Lord, & consider: for I am become vile.

12 Haue ye no regarde, all ye that passe by this way: beholde, and se, if there be any sorowe like vnto my sorowe, which is done vnto me, where with the Lord hath afflicted [me] in the day of his fierce wrath.

13 From aboue hath he sent fyre into my bones, which preuaile against them: he hathe spred a net for my fete, [&] turned me backe: he hathe made me desolate, [&] daily in beatitudes.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bounde vpon my hand: they are wrapped, and come vp vpon my necke: he hathe made my strength to fail: the Lord hathe deliue-red me into their hands, nether am I able to rife vp.

15 The Lord hathe trode vnder fote all my valiant men in the middes of me: he hathe called an assemble against me to destroy my yong men: the Lord hathe troden the wine presse vpon the virgine the daughter of Iudah.

16 For these things I wepe: mine eye, [te-uen] mine eye casteth out water, because the comforter that shulde refresh my soule, is farre from me: my children are desolate,
because the enemy preuaile.

17 Zión stretcheth out her hands, and there [is] none to comfort her: the Lord hathe appointed the enemies of Iakob rounde about him: Ierusalem is as a menstruous woman in the middes of them.

18 The Lord is righteous: for I haue rebelled against his commandement: heare,
I pray you, all people, and beholde my so-row: my virgines & my yong men are gone into captiuitie.

19 I called for my louers, [but] they decei-ued me: my Priests and mine Elders perished in the cite while they sought their meat to refresh their soules.

20 Beholde, O Lord, how I am troubled:
my bowels swell, mine heart is turned within me; for I am ful of heauines: the sworde spoyleth abroad, as death [doeth] at home.

21 They haue heard that I mourne, [but] there [is] none to comfort me: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, [&] are glad, that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day, that thou hast pronounced, and they shalbe like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednes come before thee: & do vnto the, as thou hast done vnto me, for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and mine heart is heauie.

CHAP. III.

How hath the Lord darkened the daughter of Zión in his wrath!
[&] hath cast downe from heauen vnto the earth the beautie of Israel, and remembered not his fotebole in the day of his wrath!

2 The Lord hathe destroyed all the habitations of Iakob, & not spared: he hathe throwen downe in his wrath the strong holdes of the daughter of Iudah: he hathe cast them downe to the grounde: he hath polluted the kingdome & the princes thereof.

3 He hathe cut of in his fierce wrath all the horne of Israel: he hathe drawen backe his right hand from before the enemy, and there was kindled in Iakob like a flame of fyre, & deuoured rounde about.

4 He hathe bent his bowe like an enemy:
his right hand was stretched vp as an aduersarie, and slewe all that was pleasant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zión: he powred out his wrath like fyre.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hathe de-uoured Israel, [&] consumed all his palaces: he hathe destroyed his strong holdes, and hathe increased in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For he hathe destroyed his tabernacle, as a garden, he hathe destroyed his congregation: the Lord hathe caused the fea-stes & Sabbaths to be forgotten in Zión, and hathe despised in the indignation of his wrath the King and the Priest.

7 The Lord hathe forsaken his altar: he hath abhorred his Sanctuarie: he hathe gi-uen into the hand of the enemy the wal-les of her palaces: they haue made a snoy-se in the House of the Lord, as in the day of solemnitie.

8 The Lord hathe determined to destroye the wall of the daughter of Zión: he stretched out a line: he hathe not withdrawn his hand from destroying: therefore he made the rampart and the wall to lamet:
they were destroyed together.

9 Her gates are sonke to the grounde: he hath destroyed and broken her barres: her King and her princes [are] among the Gentiles: the Lawe [is] no more, nether can her Prophetes receiue [any] vision

virgines of Ierusalem hang downe their heades to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do faile with teares: my bowels swell: my liuer is powred vpon the earth for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children & sucklings I swoune in the stretes of the citie.

12 Thei haue said to their mothers, Where is bread and drinke? when they swoune as the wounded in the stretes of the citie, [and] when thei gaue vp the golfe in their mothers bosome.

13 What thing shall I take a witnes for thee? what thing shall I compare to thee, o daughter Ierusalem? what shall I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee, o virgine daughter Zión? for thy breache is great like the sea: who can heale thee?

14 Thy Prophets haue looked out vaine, and foolish things for thee, and thei haue not discovered thine iniquitie, to turne away thy captiuitie, but haue looked out for the false prophecies, & causes of banishment.

15 All that passe by the way, clappe their hands at thee: they hiss and wagge their head vpon the daughter Ierusalem, [saying,] Is this the citie that men call; The perfection of beautie, [and] the ioye of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies haue opened their mouthes against thee: they hiss & gnash the teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure it: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we haue founde [and] sene it.

17 * The Lord hathe done that which he had purposed: he hathe fulfilled his worde that he had determined of olde time: he hathe throwen done, and not spared: he hathe caused thine enemy to reioyce ouer thee, and set vp the home of thine aduersaries.

18 Their heart * cryed vnto the Lord, O wall of the daughter Zión, let teares runne downe like a riuer, day & night: take thee no rest, nether let the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, crye in the night: in the beginning of the watches powre out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift vp thine hands toward him for the life of thy yong children, that faint for hunger in the corners of all the stretes.

20 Beholde, o Lord, & consider to whom thou hast done thus: shall the women eat their frute, [and] children of a spanne long: shall the Priest and the Prophet be slaine in the Sanctuarie of the Lord?

21 The yong & the olde lye on the ground in the stretes: my virgines and my yong men are fallen by the sworde: thou hast slain [them] in the day of thy wrath: thou hast killed and not spared.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemne day my terrors rounde about, so that in the day of the Lords wrath none escaped nor remained: those that I haue nourished & brought vp, haue mine enemy consumed.

CHAP. III.

1 I Am the man, that hathe sene affliction in the rod of his indignation.

2 He hathe led me, and brought me into darkenes, but not to light.

3 Surely he is turned against me: he turneth his hand [against me] all the day.

4 My flesh and my kinne hathe he caused to waxe olde, [and] he hathe broken my bones.

5 He hathe buylded against me, & compassed [me] with gall, and labour.

6 He hathe set me in darke places, as they that be dead for euer.

7 He hathe hedged about me, that I can not get out: he hathe made my chaines heauie.

8 Also when I crye & shoute, he shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hathe stopp'd vp my waies with heauen stone, [and] turned away my paths.

10 He was vnto me [as] a beare lying in waite, [and as] a lion in secret places.

11 He hathe stopped my wayes, & pulled me in peeces: he hathe made me desolate.

12 He hathe bent his bow and made me a marke for the arrowe.

13 He caused the arrowes of his quier to enter into my reines.

14 I was a derision to all my people, [and] their song all the daye.

15 He hathe filled me with bitternes, [and] made me drunken with worme wood.

16 He hathe also broke my teeth with stones, [and] hathe couered me with ashes.

17 Thus my soule was faire of from peace: I forgot prosperitie.

18 And I said, My strength and mine hope is perished from the Lord.

19 Remembring mine affliction, & my mourning, the worme wood and the gall.

20 My soule hathe them in remembrance, and is humbled in me.

21 I consider this in mine heart: therefore haue I hope.

22 It is the Lords mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions faile not.

23 Considering the wickednes of man, his sinne that he remembreth not, but onely that God for his owne mercies sake, and for his promises sake, haue his Church to remaine though they be neuer so lowe in their sinne.

† Or, enemies, whom I feared.

4 The Prophet complaineth of the punishment and afflictions that he endured by the false Prophetes and hypocrites, who he declared the destruction of Ierusalem, as Ierem. 20, 3.

h He speaketh this as one that felt Gods heauie iudgements, which he greatly feared, and therefore setteth them out with this discourse of words.

e This is a great temptation to the godlie, when they see not the fruit of their prayers, and cause them to thinke that their are not heard, which thing God vseth to do, that they might praye more earnestly & the oftener.

d And kepeth me in holde, as a prisoner.

The prayer of Ieremias.

1 Remembre, O Lord, what is come vpon vs: consider, and beholde our reproche.

2 Our inheritance is turned to the strangers, our houses to the aliantes.

3 We are fatherles, euen without father, [and] our mothers are as wides.

4 We haue dronke our water for money, [and] our wood is solde [vnto vs.]

5 Our neckes are vnder persecution: we are weary, and haue no rest.

6 We haue given our handes to the Egyptians, [&] to Asshur, to be satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers haue sinned, and are not, & we haue borne their iniquities.

8 Seruants haue ruled ouer vs, none wolde deliuer vs out of their hands.

9 We gaue our bread with the [peril] of our liues, because of the sworde of the wilderness.

10 Our skin was blacke like as an ouen because of the terrible famine.

11 They defiled the women in Zión, [&] maidens in the cities of Iudah.

12 The princes are hanged vp by their handes: the faces of the Elders were not had in honour.

13 They toke the yong men to grinde, & the children sel vnder the wood.

14 The Elders haue ceased from the gate [&] the yong men from their songs.

15 The ioye of our heart is gone, our daies is turned into mourning.

16 The croune of our head is fallen: now vnto vs, that we haue sinned.

17 Therefore our heart is heavy for these things, our eyes are dimme.

18 Because of the mountaine of Zión which is desolate: the foxes runne vpon it.

19 [But] thou, O Lord, remainest for euer: thy throne is from generation to generation.

20 Wherefore dost thou forget vs for euer, [and] forsake vs so long tyme?

21 Turne thou vs vnto thee, O Lord, and we shalbe turned: reuoke our dayes as olde.

EZEKIEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that Iehoiachin by the counſel of Ieremiah and Ezeziel had yielded him to Nebuchad-nezzar, & ſo went into captiuitie with his mother and diuers of his prince and of the people, certein beganne to repent and murmur that they had obeyed the Prophets counſel, as though the thing which they had prophesied ſhulde not come to paſſe, and therefore their hearts ſhulde be ſtil miſerable vnder the Caldeans. By reaſon whereof he confirmeth his former prophecies, declaring by new viſions and reuelations ſhewed vnto him that the citie ſhulde moſte certainly be deſtroyed, and the people grievouſly tormented by Gods plagues, in ſomuche that they that remained ſhulde be brought into cruel bondage. And leſt the godlie ſhulde diſpaire in theſe great troubles he aſſureth them that God wil deliuer his Church at his time appoinct, and alſo deſtroye their enemies which either afflicted them or reioyced in their miſeries: The effect of the one & the other ſhulde chiefly be performed vnder Chriſt, of whome in this booke are many notable promiſes, and in whome the glorie of the new Temple ſhulde perfectly be reſtored. He prophesied theſe things in Caldea at the ſame time that Ieremiah prophesied in Iuda, and there began in the fiſt yere of Iehoiachins captiuitie.

6 And euerie one had foure faces, & eue-

- rie one had foure wings.
7 And their ſete [were] ſtreight ſete, and the ſole of their ſete [was] like the ſole of a calves ſete, and they ſparkled like the appearance of bright braſſe.

8 And

8 And the hands of a man [came] out from vnder their wings in the foure partes of them, and they foure had their faces, and their wings.

9 They were ioyned by their wings one to another, [and] when they went forth, they returned not, [but] euery one went streight forward.

10 And the similitude of their faces [was as] the face of man: and they foure had the face of a lyon on the right side, & they foure had the face of a bullocke on the left side: they foure also had the face of an egle.

11 Thus were their faces: but their wings [were] spread out aboue two [wings] of euery one were ioyned one to another, & two couered their bodies.

12 And euery one went streight forward: they went whether their spirit led them, [and] they returned not when they went forth.

13 The similitude also of the beastes, [&] their appearance [was] like burning coles of fyre, [and] like the appearance of lampes: [for the fyre] ran among the beastes, and the fyre gaue a glister, and out of the fyre there went lightening.

14 And the beastes ran, and returned like vnto lightening.

15 ¶ Now as I behelde the beastes, beholde, a wheale [appeared] vpon the earth by the beastes, hauing foure faces.

16 The facion of the wheles & their worke [was] like vnto a chrysolite: and they foure had one forme, and their facion, & their worke [was] as one wheale in [another] wheale.

17 When they went, they went vpon their foure sides, [and] they returned not when they went.

18 They had also rings, and height, and were [feareful] to beholde, and their rings were ful of eyes, round about them foure.

19 And when the beastes went, the wheles went with them: and when the beastes were lift vp from the earth, the wheles were lift vp.

20 Whether their spirit led the, they went; [and] whether did the spirit of the wheles lead them, and the wheles were lifted vp besides them: for the Spirit of the beastes [was] in the wheles.

21 When the [beastes] went, they went, & when they stode, they stode, & when they were lifted vp from the earth, the wheles were lifted vp besides them: for the spirit of the beastes [was] in the wheles.

22 And the similitude of the firmament vpon the heads of the beastes [was] wonderful, like vnto chrysal, spread ouer their heads aboue.

23 And vnder the firmament [were] their wings streight, the one towards the other: euery one had two, which couered them, and euery one had two, which couered their bodies.

24 And when they went forth, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, [and] as the voyce of the Almighty, [euery] the voice of speech: as the noise of an host: [and] when they stode, they let downe their wings.

25 And there was a voyce from the firmament, [was] ouer their heads: when they stode, [and] had let downe their wings,

26 And aboue the firmament that was ouer their heads, [was] the facion of a throne like vnto a saphir stone, and vpon the similitude of the throne [was] by appearance, as the similitude of a man aboue vpon it.

27 And I sawe as the appearance of ambre, [&] as the similitude of fyre rounde about within it to loke to, euery from his loynes vwarde, & to loke to, euery from his loynes downewarde: I sawe as a likenes of fyre, and brightnes rounde about it.

28 As the likenes of the bowe, that is in the cloude in the day of raine, so [was] the appearance of the light rounde about.

29 This was the appearance of the similitude of the glorie of the Lord: and when I sawe it, I fell vpon my face, and I heard a voyce of one that spake.

¶ CHAP. II.

The Prophet is sent to call the people from their errors.

1 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, stand vp vpon thy fete, & I will speake vnto thee.

2 And the spirit entred into me, when he had spoken vnto me, & set me vpon my fete, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

3 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israel; to a rebellious nation, that hath rebelled against me: [for] they and their fathers haue rebelled against me, euery vnto this very day.

4 For [they are] tymptuous children, and stiffe hearted: I do send thee vnto them, & thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God.

5 But, surely they wil not heare, neither in dede wil they cease: for they are a rebellious house: yet shal they knowe that there hath bene a Prophet among them.

among them, & admonisheth his ministers on the other parte that they cease not to do their dutie, though the people be neuer so obdurate: for the word of God shal be true to their saluation or greater condemnation.

7 Therefore thou shalt speake my wordes vnto them: [but] surely they wil not heare, neither wil they in dede cease: for they are rebellious.

8 But thou sonne of man, heare what I say vnto thee: be not thou rebellious, like [this] rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eat that I giue thee.

9 And when I looked vp, behold, an hand was sent vnto me, and lo, a rolle of a boke [was] therein.

10 And he spred it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein, & Lamentations, & mourning, and wo.

CHAP. III.

1 The Prophet being fed with the worde of God and with the constant boldnes of the Spirit, is sent vnto the people that were in captiuitie. 17 The office of true ministers.

1 Moreouer he said vnto me, Sonne of man, eat that thou findest: * eat this rolle, and go, [and] speake vnto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he gaue me this rolle to eat.

3 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fil thy bowels with this rolle, that I giue thee, Then did I eat it, and it was in my mouth as swete as honey.

4 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, go, [and] entre into the house of Israel, and declare them my wordes.

5 For thou art not sent to a people of an vnknown tongue, or of an hard language, [but] to the house of Israel.

6 Not to manie people of an vnknown tongue, or of an hard language, whose wordes thou canst not vnderstand: yet if I shulde send thee to them, they wolde obey thee.

7 But the house of Israel wil not obey thee: for they wil not obey me: yea, all the house of Israel are impudent and stif hearted.

8 Beholde, I haue made thy face, & strong against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads.

9 I haue made thy forehead as the adamant, [and] harder then the sinir: feare them not therefore, neither be afraid at their lookes: for they are a rebellious house.

10 He said moreouer vnto me, Sonne of man, * receiue in thine heart all my wordes: I speake vnto thee, and heare [them] with thine eares,

11 And go [and] entre to them that are led away captiues vnto the children of thy people, and speake vnto them, & tel them, Thus saith the Lord God: [but] surely they wil not heare, neither wil they in dede cease.

12 Then the Spirit toke me vp, and I heard behinde me a noyse of a great rushing, [saying,] d Blessed [be] the glorie of the Lord out of his place.

13 [I heard] also the noyse of the wings of y beasts, that touched one another, & the rattling of the wheles that were by them, euen a noyse of a great rushing.

14 So the Spirit lift me vp, and toke me away, and I went in bitterness, [and] indignation of my spirit, but the hand of the Lord was strong vpon me.

15 Then I came to them that were led away captiues to Tel-ábib, that dwelt by the riuer Chebár, and I sate where they sate, & remained there astonished among them & seuen dayes.

16 And at the end of seuen dayes, the worde of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

17 Sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore heare the worde at my mouth, and giue them warning from me.

18 When I shal say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely dye, and thou giuest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish y wicked of his wicked way, that he may liue, the same wicked man shal dye in his iniquitie: but his blood wil I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warne the wicked, and he turne not from his wickednes, nor from his wicked way, he shal dye in his iniquitie, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

20 Likewise if a righteous man turne from his righteousness, and commit iniquitie, I wil lay a stumbling blocke before him, and he shal dye, because thou hast not giuen him warning: he shal dye in his sinne, and his righteous dedes, which he hath done, shal not be remebred: but his blood wil I require at thine hand.

21 Neuertheles, if thou admonish that righteous man, that y righteous sinne not, and that he doeth not sinne, he shal liue because he is admonished: also thou hast deliuered thy soule.

22 And the hand of the Lord was there vpon me, and he said vnto me, Arise, [and]

CHAP. IIII.

1 The besieging of the cite of Ierusalem is signified. 9 The long continuance of the captiuitie of Israel. 16 An hun- gre is prophesied to come.

1 Thou also sonne of man, take thee a bricke, & lay it before thee, & pour- tray vpon it the cite, [eu]en Ierusalem,

2 And lay siege against it, & buyld a fort against it, and cast a mount against it: set the campe also against it, and lay engins of warre against it rounde about.

3 Moreouer, take an yron panne, and set it for a wall of yron betwene thee and the cite, and direct thy face toward it, and it shal be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shalbe a signe vnto the house of Israel.

4 Slepe thou also vpon thy left side, & lay the iniquitie of the house of Israel vpon it: [according] to the nombre of the dayes, that thou shalt slepe vpon it, thou shalt beare their iniquitie.

5 For I haue laied vpon thee the yerres of their iniquitie, according to the nombre of the dayes, [eu]en thre hundredth & ninty daies: so shalt thou beare the iniquitie of the house of Israel.

6 And when thou hast accoplished them, slepe againe vpon thy right side, & thou shalt beare the iniquitie of the house of Iu- dah fourtie daies. I haue appointed thee a day for a yere, [eu]en a day for a yere.

7 Therefore shalt direct thy face toward the siege of Ierusalem, & thine arme [shal- be] vnconuered, and thou shalt prophesie against it.

8 And beholde, I wil lay bands vpon thee, and thou shalt not turne thee from one side to another, til thou hast ended the daies of thy siege.

9 Thou shalt take also vnto thee wheat, and barley, and beanes, and lentiles, and miller, and fitches, and put them in one vessel, & make thee bread thereof, [accordig] to the number of the dayes, that thou shalt slepe vpon thy side: [eu]en thre hundredth & nintie dayes shalt thou eat thereof.

10 And the meat, whereof thou shalt eat, [shalbe] by weight, [eu]en twentie shekels a day: [&] from time to time shalt thou eat thereof.

11 Thou shalt drinke also water by measu- re, [eu]en the sixt parte of an Hin: from time to time shalt thou drinke.

12 And thou shalt eat it [as] barley cakes, & thou shalt bake it in the dongue that cometh out of man, in their sight.

13 And the Lord said, So shal the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whether I wil cast them.

14 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, beholde, my soule hath not bene polluted: for from my youth vp, eu]en vnto this houre, I haue not earen of a thing dead, or torne in pieces, nether came there any vnclean flesh in my mouth.

15 Then he said vnto me, Lo, I haue giuen thee bullockes in dongue for mans dongue, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreover he said vnto me, Sonne of man, beholde, I wil breake the staffe of bread in Ierusalem, & they shal eat bread by weight, and with care, and they shal drinke water by measure, and with astonishment.

17 Because that bread and water shal faile, they shalbe astonied one with another, & shal consume away for their iniquitie.

CHAP. V.

The signe of the heeres, whereby is signified the destruction of the people.

1 And thou sonne of man, take thee a sharpe knife, [or] take thee a bar- bours rasor & cause it to passe vpon thine head, and vpon thy beard: then take thee balances to weigh, and deuide the heere.

2 Thou shalt burne with fyre the third part in the middes of the cite, when the brick, Chap. 4. 1. days of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take the [other] third parte, & smite about it with a knife; and the [last] third parte thou shalt scatter in the winde, and I wil drawe out a sworde after them.

32 Thou shalt also take thereof a fewe in number, and binde them in thy clappe.

33 Then take of them againe and cast them into the middes of the fyre, & burne them in the fyre: [for] thereof shal a fyre come forth into all the house of Israel.

34 Thus saith the Lord God, This is Ierusalem: I haue set it in the middes of the nations & countreys, [that] are rounde about her.

35 And she hath changed my iudgemēts into wickednes more then the nations, & my statutes more then the countreys, that are rounde about her: for they haue refused my iudgements and my statutes, [&] they haue not walked in them.

36 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because your multitude is greater then the nations that are round about you, and ye haue not walked in my statutes, nether haue ye kept my iudgemēts: no, ye haue not done according to the iudgements of the nations, that are round about you,

37 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I, euen I [come] against thee, and wil execute iudgement in the middes of thee, [euen] in the sight of the nations.

38 And I wil do in thee, that I neuer did [before], nether wil do anie more the like, because of all thine abominations.

39 For in the middes of thee, the fathers shal eat their sonnes, and the sonnes shal eat their fathers, and I wil execute iudgement in thee, and the whole remnant of thee wil I scatter into all the windes.

40 Wherefore, as I liue, saith y Lord God, Surely, because thou hast defiled my Sanctuary with all thy filthines, and with all thine abominations, therefore wil I also destroy thee, nether shal mine eye spare [thee], nether wil I haue anie pitie.

41 The third parte of thee shal dye with the pestilence, and with famine shal they be consumed in the middes of thee: and [another] third parte shal fall by the sworde rounde about thee: and I wil scatter the [last] third parte into all windes, and I wil drawe out a sworde after them.

42 Thus shal mine angrē be accomplished, and I wil cause my wrath to ceale in them, and I wil be comforted: and they shal knowe that I the Lord haue spoke it in my zeale, when I haue accomplished my wrath in them.

43 Moreover, I wil make thee waste, and abhorred among the nations; that are rounde about thee, [&] in the sight of all that passe by.

44 So thou shalt be a reproche and shame, a chastisement & an astonishment vnto the nations, that are rounde about thee; when I shal execute iudgemēts in thee, in angrē and in wrath, and in sharpe rebukes: I the Lord haue spoken it.

45 When I shal send vpon them the euil arrowes of famine, which shalbe for [their] destruction, [and] which I wil send to destroye you: and I wil increase the famine vpon you, and wil breake your staffe of bread.

46 So wil I send vpon you famine, and euil beasts, and they shal spoyle thee, & pestilence & blood shal passe through thee, & I wil bring the sworde vpon thee: I the Lord haue spoken it.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Be cause your multitude is greater then the nations that are round about you, and ye haue not walked in my statutes, nether ha ue ye kept my iudgemēts: no, ye haue not done according to the iudgements of the nations, that are round about you,

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Be holde, I, euen I [come] against thee, and wil execute iudgement in the middes of thee, [euen] in the sight of the nations.

9 And I wil do in thee, that I neuer did [be fore], nether wil do anie more the like, be cause of all thine abominations.

10 For in the middes of thee, the fathers shal eat their sonnes, and the sonnes shal eat their fathers, and I wil execute iudge ment in thee, and the whole remnant of thee wil I scatter into all the windes.

11 Wherefore, as I liue, saith y Lord God, Surely, because thou hast defiled my San ctuarie with all thy filthines, and with all thine abominations, therefore wil I also destroy thee, nether shal mine eye spare [thee], nether wil I haue anie pitie.

12 The third parte of thee shal dye with the pestilence, and with famine shal they be consumed in the middes of thee: and [another] third parte shal fall by the swor de rounde about thee: and I wil scatter the [last] third parte into all windes, and I wil drawe out a sworde after them.

13 Thus shal mine angrē be accomplished, and I wil cause my wrath to ceale in them, and I wil be comforted: and they shal knowe that I the Lord haue spoke it in my zeale, when I haue accomplished my wrath in them.

14 Moreover, I wil make thee waste, and abhorred among the nations; that are rounde about thee, [&] in the sight of all that passe by.

44 So thou shalt be a reproche and shame, a chastisement & an astonishment vnto the nations, that are rounde about thee; when I shal execute iudgemēts in thee, in angrē and in wrath, and in sharpe rebukes: I the Lord haue spoken it.

45 When I shal send vpon them the euil arrowes of famine, which shalbe for [their] destruction, [and] which I wil send to de stroye you: and I wil increase the famine vpon you, and wil breake your staffe of bread.

46 So wil I send vpon you famine, and euil beasts, and they shal spoyle thee, & pestilence & blood shal passe through thee, & I wil bring the sworde vpon thee: I the Lord haue spoken it.

CHAP. VI.

He sheweth that Ierusalem shalbe destroyed for their idolatrie. 8 He prophesieth the repentance of the remnant of the people, and their deliuerance.

1 A Gaine the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, Set thy face towards the mountaines of Israel, & prophecie against them,

3 And say, Ye mountaines of Israel, heare the worde of the Lord God: thus saith the Lord God to the mountaines and to the hilles, to the riuers and to the valleys, Beholde, I, [euen] I, wil bring a sworde vpon you, and I wil destroye your high places:

4 And your altars shalbe desolate, & your images of the sunne shalbe broken: and I wil cast downe your slayne men before your idoles.

5 And I wil lay the dead carkeises of the children of Israel before their idoles, and I wil scatter your bones rounde about your altars.

6 In al your dwelling places the cities shal be desolate, & the high places shalbe laide waste, so y your altars shalbe made waste and desolate, and your idoles shalbe broken, & cease, and your images of the sunne shalbe cut in peeces, and your workes shalbe abolished.

7 And the slayne shal fall in the middes of you, and ye shal knowe that I am y
Lord.

8 Yet wil I leaue a remnant, that you may haue [some] that shal escape the sworde among the nations, when you shalbe scat tered through the countreys.

9 And they that escape of you, shal remem ber me among the nations, where they shalbe

shalbe in captiuitie, because I am grieved for their whorish hearts, which haue departed from me, and for their eyes, which haue gone awhoring after their idoles, & they shall be displeased in them selues for the euils, which they haue committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall knowe that I am ^f Lord, [and] that I haue not laid in vaine, that I wolde do this euil vnto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, ^f Smite with thine hand, and stretche forth with thy fore, and say, Alas, for all the wicked abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sworde, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 He that is faire of, shall dye of the pestilence, and he that is nere, shall fall by the sworde, and he that remaineth and is besieged, shall dye by the famine: thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon them.

13 Then shall ye knowe, that I am ^f Lord, when their slayne men shall be among their idoles rounde about their altars, vpon euery hie hill in all the toppes of the mountaines, and vnder euery grene tre, and vnder euery thicke oke, [which is] the place where they did offer swete sauour to all their idoles.

14 So will I stretch mine hand vpon them, & make the land waste, & desolate ^h from the wilderness vnto Diblah in all their habitations, and they shall knowe, that I am the Lord.

¶ CHAP. VII.

The end of all the land of Israel shall suddenly come.

1 Moreouer the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Also thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, An end [is] come vnto ^f land of Israel: the end is come vpon the foure corners of the land.

3 Now [is] the end come vpon thee, and I will send my wrath vpon thee, & will iudge thee according to thy wayes, & will laye vpon thee all ^a thine abominations.

4 Nether shall mine eye spare thee, nether wil I haue pitie: but I will laie thy wayes vpon thee: and thine abomination shall be in the middes of thee, and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, ^f Beholde, one euil [euene one] euil is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come, it ^b watched for thee: beholde, it is come.

7 The ^c morning is come vnto thee, that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is here, and not the ^d founding againe of the mountaines.

8 Now I wil shortly powre out my wrath vpon thee, & fulfilinge angre vpon thee: I wil iudge thee according to thy wayes, and wil lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

9 Nether shall mine eye spare [thee], nether wil I haue pitie, [but] I wil lay vpon thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations shall be in the middes of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Beholde, ^f day, beholde, it is come: the morning is gone forth, the ^e rod flourisheth: ^f pride hath budded.

11 Crueltie is risen vp into a rod of wickednes: none of them [shall remaine,] nor of their riches, nor of anie of theirs, nether shall there be ^h lamentation for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth nere: let not the byer reioyce, nor let him that selleth, ^k mourne: for the wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

13 For he that selleth, shall not ⁱ returne to that, which is solde, althogh they were yet alieue: for the ^m vision was vnto all the multitude thereof, [and] they returned not: ⁿ nether doeth anie encourage him self in the punishment of his life.

14 They haue blowne the trumpet, and prepared all, but none goeth to the battell: for my wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

15 The sworde is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: he that is in the field, shall dye with the sworde, and he that is in the citie, famine & pestilence shall deuoure him.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape, and shall be in the n countaines, like the deues of the valleis: all they shall mourne, euery one for his iniquitie.

17 All hands shall be wcke, and all knees shall fall away [as] water.

18 They shall also gird them selues with sackcloth, and feare shall couer them, and shame [shall be] vpon all faces, & beldenes vpon their heads.

19 They shall cast their siluer in the stretes, and their golde shall be [cast] far of: their ^o siluer & their golde can not deliuer them in the day of the wrath of the Lord: they shall not sauffie their soules, nether fil their bowels: for [this] ruine is for their iniquitie.

20 He had also set the beautie of his ^p ornament in maiestie: but they made images of their abominations, [and] of their idoles therein: therefore haue I set it farre from them.

They shall be ashamed to see that their hope in idoles was in vaine, & so shall repent.

By these signes he wolde that ^f Prophet shoulde signifie the great destruccion to come.

That is, all nation: when you shall see my iudgements.

I will punish thee as I haue punished for the rebellious.

Or, Beholde, will cometh after euil.

He sheweth that the iudgements of God will watch to destroye the sinners, which are withstanding. He delayeth till there be no more hope of repentance. The beginning of his iudgements is already come. Which was a veyce of ioye, and mirth.

The scourge is in readiness.

¶ CHAP. VIII.

1 An appearance of the similitude of God. 3 Erchielis brought to Ierusalem in the spirit. 6 The Lord sheweth the Prophet the idolatries of the house of Israel.

1 AND in the sixth yere, in the sixth moneth, and in the fift [day] of the moneth, as I sate in mine house, and the Elders of Iudah sate before me, the hand of the Lord God fel there vpon me.

2 Then I behelde, and lo, [there was] a like res, as the appearance of fyre, to lcke to, from his loynes downewarde, and from his loynes vpwarde, as the appearance of brightnes, and like vnto ambre.

3 And he stretched out the likenes of an hand, and toke me by an heerie locke of mine head, and the Spirit lift me vp betwene the earth & the heauen, & brought me by a Diuine vision to Ierusalem, into the entrie of the inner gate that lieth toward the North, where remained the idole of indignation, which prouoked indignation.

4 And beholde, the glorie of the God of Israel [was] there according to the vision, that I saw in the field.

5 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, lift vp thine eyes now toward the North. So I lift vp mine eyes toward the North, and beholde, Northwarde, at the gate of the altar, this idole of indignation [was] in the entrie.

6 He said furthermore vnto me, Sonne of man, seest thou not what they do? [eu]en the great abomination that the house of Israel committeth here to cause [me] to departe from my Sanctuary: but yet turne thee [and] thou shalt se greater abominations.

7 And he caused me to entre at the gate of the court: and when I loked, beholde, an hole [was] in the wall.

8 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, digge now in the wall. And when I had digged in the wall, beholde, [there was] a dore.

9 And he said vnto me, Go in, and beholde the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in, and sawe, and beholde, [there was] euerie similitude of creeping things, and abominable beastes, and all the idoles of the house of Israel painted vpon the wall rounde about.

11 And there stode before them seuentie men of the Ancients of the house of Israel, and in the middes of them stode Iazaniáh, the sonne of Shaphán, with euerie man his censour in his hand, and the vapour of the incense went vp [like] a cloud.

12 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, hast thou sene what the Ancients of the house of Israel do in the darke, euerie one in the chambre of his imagrie? for they saye, The Lord seeth vs not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 Again he said also vnto me, Turne thee againe, [and] thou shalt se greater abominations that they do.

14 And he caused me to entre into the entrie of the gate of the Lords house, which was toward the North: and beholde there sate women mourning for Tammúz.

15 Then said he vnto me, Hast thou sene [this] sonne of man? Turne thee againe, [and] thou shalt se greater abominations then these.

16 And he caused me to entre into the inner court of the Lords house, and beholde, at the dore of the Temple of the Lord, betwene the porche and the altar [were] about fíue and twentie men with their backes toward the Temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the East, and they worshipped the sunne, toward the East.

17 Then he said vnto me, Hast thou sene [this] n For besides their common idolatrie, they had particular seruice, which had in secret chambers.

18 Therefore wil I also execute [my] wrath: mine eye shal not spare [them,] neither wil I haue pitie: & * though they crye in mine eares with a loude voyce, [yet] wil I not heare them.

¶ CHAP. IX.

8 The destruction of the cite. 4 They that shal be saved, are marked. 8 A complaint of the prophet for the destruction of the people.

1 HE cryed also with a loude voice in mine eares, saying, The visitations of the cite drawe nere, and euerie man hath a weapon in his hand to destroye it.

2 And beholde, six^b men came by the way of the hie gate, which lieth toward the North, and euerie man a weapon in his hand to destroye it: and one man among them was clothed with linnen, with a writers ynhorne by his side, and they went in and stode beside the brasen altar.

3 And the glorie of the God of Israel was gone vp from the Cherub, whereupon he was, [& stode] on the f dore of the house: and he called to the man clothed w^l linnen, which had the writers ynhorne by his side:

4 And ¶ Lord said vnto him, Go through the middes of the cite, [euē] through the middes of Ierusalém, and set † a marke vpon the forehedes of them that f mourne, and crye for all the abominations that be done in the middes thereof.

5 And to the other he said, that I might heare, Go ye after him through the cite, and smyte: let your eye spare none, nether haue pitie.

6 Destroye vtterly the olde, [&] the yong, and the maids, and the children, and the women, but touche no man, vpon whome [is] the 8 marke, & begin at my Sanctuarie. Then they began at the^b Ancient men w^l were before the house.

7 And he said vnto them, Defile the House, and fil the courtes with the slaine, then go forth: and they went out, and slewe [them] in the cite.

8 Now when they had slaine them, and I had escaped, I fell downe vpon my face, & cryed, saying, Ah Lord God, wilt thou destroye all the residue of Israel, in pow-ring. h VVhich were the chief occasion of all these euils, i This declareth, that the seruants of God haue a compas-ring out thy wrath vpon Ierusalém.

9 Then said he vnto me, The iniquitie of the house of Israel & Iudáh [is] exceeding great, so that the land is full^k of blood, and the cite full of corrupt iudgement: for thei say, the Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth [vs] not.

10 As touching me also, mine eye shal not spare [them,] neither wil I haue pitie, [but] wil recompence their wayes vpon their heads.

11 And beholde the man clothed with linnen, which had the ynhorne by his side, made report, and said, [Lord,] I haue done as thou hast commanded me.

1 Of the man that toke hote burning coles out of the middle of the wheles of the Cherubims. 8 A rehearsal of the vision of the wheles, of the beasts, and of the Cherubims.

1 AND as I looked, beholde, in the * fir-^k amament that was about the head of the^a Cherubims there appeared vpon them like vnto the similitude of a throne, [as it were] a saphir stone.

2 And he spake vnto the man clothed with linnen, and said, Go in betwene the wheles, [euē] vnder the Cherub, and fil thine hands with coles of fyre from betwene^f Cherubims, and scatter them ouer^b the cite. And he wēt in, in my sight.

3 Now the Cherubims stode vpon the right side of the house when the mā went in, and the cloude filled the inner court.

4 Then the glorie of the Lord went vp frō the Cherub, [and stode] ouer the dore of the house, and the house was filled with^f cloude, and the court was filled with the brightnes of the Lords glorie.

5 And the^d sound of the Cherubims wings was heard into the vtter court, as the voyce of the Almightye God, when he speaketh.

6 And when he had commanded the man clothed w^l linnen, saying, Take fyre from betwene the wheles, [and] from betwene the Cherubims, then he went in & stode beside the whele.

7 And one Cherub stretched forth his hād from betwene the Cherubims, vnto the fyre, that was betwene the Cherubims, & toke [thereof,] and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linnen: who toke it, and went out.

8 And there appeared in the Cherubims, the likenes of a mans hand vnder their wings.

1 Moreouer, the Spirit lift me vp, and broght me vnto the East gate of the Lords House, which lieth Eastwarde, and beholde, at the entrie of the gate [we]re] fūe and twentie men: among whome I sawe Iazaniáh the sonne of Azút, and Pelatiáh the sonne of Benaiáh, the princes of the people.

2 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, these are the men that imagine mischief, and deuise wicked counſel in this citie.

3 [For] they say, It is not nere, let vs builde houses: this [citie] is the ^b caldron, and we be the flesh.

4 Therefore prophecie against them, sonne of man, prophecie.
